Overview of the Constitutional Convention Process

Provisions generally began as Committee Proposals and were then brought to the convention floor for first reading. The majority of debate on the substance of provisions occurred during the first and second readings. There were two third readings; the first on an article-by-article basis and the second reviewing the Constitution as a whole. Following the third readings the entire Constitution was voted on by the delegates. The delegates then created the Notice of Address to the People, summarizing the Constitution on a provision-by-provision basis, which was distributed so that the people could be informed when making their ratification votes.

The convention used ALL CAPS to denote added material and [brackets] to denote removed material.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The Chair recognizes the chairman of the committee, the gentleman from St. Louis, Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman, fellow delegates, the subcommittee responsible for explaining this proposal is headed by Mr. Kuhn. At this time I will yield to him.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pontiac, Mr. Kuhn.

MR. KUHN: Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, in this particular proposal we have only made 2 changes. If you would like to read the committee report, it is located on page 479 of Journal 71.

The only changes we made in this one were: one, to strike the word "welfare" and put in "security." We felt that if there ever was a need and public security required it, they could have a secret session. And the other change is to make it very clear what they mean by this sentence, "Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than 3 days, nor to any place other than where the legislature may then be in session. This is the same as the language in the federal constitution as far as concerns the 3 day adjournment and so forth.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: Are there any amendments to Committee Proposal 103? There being none, it will pass.

Committee Proposal 103 is passed, and the secretary will read.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 6 on the calendar, from the committee on legislative powers, by Mr. Hoxie, chairman, Committee Proposal 104, A proposal to provide for 3 readings of a bill before passage and for passage of bills by a majority of the members elected. Retains article V, section 23.

Following is Committee Proposal 104 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. Every bill shall be read 3 times in each house before the final passage thereof. No bill shall become a law without the concurrence of a majority of all the members elected to each house. On the final passage of all bills, the vote shall be by yeas and nays and entered on the journal.

Mr. Hoxie, chairman of the committee on legislative powers, submits the following reasons in support of Committee Proposal 104:

The committee recommends the retention of this section. The first sentence has a well recognized meaning in parliamentary law. Every bill shall be considered 3 times by each house prior to passage.

The provision requiring a concurrence of the majority of the members elected to each house to pass a bill is the rule of the constitutional majority. Without the limitation on the legislative process, it would be possible to enact legislation by a majority of a quorum which is one more than ½ the members elected.

The provision that the final vote on all bills be by yeas and nays and entered on the journal puts the legislature on record before the public.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The Chair recognizes the gentleman from St. Louis, Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman, I believe the committee has an amendment on the desk.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The secretary will report the committee amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Hoxie, on behalf of the committee on legislative powers, offers the following amendment:

1. Amend page 1, line 9, after "elected" by striking out "to" and inserting "and serving in"; so the language will there read, "No bill shall become a law without the concurrence of a majority of all the members elected and serving in each house."

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman and fellow delegates, I would like to state that this is an amendment which is recommended by the committee as a result of our hearing in the committee. This language, I believe, was suggested by Delegate Hutchinson who felt that it would be an improvement. At this time I yield to Mr. Kuhn.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pontiac, Mr. Kuhn.

MR. KUHN: Mr. Chairman, on page 479 of the journal the members can find our report on this particular proposal also. This particular proposal says every bill shall be read 3 times in each house. This is the general procedure in most legislative bodies. It is the way it is done today in the Michigan legislature. In other words, at the time of introduction, the bill is read twice by title, and then through your committees and through the committee of the whole, and then when they are ready for final passage, it gets its third reading.

The change that is suggested was to keep it in accord with our earlier recommendations that a quorum would be of the members elect. For example, in our senate today, where we usually have 34 senators—well, today Kent Lundgren was sworn in, so they would have 33, so the quorum would be consisting of 33. Before the swearing in today, they only had really 32 senators because of 2 vacancies. Well, we could have a major disaster and the amount would be much less, and they thought, to be consistent, we should use the quorum of those serving, and we do not mean those that are ill or those that are home or those that are on vacation, but only to take care of a disaster. The rest of this is exactly the way it is in our constitution today.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The question occurs on the committee amendment. Those in favor will respond by saying aye. Those opposed?

The amendment is adopted. There being no further amendments, the proposal, as amended, will pass.

Committee Proposal 104, as amended, is passed, and the secretary will read.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 7 on the calendar, from the committee on legislative powers, by Mr. Hoxie, chairman, Committee Proposal 105, A proposal to provide that bills must be printed 5 days prior to passage and for limitation of extraordinary sessions. Amends article V, section 22.

Following is Committee Proposal 105 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. No bill shall be passed or become a law at any regular session of the legislature until it has been printed OR REPRODUCED and in the possession of each house for at least 5 days. WHEN THE LEGISLATURE IS CONVENED ON EXTRAORDINARY OCCASIONS IN SPECIAL SESSION no bill shall be passed [at a special session of the legislature] on any other subjects than those expressly stated in the governor's proclamation or submitted by special message. No bill shall be altered or amended on its passage through either house so as to change its original purpose[.] AS DETERMINED BY ITS TOTAL CONTENT AND NOT ALONE BY ITS TITLE.

Mr. Hoxie, chairman of the committee on legislative powers, submits the following reasons in support of Committee Proposal 105:

The committee is of the opinion that this section should be retained and strengthened somewhat. The first sentence of the section is a preventive against hasty and careless legislation. It allows publicity to be given to pending legislative action so the electorate becomes informed. This provision does not prevent unprinted amendments, but the last sentence of the section prevents any change in original purpose.

The new language regarding legislation during special session is only to clarify existing meaning. It conforms with the provisions of article VI, which allow the governor to convene the legislature on extraordinary occasions.

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

The last sentence was first found in the 1908 constitution. The provision that no amendment is allowed which would change a bill's original purpose is to preclude the possibility that the publicity insured by the 5 day provision will not be nullified or evaded.

The new language strengthens the provision. By reference to the title alone, a title too broad would circumvent the provision confining bills to their original purpose.

The committee is of the opinion that the "original purpose" provision along with the requirement that bills must be printed for 5 days prior to passage is a limitation which should be retained. Action taken in haste is likely to prove itself not in the best interests of the people.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The Chair recognizes the gentleman from St. Louis, Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman, fellow delegates, this is another proposal that was under the responsibility of Mr. Kuhn and his subcommittee, and I yield to him.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pontiac, Mr. Kuhn.

MR. KUHN: Mr. Chairman, part of this proposal was put in from the 1908 constitution. One of the main reasons for this is that the public would be apprised of what the legislature was doing so you would not have snap legislation and things of that nature. This one says that no bill should be passed or become a law at any regular session of the legislature until it has been printed, and we put in the words "or reproduced." One change we added in the first section is "or reproduced." And the reason the word "reproduced" was included is this: I understand—and maybe Mr. Lesinski would like to talk about this later if you have any questions regarding this—that there is a technicality in the printing business on what is really printing and what is reproduced, and I understand that this will save the state of Michigan possibly many, many thousands of dollars in being able to reproduce rather than using the technical word "printing."

Mr. Prettie of Hillsdale brought to our attention during our discussion on the executive department the words "on extraordinary occasions," so we changed this sentence here on line 10, which says, "When the legislature is convened on extraordinary occasions in special session no bill shall be passed on any other subjects than those expressly stated in the governor's proclamation or submitted by special message." This is the rule we are following today in Michigan. This is the way it is done. It is a good way. The people are apprised of why the legislature is being called, and therefore they are to act only on what the governor wants. But this language as it was changed on line 10 was merely to keep it consistent with the way we drew up the executive article, and this was a suggestion by Ken Prettie.

Toward the end, we use this language starting on line 14, "No bill shall be altered or amended on its passage through either house so as to change its original purpose as determined by its total content and not alone by its title." Once again, if you will read the Address to the People of the 1908 convention, they wanted this air tight so the people were aware of what was to be before the legislature when a bill was up so they have some idea. This is only going a step further to make it tight so the people will have some idea of what is in a particular bill and so they can't change the purpose.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: Are there any amendments to the body of Committee Proposal 105? There being none, it will pass.

Committee Proposal 105 is passed, and the secretary will read.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 8 on the calendar, from the committee on legislative powers, by Mr. Hoxie, chairman, Committee Proposal 106, A proposal to allow the legislature to pass laws regarding indeterminate sentences. Retains article V, section 28.

Following is Committee Proposal 106 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. The legislature may provide by law for indeterminate sentences, so called, as a punishment for crime, on conviction thereof, and for the detention and release of persons imprisoned or detained on said sentences.

Mr. Hoxie, chairman of the committee on legislative powers, submits the following reasons in support of Committee Proposal 106:

The committee is of the opinion that this provision should be retained. Prior to the adoption of this section, it was held laws relating to indeterminate sentences invaded the judicial function.

The section allows for some statewide consistency in sentencing, while at the same time leaving a measure of flexibility in the courts so the circumstances of individual cases might be considered.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The Chair recognizes the gentleman from St. Louis, Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman and fellow delegates, this section falls under the jurisdiction of subcommittee 2, headed by Mr. Powell, and I yield to him.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Ionia, Mr. Powell.

MR. POWELL: Mr. Chairman and fellow delegates, the committee comment relative to this proposal is very brief. It is found on page 480.

The comment in the citizens research report here of the citizens research council of Michigan is found in the article relating to the legislative section, article V at the top of page 46. I will just read a very brief paragraph there:

The Constitution of 1835 did not contain a provision of this type. This provision originated in 1903 as an amendment to the Constitution of 1850. . . . Before this amendment was adopted, the Michigan supreme court had held that a law of the type later authorized in the amendment was a legislative invasion of the judicial function. After the adoption of the amendment, an indeterminate sentence law pursuant to it was upheld.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: Are there any amendments to the body of Committee Proposal 106? There being none, it will pass.

Committee Proposal 106 is passed, and the secretary will read.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 9 on the calendar, from the committee on legislative powers, by Mr. Hoxie, chairman, Committee Proposal 107, A proposal to provide that legislators shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. Amends article V, section 12.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman, I believe there is an amendment which deletes this particular section. I believe Mr. Pollock and his committee took care of the question of the election of the senators and representatives. At the time your legislative powers committee reported this matter to the floor, it had not been determined, and I would like to have the deletion amendment read and ask Mr. Pollock to respond if the senators and representatives as provided in his proposal are taken care of so that we can delete this particular section.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The secretary will complete the reading of Committee Proposal 107, when the committee amendment may then be offered.

SECRETARY CHASE: Section a:

Following is Committee Proposal 107 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. The election of senators and representatives,

Bledsoe	Jones	Sharpe
Cudlip	Judd, Mrs.	Sleder
Cushman, Mrs.	Karn	Spitler
Danhof	Knirk, B.	Staiger
DeVries	Koeze, Mrs.	Stevens
Donnelly, Miss	Kuhn	Thomson
Durst	Lawrence	Turner
Elliott, A. G.	Leibrand	Tweddie
Everett	Leppien	Upton
Farnsworth	Nisbet	Van Dusen
Faxon	Nord	Wanger
Follo	Norris	White
Goebel	Perras	Wood
Habermehl	Plank	Yeager

SECRETARY CHASE: On the amendment offered by Mr. Ford, the yeas are 41; the nays are 66.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: And the amendment is not adopted. Does the gentleman from St. Louis desire recognition?

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman, a good many delegates over in this corner desire to have the committee rise. I understand there are 5 more amendments on the secretary's desk. As so ably expressed by the secretary of the convention, 9:00 o'clock comes early in the morning; so I move that the committee rise.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The motion is on whether the committee shall rise. Those in favor of the motion will vote aye. Those opposed? The Chair is in doubt. A division is requested. Those in favor of the motion to rise will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. The secretary will lock the machine.

MR. MARSHALL: Mr. President, I must have voted wrong. I notice that Miss Hart and Mr. Downs voted aye; so I better change my vote so I can follow my leaders. (laughter)

MR. WANGER: Mr. Chairman, I trust you will note that I did not vote, but I couldn't make up my mind without the advice and counsel of my esteemed senatorial delegate, and he wasn't here to vote. (laughter)

SECRETARY CHASE: On the motion that the committee do now rise, the yeas are 66; the nays are 36.

CHAIRMAN BENTLEY: The motion prevails. The committee will rise.

[Whereupon, the committee of the whole having risen, President Nisbet resumed the Chair.]

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair recognizes Mr. Bentley.

MR. BENTLEY: Mr. President, the committee of the whole has had certain items on the general orders calendar under consideration of which the secretary will give a detailed report.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. President, the committee of the whole has had under consideration Committee Proposal 103, A proposal to provide that sessions of the legislature be open and that a concurrent resolution is necessary for adjournment for more than 3 days; Committee Proposal 105, A proposal to provide that bills must be printed 5 days prior to passage and for limitation of extraordinary sessions; Committee Proposal 106, A proposal to allow the legislature to pass laws regarding indeterminate sentences; Committee Proposal 108, A proposal to provide a limitation against general revision of the laws and a method of compilation; Committee Proposal 109, A proposal to provide that the legislature may enact laws whereby public employment disputes can be settled; Committee Proposal 110, A proposal to provide that the legislature may enact laws relative to hours and conditions of employment; and Committee Proposal 111, A proposal pertaining to the employment of chaplains; reports these proposals back to the convention without amendment and with a recommendation that they do pass.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Committee Proposals 103, 105, 106, 108, 109, 110 and 111 are accepted and referred to the committee on style and drafting.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. President, the committee of the whole has also had under consideration Committee Proposal 104, A proposal to provide for 3 readings of a bill before passage and for passage of bills by a majority of the members elected; reports this proposal back to the convention with an amendment and recommending that the proposal as amended do pass.

[Following is the amendment adopted by the committee of the whole:

1. Amend page 1, line 9, after "elected" by striking out "to" and inserting "and serving in".]

PRESIDENT NISBET: Committee Proposal 104, as amended by the committee of the whole, is accepted and referred to the committee on style and drafting.

Following is Committee Proposal 104 as amended and referred to the committee on style and drafting:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. Every bill shall be read 3 times in each house before the final passage thereof. No bill shall become a law without the concurrence of a majority of all the members elected and serving in each house. On the final passage of all bills, the vote shall be by yeas and nays and entered on the journal.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. President, the committee of the whole has also had under consideration Committee Proposal 107, A proposal to provide that legislators shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

[The following is the amendment adopted by the committee of the whole:

1. Amend page 1, by striking out all after the enacting clause.]

PRESIDENT NISBET: Committee Proposal 107, as amended by the committee of the whole, is accepted and referred to the committee on style and drafting.

(Note — The complete content of this committee proposal has been stricken.)

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. President, the committee of the whole has had under consideration Committee Proposal 112, A proposal to provide that certain officeholders shall be ineligible for the legislature; has considered an amendment thereto and has reached no final conclusion thereon. This completes the report of the committee of the whole.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Are there any announcements?

