(a) When a new job is created or existing positions are consolidated, the Employer will notify the Union of the classification and rate structure prior to its becoming effective. In the event the Union does not agree that the classification and rate are proper, it shall be subject to negotiations.

(b) Reclassification Request: During the term of this agreement Employees who seek to be reclassified, given a nonautomatic step increase, or have their classification reallocated to higher pay grade may make an application in writing for such change to their supervisor. The Employee's supervisor shall forward to the Circuit Court Judge such application, together with a detailed written statement from the Employee's supervisor, within thirty (30) days of receipt. As a general rule, a significant change in job content, duties, and responsibilities must have occurred to justify any change. Increases in Employee proficiency at their assigned tasks or heavier work loads, standing alone, will not normally be considered sufficient justification for favorable action. After receipt by the Circuit Court Judge of the documentation submitted by a recommending supervisor, along with any other supporting data such as the Employee's job description and the employment history which the Judge may deem advisable to consider, the Judge may, in his sole discretion, approve, reject, or modify the requested change. Any and all such action by the Circuit Court Judge shall not be subject to the Grievance and Arbitration Procedure set forth in this Agreement. The Union shall be notified in writing of the action taken by the Circuit Court Judge within five (5) days of such action. All reclassifications shall be retroactive to the date of initial submission if the Employee has been actually performing the duties contained within the reclassification.

ARTICLE 26. TEMPORARY ASSIGNMENTS:

Temporary assignments for the purposes of filling vacancies of Employees who are on vacation, absent because of illness, etc., will be granted to the senior departmental Employee who meets the minimum requirement for such job. Such Employee will receive the rate of pay of the higher classification, provided that such Employee shall fill such vacancy for a period of six (6) consecutive working days.

ARTICLE 27. JURY DUTY:

An Employee who reports for jury duty will be paid the difference between his pay for jury duty and his regular pay.

ARTICLE 28. SAFETY COMMITTEE:

A safety committee of Employees and Employers is hereby established. This committee shall consist of the stewards, and shall meet at the call of either party during regular daytime working hours for the purpose of making recommendations to the Employer. In the event the Employer fails to implement a valid safety recommendation of the Union, and the Union wishes to carry the matter further, such shall become a proper subject for the final step of the grievance procedure.

It is understood by the parties that Employees shall not be required to work if the temperature inside the building is below sixty-three (63) degrees or above eighty-three (83) degrees. Therefore, if the temperature inside the building remains below sixty-three (63) degrees for a period of one hour and the furnace is not operative during that period, or above eighty-three (83) degrees for a period of one hour and the air conditioning is not operative during that period, the Employees will be sent home and paid for the remaining part of their work day. The thermometer in the Friend of the Court Reception Office is to be used as the official temperature indicator, and the Friend of the Court will be responsible for carrying out this provision in the Employer's absence. It being further agreed that if Employees are instructed not to report to work for the reason that the heating or cooling system is not operable, the Employees shall be paid their regular salary for any day instructed not to report.

ARTICLE 29. WORKER'S COMPENSATION (ON-THE-JOB INJURY):

(a) Each Employee will be covered by the applicable worker's compensation laws and the Employer further agrees that an Employee being eligible for worker's compensation may use sick leave time sufficient to make up any difference between the amount which he would receive pursuant to worker's compensation laws and his regular weekly income until all accumulated sick leave is utilized.

(b) Whenever an Employee applies for worker's compensation, said Employee may use sick leave until worker's compensation has been verified or until all accumulated sick leave has been used. In the event the Employee decides to use sick leave during this period and worker's compensation is granted, all sick leave used will be paid back to the Employer by the Employee not accruing any sick leave until all days for which worker's compensation has been paid and deducted. However, the Employee must not use more sick days than he/she has accumulated.

Employees, if requested, will be required to submit periodic illness/injury status reports from a doctor and will submit a report from a doctor following an illness or injury indicating that he or she is physically able to do work available before he or she returns to active work.

When sick leave hours are exhausted, the Employee will remain on worker's compensation until the Employee's worker compensation benefits are terminated or exhausted. Employees who receive only worker's compensation, and who do not draw from their accumulated leave time, shall be considered to be on leave of absence and will receive no accumulation of any leave time (i.e. vacation, sick leave, personal leave, etc.).

