VERIFIED COMPLAINT

INTRODUCTION

The plaintiff, Carol Beth Litkouhi, is a member of the Board of Education of the defendant Rochester Community Schools District. The remaining defendants are also board members.

On November 10, 2025, the Board of Education voted to censure the Plaintiff and remove her from “all committees and liaison roles” ostensibly because “Trustee Litkouhi recently authored and published an opinion piece in The Detroit News that referenced confidential information shared by the Superintendent that had not been approved for release, presenting it publicly in a manner that was incomplete, misleading, and harmful to the reputation of the District and its leadership; and potentially fiscally harmful to the District and other Oakland County school districts.”

At the time of the censure vote, the Board did not identify any confidential information that was revealed by Plaintiff. Rather, they relied on a recent, unconstitutional revision to their bylaws that forbids trustees to discuss information with the public, “not limited to confidential or privileged information.” (Emphasis added.)

As set forth below, censure pursuant to a violation of an unconstitutional bylaw cannot stand. Further, the censure was in retaliation for Plaintiff exercising her First Amendment rights.

PARTIES, JURISDICTION, AND VENUE

1. Plaintiff Carol Beth Litkouhi is a natural person and an elected member of the school board governing defendant Rochester Community School District. She is a resident of Rochester Hills, Oakland County, in the State of Michigan.
2. Defendant Rochester Community School District (District) is a government entity administered by the Board of Education and a Superintendent. Defendant is headquartered at 52585 Dequindre Road, Rochester, Oakland County, Michigan 48307.
3. Defendant District is a general powers school district within the meaning of the Michigan Revised School Code, MCL 380.1, et seq.
4. Defendant Michelle Bueltel is a natural person and an elected member of the school board governing defendant District. Upon information and belief, she is a resident of Oakland County in the State of Michigan. She is a defendant in her official capacity only.
5. Defendant Jessica Gupta is a natural person and an elected member of the school board governing defendant District. Upon information and belief, she is a resident of Oakland County in the State of Michigan. She is a defendant in her official capacity only.

6. Defendant Julie Alspach is a natural person and an elected member of the school board governing defendant District. Upon information and belief, she is a resident of Oakland County in the State of Michigan. She is a defendant in her official capacity only.
7. Defendant Jayson Blake is a natural person and an elected member of the school board governing defendant District. Upon information and belief, he is a resident of Oakland County in the State of Michigan. He is a defendant in his official capacity only.
8. Defendant Barb Anness is a natural person and an elected member of the school board governing defendant District. Upon information and belief, she is a resident of Oakland County in the State of Michigan. She is a defendant in her official capacity only.
9. The actions at issue here took place in Rochester, Oakland County, and the venue is appropriate in this court.
10. This District Court has jurisdiction pursuant to MCL 600.6511 and MCL 600.8301.
11. This Complaint contains a civil rights action under the United States Constitution, particularly the First and Fourteenth Amendments, and the Civil Rights Act of 1871, 42 U.S.C. § 1983. This court has jurisdiction over these federal claims.

FACTS

12. The Plaintiff incorporates the preceding paragraphs as if fully restated herein.
13. Upon information and belief, a new bylaw was adopted on May 6, 2024. This bylaw requires, as part of Bylaw 1001—a “Code of Ethics”—that board members “will not share any document or information that has not already been shared by the District, including but not limited to confidential or privileged information.” (Emphasis added.) See Exhibit A.

14. On or about October 8, 2025, the District superintendent (who is not a party to this lawsuit) invited Plaintiff to attend a meeting at which he briefed Plaintiff and another board member on a proposed 2026 county-wide enhancement millage that would increase taxes.
15. At the said briefing, the superintendent asked Plaintiff and the other board member not to publicly discuss the millage plan.
16. At said meeting, the superintendent provided Plaintiff with an informational packet entitled “Enhancement Millage: August 4, 2026.” Exhibit B.
17. The Enhancement Millage package contained information on how to improve the chances that the public would favor passage of the millage, citing a study from other parts of the state and how millages were supported or opposed by voters based on information they were given. Exhibit B, supra, at *3 and *6.
18. Despite the superintendent asking Plaintiff to keep the proposed millage confidential, the Enhancement Millage package states, “we believe in empowering the community to make informed decisions.” Exhibit B, supra, at *6.
19. At the said briefing, Plaintiff informed the superintendent that she planned to discuss the matter with the public.
20. A superintendent’s request for non-disclosure does not make such communication a confidential or privileged matter under Michigan law.
21. On October 30, 2025, Plaintiff published an opinion article in The Detroit News that discussed the proposed tax increase and the superintendent’s request that school district preparation for the millage be kept confidential. See Exhibit C.