SECRETARY CHASE: We have the following announcements: the committee on emerging problems will meet tomorrow.

and whether a general act can be made applicable shall be a judicial question. [No local or special act, excepting acts repealing local or special acts in effect January 1, 1909 and receiving a 2/3 vote of the legislature shall take effect until approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon in the district to be affected.] NO LOCAL OR SPECIAL ACT SHALL TAKE EFFECT UNTIL APPROVED BY 2/3 OF THE MEMBERS ELECTED TO EACH HOUSE OF THE LEGISLATURE AND BY A MAJORITY OF THE ELECTORS VOTING THEREON IN THE DISTRICT TO BE AFFECTED. ANY ACT REPEALING LOCAL OR SPECIAL ACTS NOW IN EFFECT SHALL REQUIRE ONLY A MAJORITY OF THE MEMBERS OF EACH HOUSE AND SHALL NOT REQUIRE SUBMISSION TO THE ELECTORS OF SUCH DISTRICT.

Mr. Hoxie, chairman of the committee on legislative powers, submits the following reasons in support of Committee Proposal 119:

The committee recommends the retention of this section first found in the 1908 constitution. The purpose of the section, along with the home rule provision, is to lift the burden from the legislature of passing private and local legislation.

The only changes recommended are to clear up ambiguous language and to remove a date, now unimportant.

The requirement of a 2/3 vote of both houses and a majority vote in the area affected protects localities against arbitrary action.

By allowing a majority of the legislature to repeal existing local laws, uniformity will be easier to obtain.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman, fellow delegates, I yield to Delegate Powell for an explanation of this proposal.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Mr. Powell.

MR. POWELL: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen of the committee, the committee comment on this proposal is found on page 487 and reads as follows:

[The supporting reasons were read by Mr. Powell. For text, see above.]

I might comment that the latter part of the existing section to which this is a revision was pretty foggy, and I think we have cleared it up in good shape. We would be glad to explain the comment on this at considerable length. Don Habermehl gave it a great deal of thought and study. But it seems to me we are getting quite behind schedule this morning, and unless there are questions, I will subside.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Are there any amendments to the body of the proposal? If not, it will pass.

Committee Proposal 119 is passed. The secretary will read the next proposal.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 22 on the calendar, from the committee on legislative powers, by Mr. Hoxie, chairman, Committee Proposal 120, A proposal to provide that a member of the legislature shall not be appointed to certain other offices during the term for which he is elected. Amends article V, section 7.

Following is Committee Proposal 120 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. No person elected a member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state [or to the senate of the United States] from the governor, except notaries public, [or] from the governor and senate, from the legislature, or FROM any other state authority, during the term for which he is elected. [All such appointments and all votes given for any person so elected for any such office or appointment shall be void. No member of the legislature shall be interested directly or indirectly in any contract with the state or any county thereof, authorized by any law passed during the time for which he is elected, nor for 1 year thereafter.]

Mr. Hoxie, chairman of the committee on legislative powers, submits the following reasons in support of Committee Proposal 120:

The committee recommends that the provision preventing the civil appointment of a legislator be retained with one change. The prohibition against appointment to the United States senate is deleted. It is the opinion of the committee that if a vacancy in the office of United States senator occurs, there is no reason why a legislator, who is qualified, may not be chosen to fill it.

The deletion of the sentence that makes appointments and votes for legislators void is recommended. The language is surplusage since the first part of the section provides there shall be no such appointments. If a legislator were to be appointed in violation of this prohibition, he would be subject to answer a writ of quo warranto.

The final sentence regarding interest of a legislator in contracts with the state is deleted because the committee feels the matter is covered in Committee Proposal 115.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman and fellow delegates, I yield to Mr. Kuhn for an explanation.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Mr. Kuhn.

MR. KUHN: Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, in this particular provision, the committee was of the opinion that a member of the legislature should not be prohibited from being appointed a United States senator. Of the 50 states in the union today, the only state besides Michigan which has this prohibition is the state of Minnesota. The experts on political science, as well as others, did not think this was a reasonable prohibition. We therefore recommend its deletion.

As to the balance of it — that no member of the legislature shall be appointed to any particular office — that would be one that the governor would have, or the legislature, or the governor and the legislature. This has been in our constitution since 1835, and we think it is definitely needed. The balance of this, which has to do with conflict of interest, is provided for in Committee Proposal 115. We therefore recommend its adoption.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Are there any amendments to the body of the proposal? If not, it will pass.

Committee Proposal 120 is passed. The secretary will read the next proposal.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 23 on the calendar, from the committee on legislative powers, by Mr. Hoxie, chairman, Committee Proposal 121, A proposal to provide that no law shall embrace more than one object and that no act shall take effect until 90 days from the end of a session and other incidental matters. Amends article V, section 21.

Following is Committee Proposal 121 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. No law shall embrace more than one object, which shall be expressed in its title. No law shall be revised, altered or amended by reference to its title only; but [the act revised and] the section or sections of the act altered or amended shall be reenacted and published at length. No act shall take effect or be in force until the expiration of 90 days from the end of the session at which the same is passed, except that the legislature may give immediate effect to acts making appropriations and acts immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health or safety by a 2/3 vote of the members elected to each house.

Mr. Hoxie, chairman of the committee on legislative powers, submits the following reasons in support of Committee Proposal 121:

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

The committee recommends the retention of this section with one change. The first sentence of this section requires the object of acts to be expressed in the title. This is a safeguard against the legislature passing acts without being fully aware of their effect.

The requirement of a single object in a bill prevents the legislature from combining diverse subjects in order to secure a favorable vote. Most states have similar requirements as to single object and title.

The requirement that the sections of an act revised must be set forth in full allows the revision to be put in proper context. However, the requirement that the whole of the act revised be reprinted is costly and unnecessary, and the committee recommends deletion of this wording.

The 90 day provision regarding effective date of statutes is to allow adequate communication of a law throughout the state. The committee is of the opinion that the complexity and multitude of laws passed during a legislative session requires a sufficient period of notice and that 90 days is fair. The provision allowing the legislature to give immediate effect to certain acts is retained. "Immediate effect" statutes must meet requirements of preserving either the public health, safety or welfare or for appropriations.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman and fellow delegates, I yield to Mr. Kuhn for an explanation of this proposal.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Mr. Kuhn.

MR. KUHN: Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, on this particular proposal, we kept it intact as to what the practice is in Michigan today. You will note on line 8 we struck out the words "the act revised." That would mean that if the legislature were to pass any statute today which would affect a statute in being, that you would have to republish the whole statute. This is not the practice in Michigan today. It is not the sensible thing to do. Therefore, those words were deleted by our committee. In practice, what is done if you amend a statute today in a particular section or sections, is reprint those sections in full, which is the correct thing to do, in our judgment. Therefore, we ask that this be adopted.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Are there any amendments to the body of the proposal? If not, it will pass.

Committee Proposal 121 is passed. The secretary will read the next proposal.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 24 on the calendar, from the committee on legislative powers, by Mr. Hoxie, chairman, Committee Proposal 122, A proposal to include in the constitution the substance of section 5 of article XVI entitled "Vacancies in office; continuity of government in emergencies."

Following is Committee Proposal 122 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. The legislature may provide by law the cases in which any office shall be deemed vacant and the manner of filling vacancies, where no provision is made in this constitution.

[The legislature, in addition to and not in derogation of the power heretofore conferred in section 5 of this article XVI,] In order to insure continuity of state and local governmental operations in periods of emergency only, resulting from disasters occurring in this state caused by enemy attack on the United States, THE LEGISLATURE shall have the power to such extent as [the legislature] IT deems advisable (1) to provide by legislative enactment for prompt and temporary succession to the powers and duties of public offices, of whatever nature and whether filled by election or appointment, the incumbents of which may become unavailable for carrying on the powers and duties of such offices, and (2) to adopt by legislative enactment such other legislation as may be necessary and proper for insuring the continuity of governmental operations. Notwithstanding the power conferred [by this amendment] ABOVE, elections shall always be called as soon as possible to fill any elective vacancies in any office temporarily occupied by operation of any legislation enacted pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph.

Mr. Hoxie, chairman of the committee on legislative powers, submits the following reasons in support of Committee Proposal 122:

The subject matter of the first paragraph of section 5 was first introduced into the constitution of 1850, and was retained in the constitution of 1908 except for changes in improving the phraseology.

This provision is self explanatory. There have been no judicial decisions on the section, and it seems to have worked very well for over 100 years. As is stated in this paragraph, this provision only applies where there is no other provision made for appointment in the constitution.

The legislature has implemented this first paragraph by statute. Public act 40 of 1954 defines the instances in which an office would be deemed vacant. Public act 116 of 1954 sets forth in detail how vacancies in certain offices (those for which no specific constitutional provision is made) shall be ascertained and how those vacancies shall be filled.

The second paragraph to this section was adopted in the April 1959 election by the people as an amendment to this section. The purpose of the amendment was to give the legislature power to provide for continuity for state and local governmental operations in periods of emergency only caused by enemy attack. This 1959 amendment was implemented by public act 203 of 1959.

This act authorizes the passage of local ordinances or resolutions providing for emergency interim successors to local political subdivision offices, except for judicial and civil service offices. Officers included were to designate 5 emergency interim officers and specify the order of succession. It is interesting to note that the temporary successors are to receive no compensation beyond actual expenses.

No other state has such detailed emergency provisions, but the committee feels that inasmuch as this was thoroughly publicized and voted on by the people in 1959 and has been implemented by statute, that the emergency paragraph should be included in the new constitution.

Your committee, therefore, recommends that the substance of section 5 of article XVI be retained in the new constitution, including both (1) the first paragraph to fill vacancies; and (2) to provide for continuity of government in case of emergency; and recommends its adoption by the convention.

It is further recommended that the committee on style and drafting be requested to consider putting this section into the legislative article.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. Chairman and fellow delegates, I yield to Mr. Wood for an explanation of the committee's report.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Mr. Wood.

MR. WOOD: Mr. Chairman, fellow delegates, a report on this section will be found in Journal 71, pages 488 and 489. I might also say that this proposal received 14 votes out of our 15 man committee, and I think the other man was absent at the time we passed it.

[The supporting reasons were read by Mr. Wood. For text, see above.]

Mr. Chairman, I defer to Mr. Downs for a further statement on this article.

CHAIRMAN HUTCHINSON: Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. Chairman, fellow delegates, I believe that Delegate Wood has given a very detailed summary of the principles. This simply is to provide for continuity of govern-

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on adjournment. Those in favor will say aye. Those opposed, no.

We are adjourned until 9:00 o'clock tomorrow morning.

[Whereupon, at 7:10 o'clock p.m., the convention adjourned until 9:00 o'clock a.m., Wednesday, April 25, 1962.]

ONE HUNDRED TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY

Wednesday, April 25, 1962, 9:00 o'clock a.m.

PROCEEDINGS

PRESIDENT NISBET: The convention will please come to order.

We are very happy to have with us this morning to give the invocation, Glenn Allen's pastor, Reverend Charles K. Johnson of the First Presbyterian Church of Kalamazoo.

REVEREND JOHNSON: Let us pray. Almighty God who hast set our lives in a pleasant place and who hast informed our heritage with freedom to live and work and to seek after truth, grant that we may be worthy of our inheritance and responsible in this present for the future. Forbid that we should become separated from Thee by that selfrighteousness which pretends we are our own to do with as we please. We are not our own but accountable for truth and justice and mercy quite beyond our own preferences. Grant that in humility before Thee, in concern for the dignity of our fellows, in obedience to the welfare of the state, this body may possess the wisdom and courage and patience and graciousness to do out its duty. Amen.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The roll call will be taken by the secretary. Those present, please vote aye. Have you all recorded your attendance? If so, the secretary will lock the machine.

SECRETARY CHASE: Messrs. Marshall, Faxon and Mahinske offer Resolution 92, A resolution relative to extending the constitutional convention May 15 deadline.

Following is Resolution 92 as offered:

Whereas, The major concern of this convention ought properly to be that of submitting a document which is our best deliberative judgment; and

Whereas, We have to date exercised this judgment carefully and judiciously; now therefore be it

Resolved, That in the future consideration of proposals on second and third reading we not be guided by a fixed time schedule, but are to be guided by our own good judgment and sound thinking in concluding this convention expeditiously and with a document of which we can all be proud; and be it further

Resolved, That appropriate steps be taken to secure additional funds, if necessary, for up to 2 weeks beyond the May 15 deadline, to insure that we can conclude our work in an orderly, sensible, judicious, expeditious and deliberative manner.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Referred to the committee on rules and resolutions.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Downs, Miss Hart, Messrs. Kelsey, Norris, Bradley, Mrs. Daisy Elliott, Messrs. Buback, Baginski and Krolkowski offer

Resolution 93, A resolution providing for the separate submission to the people of the controversial and the noncontroversial portions of the proposed constitution.

Following is Resolution 93 as offered:

Whereas, The constitutional convention is in the process of adopting several items with substantial bipartisan support, which in all likelihood are desired by the people of this state; and

Whereas, Such items include, but are not confined to, the following: (1) elimination of spring elections; (2) 4 year terms; (3) improved borrowing power for the state; (4) a self executing civil rights commission; (5) constitutional protection from taxation for churches; (6) possibility of lowering interest rates and tolls on the Mackinac bridge through full faith and credit bonds; (7) constitutional status for universities and an 8 member state board of education to replace the present 4 member board, with additional coordinating powers; (8) increased pay for legislators; (9) constitutional prohibition of capital punishment; and (10) elimination of much obsolete language; and

Whereas, There are many other highly controversial provisions that have been adopted by smaller majorities which may jeopardize the acceptance of these proposals that have substantial agreement; and

Whereas, The constitutional amendment creating this convention permits this convention to submit either amendments or a revised constitution to the people; now therefore be it

Resolved, That this convention call upon the committee on style and drafting, immediately after second reading, to present to the convention in such form that those provisions which have received substantial bipartisan support be submitted in one package and those that are highly controversial be submitted as separate items for the voters to pass on independently so that the voter's antipathy to one controversial item will not jeopardize the passage of those portions of the constitution that are agreed upon with substantial bipartisan support.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Referred to the committee on rules and resolutions.

Second reading.

Delegates, please clear the board. The secretary will read the next proposal.

SECRETARY CHASE: Page 12 of the calendar on second reading, item 15 on the calendar, Committee Proposal 121, A proposal to provide that no law shall embrace more than one object and that no act shall take effect until 90 days from the end of a session and other incidental matters. Amends article V, section 21.

Following is Committee Proposal 121 as reported by the committee on style and drafting and read by the secretary. (For full text as referred to said committee, see above, page 2415.):

Sec. a. No law shall embrace more than one object, which shall be expressed in its title. No law shall be revised, altered or amended by reference to its title only[;]. [but] The section or sections of the act altered or amended shall be reenacted and published at length. No act shall take effect or be in force until the expiration of 90 days from the end of the session at which [the same is] IT WAS passed, [except that] BUT the legislature may give immediate effect to acts making appropriations and acts immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health or safety by a 2/3 vote of the members elected to AND SERVING IN each house.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President and fellow delegates, this proposal was returned from style and drafting without any substantive change, and we recommend it to the convention for adoption.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Baginski.

MR. BAGINSKI: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I recommend the adoption of this proposal.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Pollock.

MR. POLLOCK: Mr. President, could I ask the chairman of the committee a question?