(c) If the Employee is receiving worker's compensation, the Employer will continue to pay the health insurance premium as outlined in Appendix C for six months, if the Employee remains on the Employer's compensation. During this six month period, the Employee is responsible for his/her monthly portion of the health insurance, including dental, life, etc. if the Employee wishes the coverage to remain in force.

Employees shall receive one-half of all sick leave accumulated in the form of pay at their current hourly rate upon termination. Upon the death of an Employee, one-half of all sick leave accumulated shall be paid to the Employee's estate at the last rate earned by the deceased. Sick leave will be deemed to be continued employment for the purpose of computing all benefits referred to in this Agreement and will be construed as days worked specifically.

(c) Sick leave and leave of absence without pay shall be granted for newborn child care according to prevailing law and the terms of this Agreement. The Employee requesting such leave shall file her request, in writing, five (5) months before the expected birth of the child. Employees shall receive wages or compensatory time off at the rate of time and one-half for each of said hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week. All Employees covered by this Agreement, who perform work on a Sunday, shall be paid at the rate of time and one-half for those hours actually worked on said Sunday. US DEPARTMENT OF LABOR PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Fact Sheet No. ESA 95-24

THE FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT OF 1993

The U.S. Department of Labor's Employment Standards Administration, Wage and Hour Division, administers and enforces the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) for all private, state and local government employees, and some federal employees. Most Federal and certain congressional employees are also covered by the law and are subject to the jurisdiction of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management or the Congress.

FMLA became effective on August 5, 1993, for most employers. If a collective bargaining agreement (CBA) was in effect on that date, FMLA became effective on the expiration date of the CBA or February 5, 1994, whichever was earlier.

FMLA entitles eligible employees to take up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave in a 12-month period for specified family and medical reasons. The employer may elect to use the calendar year, a fixed 12-month leave or fiscal year, or a 12-month period prior to or after the commencement of leave as the 12-month period.

The law contains provisions on employer coverage; employee eligibility for the law's benefits; entitlement to leave, maintenance of health benefits during leave, and job restoration after leave; notice and certification of the need for FMLA leave; and, protection for employees who request or take FMLA leave. The law also requires employers to keep certain records.

EMPLOYER COVERAGE

FMLA applies to all:

-public agencies, including state, local and federal employers, local education agencies (schools), and

-private sector employers who employed 50 or more employees in 20 or more workweeks in the current or preceding calendar year and who are engaged in commerce or in any industry or activity affecting commerce—including joint employers and successors of covered employers.

EMPLOYEE ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible for FMLA benefits, an employee must:

- (a) work for a covered employer;
- (b) have worked for the employer for a total of 12-months;
- (c) have worked at least 1,250 hours over the previous 12-months; and
- (d) work at a location in the United States or in any territory or possession of the United States where at least 50 employees are employed by the employer within 75 miles.

LEAVE ENTITLEMENT

A covered employer must grant an eligible employee up to a total of 12 workweeks or unpaid leave during any 12-month period for one or more of the following reasons:

-for the birth and care of the newborn child of the employee;

-for placement with the employee of a son or daughter for adoption or foster care;

-to care for an immediate family member (spouse, child, parent) with a serious health condition; or optometrists and chiropractors (limited to manual manipulation of the spine to correct a subluxation as demonstrated by X-ray to exist) authorized to practice, and performing within the scope of their practice, under state law; or – nurse practitioners, nurse-midwives and clinical social workers authorized to practice, and performing within the scope of their practice, as defined under state law; or

– Christian Science practitioners listed with the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts; or – Any health care provider recognized by the employer or the employer's group health plan benefits manager.

MAINTENANCE OF HEALTH BENEFITS

A covered employer is required to maintain group health insurance coverage for an employee on FMLA leave whenever such insurance was provided before the leave was taken and on the same terms as if the employee had continued to work. If applicable, arrangements will need to be made for employees to pay their share of health insurance premiums while on leave.

In some instances, the employer may recover premiums it paid to maintain health coverage for an employee who fails to return to work from FMLA leave.

JOB RESTORATION

Upon return from FMLA leave, an employee must be restored to the employee's original job, or to an equivalent job with equivalent pay, benefits, and other terms and conditions of employment.

In addition, an employee's use of FMLA leave cannot result in the loss of any employment benefit that the employee earned or was entitled to before using FMLA leave, nor be counted against the employee under a "no fault" attendance policy.