22. In response to this article, a resolution to censure Plaintiff was introduced at a school board meeting and voted on November 10, 2025. See Exhibit D.
23. All board members named as defendants here voted for this censure of Plaintiff.
24. The censure cited as its reason that Plaintiff had violated Bylaw 1001 by “the unauthorized disclosure and misrepresentation of confidential District information.” Exhibits D, supra.
25. The censure stated that “effective immediately trustee<sup>1</sup> Carol Beth Litkouhi is removed, without future assignments for one calendar year, from all committees and liaison roles;...” Exhibit D, supra.
26. At the November 10, 2025, meeting, during the discussion of the censure, there was no identification of what “confidential District information” or “misrepresentation” had been divulged by Plaintiff in the Detroit News article or elsewhere.
27. At least one other district in Oakland County, Oxford, openly discussed the proposed millage.<sup>2</sup>
28. The proposed millage could not, therefore, be considered a secret, as the public already knew.
29. The proposed millage and the materials surrounding it are not documents that, per Michigan law, can be withheld from the public under the guise of privilege or confidentiality.

COUNT 1

BYLAW 1001 VIOLATES PLAINTIFF'S FREE SPEECH RIGHTS

30. Plaintiff hereby incorporates the preceding paragraphs as though fully restated herein.
31. The Michigan Constitution, inter alia, states that: “[N]o law shall be enacted to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech ...” Const 1963, art 1, section 5.
32. The First Amendment of United States’ Constitution, made applicable to the states by the Fourteenth Amendment, states: “Congress shall make no law ... abridging the freedom of speech ... or the right of the people ... to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.”
33. Bylaw 1001 here states that board members “will not share any ... information that has not already been shared by the District, including but not limited to confidential or privileged information.” Exhibit A, supra.
34. Prohibiting board members from sharing nonprivileged or nonconfidential information is a restraint of a board member’s free speech under both the Michigan and United States constitutions.
35. Rules and bylaws of the state’s political subdivisions have the force of laws and regulations and are held to the same standards.
36. Because Bylaw 1001 violates the Michigan and United States Constitutions, it is void ab initio.
37. Because Bylaw 1001 is void ab initio, any actions taken to enforce its unconstitutional provisions are void, including this censure.

COUNT 2

BYLAW 1001 IS UNCONSTITUTIONALLY OVERBROAD AND VAGUE

38. Plaintiff hereby incorporates the preceding paragraphs as though fully restated herein.
39. Because Bylaw 1001 prohibits the sharing of “information that has not already been shared by the District,” Plaintiff and other board members are not on notice of what conduct is prohibited.
40. Bylaw 1001 effectively silences board members from sharing with the public and their constituents anything that hasn’t been preapproved by the District. This is overly broad and vague.
41. The universe of topics and information “that has not already been shared by the District” is nearly infinite.
42. Bylaw 1001 does not provide fair notice of the type of conduct prohibited.
43. Bylaw 1001 encourages subjective and discriminatory application by delegating to those empowered to enforce the Bylaw the unfettered discretion to determine whether the Bylaw has been violated.
44. Because Bylaw 1001 is unconstitutionally overbroad and vague, it is void ab initio, and therefore any enforcement actions taken pursuant to it are void.

COUNT 3

BYLAW 1001 EXCEEDS THE POWERS GRANTED TO SCHOOL BOARDS BY STATUTE

45. The Plaintiff hereby incorporates the preceding paragraphs as though fully restated herein.
46. Michigan’s school districts are governed by Act 451 of 1976, the Revised School Code, MCL 380.1 et seq.