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. POLLOCK: The question is, Mr. Chairman: did the committee give consideration to the standing abuse—at least I call it a standing abuse—of the legislature giving immediate effect to so many measures which are neither appropriation measures or measures necessary for the immediate health and safety? Did the committee, for instance, consider whether this could become or should be a judicial rather than a political question?

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President, Dr. Pollock, the proposal as it was returned to the convention by style and drafting, from a constructive standpoint, was the same proposal that was adopted by the convention and the committee of the whole.

Many of us who are familiar with the legislative process do know that at times there are proposals which you have to stretch your imagination a little to conceive of as being for the public health and safety and so forth, to which the legislature can give immediate effect. However, I think that the courts would have a right to determine if that was abused. I don't know of any other way that this could be arranged with any more safeguards than we presently have, because the constitution is clear that only those things that affect that type of legislation can be given immediate effect. However, it is a matter which the court would have a right to review, I would assume. But there is no change from what was adopted by the convention and the committee of the whole, and our chief concern is if there has been any substantive change made by the committee on style and drafting as it is reported back to the convention. It is our belief they have not made any substantive change.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Pollock.

MR. POLLOCK: Mr. Chairman, in other words, it is the belief of the committee that it is clear there is power for the court to determine whether or not this emergency provision is sound or not?

MR. HOXIE: Well, personally, Dr. Pollock, as an attorney, I would assume that any abuse of the constitution certainly could be reviewed by the supreme court of the state of Michigan.

MR. POLLOCK: I just am not acquainted with such action by the supreme court, and I do know that it is a great abuse in this and other states. In some states they have a provision making it a judicial question expressly, and I just wondered whether the committee considered this matter.

MR. HOXIE: Well, Dr. Pollock, I don't know as we considered it quite from that phase, but it would be my interpretation that the supreme court would have a right to review any legislative act that was given immediate effect where it did not fall within the category we enumerated. We have many lawyers here. I would be glad to yield to the chairman of the judiciary committee if he would like to make a legal determination. I see Attorney Hutchinson at the microphone. Perhaps he can answer to your satisfaction.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hutchinson.

MR. HUTCHINSON: I prefer to seek the floor under my own, Mr. President. I have another point to raise.

PRESIDENT NISBET: You have the floor on your own right now.

MR. HUTCHINSON: Thank you, Mr. President. Really, it is pursuing the same question; but, Mr. President, I am familiar with the history of this provision relative to giving immediate effect to acts, and remember that under the 1850 constitution it was the law, the provision of the 1850 constitution, but the legislature could give immediate effect to any act by a 2/3 vote of the members elect, and at the time of the 1908 convention, the legislature had fallen into passing so many local acts, all of which it could pass without submitting to referendum—that is no longer true—but there was a great deal of opposition to the continuance of letting the legislature have a general power by an extraordinary majority to give immediate effect to acts. But I believe I will agree with Mr. Hoxie that there is a power in the court—and Judge Gadola assures me that it is a judicial power now—to determine whether an act which was given immediate effect falls within the specified categories, but the specified categories are not broad enough to be realistic, in my view, today. For instance, every tax bill that the legislature passes needs to be given a particular effective date, either the first of the fiscal year or the first of October or the first of January; some set date which, from a fiscal standpoint, is sound. In order to do that, the legislature has to give tax bills immediate effect. Well, as a matter of fact, they don't fall into any one of these categories, and I am wondering whether the committee gave any consideration to striking out the specification of these categories at all.

I offer an amendment at this time, if it will be accepted from the floor, to strike out of line 7, after the word "acts" the balance of line 7 and all of line 8 up to and including the word "safety," so that the language will read, "but the legislature may give immediate effect to acts by a 2/3 vote of the members elected to and serving in each house."

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Hutchinson offers the following amendment:

1. Amend page 1, line 7, after the first word "acts" by striking out "making appropriations and acts immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health or safety".

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President, fellow delegates, I think that is a realistic amendment. You do have the safeguard, of course, of requiring 2/3 of the members elected and serving in each house, and it would seem that any legislation that could get that much support would safeguard the public interest.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the amendment offered by Mr. Hutchinson. Mr. Kuhn.

MR. KUHN: I would rise to question the wisdom of this amendment because of the fact that if you allow this, you are doing away with the right of initiative or referendum.

Now, in order for an act to get this 2/3 and have immediate effect, it must come under one of the 4 categories; that is, 1, make an appropriation; 2, preserve the public peace; 3, preserve public health; or 4, preserve public safety. Any other act the legislature passes, the people have a right, in 90 days, to go out and get 5 per cent of the signatures to kill it. They have used this power some 7 times and have killed 6 legislative acts.

I don't know the particular vote now. If Mr. Hutchinson could report to me whether any of those had 2/3 of the membership approving them, I might be willing to take away my disapproval. But to me this would weaken our referendum.

MR. HUTCHINSON: Will the gentleman yield to me to answer?

MR. KUHN: Yes, I will.

MR. HUTCHINSON: Mr. President, it is not essential, in order to submit an act to the referendum, that it need have taken effect. I would grant you that is the way the old 1908 constitution read, but it isn't essential that it do that. The right of the people to a referendum on a legislative act could be exercised if the constitution so provided, even though an act had been given immediate effect. As a matter of fact, if you read the initiative and referendum provisions of the constitution, you will see that there are only 2 kinds of acts which cannot be submitted to a referendum initiated by the people. One of them is an act making an appropriation. The other is an act to make up a deficiency in the state fund. There are lots of other acts that do affect the public health and safety; nevertheless there doesn't seem to be a prohibition against submitting them to referendum if the people want to do it, even though the legislature does give them immediate effect.

On the other hand, to restrict the power of the legislature to immediate effect action into these 3 categories—which, I invite your attention to the fact, don't even include public welfare—doesn't seem to me to be very sound, and I would much rather have the power left in the legislature by a 2/3 vote to give immediate effect to any act and then to preserve the right of the people, if they want to, to initiate a referendum which, as soon as the petitions are filed, would cease operation of that act until they had voted upon it, than to ask the legislature to continue to keep winking at the realities and trying to kid itself and everybody else into thinking that an act falls into one of these 3 categories when as a matter of fact it doesn't, but also as a matter of fact it needs immediate effect, such as a tax bill. I suppose we could think of many other illustrations, but a tax bill is a good one.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Kuhn.

MR. KUHN: Well, the only thing I worry about is the reasoning for this 90 day rule. One of the reasons that I understand it was there was to allow the people to become acquainted with the statutes the legislature passed so they could adjust to them and have businessmen adjust to them, and I would question the wisdom of this, although he has a pretty sound argument, if it can obtain 2/3 vote, that maybe it is a good thing. I am just pointing out the reasons that this was placed in the constitution in the first place.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the adoption of the amendment offered by Mr. Hutchinson. Mr. Chase will read the amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Hutchinson's amendment:

[The amendment was again read by the secretary. For text, see above, page 2955.]

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair recognizes Miss Andrus.

MISS ANDRUS: Probably Mr. Hoxie and Mr. Hutchinson are quite acquainted with this, but I would like to ask a question of Mr. Hutchinson if I might.

PRESIDENT NISBET: You may, Mr. Hutchinson.

MISS ANDRUS: Mr. Hutchinson, many bills are passed the very last days of the legislature. Now, when they are given immediate effect, how much time would the people have to get petitions? You have to have 5 per cent of those voting for governor in the last election. How much time would they have to get those before they went into effect?

MR. HUTCHINSON: Mr. President, of course before it went into effect, they wouldn't have, but they would still—hopefully the constitution would so provide that they would still have their 90 days from the sine die adjournment of that session in order to file their 5 per cent petitions, you see.

MISS ANDRUS: Then an act that had gone into effect could be revoked?

MR. HUTCHINSON: Could be suspended and should be suspended as soon as the petitions are filed.

MISS ANDRUS: What I mean is, we would start it in operation and then we would suspend it?

MR. HUTCHINSON: That would be the situation. But, as a matter of fact, the number of times that that would happen compared with the number of times that the public interest demands an immediate effect provision to act is so rare that the public interest would be more inconvenienced by continuing this present restriction than to meet the situation that you indicate.

MISS ANDRUS: Mr. President, I can see that, but should we make some provision then, in the article dealing with the referendum? Should that be changed to conform to your amendment if we make this change?

MR. HUTCHINSON: Yes.

MISS ANDRUS: There would have to be some change there?

MR. HUTCHINSON: I would hope so.

MISS ANDRUS: I mean would it be necessary, in your opinion, that there be some statement?

MR. HUTCHINSON: Mr. President, in the initiative and referendum, the old provision said, again, that no act should take effect for 90 days. It said so twice in the constitution.

MISS ANDRUS: I know.

MR. HUTCHINSON: I don't recall that it is in the new provision relative to initiative and referendum, about the 90 days. I will check it.

MISS ANDRUS: Thank you.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Ford.

MR. FORD: I am a little surprised at all the lawyers sitting still. They should be rising to defend this section, because it is known as the lawyer's friend. When you can't find any other way to attack legislation, one of the first things you do is try and find out if they made a mistake in the way they wrote the title, and it very frequently is a stock allegation in litigation against municipalities, for example, where you are operating under an enabling act—and you almost always are.

If you take a look at your blue book under article V, section 21, you will see that there has been a tremendous amount of litigation that has gone through the supreme court involving this section since 1908. You will also notice that, in answer to Dr. Pollock's question, we are dealing here in Mr. Hutchinson's amendment with 2 things: the court has said that the question of whether a matter falls within the purview of the 3 definitive words of the time when the legislation can get immediate effect is a judicial question. It is not up to the legislature, in the last analysis, to decide whether a thing is for public health, welfare or safety, but it is up to the court to determine that. But it is up to the legislature to determine in the first instance if an emergency exists which warrants making the act immediately effective.

So there are 2 tests to be met: first, there has to be an immediate need, and that is a legislative question. When the legislature decides that it is necessary, then you can't go behind that when you go to court. But having decided that, then it still must be properly within the purview of this very limited field. And you will notice, if you take a look at some of the particular areas in which this has raised problems, that one of them that causes municipalities a great deal of trouble is when they discover a problem, which is similar to what we have going on right now concerning the issuance of special assessment bonds for sewers. Now, so long as these special assessment bonds are for sewers, we can follow a tenuous route and sustain the acts of the legislature. You are probably aware of the fact that a recent supreme court decision has placed a great many special assessment districts in this state in jeopardy, and we have all instructed our communities not to go any further with special assessments until this session of the legislature has a chance to patch it up. None of us know exactly where we stand.

Now, since we are dealing specifically with something in the nature of a direct public health hazard, such as the contamination of water, we can follow a tenuous route and get it in the back door here and probably sustain an act that is given immediate effect. There isn't any question there is an emergency here. But when you get away from things such as the public water supply and sewers and get into other things, then you get into serious questions, and sometimes you find that you not only jeopardize public lending and public ability to proceed, public corporations in particular, but you also at the same time run the risk of having the danger that you are trying to correct do a great deal of harm before you can effectively stop it.

It seems to me that there is a third safeguard built into this section, and that is the requirement of 2/3 majority in both houses when you attempt to do this, and if Senator Hutchinson could change the latter part of this section to emphasize the word "emergency" I would be wholly in agreement with him on trying to get away from casting the burden on the legislature to put it in the proper one of the 3 categories after they have once decided, by a 2/3 vote of both houses, that the legislation is, in fact, needed for the public good and that an emergency exists. It seems that this should be a sufficient test, the emergency itself, and the fact that by very technical legal definition it may fall outside the purview of those 3 words and thereby vitiate an attempt to do something necessary for the people of the state doesn't seem to me to be good constitutional draftsmanship.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Dr. Pollock.

MR. POLLOCK: Mr. President, may I ask a final question of Mr. Hutchinson?

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hutchinson.

MR. POLLOCK: Am I correct in assuming, Mr. Hutchinson, that you feel by your amendment that you will eliminate what seems to be the existing abuse by eliminating those 3 words on which the abuse now rests?

MR. HUTCHINSON: Mr. President, I think probably that I should say yes, if I am willing to accept Dr. Pollock's premise that there is an abuse. I don't believe the legislature has unduly abused this situation, but I will concede that they have had to stretch it quite a ways sometimes in order to meet the realities of situations where the public health or the public need actually demanded an immediate effect, or at least an effect on a date certain which might fall short of the 90 days after final adjournment of the legislature. So with that statement, yes, I think that it would. It would eliminate the abuse, because it would give the legislature the discretion, by a 2/3 vote, to give immediate effect to any act.

MR. POLLOCK: Thank you very much. Mr. President, I think I could show to Mr. Hutchinson that it has been very badly abused, because the record is pretty clear, although I think it hasn't been brought up to date for 10 or 15 years.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Baginski, did you care to speak on the amendment?

MR. BAGINSKI: Yes, I do.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Baginski.

MR. BAGINSKI: Mr. President and delegates, as a former member of the legislature, I have seen some of this abuse take place. If someone had a special bill he wanted to get through, get immediate effect for it, get a 2/3 vote, he could get it. I think, though, that the amendment offered here would be a good one. It would eliminate much of this abuse. And if the legislature felt that this bill or this enactment needed immediate effect, they could do so by a 2/3 vote, and that is their prerogative. I hope that this amendment is adopted.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the amendment offered by Mr. Hutchinson. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The amendment is adopted. The question now is on Committee Proposal 121 as amended. Dr. DeVries.

MR. DEVRIES: Mr. President, I would like to ask the chairman of the committee a question, if I may.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. DEVRIES: Throughout these sections on legislative powers you refer to "sessions," Mr. Hoxie. That is 1 year; isn't that correct? By "session" you refer to 1 year sessions?

MR. HOXIE: I think perhaps that would be the interpretation.

MR. DEVRIES: When you refer to "term of office" throughout these proposals, are you talking about 2 years or 4 years?

MR. HOXIE: We are talking about the term of office for which the legislators are elected. Presently, of course, 2 years.

MR. DEVRIES: But under the provision that we now have, with senators for 4 years, what would be considered a legislative term of office, 2 years or 4 years?

MR. HOXIE: Well, I assume that if the proposal is adopted by this convention giving to senators a 4 year term and representatives a 2 year term, that term of office would be in accordance with the term for which they are elected. Now, you must remember that at the time some of these proposals were adopted by our committee, we had no way of knowing what the convention would do in the way of term of office, if anything different, between the house and the senate. Those are some of the matters which we expected that style and drafting would clarify as those proposals came to them.

MR. DEVRIES: Well, at present the legislature has a 2 year term of office, does it not? The legislature runs for a 2 year term?

MR. HOXIE: I think, Dr. DeVries, with the 3 or 4 years that you were around the legislature, you are fully able to answer that question yourself.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the adoption of Committee Proposal 121 as amended. Those in favor will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the passage of Committee Proposal 121 as amended, the yeas are 110; the nays, 2.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Committee Proposal 121, as amended, is passed and referred to the committee on style and drafting.

Following is Committee Proposal 121 as amended and referred to the committee on style and drafting:

Sec. a. No law shall embrace more than one object, which shall be expressed in its title. No law shall be revised, altered or amended by reference to its title only. The section or sections of the act altered or amended shall be reenacted and published at length. No act shall take effect or be in force until the expiration of 90 days from the end of the session at which it was passed, but the legislature may give immediate effect to acts by a 2/3 vote of the members elected to and serving in each house.