Under specified and limited circumstances where restoration to employment will cause substantial and grievous economic injury to its operations, an employer may refuse to reinstate certain highly-paid "key" employees after using FMLA leave during which health coverage was maintained. In order to do so, the employer must:

– notify the employee of his/her status as a "key" employee in response to the employee's notice of intent to take FMLA leave;

– notify the employee as soon as the employer decides it will deny job restoration, and explain the reasons for this decision;

– offer the employee a reasonable opportunity to return to work from FMLA leave after giving this notice; and – make a final determination as to whether reinstatement will be denied at the end of the leave period if the employee then requests restoration.

A "key" employee is a salaried "eligible" employee who is among the highest paid ten percent of employees within 75 miles of the work site.

NOTICE AND CERTIFICATION

Employees seeking to use FMLA leave are required to provide 30-day advance notice of the need to take FMLA leave when the need is foreseeable and such notice is practicable.

Employers may also require employees to provide:

– medical certification supporting the need for leave due to a serious health condition affecting the employee or an immediate family member;

– second or third medical opinions (at the employer's expense) and periodic recertification; and – periodic reports during FMLA leave regarding the employee's status and intent to return to work.

-to take medical leave when the employee is unable to work because of a serious health condition.

Spouses employed by the same employer are jointly entitled to a combined total of 12 workweeks of family leave for the birth and care of the newborn child, for placement of a child for adoption or foster care, and to care for a parent who has a serious health condition.

Leave for birth and care, or placement for adoption or foster care must conclude within 12-months of the birth or placement.

Under some circumstances, employees may take FMLA leave intermittently – which means taking leave in blocks of time, or by reducing their normal weekly or daily work schedule.

-If FMLA leave is for birth and care or placement for adoption or foster care, use of intermittent leave is subject to the employer's approval.

-FMLA leave may be taken intermittently whenever medically necessary to care for a seriously ill family member, or because the employee is seriously ill and unable to work.

Also, subject to certain conditions, employees or employers may choose to use accrued paid leave (such as sick or vacation leave) to cover some or all of the FMLA leave.

The employer is responsible for designating if an employee's use of paid leave counts as FMLA leave, based on information from the employee.

"Serious health condition" means an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either:

-any period of incapacity or treatment connected with inpatient care (i.e. an overnight stay) in a hospital, hospice, or residential medical-care facility, and any period of incapacity or subsequent treatment in connection with such inpatient care; or

-Continuing treatment by a health care provider which includes any period of incapacity (i.e. inability to work, attend school or perform other regular daily activities) due to:

(A) A health condition (including treatment therefore, or recovery therefrom) lasting more than three consecutive days, and any subsequent treatment or period of incapacity relating to the same condition, that also includes:

-- treatment two or more times by or under the supervision of a health care provider; or

-- one treatment by a health care provider with a continuing regimen of treatment; or

(B) Pregnancy or prenatal care. A visit to the health care provider is not necessary for each absence; or

(C) A chronic serious health condition which continues over an extended period of time, requires periodic visits to a health care provider, and may involve occasional episodes of incapacity (e.g. asthma, diabetes). A visit to a health care provider is not necessary for each absence; or

(D) A permanent or long-term condition for which treatment may not be effective (e.g., Alzheimer's, a severe stroke, terminal cancer). Only supervision by a health care provider is required, rather than active treatment; or

(E) Any absences to receive multiple treatments for restorative surgery or for a condition which would likely result in a period of incapacity of more than three days if not treated (e.g., chemotherapy or radiation treatments for cancer).

"Health care provider" means:

- doctors of medicine or osteopathy authorized to practice medicine or surgery by the state in which the doctors practice; or

- podiatrists, dentists, clinical psychologists,

When intermittent leave is needed to care for an immediate family member or the employee's own illness, and is for planned medical treatment, the employee must try to schedule treatment so as not to unduly disrupt the employer's operation.

Covered employers must post a notice approved by the Secretary of Labor explaining rights and responsibilities under FMLA. An employer that willfully violates this posting requirement may be subject to a fine of up to $100 for each separate offense.

Also, covered employers must inform employees of their rights and responsibilities under FMLA, including giving specific written information on what is required of the employee and what might happen in certain circumstances, such as if the employee fails to return to work after FMLA leave.

UNLAWFUL ACTS

It is unlawful for any employer to interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided by FMLA. It is also unlawful for an employer to discharge or discriminate against any individual for opposing any practice, or because of involvement in any proceeding, related to FMLA.