47. The Revised School Code limits school districts to certain powers expressed or implied.

Per MCL 380.11a:

(3) A general powers school district has all of the rights, powers, and duties expressly stated in this act; may exercise a power implied or incident to a power expressly stated in this act; and, except as otherwise provided by law, may exercise a power incidental or appropriate to the performance of a function related to operation of a public school and the provision of public education services in the interests of public elementary and secondary education in the school district, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(a) Educating pupils. In addition to educating pupils in grades K-12, this function may include operation of preschool, lifelong education, adult education, community education, training, enrichment, and recreation programs for other persons. A school district may do either or both of the following:

(i) Educate pupils by directly operating 1 or more public schools on its own.

(ii) Cause public education services to be provided for pupils of the school district through an agreement, contract, or other cooperative agreement with another public entity, including, but not limited to, another school district or an intermediate school district.

(b) Providing for the safety and welfare of pupils while at school or a school sponsored activity or while en route to or from school or a school sponsored activity.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in this section, acquiring, constructing, maintaining, repairing, renovating, disposing of, or conveying school property, facilities, equipment, technology, or furnishings.

(d) Hiring, contracting for, scheduling, supervising, or terminating employees, independent contractors, and others, including, but not limited to, another school district or an intermediate school district, to carry out school district powers. A school district may indemnify its employees.

(e) Receiving, accounting for, investing, or expending public school money; borrowing money and pledging public school funds for repayment; and qualifying for state school aid and other public or private money from local, regional, state, or federal sources.

48. The power to declare information confidential or privileged is not an express power of school districts.

49. The power to declare information confidential or privileged is not an implied power of school districts and is not akin to any of the enumerated powers.

50. What is considered by the state to be confidential or privileged information of local government entities can be found in other state statutes, such as FOIA, and not in the powers of school districts.

51. The powers of a school board are defined by the revised School Code. MCL 380.11a(6) states that: “The board of a general powers school district shall adopt bylaws. These bylaws may establish or change board procedures, the number of board officers, titles and duties of board officers, and any other matter related to effective and efficient functioning of the board.”

52. Declaring information about a proposed millage confidential and un-shareable is not a power that can be found in MCL 380.11a(6). It is not necessary to the efficient and effective functioning of the board.

53. A school board cannot silence board members so as to keep them from publicly disagreeing with the rest of the board.

54. A school board cannot define a duty of board officers in such a way that it contradicts the laws of this state.

55. Because a school district has no statutory authority to restrict the speech of its board members, any bylaw that does this is void ab initio.

COUNT 4

BYLAW 1001 IS VOID BECAUSE
IT CONTRADICTS THE PUBLIC POLICY OF THE STATE

56. Plaintiff incorporates the preceding paragraphs as though fully restated herein.

57. Michigan has decreed through its Constitution, statutes, and court opinions that it is the public policy of this state that public officials must be open and accountable to the citizens of this state and owe them a duty of transparency.

58. Public officials, like the Plaintiff and Defendants, cannot withhold information from the public except in a limited number of circumstances set forth in the statutes.

59. Information about the subject proposed millage is not one of those statutory exceptions.

60. The Michigan Constitution states that citizens of the state have a right to know about public finances and records: "All financial records, accountings, audit reports and other reports of public moneys shall be public records and open to inspection." Const. 1963, art. 9, § 23.

61. A proposed tax millage is information related to public finances and is the kind of thing the public has a right to know about and cannot be kept secret.

62. The Michigan Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) states:

It is the public policy of this state that all persons ... are entitled to full and complete information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of those who represent them as public officials and public employees, consistent with this act. The people shall be informed so that they may fully participate in the democratic process.

MCL 15.231(2).

63. Bylaw 1001 violates this public policy where it prevents school board members from informing people so that they may fully participate in the democratic process.

64. By statute, FOIA provides that certain materials are exempt from disclosure. MCL 15.243.

65. Materials and information related to proposed millages are not exempt from disclosure in MCL 15.243.

66. If a member of the public had submitted a FOIA request to Defendant Rochester Community School District asking for information and materials related to this proposed millage increase, the District would have been required to provide it to the FOIA requestor.

67. Since the information at issue here related to the proposed millage cannot be withheld pursuant to FOIA, it cannot be said to be privileged or confidential.