Will the delegates please clear the board? The secretary will read the next proposal.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 16 on the calendar, Committee Proposal 105, A proposal to provide that bills must be printed 5 days prior to passage and for limitation of extraordinary sessions. Amends article V, section 22.

Following is Committee Proposal 105 as reported by the committee on style and drafting and read by the secretary. (For full text as referred to said committee, see above, page 2334.):

Sec. a. No bill shall be passed or become a law at any regular session of the legislature until it has been printed or reproduced and in the possession of each house for at least 5 days. When the legislature is convened on extraordinary occasions in special session no bill shall be passed on any [other] subjects OTHER than those expressly stated in the governor's proclamation or submitted by special message. No bill shall be altered or amended on its passage through either house so as to change its original purpose as determined by its total content and not alone by its title.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair recognizes Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President, fellow delegates, the only change that style and drafting made to this proposal was a matter of moving the word "other" to after "subjects" instead of before "subjects." They seemed to think it read better that way.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Baginski.

MR. BAGINSKI: Mr. President and delegates, I concur in the statements made by the chairman of the committee and ask the adoption of this proposal.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the adoption of Committee Proposal 105. Those in favor will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Committee Proposal 105 is passed and referred to the committee style and drafting.

Will the delegates please clear the board? The secretary will read the next proposal.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 17 on the calendar, Committee Proposal 104, A proposal to provide for 3 readings of a bill before passage and for passage of bills by a majority of the members elected. Retains article V, section 23.

Following is Committee Proposal 104 as reported by the committee on style and drafting and read by the secretary. (For full text as referred to said committee, see above, page 2351.):

Sec. a. Every bill shall be read 3 times in each house before the final passage thereof. No bill shall become a law without the concurrence of a majority of all the members elected TO and serving in each house. On the final passage of all bills, the vote shall be by yeas and nays and entered [on] IN the journal.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: This proposal, Mr. President and fellow delegates, was returned from style and drafting without any substantive change from the form as adopted by the convention. We recommend its adoption.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Baginski.

MR. BAGINSKI: Mr. President and delegates, there was some question raised here as to whether every bill should be read 3 times. I think this provision should remain in the constitution, as the house and senate rules do provide that if a bill is tiring and lengthy, with a lot of Latin names like we had in the fish bill many times, it could be considered read unless there was an objection. I move the adoption of this proposal.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on approval of Committee Proposal 104. Those in favor will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

Faxon

SECRETARY CHASE: On the passage of Committee Proposal 104, the yeas are 115; the nays, 1.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Committee Proposal 104 is passed.

Explanation of vote submitted by Mr. Faxon:

I voted no on Committee Proposal 104 because I felt that this provision was no longer necessary in light of our present situation.

The original purpose for having a bill read 3 times was so that those members of the legislature who could not read would be sure to know what they were passing on. I assume this is no longer the case.

Furthermore, this practice of having to read a bill has been used recently as a means of impeding the efficient and effective progress of the legislature. By having one member insist upon a bill being read the entire legislative process can be slowed down materially.

This practice was what occurred during the recent marathon senate sessions.

I do not feel that this provision is in the best interest of the people of this state.

PRESIDENT NISBET (continuing): It is referred to the committee on style and drafting.

For Committee Proposal 104 as rereferred to the committee on style and drafting, see above.

The secretary will read the next proposal. Will the delegates please clear the board?

Legislative Branch

Sec. 1. The legislative power of the State of Michigan is vested in a senate and a house of representatives.

Sec. 2. The senate shall consist of 38 members[,] to be elected from single member districts at the same [time] ELECTION as the governor for [4] FOUR-year terms concurrent with the term of office of the governor.

In districting the state for the purpose of electing senators after the official publication of the total population count of each federal decennial census, each county shall be assigned an apportionment factor equal to the sum of its percentage of the state's population as shown by the last regular federal decennial census computed to the nearest [1/100] ONE-ONE HUNDREDTH of one percent multiplied by [4] FOUR and its percentage of the state's land area computed to the nearest [1/100] ONE-ONE HUNDREDTH of one percent.

In arranging the state into senatorial districts, the apportionment commission shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Counties with 13 or more apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. After each such county has been allocated one senator, the remaining senators to which this class of counties [are] IS entitled shall be distributed among such counties by the method of equal proportions applied to the apportionment factors.

(2) Counties having less than 13 apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment FACTORS of the state computed to the nearest whole number. Such counties shall thereafter be arranged into senatorial districts that are compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, as rectangular in shape as possible, and having as nearly as possible 13 apportionment factors, but in no event less than 10 or more than 16. Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there [shall be] IS a failure to comply with the above standards.

(3) Counties entitled to [2] TWO or more senate districts shall be [further sub]divided into single member districts. The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the county by the number of senators to which it is entitled. Each such district shall follow incorporated city or township boundary lines to the extent possible and shall be compact, contiguous, and as nearly uniform in shape as possible.

Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of 110 members elected for [2] TWO-year terms from single member districts apportioned on a basis of population as [hereinafter] provided IN THIS ARTICLE. The districts shall consist of compact and convenient territory contiguous by land.

Each county which has a population of not less than [7/10] SEVEN-TENTHS of one percent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative area. Each county having less than [7/10] SEVEN-TENTHS of one percent of the population of the state shall be combined with another county or counties to form a representative area of not less than [7/10] SEVEN-

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

TENTHS of one percent of the population of the state. Any county which is isolated under the initial allocation as [herein] provided IN THIS SECTION shall be joined with that contiguous representative area having the smallest percentage of the state's population. Each such representative area shall be entitled initially to one representative.

After the assignment of one representative to each of the representative areas, the remaining house seats shall be apportioned among the representative areas on the basis of population by the method of equal proportions.

Any county comprising a representative area entitled to [2] TWO or more representatives shall be divided into single member representative districts as follows:

(1) The population of [each] SUCH districtS shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the representative area by the number of representatives to which it is entitled.

(2) Such single member districts shall follow city and township boundaries where applicable and shall be composed of compact and contiguous territory as nearly square in shape as possible.

Any representative area consisting of more than one county, entitled to more than one representative, shall be divided into single member districts as equal as possible in population adhering to county lines.

Sec. 4. In counties having more than one representative or senatorial district, the territory in the same county annexed to or merged with a city between apportionments shall become a part of a contiguous representative or senatorial district in the city with which it is combined upon the effective date of the annexation or merger[.]. THE DISTRICTS WITH WHICH THE TERRITORY SHALL BE COMBINED SHALL BE [as] determined by ordinance of the city certified to the secretary of state.

[No legislator shall be deemed to have vacated his office by virtue of the above section.] NO SUCH CHANGE IN THE BOUNDARIES OF A REPRESENTATIVE OR SENATORIAL DISTRICT SHALL HAVE THE EFFECT OF REMOVING A LEGISLATOR FROM OFFICE DURING HIS TERM.

Sec. 5. ISLAND AREAS ARE CONSIDERED TO BE CONTIGUOUS BY LAND TO THE COUNTY OF WHICH THEY ARE A PART.

Sec. 6. A commission on legislative apportionment is hereby established consisting of [8] EIGHT persons, [4] FOUR of whom shall be selected by the state organizations of each of the [2] TWO political parties whose candidates for governor received the highest vote at the last general election AT WHICH A GOVERNOR WAS ELECTED preceding each apportionment. If a candidate for governor of a third political party has received at such election more than 25 percent of such gubernatorial vote, the commission shall consist of 12 members, [4] FOUR of whom shall be selected by the state organization of the third political party. One member of the commission shall be selected by each political party organization from each of the following [4] FOUR regions: (1) The upper peninsula; (2) The northern part of the lower peninsula, north of a line drawn along the northern boundaries of the counties of Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana; (3) Southwestern Michigan, those counties south of region (2) and west of a line drawn along the western boundaries of the counties of Bay, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Ingham, Jackson and Hillsdale; (4) Southeastern Michigan, the remaining counties of the state.

The secretary of state shall keep a public record of all the proceedings of the commission and shall be responsible for the publication and distribution of each plan.

If a majority of the commission cannot agree on a plan, each member of the commission, individually or jointly with other members, may submit a proposed plan to the supreme court. The supreme court shall determine which plan complies most accurately with the constitutional requirements and shall direct that it be adopted BY THE COMMISSION and published as provided in this section.

Upon the application of any [qualified] elector filed not later than 60 days after final publication of the plan, the supreme court, in the exercise of original jurisdiction, shall direct the secretary of state or the apportionment commission to perform their duties, may review any final plan adopted by the commission, and shall make orders amending such plan if it fails to comply with the requirements of this constitution.

Proposed amendments agreed to by [2/3] TWO-THIRDS of the members elected to and serving in each house on a [yea and nay] vote WITH THE NAMES AND VOTE OF THOSE VOTING entered in the respective journals shall be submitted, not less than 60 days thereafter, to the electors at the next general election or special election as the legislature shall direct. If a majority of electors voting on [such] a proposed amendment approve [such amendment,] THE SAME, it shall become part of the constitution and shall abrogate or amend existing provisions of the constitution at the end of 45 days after the date of the election at which it was approved.

Sec. 2. Amendments may be proposed to this constitution by petition of the registered electors of this state. Every petition shall include the full text of the proposed amendment, and be signed by registered electors of the state equal in number to at least 10 percent of the total vote cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected, or 300,000 registered electors, whichever is less. Such petitions shall be filed with the person authorized by law to receive the same at least 120 days before the election at which the proposed amendment is to be voted upon. Any such petition shall be in the form, and shall be signed and circulated in such manner, as prescribed by law. The person authorized by law to receive such petition[,] shall[,] upon its receipt[,] determine, as provided by law, the validity and sufficiency of the signatures on the petition, and make an official announcement thereof at least 60 days prior to the election at which the proposed amendment is to be voted upon.

Any amendment proposed by such petition shall be submitted, not less than 120 days after it was filed, to the electors at the next GENERAL election. [at which any state officer is to be elected.] Such proposed amendment, existing provisions of the constitution which would be altered or abrogated thereby, and the question as it shall appear on the ballot [used in such election] shall be published in full as provided by law. Copies of such publication shall be posted in each polling place and furnished to news media as provided by law.

The ballot to be used in such election shall contain a statement of the purpose of the proposed amendment, expressed in not more than 100 words, exclusive of caption. Such statement of purpose and caption shall be prepared by the person authorized by law, and shall consist of a true and impartial statement of the purpose of the amendment in such language as shall create no prejudice for or against the proposed amendment.

If the proposed amendment is approved by a majority of the electors voting on the question, the proposed amendment shall become part of the constitution, and shall abrogate or amend existing provisions of the constitution at the end of 45 days after the date of the election at which it was approved. IF TWO OR MORE AMENDMENTS APPROVED BY THE ELECTORS AT THE SAME ELECTION CONFLICT, THAT AMENDMENT RECEIVING THE HIGHEST AFFIRMATIVE VOTE SHALL PREVAIL.

Sec. 3. At the general election to be held in the year 1978, and in each 16th year thereafter and at such times as may be provided by law, the question of a general revision of the constitution shall be submitted to the electors of the state. If a majority of the electors voting on the question decide in favor of a convention for such purpose, at an election to be held not later than [4] FOUR months after the proposal was certified as approved, the electors of each [house of] representative[s] district as then organized shall elect one delegate and the electors of each senatorial district as then organized shall elect one delegate. The delegates so elected shall convene at the SEAT OF GOVERNMENT [capital city] on the first Tuesday in October next succeeding such election or at an earlier date if provided by law.

The convention shall choose its own officers, determine the rules of its proceedings and judge the qualifications, elections and returns of its members. The governor shall appoint a qualified resident of the same district to fill a vacancy in the office of any delegate. [If the legislature shall determine that delegates shall be elected on a partisan basis, the governor shall appoint a qualified resident of the same district and of the same party.] WHO SHALL BE A MEMBER OF THE SAME PARTY AS THE DELEGATE VACATING THE OFFICE IF THE LEGISLATURE PROVIDES FOR PARTISAN ELECTION OF DELEGATES. The convention shall have power to appoint such officers, employees and assistants as it deems necessary and to fix their compensation; to provide for the printing and distribution of its documents, journals and proceedings; to explain and disseminate information about the proposed constitution and to complete the business of the convention in an orderly manner. Each delegate shall receive for his services compensation provided by law.

No proposed constitution or amendment adopted by such convention shall be submitted to the electors for approval as hereinafter provided unless by the assent of a majority of all the delegates elected to and serving in the convention, WITH THE NAMES AND VOTE OF THOSE VOTING [the yeas and nays being] entered in the journal. Any proposed constitution or amendments adopted by such convention shall be submitted to the qualified electors in the manner and at the time provided by such convention not less than 90 days after final adjournment of the convention. Upon the approval of such constitution or amendments by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon the constitution or amendments shall take effect as provided by the convention.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the amendment offered by Mr. Binkowski, the yeas are 34; the nays are 82.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The amendment is not adopted. That completes the amendments to this article on the secretary's desk. Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President, fellow delegates, there are no more amendments and we're now on the adoption of the entire article; is that correct?

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: That is correct, Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: I rise near the hour of midnight in trepidation, fellow delegates, but I shall try to be very brief. I rise, announcing I am going to vote no on the entire article and urging other delegates to do the same. I shall not make a long speech but I want to make one or two points on what we've done, so the delegates will knowingly and very clearly know what has transpired, particularly on the key item of apportionment.

I wish to point out that under this provision neither house is based on population. And I do not say this in a fringe or flaky manner. I have asked the research department of this convention to prepare maps on how the apportionment system would work out. I am told this is a possible apportionment plan and there are other possibilities. However, I asked for one that would be as reasonable construction as possible.

In the senate in 1970, and not before, there would be a reapportionment and the smallest district in population would be 86,000; the largest would be 3 in Oakland county, each averaging 365,000 votes. In other words, it would take 4 voters in Oakland county to equal 1 voter in the 86,000 area. That is the senate. And this ties in with advice and consent. Then in the matter of the house, Monroe county, according to the 1960 figures, would be the largest, with 101,000, and the counties of the presiding delegate, Allegan and Van Buren, have the distinction of having an average of 53,062, in other words, practically a 2 to 1 difference. It would take 2 citizens from Monroe county to equal 1 citizen's vote in Allegan county. I point this out to try to dramatize that neither house is on population, and if anybody came to this convention pledged to have at least 1 house on population, I hope those delegates will join with me in voting no on this section in the hope that we'll have something done by third reading.

I do also wish to point out that by the time we come back on August 1, there may be additional supreme court decisions. I just have the newspaper report and if I keep talking long enough, I'll be able to have a special delivery letter with some of the further details. But I understand that not only Georgia threw out the county unit system, but in Maryland, their frozen senate, somewhat similar to Michigan's, has also been thrown out by the court there on the concept of equal protection of the laws. I will not now move that we postpone consideration until further court action is taken. I remind us again that the Michigan case, Scholle versus Hare, was remanded by the United States supreme court and is back in the hands of the Michigan state supreme court. I feel that our progress here is going to come from the judicial branch, unfortunately, rather than branches like this which, by themselves, are not created on a one man, one vote concept. I do urge the delegates to understand these factors in arriving at the conclusion. There are other points of this article that we have discussed — some facetiously; some seriously. But I wish to emphasize that the main reason that I am urging a no vote on this article IV, section 2, is that I think that it is not only wrong to deny the one man, one vote concept, but I believe it is running contrary to the historical thrust of the court decisions. Thank you.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. McAllister.