ENFORCEMENT

The Wage and Hour Division investigates complaints. If violations cannot be satisfactorily resolved, the U.S. Department of Labor may bring action in court to compel compliance. Individuals may also bring a private civil action against an employer for violations.

OTHER PROVISIONS

Special rules apply to employees of local education agencies. Generally, these rules provide for FMLA leave to be taken in blocks of time when intermittent leave is needed or the leave is required near the end of a school term.

Salaried executive, administrative, and professional employees of covered employers who meet the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) criteria for exemption from minimum wage and overtime under Regulations, 29 CFR Part 541, do not lose their FLSA-exempt status by using any unpaid FMLA leave. This special exception to the "salary basis" requirements for FLSA's exemption extends only to "eligible" employees' use of leave required by FMLA.

The FMLA does not affect any other federal or state law which prohibits discrimination, nor supersede any state or local law which provides greater family or medical leave protection. Nor does it affect an employer's obligation to provide greater leave rights under a collective bargaining agreement or employment benefit plan. The FMLA also encourages employers to provide more generous leave rights.

FURTHER INFORMATION

The final rule implementing FMLA is contained in the January 6, 1995, Federal Register. (An interim final rule was published in the Federal Register on June 4, 1993.) LETTER OF UNDERSTANDING

The Employer desires to provide the secretary to staff attorney and secretary/bookkeeper position the opportunity to take vacation during the same period, but needs to have someone available who has secretarial skills and office familiarity, and who can provide office services should the need emerge.

APPENDIX G

FRIEND OF THE COURT POLICY ON BACKGROUND CHECKS OF EXISTING AND NEW EMPLOYEES

The 47th Judicial Circuit Court establishes basic safeguards to create a safe environment for those individuals who use or provide Friend of the Court services, as well as to maintain the integrity of the judiciary through this policy.

This policy applies to all current employees employed as of April 1, 2011 and all sub-contractors (vendors) and volunteers of the Friend of the Court (FOC) office of the 47th Judicial Circuit Court.

The 47th Judicial Circuit Court establishes this policy for conducting background checks on existing and new employees represented by a collective bargaining unit. The Court and the AFSCME, AFL-CIO Affiliated With Michigan Council #25 (Union) agree that all present and future employees will complete the Internet Criminal History Access Tool (ICHAT) and Department of Human Services Central Registry (CR) [when appropriate] as provided for in this Policy.

The Court has determined that existing employees under union contract in the following positions work with the public or have access to client information but do not work directly with children:

- a.) M. Caron - Chief Account Clerk
- b.) - Enforcement Case Worker
- c.) M. Kaukola - Enforcement Case Worker
- d.) P. Gould - Enforcement Case Worker
- e.) B. Gereau - Enforcement Case Worker
- f.) - Enforcement Case Worker

These incumbent individuals in the above positions will be required to provide authorization for an ICHAT background check. The authorization will include the individual's: First Name, Last Name, Gender, Month of Birth, Day of Birth, and Year of Birth.

In addition, the following union positions within the Friend of the Court have contact with children in the course of their employment.

- a.) - Friend of the Court Family Mediator

- b.) H. Berg - Legal Assistant to the Friend of the Court
- c.) - Secretary to the Family Mediator
- d.) D. Ligocki - Legal Assistant to the Staff Attorney
- e.) M. Heribacka - Caseworker Specialist (Temporary Assignment)

Incumbents of the above positions will also be required to obtain a clearance from the Michigan Department of Human Services (DHS) Central Registry in addition to an ICHAT background check. Individuals must submit a REQUEST FOR CENTRAL REGISTRY CLEARANCE (DHS-194) to DHS, or provide appropriate authorization and identification to allow the FOC to submit a Central Registry Clearance request on the individual's behalf, per MCL 722.627j(3). DHS will send a CENTRAL REGISTRY CLEARANCE RESPONSE LETTER (DHS-1910) to the requestor within several days of the request if the individual is not on the CR. If provided to the incumbent employee, the incumbent employee should retain that response until requested to provide it to the FOC.