68. Michigan's Open Meetings Act, MCL 15.261 et seq., requires that public bodies, such as the school board here, make decisions in open meetings so that the public can participate.

69. The Open Meetings Act contains broad language to ensure that the public knows of the activities of its elected officials and can participate and provide feedback.

70. The Open Meetings Act states, inter alia:

All meetings of a public body must be open to the public and must be held in a place available to the general public. All persons must be permitted to attend any meeting except as otherwise provided in this act. The right of a person to attend a meeting of a public body includes the right to tape-record, to videotape, to broadcast live on radio, and to telecast live on television the proceedings of a public body at a public meeting. The exercise of this right does not depend on the prior approval of the public body.

MCL 15.263(1).

71. The Open Meetings Act further states that: "All decisions of a public body must be made at a meeting open to the public." MCL 15.263(2).

72. Withholding information regarding a proposed tax millage increase is not a matter that can be kept behind closed doors until the board can decide how to promote the tax increase.

73. The Open Meetings Act provides for a limited number of activities that can be done in a closed meeting away from the public. MCL 15.268.

74. None of the MCL 15.268 exceptions apply to deciding the best way to promote a millage increase.
75. The Management and Budget Act, MCL 18.1101 et seq., provides comprehensive authority to the Department of Technology Management and Budget (DTMB) to define public documents and records.
76. DTMB has authority to set schedules for the retention of documents and records for local political subdivisions. MCL 18.1285. This applies to the District.
77. Pursuant to DTMB schedule GS2, item number 0205, Superintendents and Boards of Education must keep records of “Millage Files.” “These records document millage proposals. They may include, but may not be limited to, presentations, research, budgetary documents, ballot language, attorney opinions, and board resolutions.” See Exhibit E.
78. The language of GS2-0205 above would include the document and other information referenced in Exhibit B.
79. There is no indication in Schedule GS2-0205 that such records as Exhibit B are or could be confidential, privileged, or exempt from FOIA.
80. Michigan has long held that contracts contravening public policy are void and unenforceable. And that “Public policy can be found ‘in our state and federal constitutions, our statutes, and the common law,’ among other sources.” People v Smith, 502 Mich 624, 632-33 (2018).
81. Our Constitution, statutes, and common law all favor the public’s right to know and public officials’ right and requirement to speak freely and openly with constituents.

82. Agreements procuring a candidate's agreement to withdraw from seeking public office are void as against public policy. Id. at 640. This is because "Schemes that affect the 'selection and eligibility of candidates ... inevitably affect[ ]—at least to some degree—the individual's right to vote and his right to associate with others for political ends." Id. at 637.

83. Analogous to the holding in Smith, supra, an agreement by a public board to prevent a board member from speaking and associating with the public about non-confidential information that is open to the public under our laws is a contravention of public policy.

84. Bylaw 1001, therefore, violates public policy and is void ab initio.

COUNT 5

FIRST AMENDMENT RETALIATION

85. Plaintiff hereby incorporates the preceding paragraphs as though fully restated herein.

86. Plaintiff exercised her First Amendment free speech rights to inform the public of the plans of their government. Such conduct is protected by the First Amendment.

87. Plaintiff was censured by board member Defendants, and this was an adverse action taken against her that would deter a person of ordinary firmness from continuing to engage in the conduct.

88. There is a causal connection in that the adverse action was motivated, at least in part, by the Plaintiff's protected conduct.

89. While the United States Supreme Court has held that censure of a public official by itself is not enough to be considered an adverse action, it has left unanswered the question of whether a censure accompanied by other penalties such as the removal of committee assignments rises to the level of being an adverse action. See Houston Community College System v Wilson, 595 US __ (2022).

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

For the reasons stated above, Plaintiff requests that this court provide her relief in the form of a declaratory judgment, injunction, mandamus, or other order holding that Bylaw 1001 is void ab initio where it silences Plaintiff and other board members from discussing non-privileged and non-confidential information. Further, hold that the censure made pursuant to Bylaw 1001 is void, enjoin any enforcement of the censure, and that Plaintiff should be returned to committees and liaison roles.