MR. McALLISTER: Mr. President and fellow delegates, the hour is getting late. I cannot vote for this article. The committee that proposed this apportionment setup does not seem to be able to explain just what counties are going to be where. In fact, when the committee can't explain it to my satisfaction, I certainly can't vote for something of that kind.

It appears to me from the Tennessee case, the Scholle case, your Georgia case in the federal court, and your Maryland case, that we are doing something here that is just what Mr. Downs would like to have us do. And I do support his position. But I don't think this article should be passed if there is a possibility that the Michigan supreme court will rule on this case before August 1. It appears to me that what we are really going to have here is a senate and a house, both on a population basis. And at the present time I can't see where rural Michigan has any representation, either in the house or senate, under this plan. And in view of that fact, I cannot vote for it.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Pollock.

MR. POLLOCK: Mr. President, I've listened with what, for me, is unusual patience to the repeated dolorous pronouncements of the delegate from Detroit to the effect that he intends to vote no on one article after another. I will not attempt to surmise his real reason for acting in this negative and wholly destructive manner. He can answer to his own conscience and whatever forces in his party or elsewhere to which he so loyally responds.

I can only say that it is, to me, utterly incomprehensible how any delegate — I say any delegate; not merely the leader of the minority party — can sit here for 7½ months in the give and take of debate and decision and then, at the end of our deliberations, recommend a no vote on issues in which he shared responsibility as a delegate and, as often as not, won his own points. By what kind of extraordinary wisdom or insight does he or any other delegate or delegates think that his or their views are so superior to the slowly agreed majority view that they warrant this extraordinary procedure which, to me, is utterly destructive in its result of trying to throw together a shadow constitution or at least shadow articles in place of the carefully mature articles of this proposed constitution? I say, Mr. President, that this tactic — obviously partisan and nonpublic in nature — is unworthy of any delegate and, in my opinion, deserves condemnation on this floor. (applause)

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. DOWNS: I rise to a point of personal privilege —

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President.

MR. DOWNS: — Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: You may state it, Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: I believe that the former speaker — and I am not going to question his motives — did attack my motives, did attack me personally, and as such, I have the right to respond.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: You may proceed.

MR. DOWNS: All right. I wish to apprise the convention that this is the first time I have, to my memory, risen on a matter of personal privilege on the floor of the convention. To my knowledge, I have never knowingly attacked any individual on the floor of this convention, nor have I questioned any delegate's motives. I may have disagreed with the judgment or conclusion and I have always, I hope, respected the right of other delegates to question my judgment and my conclusion; and I hope have shown no bitterness or malice when any individual delegate, for his reasons, has seen necessary to vote contrary to what I have wished or expressed.

I wish to say that when I campaigned for this office there were several very clear points I went to the constituents in my district on and offered myself as a candidate. One was that I did not want to see any backward steps in this constitution that's being developed. I specifically refer to civil service, and will touch on that when we get into it. On the apportionment matter, I simply say that this does not represent one man, one vote in either house. I campaigned, and I can show clippings and speeches ad nauseam where I campaigned on the concept of one man, one vote. Whether or not that is right or wrong is not the issue before this convention. The issue is that as a delegate, as a candidate I campaigned on that. I said I would fight for that. I have fought for that. And if I am defeated on this, I feel no moral obligation to support something that is less than that on which I campaigned. If, on the other hand, I were to compromise basic principles—and I'm not talking about modifications of day to day operations—I would feel that that was not justifiable. How other delegates answer to themselves is their prerogative and their business and I do not intend to answer that on this floor. I do hope, as we mature and develop here, we'll have a chance to review this more thoroughly and compare item by item.

I'm a little surprised at all those points that I've won in debate. I enjoyed the conversation and fellowship but I think it would take a rather small adding machine to suggest the number of significant suggestions I've made that the convention has adopted. And I express no resentment or bitterness at the convention for having seen fit to adopt suggestions other than mine. I hope I have shown no rancor; I have felt no rancor. I apologize for taking this time of the convention this late at night. I want the delegates to know that I came here in a spirit of friendship. I feel that has been increased and I hope we do nothing or say things which we individually would later wish had been left unsaid. Thank you for your patience. (applause)

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, we do seem to be straying from the point. I would move that further debate on this article of the constitution terminate at 12:00 midnight.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: It being now 11:58, Mr. Van Dusen moves to terminate debate at 12:00 o'clock midnight. All those in—

MR. MADAR: Mr. President, I'd like to amend that so that they could speak. There have been several delegates that have tried to get recognition.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: There are 4.

MR. MADAR: That's right. Approximately that. And I move that we give them 10 minutes.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Each one?

MR. MADAR: No, sir, 10 minutes for the 4.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Madar moves that debate be terminated in 10 minutes. All those in favor will say aye. Opposed no.

The motion does not prevail.

DELEGATES: Division.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: All right. A division is called for upon that. Is the demand for a division supported?

SECRETARY CHASE: Eleven.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The demand is supported. All those in favor of limiting debate at 12:10 will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the total.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the motion to limit debate to 10 minutes, the yeas are 63; the nays are 48.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The motion prevails.

MR. A. G. ELLIOTT: Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Elliott.

MR. A. G. ELLIOTT: Is a motion necessary to require that this time be divided equally between those that wish to speak? If so, I move.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Between those who wish to speak?

MR. A. G. ELLIOTT: Yes.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: There are 4 and the Chair will request the 4 speakers to limit themselves to not more than 2½ minutes each. Mr. Wanger is next recognized.

MR. WANGER: Mr. President, fellow delegates, very briefly I'd like to comment on what Delegate Downs has urged the delegates at this convention to do. He has urged every delegate here to vote no on this article, in other words, to vote for nothing. He has offered no substitute, nothing to present to the people by way of any improvement whatsoever in this area of our constitution. And it seems to me very, very clear that such a vote is the most apparent and the grossest kind of irresponsible action for any delegate to take at this state of a constitutional convention.

I am not going to observe upon the motives of any delegate except to say this: I think that for those few delegates at the convention who have already publicly made expressions that they intend to fight the adoption of any revised constitution which we propose, that no observation on their motives is necessary because their vote on the board speaks for itself.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Dr. Hannah.

MR. J. A. HANNAH: Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Downs has recommended that you vote no on this article primarily because of the apportionment provisions. I would remind you that you have had 21 able persons on this committee who worked long and diligently. They have come up with recommendations which you have approved on first and second reading which the formula—you know what it is—I am only going to, for the record, make it perfectly clear that the recommendations as they appear here apportion the senate seats 80 per cent on population, 20 per cent on area.

Mr. Downs takes the extreme, the very large district in the upper peninsula that will have small population and the 3 most populous districts in Oakland county for his comparison. In the house of representatives he has taken the extreme because in grouping the counties that are not entitled to a single representative, you are left with Allegan and Van Buren counties that are thrown together and then when we come to apportion the difference in the number of seats between those counties that have one or more, and 110, it happens that they get the second seat. This is the extreme. Actually, the house of representatives, as you well know, is as near as you can come to exact population with the exception of a single representative. You could just change one and it comes as close as you can—it's as close as you can come up with a workable formula.

I should dislike, this late at night when you're all tired, any of you to feel that the statement that Mr. Downs has made, that neither house of the legislature reflects population, is correct. We have done very well indeed. I've said before I am very proud of what our committee has come up with and what you are about to approve. We need no apologies for the apportionment portion of the article before you and I urge you to approve it.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Marshall.

MR. MARSHALL: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I was going to answer Delegate Pollock but it seems to me that Delegate Downs took care of that rather well himself. I only wish that Delegate Pollock had been as consistent on this question as Delegate Downs has been. He had some very unkind things to say about the provision himself. He equated it as 19 acres equaling 1 man, among other statements, and I can dig them out. This is not a one man, one vote principle. It does not meet the equality—

I do not think we should question the motives of those delegates. We have our own opinions, our own desires. We try to reflect the viewpoints of the people we represent. I urge a no vote on the article, too.

I've heard Dr. Hannah, on several occasions on the floor of this convention, over and over again, talk about how we do not have to apologize to any one for the provision that has come out of this convention. Let me tell you that if I voted for the provision I would have to apologize to the 680,000 people in my senatorial district that has only one senator. I think that we should understand, as Delegate Downs pointed out, that neither house of the legislature is going to be on a straight population basis. And there were alternatives. I think Dr. Pollock said we were taking a negative approach. We did all of the giving and no taking. And there were offers to accept proposals in the committee. Dr. Pollock himself offered one which we agreed to accept as a compromise proposal. Dr. Pollock himself, for reasons best known to him, a day or two later decided to revise his proposal. Then it was no longer acceptable to the minority on that committee. And we could go on and on and point out the facts here, and I'm willing to let the people of the state of Michigan decide whether or not they've got an equitable apportionment.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Nord.

MR. NORD: Mr. President, how much time is left for the debate? Am I the last speaker?

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: You are.

MR. NORD: How much time is left, sir?

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: It looks like 2 minutes to the Chair.

MR. NORD: That is fine. Thank you. I rose earlier. I asked for recognition because I didn't think that Mr. Downs would have an opportunity to reply to the attack on him. Since that has been covered, I will simply attempt to close the debate.

I would like to point out that as to Dr. Pollock's remarks relating to whether or not this is a satisfactory legislature, that when Dr. Pollock appeared before the committee on legislative organization, he started out by saying—and I applauded him and I told him that I would join with him—he said the legislature is so bad that we must start from scratch; we cannot have a patched job. He appeared later before us with a specific proposal. At that point I was not satisfied with it. I asked him, "Dr. Pollock, is this starting from scratch, or is it a patched job?" He said, "It's a patched job." We didn't approve of it. Nevertheless, we were forced to accept it at the end because, of all of the proposals we would find that were put in by the Republicans, that was the best; even though it was a patched job, we tried to accept it. He has retreated from that position. Then he attacked the proposal that you had before you and broke it down so that was worthless. Now he has rebuilt it so that it looks good.

I intend to vote against this. I think everyone understands I intend to vote against this section. I would vote against the entire constitution on the basis of either this section or the one I spoke on before. Both of these, I believe, are unconstitutional. The one about search and seizure, I believe, is clearly unconstitutional. And this one about the senate apportionment is certainly unconstitutional as to the next 10 years, and beyond that my opinion is that it is unconstitutional as well. But even if it were not unconstitutional, it is unjust. There is no reason for me to support it; there is every reason for me not to support it. And with that view, I can't see how anyone can quarrel with my doing what my conscience dictates. And I explained my conscience for 4 hours on the floor. There is no secret why I will vote against this. And when I vote against these 2 sections that have to do with apportionment, they are the heart of the entire constitution to me.

Either you have an effective democratic legislature or you have nothing. You have no state government. We have virtually no state government now in this state. We wanted to cure it. If you vote no on this, we will come back with other proposals. We've been putting in proposal after proposal; we will not quit. Just try it. If you don't believe us, vote no on this and see whether that means that there is no constitution. Vote no and we will stay here until kingdom come until we get something that is agreeable. You're not left with no alternative. Just because you put something on the ballot doesn't mean that anyone is obligated to vote for it and it doesn't mean that anyone here must support it.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Time for debate has expired. The question is upon the passage of article IV. All those in favor of article IV will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

The roll was called and the delegates voted as follows:

SECRETARY CHASE: On the passage of article IV, as amended, the yeas are 83; the nays are 37.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: A majority of the delegates elect having voted in favor thereof, article IV, as amended, is passed.

For sections 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, and 19 through 53 of article IV as passed, see above, page 3051.

Following is section 4 of article IV, as amended and passed:

Sec. 4. In counties having more than one representative or senatorial district, the territory in the same county annexed to or merged with a city between apportionments shall become a part of a contiguous representative or senatorial district in the city with which it is combined upon the effective date of the annexation or merger if provided by ordinance of the city. The districts with which the territory shall be combined shall be determined by said ordinance certified to the secretary of state.

No such change in the boundaries of a representative or senatorial district shall have the effect of removing a legislator from office during his term.

Following is section 6 of article IV, as amended and passed:

Sec. 6. A commission on legislative apportionment is hereby established consisting of eight persons, four of whom shall be selected by the state organizations of each of the two political parties whose candidates for governor received the highest vote at the last general election at which a governor was elected preceding each apportionment. If a candidate for governor of a third political party has received at such election more than 25 percent of such gubernatorial vote, the commission shall consist of 12 members, four of whom shall be selected by the state organization of the third political party. One member of the commission shall be selected by each political party organization from each of the following four regions: (1) The upper peninsula; (2) The northern part of the lower peninsula, north of a line drawn along the northern boundaries of the counties of Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana; (3) Southwestern Michigan, those counties south of region (2) and west of a line drawn along the western boundaries of the counties of Bay, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Ingham, Jackson and Hillsdale; (4) Southeastern Michigan, the remaining counties of the state.

No officers or employees of the federal, state or local governments, excepting notaries public and members of the armed forces reserve, shall be eligible for membership on the commission. Members of the commission shall not

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the State of Michigan, grateful to Almighty God for the blessings of freedom, and earnestly desiring to secure these blessings undiminished to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution.

Declaration of Rights

Sec. 1. All political power is inherent in the people. Government is instituted for their equal benefit, security and protection.

Sec. 2. No person shall be denied the equal protection of the laws; nor shall any person be denied the enjoyment of his civil or political rights or be discriminated against in the exercise thereof because of religion, race, color or national origin. The legislature shall implement this section by appropriate legislation.

Sec. 3. The people have the right peaceably to assemble, to consult for the common good, to instruct their representatives and to petition the government for redress of grievances.

Sec. 4. Every person shall be at liberty to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience. Article II Elections

Sec. 1. Every citizen of the United States who has attained the age of 21 years, who has resided in this state six months, and who meets the requirements of local residence provided by law, shall be an elector and qualified to vote in any election except as otherwise provided in this constitution. The legislature shall define residence for voting purposes.

Sec. 2. The legislature may by law exclude persons from voting because of mental incompetence or commitment to a jail or penal institution.

Sec. 3. For purposes of voting in the election for president and vice-president of the United States only, the legislature may by law establish lesser residence requirements for citizens who have resided in this state for less than six months and may waive residence requirements for former citizens of this state who have removed herefrom. The legislature shall not permit voting by any person who meets the voting residence requirements of the state to which he has removed.

Sec. 4. The legislature shall enact laws to regulate the time, place and manner of all nominations and elections, except as otherwise provided in this constitution or in the constitution and laws of the United States. The legislature shall enact laws to preserve the purity of elections, to preserve the secrecy of the ballot, to guard against abuses of the elective franchise, and to provide for a system of voter registration and absentee voting. No law shall be enacted which permits a candidate in any partisan primary or partisan election to have a ballot designation except when required for identification of candidates for the same office who have the same or similar surnames.