The Friend of the Court will conduct an ICHAT check on all individuals in appropriate positions within 60 days after the contract is renegotiated. Also within 60 days after the contract is renegotiated, the Court will require the existing union employees in the positions that work with children to provide authorization and identification, as specified by MCL 722.627j(3) to allow FOC staff to conduct a CR search. The Friend of the Court staff will promptly conduct the CR search after receiving authorization and identification. Failure or refusal to agree to a background check, to provide authorization for a Central Registry Check, or to provide a DHS 1910 response when requested shall automatically result in the termination of employment of the incumbent employee from the Delta County Friend of the Court Office.

The following employees are not represented by a union:

- a.) J. Rudell - Friend of the Court
- b.) J Pelto - Friend of the Court Attorney
- c.) A. McNamara – Domestic Relations Mediator

The Court has determined that employees in these positions work with the public and have direct contact with children. These individuals have submitted to both an ICHAT and CR check.

The Delta County Friend of the Court does not have vendors or volunteers who work in the office.

The Delta County Friend of the Court will rely on a negative response (no criminal history found) and, other than an incumbent employee's statement regarding criminal convictions in any other jurisdiction, further consideration of the incumbent employee's criminal history will not be made.

The Delta County Friend of the Court will notify the incumbent employee of a positive response (criminal history found). The incumbent employee will be allowed to explain or otherwise refute a positive response. The Friend of the Court may conduct further investigation of a positive response.

In cases of a positive response, the Delta County Friend of the Court, in consultation with the Chief Judge of the 47th Judicial Circuit Court, will make an employment decision after consideration of the following factors:

1. Accuracy of the information provided
Was the prospective employee able to successfully refute or explain the positive response record?
2. Prior disclosure of information
Did the prospective employee disclose this information, if such an inquiry was made during the application process?
3. Relation to position being filled
Does the positive response record report information that substantially relates to the work that the prospective employee would be hired for?
4. Length of time since reported offense
Did the offense occur recently? Is there a series of offenses?
5. Nature of the offense
Was the offense work-related, or did the offense occur at the workplace? Was the offense a felony or misdemeanor? Was the offense a violent crime or non-violent crime? Did the offense involve the breach of fiduciary trust?
6. Public Trust
Would the public's trust in the judicial branch be diminished by hiring this prospective employee?

If represented by a union, the prospective employee's union representative will be allowed to give input to the decision process. The Court and the Friend of the Court will look at each of the above factors and give that factor appropriate weight based on all of the circumstances.

Options.

The Court and the Friend of the Court will make a decision regarding the appropriate steps to take following the receipt of the positive response record. Steps may include (but are not limited to) the following options:

- a. Do nothing, if the existing employee or vendor employee was able to show a mistake of fact or otherwise refute the positive response record;
- b. Offer counseling to the employee or suggest counseling for the vendor employee, if the positive response records were the result of substance abuse;
- c. Issue a verbal warning indicating that repeated arrests or convictions may result in further action;
- d. Issue a written warning indicating that repeated arrests or convictions may result in further action;

- e. Impose disciplinary action, including a reduction in pay, or a forced paid or unpaid leave;
- f. Increase supervision of the existing employee or vendor employee in day-to-day work;
- g. Transfer the existing employee or vendor employee to a position that will provide little to no opportunity for the existing employee to repeat the offense;
- h. Transfer the existing employee or vendor employee to a position within the court not funded in whole or in part by the CRP;
- i. Suspend of the existing employee or ask the vendor to replace the employee for a certain period of time (with or without pay); or
- j. Terminate of the existing employee. If the employee is a member of the union, termination shall be subject to Article 12 of the union contract.

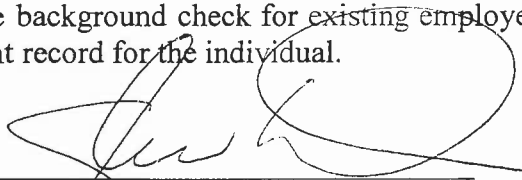

Communicating the Decision.

The employee will be informed of the impact of the positive response record through a conference between the Friend of the Court, the Chief Judge of the 47th Judicial Circuit Court, the incumbent employee and the incumbent employee's union representative if the employee is represented by a union.

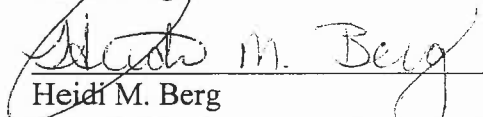

Storing the Response Record.

All documents generated through the background check for existing employees are retained as a part of the employment record for the individual.