In addition, Plaintiff requests that this court find that the censure was an adverse action that was done in retaliation for her exercising her First Amendment rights and enjoin Defendants from any further retaliation; Award Plaintiff her attorneys' fees under 42 U.S.C. § 1988 along with interest, costs, and nominal damages; And award any declaratory, equitable, and/or injunctive relief this Court determines to be just and equitable to remedy Defendants' improper infringement of Plaintiff's First Amendment Rights.

Litkouhi: Oakland County's hidden tax debate: The push for a new school 'enhancement millage'

Carol Beth Litkouhi

Oct. 30, 2025, 8:31 a.m. ET

Oakland County school boards are quietly being asked to support placing a new Enhancement Millage on the ballot, possibly as soon as August 2026.

This proposal sets a troubling precedent. Michigan's school-funding system, restructured under Proposal A in 1994, was designed so that the state collects and distributes education dollars for operating costs. Local taxes were meant for buildings and infrastructure — not to create new layers of unrestricted operating taxes on top of what the state already manages. There is no end to unraveling that balance.

At first glance, 1.5 mills for six years may not sound like much — about $150 a year on a $200,000 home. But in Rochester Hills, where the average home is about $450,000, that same rate equals roughly $337.50 per year. Because the millage is assessed against taxable value (about half of market value), your bill rises as property values rise. What seems small quickly becomes hundreds of dollars more each year, with no expiration unless voters say no.

If passed, the millage would generate about $10.8 million per year for Rochester (where I serve on the board), but local taxpayers would pay slightly more than we receive. The funds would be unrestricted —usable for salaries, benefits, technology, athletics, yet there's no defined plan explaining why more revenue is needed or how it would be used.

Even more concerning is how the proposal would reach the ballot. If school boards representing just “50 percent plus one” of students across Oakland County vote yes, the millage automatically appears on everyone’s ballot — even in districts that vote no. Many of these conversations are happening quietly, without public notice or taxpayer input.

I was even asked not to mention the proposal publicly until after boards completed their votes. When I asked why — given that I’d like to hear from my constituents — I was told, “That’s not how it’s done. We shouldn’t influence other districts.” But that’s exactly backward. School boards are accountable to their local communities, not to county-level political strategy.

Consider Rochester’s finances. Our district operates on roughly $230 million in revenue, spending more than $15,000 per student — more than most private schools in Michigan. We maintain $48 million in savings and one of the state’s strongest sinking funds, generating $9 million annually for facilities and infrastructure. We are not starved for funds. Our challenge is to ensure every dollar is managed responsibly and aligned with student learning.

The bigger picture is also revealing. Oakland already has the highest property taxes of any county in Michigan and contributes more to school funding than any other because of its high property values. Our districts already operate with larger budgets than most of the state. Adding another countywide operations tax simply isn’t needed. Operating costs are — and should remain — the state’s responsibility. Not an extra burden on local homeowners.

Districts in counties like Macomb and Wayne, which rely on enhancement millages, face very different circumstances. Many lack strong sinking funds and have far lower taxable values, so they depend more on local millages for basic operations. Using other counties as justification ignores these differences.

Supporters may argue that new revenue would help schools remain competitive or expand programs. But the state just passed a record-breaking education budget, providing $10,050 per student — the highest in Michigan’s history. If districts are struggling, we should examine how resources are allocated before asking taxpayers for more.

In Rochester, enrollment has declined by about 1,000 students since 2018, while staffing has increased by roughly 500 positions (many of them non-instructional). The issue isn't funding. It's a lack of alignment between staffing, enrollment, and results. Before asking residents to pay more, districts should right-size their structures, prioritize spending, and ensure that dollars directly support student achievement.

Oakland County residents are generous and deeply committed to education. But fiscal responsibility matters too. Strong schools are built on clear goals, measurable outcomes, and transparency — not on constant tax increases.

The truth is, Oakland County taxpayers already do more than their fair share to support Michigan's schools. Adding another countywide property tax for general operations isn't fiscal stewardship — it's mission creep. The proposed "enhancement millage" is a tax increase without a clear justification or plan. Before any board votes to advance it, voters deserve honesty, fiscal discipline, and respect for the people who ultimately foot the bill.