Sec. 5. Except for special elections to fill vacancies, or as otherwise provided in this constitution, all elections for national, state, county and township offices shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in each even-numbered year or on such other date as members of the congress of the United States are regularly elected.

Sec. 6. Whenever any question is required to be submitted by a political subdivision to the electors which involves the increase of any ad valorem tax rate limitation for a period of more than five years, or the issue of bonds, only electors in, and who have property assessed for any ad valorem taxes in, any part of the district or territory to be affected by the result of such election or electors who are the lawful husbands or wives of such persons shall be entitled to vote thereon. All electors in the district or territory affected may vote on all other questions.

Sec. 7. A board of state canvassers of four members shall be established by law. No candidate for an office to be canvassed nor any inspector of elections shall be eligible to serve as a member of a board of canvassers. A majority of any board of canvassers shall not be composed of members of the same political party.

Sec. 8. Laws shall be enacted to provide for the recall of all elective officers except judges of courts of record upon petition of electors equal in number to 25 percent of the number of persons voting in the last preceding election for the office of governor in the electoral district of the officer sought to be recalled. The sufficiency of any statement of reasons or grounds procedurally required shall be a political rather than a judicial question.

Sec. 9. The people reserve to themselves the power to propose laws and to enact and reject laws, called the initiative, and the power to approve or reject laws enacted by the legislature, called the referendum. The power of initiative extends only to laws which the legislature may enact under this constitution. The power of referendum does not extend to acts making appropriations for state institutions or to meet deficiencies in state funds and must be invoked in the manner prescribed by law within 90 days following the final adjournment of the legislative session at which the law was enacted. To invoke the initiative or referendum, petitions signed by a number of registered electors, not less than eight percent for initiative and five percent for referendum of the total vote cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected shall be required.

No law as to which the power of referendum properly has been invoked shall be effective thereafter unless approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at the next general election.

Any law proposed by initiative petition shall be either enacted or rejected by the legislature without change or amendment within 40 session days from the time such petition is received by the legislature. If any law proposed by such petition shall be enacted by the legislature it shall be subject to referendum, as hereinafter provided.

If the law so proposed is not enacted by the legislature within the 40 days, the state officer authorized by law shall submit such proposed law to the people for approval or rejection at the next general election. The legislature may reject any measure so proposed by initiative petition and propose a different measure upon the same subject by a yea and nay vote upon separate roll calls, and in such event both measures shall be submitted by such state officer to the electors for approval or rejection at the next general election.

Any law submitted to the people by either initiative or referendum petition and approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon at any election shall take effect 10 days after the date of the official declaration of the vote. No law initiated or adopted by the people shall be subject to the veto power of the governor, and no law adopted by the people at the polls under the initiative provisions of this section shall be amended or repealed, except by a vote of the electors or three-fourths of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature. Laws approved by the people under the referendum provision of this section may be amended by the legislature at any subsequent session thereof. If two or more measures approved by the electors at the same election conflict, that receiving the highest affirmative vote shall prevail.

The legislature shall implement the provisions of this section.

Article III

General Government

Sec. 1. The seat of government shall be at Lansing.

Sec. 2. The powers of government are divided into three branches: legislative, executive and judicial. No person exercising powers of one branch shall exercise powers properly belonging to another branch except as expressly provided in this constitution.

Sec. 3. There shall be a great seal of the State of Michigan and its use shall be provided by law.

Sec. 4. The militia shall be organized, equipped and disciplined as provided by law.

Sec. 5. Subject to provisions of general law, this state or any political subdivision, any governmental authority or any combination thereof may enter into agreements for the performance, financing or execution of their respective functions, with any one or more of the other states, the United States, the Dominion of Canada, or any political subdivision thereof unless otherwise provided in this constitution. Any other provision of this constitution notwithstanding, an officer or employee of the state or of any such unit of government or subdivision or agency thereof may serve on or with any governmental body established for the purposes set forth in this section and shall not be required to relinquish his office or employment by reason of such service. The legislature may impose such restrictions, limitations or conditions on such service as it may deem appropriate.

Sec. 6. The state shall not be a party to, nor be financially interested in, any work of internal improvement, nor engage in carrying on any such work, except for public internal improvements provided by law.

Sec. 7. The common law and the statute laws now in force, not repugnant to this constitution, shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitations, or are changed, amended or repealed.

Sec. 8. Either house of the legislature or the governor may request the opinion of the supreme court on important questions of law upon solemn occasions as to the constitutionality of legislation after it has been enacted into law but before its effective date.

Article IV Legislative Branch

Sec. 1. The legislative power of the State of Michigan is vested in a senate and a house of representatives.

Sec. 2. The senate shall consist of 38 members to be elected from single member districts at the same election as the governor for four-year terms concurrent with the term of office of the governor.

In districting the state for the purpose of electing senators after the official publication of the total population count of each federal decennial census, each county shall be assigned an apportionment factor equal to the sum of its percentage of the state's population as shown by the last regular federal decennial census computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent multiplied by four and its percentage of the state's land area computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent.

In arranging the state into senatorial districts, the apportionment commission shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Counties with 13 or more apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. After each such county has been allocated one senator, the remaining senators to which this class of counties is entitled shall be distributed among such counties by the method of equal proportions applied to the apportionment factors.

(2) Counties having less than 13 apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. Such counties shall thereafter be arranged into senatorial districts that are compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, as rectangular in shape as possible, and having as nearly as possible 13 apportionment factors, but in no event less than 10 or more than 16. Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there is a failure to comply with the above standards.

(3) Counties entitled to two or more senate districts shall be divided into single member districts. The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the county by the number of senators to which it is entitled. Each such district shall follow incorporated city or township boundary lines to the extent possible and shall be compact, contiguous, and as nearly uniform in shape as possible.

Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of 110 members elected for two-year terms from single member districts apportioned on a basis of population as provided in this article. The districts shall consist of compact and convenient territory contiguous by land.

Each county which has a population of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative area. Each county having less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall be combined with another county or counties to form a representative area of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state. Any county which is isolated under the initial allocation as provided in this section shall be joined with that contiguous representative area having the smallest percentage of the state's population. Each such representative area shall be entitled initially to one representative.

After the assignment of one representative to each of the representative areas, the remaining house seats shall be apportioned among the representative areas on the basis of population by the method of equal proportions.

Any county comprising a representative area entitled to two or more representatives shall be divided into single member representative districts as follows:

(1) The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the representative area by the number of representatives to which it is entitled.

(2) Such single member districts shall follow city and township boundaries where applicable and shall be composed of compact and contiguous territory as nearly square in shape as possible.

Any representative area consisting of more than one county, entitled to more than one representative, shall be divided into single member districts as equal as possible in population adhering to county lines.

Sec. 4. In counties having more than one representative or senatorial district, the territory in the same county annexed to or merged with a city between apportionments shall become a part of a contiguous representative or senatorial district in the city with which it is combined, if provided by ordinance of the city. The district or districts with which the territory shall be combined shall be determined by such ordinance certified to the secretary of state. No such change in the boundaries of a representative or senatorial district shall have the effect of removing a legislator from office during his term.

Sec. 5. Island areas are considered to be contiguous by land to the county of which they are a part.

Sec. 6. A commission on legislative apportionment is hereby established consisting of eight persons, four of whom shall be selected by the state organizations of each of the two political parties whose candidates for governor received the highest vote at the last general election at which a governor was elected preceding each apportionment. If a candidate for governor of a third political party has received at such election more than 25 percent of such gubernatorial vote, the commission shall consist of 12 members, four of whom shall be selected by the state organization of the third political party. One member of the commission shall be selected by each political party organization from each of the following four regions: (1) The upper peninsula; (2) The northern part of the lower peninsula, north of a line drawn along the northern boundaries of the counties of Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana; (3) Southwestern Michigan, those counties south of region (2) and west of a line drawn along the western boundaries of the counties of Bay, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Ingham, Jackson and Hillsdale; (4) Southeastern Michigan, the remaining counties of the state.

No officers or employees of the federal, state or local governments, excepting notaries public and members of the armed forces reserve, shall be eligible for membership on the commission. Members of the commission shall not be eligible for election to the legislature until two years after the apportionment in which they participated becomes effective.

The commission shall be appointed immediately after the adoption of this constitution and whenever apportionment or districting of the legislature is required by the provisions of this constitution. Members of the commission shall hold office until each apportionment or districting plan becomes effective. Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as for original appointment.

The secretary of state shall be secretary of the commission without vote, and in that capacity shall furnish, under the direction of the commission, all necessary technical services. The commission shall elect its own chairman, shall make its own rules of procedure, and shall receive compensation provided by law. The legislature shall appropriate funds to enable the commission to carry out its activities.

Within 30 days after the adoption of this constitution, and after the official total population count of each federal decennial census of the state and its political subdivisions is available, the secretary of state shall issue a call convening the commission not less than 30 nor more than 45 days thereafter. The commission shall complete its work within 180 days after all necessary census information is available. The commission shall proceed to district and apportion the senate and house of representatives according to the provisions of this constitution. All final decisions shall require the concurrence of a majority of the members of the commission. The commission shall hold public hearings as may be provided by law.

Each final apportionment and districting plan shall be published as provided by law within 30 days from the date of its adoption and shall become law 60 days after publication. The secretary of state shall keep a public record of all the proceedings of the commission and shall be responsible for the publication and distribution of each plan.

If a majority of the commission cannot agree on a plan, each member of the commission, individually or jointly with other members, may submit a proposed plan to the supreme court. The supreme court shall determine which plan complies most accurately with the constitutional requirements and shall direct that it be adopted by the commission and published as provided in this section.

Upon the application of any elector filed not later than 60 days after final publication of the plan, the supreme court, in the exercise of original jurisdiction, shall direct the secretary of state or the apportionment commission to perform their duties, may review any final plan adopted by the commission, and shall remand such plan to the commission for further action if it fails to comply with the requirements of this constitution.

Sec. 7. Each senator and representative must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years of age, and an elector of the district he represents. The removal of his domicile from the district shall be deemed a vacation of the office. No person who has been convicted of subversion or who has within the preceding 20 years been convicted of a felony involving a breach of public trust shall be eligible for either house of the legislature.

Sec. 8. No person holding any office under the United States or this state or a political subdivision thereof, except notaries public and officers of the armed forces reserve, may be a member of either house of the legislature.

Sec. 9. No person elected to the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this

1 state from the governor, except notaries public,
2 from the legislature, or from any other state
3 authority, during the term for which he is elected.

4 Sec. 10. No member of the legislature nor any 5 state officer shall be interested directly or in-
6 directly in any contract with the state or any 7 political subdivision thereof which shall cause a
8 substantial conflict of interest. The legislature
9 shall further implement this provision by appro-
10 priate legislation.

11 Sec. 11. Senators and representatives shall be 12 privileged from civil arrest and civil process dur-
13 ing sessions of the legislature and for five days
14 next before the commencement and after the 15 termination thereof. They shall not be ques-
16 tioned in any other place for any speech in either
17 house.

18 Sec. 12. The compensation and expense al-
19 lowances of the members of the legislature shall 20 be determined by law. Changes in compensation
21 or expense allowances shall become effective only
22 when legislators commence their terms of office
23 after a general election.

24 Sec. 13. The legislature shall meet at the seat
25 of government on the second Wednesday in Janu-
26 ary of each year at twelve o'clock noon. Each
27 regular session shall adjourn without day, on a 28 day determined by concurrent resolution, at 29 twelve o'clock noon. Any business, bill or joint 30 resolution pending at the final adjournment of 31 a regular session held in an odd numbered year
32 shall carry over with the same status to the 33 next regular session.

34 Sec. 14. A majority of the members elected
35 to and serving in each house shall constitute a 36 quorum to do business. A smaller number in 37 each house may adjourn from day to day, and 38 may compel the attendance of absent members in 39 the manner and with penalties as each house may 40 prescribe.

41 Sec. 15. There shall be a bi-partisan legisla-
42 tive council consisting of legislators appointed in 43 the manner prescribed by law. The legislature
44 shall appropriate funds for the council's opera-
45 tions and provide for its staff which shall main-
46 tain bill drafting, research and other services
47 for the members of the legislature. The council
48 shall periodically examine and recommend to the 49 legislature revision of the various laws of the 50 state.

51 Sec. 16. Each house, except as otherwise pro-
52 vided in this constitution, shall choose its own
53 officers and determine the rules of its proceedings,
54 but shall not adopt any rule that will prevent a 55 majority of the members elected thereto and 56 serving therein from discharging a committee
57 from the further consideration of any measure.
58 Each house shall be the sole judge of the quali-
59 fications, elections and returns of its members,
60 and may, with the concurrence of two-thirds of

1 all the members elected thereto and serving
2 therein, expel a member. The reasons for such 3 expulsion shall be entered in the journal, with 4 the votes and names of the members voting upon
5 the question. No member shall be expelled a
6 second time for the same cause.

7 Sec. 17. Each house of the legislature may 8 establish the committees necessary for the effi-
9 cient conduct of its business and the legislature
10 may create joint committees. Each committee
11 shall by roll call vote record the vote and name
12 of all action on bills and resolutions taken in 13 the committee. Such vote shall be available for 14 public inspection. Notice of all committee hear-

They shall be grouped as far as practicable according to major purposes.

Subsequent to the initial allocation, the governor may make changes in the organization of the executive branch or in the assignment of functions among its units which he considers necessary for efficient administration. Where these changes require the force of law, they shall be set forth in executive orders and submitted to the legislature. Thereafter the legislature shall have 60 calendar days of a regular session, or a full session if of shorter duration, to disapprove each executive order. Unless disapproved in both houses by a resolution concurred in by a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house, each order shall become effective at a date thereafter to be designated by the governor.

Sec. 3. The head of each principal department shall be a single executive unless otherwise provided in this constitution or by law. The single executives heading principal departments shall include a secretary of state, a state treasurer and an attorney general. Sec. 6. Appointment by and with the advice and consent of the senate when used in this constitution or laws in effect or hereafter enacted means appointment subject to disapproval by a majority vote of the members elected to and serving in the senate if such action is taken within 60 session days after the date of such appointment. Any appointment not disapproved within such period shall stand confirmed.

Sec. 7. Vacancies in any office, appointment to which requires advice and consent of the senate, shall be filled by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate. A person whose appointment has been disapproved by the senate shall not be eligible for an interim appointment to the same office.

Sec. 8. Each principal department shall be under the supervision of the governor unless otherwise provided by this constitution. The governor shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government and may require information in writing from all executive and administrative state officers, elective and appointive, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

The governor may initiate court proceedings in the name of the state to enforce compliance with any constitutional or legislative mandate, or to restrain violations of any constitutional or legislative power, duty or right by any officer, department or agency of the state or any of its political subdivisions. Sec. 20. No appropriation shall be a mandate to spend. The governor, with the approval of the appropriating committees of the house and senate, shall reduce expenditures authorized by appropriations whenever it appears that actual revenues for a fiscal period will fall below the revenue estimates on which appropriations for that period were based. Reductions in expenditures shall be made in accordance with procedures prescribed by law. If the governor or the person in line of succession to serve as governor is absent from the state, or suffering under an inability, the powers and duties of the office of governor shall devolve in order of precedence until the absence or inability giving rise to the devolution of powers ceases.

The inability of the governor or person acting as governor shall be determined by a majority of the supreme court on joint request of the president pro tempore of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives. Finance and Taxation

13 Sec. 1. The legislature shall impose taxes suf-
14 ficient with other resources to pay the expenses of 15 state government.

16 Sec. 2. The power of taxation shall never be 17 surrendered, suspended or contracted away.

18 Sec. 3. The legislature shall provide for the 19 uniform general ad valorem taxation of real and 20 tangible personal property not exempt by law. The 21 legislature shall provide for the determination of 22 true cash value of such property; the proportion 23 of true cash value at which such property shall 24 be uniformly assessed, which shall not, after 25 January 1, 1966, exceed 50 percent; and for a sys-
26 tem of equalization of assessments. The legislature
27 may provide for alternative means of taxation of 28 designated real and tangible personal property in 29 lieu of general ad valorem taxation. Every tax
30 other than the general ad valorem property tax 31 shall be uniform upon the class or classes on 32 which it operates.

33 Sec. 4. Property owned and occupied by non-34 profit religious or educational organizations and 35 used exclusively for religious or educational pur-
36 poses, as defined by law, shall be exempt from 37 real and personal property taxes.

38 Sec. 5. The legislature shall provide for the 39 assessment by the state of the property of those 40 public service businesses assessed by the state
41 at the date this constitution becomes effective, and 42 of other property as designated by the legislature,
43 and for the imposition and collection of taxes
44 thereon. Property assessed by the state shall be 45 assessed at the same proportion of its true
46 cash value as the legislature shall specify for 47 property subject to general ad valorem taxation.
48 The rate of taxation on such property shall be 49 the average rate levied upon other property in this 50 state under the general ad valorem tax law, or,
51 if the legislature provides, the rate of tax applicable
52 to the property of each business enterprise assessed
53 by the state shall be the average rate of ad valorem
54 taxation levied upon other property in all counties
55 in which any of such property is situated.

56 Sec. 6. Except as otherwise provided in this 57 constitution, the total amount of general ad valo-
58 rem taxes imposed upon real and tangible per-59 sonal property for all purposes in any one year
60 shall not exceed 15 mills on each dollar of the

1 assessed valuation of property as finally equalized.
2 Under procedures provided by law, which shall
3 guarantee the right of initiative, separate tax
4 limitations for any county and for the townships
5 and for school districts therein, the aggregate of 6 which shall not exceed 18 mills on each dollar of 7 such valuation, may be adopted and thereafter
8 altered by the vote of a majority of the qualified
9 electors of such county voting thereon, in lieu 10 of the limitation hereinbefore established. These 11 limitations may be increased to an aggregate of 12 not to exceed 50 mills on each dollar of valuation,
13 for a period of not to exceed 20 years at any one
14 time, if approved by a majority of the electors,
15 qualified under Section 6 of Article II of this 16 constitution, voting on the question.

17 The foregoing limitations shall not apply to 18 taxes imposed for the payment of principal and 19 interest on bonds or other evidences of indebted-
20 ness or for the payment of assessments or con-
21 tract obligations in anticipation of which bonds
22 are issued, which taxes may be imposed without 23 limitation as to rate or amount; or to taxes im-
24 posed for any other purpose by any city, vil-
25 lage, charter county, charter township, charter
26 authority or other authority, the tax limitations
27 of which are provided by charter or by general
28 law.

29 In any school district which extends into two 30 or more counties, property taxes at the highest 31 rate available in the county which contains the 32 greatest part of the area of the district may be 33 imposed and collected for school purposes through-34 out the district.

35 Sec. 7. No income tax graduated as to rate
36 or base shall be imposed by the state or any of 37 its subdivisions.

38 Sec. 8. The legislature shall not impose a 39 sales tax on retailers at a rate of more than 40 four percent of their gross taxable sales of 41 tangible personal property.

42 Sec. 9. All specific taxes, except general sales
43 and use taxes and regulatory fees, imposed di-
44 rectly or indirectly on fuels sold or used 45 to propel motor vehicles upon highways and on 46 registered motor vehicles shall, after the payment
47 of necessary collection expenses, be used exclusi-
48 vely for highway purposes as defined by law.

49 Sec. 10. One-eighth of all taxes imposed on 50 retailers on taxable sales at retail of tangible 51 personal property shall be used exclusively for 52 assistance to townships, cities and villages, on 53 a population basis as provided by law. In de-
54 termining population the legislature may exclude 55 any portion of the total number of persons who 56 are wards, patients or convicts in any tax sup-
57 ported institution.

58 Sec. 11. There shall be established a state
59 school aid fund which shall be used exclusively
60 for the support of public education and school employees' retirement systems, as provided by law. One-half of all taxes imposed on retailers on taxable sales at retail of tangible personal property, and other tax revenues provided by law, shall be dedicated to this fund. Payments from this fund shall be made in full on a scheduled basis, as provided by law.

Sec. 12. No evidence of state indebtedness shall be issued except for debts authorized pursuant to this constitution.

Sec. 13. Public bodies corporate shall have power to borrow money and to issue their securities evidencing debt, subject to this constitution and law.

Sec. 14. To meet obligations incurred pursuant to appropriations for any fiscal year, the legislature may by law authorize the state to issue its full faith and credit notes in which case it shall pledge undedicated revenues to be received within the same fiscal year for the repayment thereof. Such indebtedness in any fiscal year shall not exceed 15 percent of undedicated revenues received by the state during the preceding fiscal year and such debts shall be repaid at the time the revenues so pledged are received, but not later than the end of the same fiscal year.

Sec. 15. The state may borrow money for specific purposes in amounts as may be provided by acts of the legislature adopted by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house, and approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at any general election. The question submitted to the electors shall state the amount to be borrowed, the specific purpose to which the funds shall be devoted, and the method of repayment.

Sec. 16. The state, in addition to any other borrowing power, may borrow from time to time such amounts as shall be required, pledge its faith and credit and issue its notes or bonds therefor, for the purpose of making loans to school districts as provided in this section.

If the minimum amount which would otherwise be necessary for a school district to levy in any year to pay principal and interest on its qualified bonds, including any necessary allowances for estimated tax delinquencies, exceeds 13 mills on each dollar of its assessed valuation as finally equalized, or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, then the school district may elect to borrow all or any part of the excess from the state. In that event the state shall lend the excess amount to the school district for the payment of principal and interest. If for any reason any school district will be or is unable to pay the principal and interest on its qualified bonds when due, then the school district shall borrow and the state shall lend to it an amount sufficient to enable the school district to make the payment.

The term "qualified bonds" means general obligation bonds of school districts issued for capital expenditures, including refunding bonds, issued prior to May 4, 1955, or issued thereafter and qualified as provided by law pursuant to Section 27 or Section 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908 or pursuant to this section.

After a school district has received loans from the state, each year thereafter it shall levy for debt service, exclusive of levies for nonqualified bonds, not less than 13 mills or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, until the amount loaned has been repaid, and any tax collections therefrom in any year over and above the minimum requirements for principal and interest on qualified bonds shall be used toward the repayment of state loans. In any year when such levy would produce an amount in excess of the requirements and the amount due to the state, the levy may be reduced by the amount of the excess.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, the legislature shall have the power to prescribe and to limit the procedure, terms and conditions for the qualification of bonds, for obtaining and making state loans, and for the repayment of loans.

The power to tax for the payment of principal and interest on bonds hereafter issued which are the general obligations of any school district, including refunding bonds, and for repayment of any state loans made to school districts, shall be without limitation as to rate or amount.

All rights acquired under Sections 27 and 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908, by holders of bonds heretofore issued, and all obligations assumed by the state or any school district under these sections, shall remain unimpaired.

Sec. 17. No money shall be paid out of the state treasury except in pursuance of appropriations made by law.

Sec. 18. The credit of the state shall not be granted to, nor in aid of any person, association or corporation, public or private, except as authorized in this constitution.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit the investment of public funds until needed for current requirements or the investment of funds accumulated to provide retirement or pension benefits for public officials and employees, as provided by law.

Sec. 19. The state shall not subscribe to, nor be interested in the stock of any company, association or corporation, except that funds accumulated to provide retirement or pension benefits for public officials and employees may be invested as provided by law; and endowment funds created for charitable or educational purposes may be invested as provided by law governing the investment of funds held in trust by trustees.

Sec. 20. No state money shall be deposited in banks other than those organized under the national or state banking laws. No state money

1 shall be deposited in any bank in excess of 50
2 percent of the capital and surplus of such bank.
3 Any bank receiving deposits of state money shall 4 show the amount of state money so deposited as 5 a separate item in all published statements.

6 Sec. 21. The legislature shall provide by law
7 for the annual accounting for all public moneys,
8 state and local, and may provide by law for interim
9 accounting.

10 The legislature shall provide by law for the 11 maintenance of uniform accounting systems by 12 units of local government and the auditing of 13 county accounts by competent state authority
14 and other units of government as provided by law.

15 Sec. 22. Procedures for the examination and 16 adjustment of claims against the state shall be 17 prescribed by law.

18 Sec. 23. All financial records, accountings,
19 audit reports and other reports of public moneys

19 those voting entered in the respective journals
20 shall be submitted, not less than 60 days there-
21 after, to the electors at the next general election
22 or special election as the legislature shall direct.
23 If a majority of electors voting on a proposed 24 amendment approve the same, it shall become 25 part of the constitution and shall abrogate or

27 the end of 45 days after the date of the election
28 at which it was approved.

29 Sec. 2. Amendments may be proposed to this
30 constitution by petition of the registered electors
31 of this state. Every petition shall include the full 32 text of the proposed amendment, and be signed by 33 registered electors of the state equal in number to 35 all candidates for governor at the last preceding 36 general election at which a governor was elected.

37 Such petitions shall be filed with the person au-
38 thorized by law to receive the same at least 120
39 days before the election at which the proposed
40 amendment is to be voted upon. Any such petition
41 shall be in the form, and shall be signed and 42 circulated in such manner, as prescribed by law.
43 The person authorized by law to receive such peti-
44 tion shall upon its receipt determine, as provided
45 by law, the validity and sufficiency of the signa-
46 tures on the petition, and make an official an-47 nouncement thereof at least 60 days prior to the 48 election at which the proposed amendment is to be 49 voted upon.

50 Any amendment proposed by such petition shall 51 be submitted, not less than 120 days after it was 52 filed, to the electors at the next general election.
53 Such proposed amendment, existing provisions of 54 the constitution which would be altered or abro-
55 gated thereby, and the question as it shall appear
56 on the ballot shall be published in full as provided
57 by law. Copies of such publication shall be posted
58 in each polling place and furnished to news media

as provided by law.

59 The ballot to be used in such election shall con-
60 tain a statement of the purpose of the proposed 61 amendment, expressed in not more than 100 words,
62 exclusive of caption. Such statement of purpose
63 and caption shall be prepared by the person au-
64 thorized by law, and shall consist of a true and 65 impartial statement of the purpose of the amend-
66 ment in such language as shall create no prejudice
67 for or against the proposed amendment.

68 If the proposed amendment is approved by a
69 majority of the electors voting on the question,
70 it shall become part of the constitution, and 71 shall abrogate or amend existing provisions of 72 the constitution at the end of 45 days after 73 the date of the election at which it was ap-
74 proved. If two or more amendments approved by 75 the electors at the same election conflict, that 76 amendment receiving the highest affirmative vote
77 shall prevail.

79 the year 1978, and in each 16th year thereafter
80 and at such times as may be provided by law, the 81 question of a general revision of the constitution
82 shall be submitted to the electors of the state. If 83 a majority of the electors voting on the question
84 decide in favor of a convention for such purpose,
85 at an election to be held not later than six months
86 after the proposal was certified as approved, the 87 electors of each representative district as then
88 organized shall elect one delegate and the elec-
89 tors of each senatorial district as then organized
90 shall elect one delegate at a partisan election.
91 The delegates so elected shall convene at the seat
92 of government on the first Tuesday in October
93 next succeeding such election or at an earlier date
94 if provided by law.

95 The convention shall choose its own officers,
96 determine the rules of its proceedings and judge
97 the qualifications, elections and returns of its mem-
98 bers. The governor shall appoint a qualified
99 resident of the same district to fill a vacancy
100 in the office of any delegate who shall be a mem-
101 ber of the same party as the delegate vacating
102 the office. The convention shall have power to ap-
103 point such officers, employees and assistants as 104 it deems necessary and to fix their compensation;
105 to provide for the printing and distribution of its 106 documents, journals and proceedings; to explain
107 and disseminate information about the proposed 108 constitution and to complete the business of the 109 convention in an orderly manner. Each delegate
110 shall receive for his services compensation pro-
111 vided by law.

112 No proposed constitution or amendment adopted
113 by such convention shall be submitted to the 114 electors for approval as hereinafter provided un-
115 less by the assent of a majority of all the delegates
116 elected to and serving in the convention, with the 117 names and vote of those voting entered in the journal. Any proposed constitution or amendments adopted by such convention shall be submitted to the qualified electors in the manner and at the time provided by such convention not less than 90 days after final adjournment of the convention. Upon the approval of such constitution or amendments by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon the constitution or amendments shall take effect as provided by the convention.

against the secretary of state, by Mr. Van Dusen, chairman, submits the following report:

In accordance with Resolution 96, the committee on action against secretary of state on May 14, 1962, filed with the circuit court for the county of Ingham, a petition for declaration of rights in an action entitled, Stephen S. Nisbet, President of the Michigan Constitutional Convention of 1961-1962 v. James M. Hare, Secretary of State. The relief sought was a declaration that the convention has the right to provide for submission of the proposed new constitution to the electors at the general election to be held November 6, 1962. The summons and petition were served on the secretary of state on the same day.

On May 22, having had no response from the attorney general, petitioner filed a motion for the entry of a decree. On May 25, the secretary of state appeared specially by the attorney general and moved to dismiss the petition on the ground that the case did not present an actual controversy. The trial court heard argument on the attorney general's motion on June 1 and on June 6 rendered an opinion denying the motion to dismiss. An order to that effect was entered on June 11.

Instead of proceeding to file an answer, the attorney general then filed an application to the supreme court for leave to appeal. This application was granted by the supreme court and the attorney general, on July 2, filed a claim of appeal.

The attorney general has not yet filed a brief and he states that he does not intend to do so until after August 7.

It is obvious that no judicial determination of the right of the constitutional convention to require submission of the proposed constitution to the electors on November 6 will be made in time to be useful to the convention. Accordingly, the committee recommends:

1) That section 15 [formerly section 16] of the schedule and temporary provisions of the proposed constitution be amended by striking from the first sentence the words "Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962" and inserting "first Monday in April, 1963."

2) That the committee be authorized to discontinue the action entitled, Nisbet v. Hare.

Richard C. Van Dusen, chairman.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I move the adoption of the report.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen that the report be adopted. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The report is adopted. Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, in compliance with our rules, I think it would now be necessary to take a roll call vote on the amendment to the constitution changing the date.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Chase will read the amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: The amendment recommended in the report is as follows:

1. Amend the schedule, section 15 [formerly section 16] (column 2) line 11, after "held on the" by striking out "Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962.", and inserting "first Monday in April, 1963."

PRESIDENT NISBET: The secretary will call the roll. Those in favor of the amendment will vote aye as your name is called. Those opposed will vote no.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the adoption of the constitution as amended, the yeas are 98; the nays are 43. (applause)
PRESIDENT NISBET: The constitution is adopted.

For the constitution as adopted, see below, page 3317.

Because of the hour, it being almost noon, the Chair recognizes Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VANDUSEN: Mr. President, I move that the convention now stand in recess until 2:00 p.m.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen that we recess until 2:00 p.m. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. We are recessed until 2:00 o'clock.

[Whereupon, at 11:50 o'clock a.m., the convention recessed; and, at 2:00 o'clock p.m., reconvened.]

Will the delegates please take their seats. The convention will please come to order.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. President, a quorum of the convention is present.

PRESIDENT NISBET: I think we should recognize the fact that many of our employees are voluntarily back with us today, meeting with the delegates. I'm sure all of us are very happy to have them here. It brings about a happy result to see them and I think we ought to give them a good hand. (applause) Mr. Chase has an announcement.

SECRETARY CHASE: There are 3 announcements that possibly should have been made before we recessed for lunch.

First, there is mail for all of the delegates in the mail room downstairs.

Just prior to the May 11 adjournment, several of the delegates took out, on loan, sets of convention slides which have not been returned. Missing from our files are 12 complete sets of slides. Since we frequently have call from other delegates for the use of these slides, we would appreciate their return as soon as possible. Ink White, chairman of the committee on public information.

I am sure the delegates recall the lady on the civic center staff who took such good care of keeping the windows clean and the place well slicked up, who had to go to the hospital for a very critical operation. A number of the delegates contributed to a fund to help her over her financial difficulties. I have the following card:

It is very difficult to express my appreciation to all the wonderful people of con con. Let me say, with my heart, your kindness and generosity will always be remembered.

Sincerely,
Freda Adams.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Since the adjournment on May 11, we have added 2 new associate members to the delegation: Mrs. Charles Follo and Mrs. Gil Wanger.

I asked Charlie if Mrs. Follo was present so that he might present her, but he said she isn't. We are sorry, Charlie, she couldn't be with us.

Mr. Wanger, is your associate delegate present? Would you present her?

[Whereupon, the delegates accorded Mrs. Wanger a standing ovation.]

At the final session before the long recess the president was authorized to name a reunion committee for the constitutional convention. Accordingly, the president appoints, as members of the reunion committee: Mr. Erickson, Mrs. Koeze, Messrs. Jones, Bowens, Brake, Mrs. Conklin, Mr. Dean Doty, Mrs. Daisy Elliott, Messrs. Faxon, Kelsey, Kuhn, Powell, Sharpe, Wanger, White and Norris.

Without objection, the appointments are approved. You will notice that most of these delegates are within the area of Lansing, Detroit or Grand Rapids for their ease in getting together when they have to meet. Mr. Claud Erickson is chairman of the committee.

Returning to the order of business, approval of address to people. We will take up the report of the committee on public information. Mr. White, chairman.

MR. WHITE: Mr. President, under date of June 26, 1962, each delegate was mailed proof copies of the proposed address to the people. Since that time our committee has received numerous suggestions for corrections, additions, deletions and so on. Our committee has met and gone over these suggestions and they have been, for the most part, agreed to. I might say, parenthetically, the address in its present corrected form represents the writing and editing of upwards of 50 of our delegates.

Under date of July 27, 1962, each of you was mailed a 16 page multilith report which outlined in detail some 108 corrections. This communication also carried the recommendation that we be authorized to correct the text of the constitution as it appears in the address to conform with the style and drafting changes adopted at today's session, and to offer comments accordingly, if necessary. All of this material has been delivered again to each delegate's desk today. Additionally, you have a single white multilith sheet from our committee containing brief addenda to this 16 page report.

It seems to me, Mr. President, the delegates have had ample time to consider these matters, and to expedite our final deliberations, I move that the report of the public information committee, with the recommended addenda, be considered read.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Without objection, it is so ordered.

Following is the report as submitted and considered read:

After careful consideration of suggestions from delegates, your committee on public information recommends the adoption of the following changes in the proof copy of the address to the people:

For document incorporating following changes, see below, page 3355. Page numbers in report refer to document pages.

1. Amend page 2, second full paragraph, line 3, after "that one" by striking out "must" and inserting "should"; to improve phraseology.

2. Amend page 2, third full paragraph, line 1, by striking out "Ordered by popular vote, its delegates selected by the people on the basis of one from each senatorial and representative district, the Constitutional Convention of 1961-62 met in Lansing on October 3, 1961.", and inserting "The convention was ordered by popular vote in April of 1961. There were 144 delegates, representing Michigan's 34 State Senatorial districts and 110 State Representative seats. They were elected in statewide voting on September 12, 1961, and convened at Lansing on October 3, 1961."; to improve awkward sentence construction and correct error by indicating "seats" rather than representative "districts."

3. Amend page 2, fifth full paragraph, line 2, after "overlapped" by striking out "each other"; to improve phraseology.

4. Amend page 2, fifth full paragraph, line 6, after

CONSTITUTION OF THE
STATE OF MICHIGAN

as finally adopted by the Convention
August 1, 1962

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the State of Michigan, grateful to Almighty God for the blessings of freedom, and earnestly desiring to secure these blessings undiminished to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution.

ARTICLE I

Declaration of Rights

Sec. 1. All political power is inherent in the people. Government is instituted for their equal benefit, security and protection.

Sec. 2. No person shall be denied the equal protection of the laws; nor shall any person be denied the enjoyment of his civil or political rights or be discriminated against in the exercise thereof because of religion, race, color or national origin. The legislature shall implement this section by appropriate legislation.

Sec. 3. The people have the right peaceably to assemble, to consult for the common good, to instruct their representatives and to petition the government for redress of grievances.

Sec. 4. Every person shall be at liberty to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience. No person shall be compelled to attend, or, against his consent, to contribute to the erection or support of any place of religious worship, or to pay tithes, taxes or other rates for the support of any minister of the gospel or teacher of religion. No money shall be appropriated or drawn from the treasury for the benefit of any religious sect or society, theological or religious seminary; nor shall property belonging to the state be appropriated for any such purpose. The civil and political rights, privileges and capacities of no person shall be diminished or enlarged on account of his religious belief.

Sec. 5. Every person may freely speak, write, express and publish his views on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of such right; and no law shall be enacted to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech or of the press.

No warrant to search any place or to seize any person or things shall issue without describing them, nor without probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation. The provisions of this section shall not be construed to bar from evidence in any criminal proceeding any narcotic drug, firearm, bomb, explosive or any other dangerous weapon, seized by a peace officer outside the curtilage of any dwelling house in this state.

Sec. 12. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

Sec. 13. A suitor in any court of this state has the right to prosecute or defend his suit, either in his own proper person or by an attorney.

Sec. 16. Excessive bail shall not be required; excessive fines shall not be imposed; cruel or unusual punishment shall not be inflicted; nor shall witnesses be unreasonably detained.

Sec. 17. No person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law. Sec. 20. In every criminal prosecution, the accused shall have the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury, which may consist of less than 12 jurors in all courts not of record; to be informed of the nature of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor; to have the assistance of counsel for his defense; to have an appeal as a matter of right; and in courts of record, when the trial court so orders, to have such reasonable assistance as may be necessary to perfect and prosecute an appeal.

Sec. 21. No person shall be imprisoned for debt arising out of or founded on contract, express or implied, except in cases of fraud or breach of trust.

Sec. 22. Treason against the state shall consist only in levying war against it or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless upon the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act or on confession in open court.

Sec. 23. The enumeration in this constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE II

Elections

Sec. 1. Every citizen of the United States who has attained the age of 21 years, who has resided in this state six months, and who meets the requirements of local residence provided by law, shall be an elector and qualified to vote in any election except as otherwise provided in this constitution. The legislature shall define residence for voting purposes.

Sec. 2. The legislature may by law exclude persons from voting because of mental incompetence or commitment to a jail or penal institution.

Sec. 3. For purposes of voting in the election for president and vice-president of the United States only, the legislature may by law establish lesser residence requirements for citizens who have resided in this state for less than six months and may waive residence requirements for former citizens of this state who have removed herefrom. The legislature shall not permit voting by any person who meets the voting residence requirements of the state to which he has removed.

Sec. 4. The legislature shall enact laws to regulate the time, place and manner of all nominations and elections, except as otherwise provided in this constitution or in the constitution and laws of the United States. The legislature shall enact laws to preserve the purity of elections, to preserve the secrecy of the ballot, to guard against abuses of the elective franchise, and to provide for a system of voter registration and absentee voting. No law shall be enacted which permits a candidate in any partisan primary or partisan election to have a ballot designation except when required for identification of candidates for the same office who have the same or similar surnames.

Sec. 5. Except for special elections to fill vacancies, or as otherwise provided in this constitution, all elections for national, state, county and township offices shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in each even-numbered year or on such other date as members of the congress of the United States are regularly elected.

Sec. 6. Whenever any question is required to be submitted by a political subdivision to the electors for the increase of the ad valorem tax rate limitation imposed by Section 6 of Article IX for a period of more than five years, or for the issue of bonds, only electors in, and who have property assessed for any ad valorem taxes in, any part of the district or territory to be affected by the result of such election or electors who are the lawful husbands or wives of such persons shall be entitled to vote thereon. All electors in the district or territory affected may vote on all other questions.

Sec. 7. A board of state canvassers of four members shall be established by law. No candidate for an office to be canvassed nor any inspector of elections shall be eligible to serve as a member of a board of canvassers. A majority of any board of canvassers shall not be composed of members of the same political party.

Sec. 8. Laws shall be enacted to provide for the recall of all elective officers except judges of courts of record upon petition of electors equal in number to 25 percent of the number of persons voting in the last preceding election for the office of governor in the electoral district of the officer sought to be recalled. The sufficiency of any statement of reasons or grounds procedurally required shall be a political rather than a judicial question.

Sec. 9. The people reserve to themselves the power to propose laws and to enact and reject laws, called the initiative, and the power to approve or reject laws enacted by the legislature, called the referendum. The power of initiative extends only to laws which the legislature may enact under this constitution. The power of referendum does not extend to acts making appropriations for state institutions or to meet deficiencies in state funds and must be invoked in the manner prescribed by law within 90 days following the final adjournment of the legislative session at which the law was enacted. To invoke the initiative or referendum, petitions signed by a number of registered electors, not less than eight percent for initiative and five percent for referendum of the total vote cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected shall be required.

No law as to which the power of referendum properly has been invoked shall be effective thereafter unless approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at the next general election.

Any law proposed by initiative petition shall be either enacted or rejected by the legislature without change or amendment within 40 session days from the time such petition is received by the legislature. If any law proposed by such petition shall be enacted by the legislature it shall be subject to referendum, as hereinafter provided.

If the law so proposed is not enacted by the legislature within the 40 days, the state officer authorized by law shall submit such proposed law to the people for approval or rejection at the next general election. The legislature may reject any measure so proposed by initiative petition and propose a different measure upon the same subject by a yea and nay vote upon separate roll calls, and in such event both measures shall be submitted by such state officer to the electors for approval or rejection at the next general election.

Any law submitted to the people by either initiative or referendum petition and approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon at any election shall take effect 10 days after the date of the official declaration of the vote. No law initiated or adopted by the people shall be subject to the veto power of the governor, and no law adopted by the people at the polls under the initiative provisions of this section shall be amended or repealed, except by a vote of the electors unless otherwise provided in the initiative measure or by three-fourths of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature. Laws approved by the people under the referendum provision of this section may be amended by the legislature at any subsequent session thereof. If two or more measures approved by the electors at the same election conflict, that receiving the highest affirmative vote shall prevail.

The legislature shall implement the provisions of this section.

ARTICLE III

General Government

Sec. 1. The seat of government shall be at Lansing.

Sec. 2. The powers of government are divided into three branches: legislative, executive and judicial. No person exercising powers of one branch shall exercise powers properly belonging to another branch except as expressly provided in this constitution.

Sec. 3. There shall be a great seal of the State of Michigan and its use shall be provided by law.

Sec. 4. The militia shall be organized, equipped and disciplined as provided by law.

Sec. 5. Subject to provisions of general law, this state or any political subdivision thereof, any governmental authority or any combination thereof may enter into agreements for the performance, financing or execution of their respective functions, with any one or more of the other states, the United States, the Dominion of Canada, or any political subdivision thereof unless otherwise provided in this constitution. Any other provision of this constitution notwithstanding, an officer or employee of the state or of any such unit of government or subdivision or agency thereof may serve on or with any governmental body established for the purposes set forth in this section and shall not be required to relinquish his office or employment by reason of such service. The legislature may impose such restrictions, limitations or conditions on such service as it may deem appropriate.

Sec. 6. The state shall not be a party to, nor be financially interested in, any work of internal improvement, nor engage in carrying on any such work, except for public internal improvements provided by law.

Sec. 7. The common law and the statute laws now in force, not repugnant to this constitution, shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitations, or are changed, amended or repealed.

Sec. 8. Either house of the legislature or the governor may request the opinion of the supreme court on important questions of law upon solemn occasions as to the constitutionality of legislation after it has been enacted into law but before its effective date.

ARTICLE IV

Legislative Branch

Sec. 1. The legislative power of the State of Michigan is vested in a senate and a house of representatives.

Sec. 2. The senate shall consist of 38 members to be elected from single member districts at the same election as the governor for four-year terms concurrent with the term of office of the governor.

In districting the state for the purpose of electing senators after the official publication of the total population count of each federal decennial census, each county shall be assigned apportionment factors equal to the sum of its percentage of the state's population as shown by the last regular federal decennial census computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent multiplied by four and its percentage of the state's land area computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent.

In arranging the state into senatorial districts, the apportionment commission shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Counties with 13 or more apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. After each such county has been allocated one senator, the remaining senators to which this class of counties is entitled shall be distributed among such counties by the method of equal proportions applied to the apportionment factors.

(2) Counties having less than 13 apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. Such counties shall thereafter be arranged into senatorial districts that are compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, as rectangular in shape as possible, and having as nearly as possible 13 apportionment factors, but in no event less than 10 or more than 16. Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there is a failure to comply with the above standards.

(3) Counties entitled to two or more senators shall be divided into single member districts. The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the county by the number of senators to which it is entitled. Each such district shall follow incorporated city or township boundary lines to the extent possible and shall be compact, contiguous, and as nearly uniform in shape as possible.

Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of 110 members elected for two-year terms from single member districts apportioned on a basis of population as provided in this article. The districts shall consist of compact and convenient territory contiguous by land.

Each county which has a population of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative area. Each county having less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall be combined with another county or counties to form a representative area of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state. Any county which is isolated under the initial allocation as provided in this section shall be joined with that contiguous representative area having the smallest percentage of the state's population. Each such representative area shall be entitled initially to one representative.

After the assignment of one representative to each of the representative areas, the remaining house seats shall be apportioned among the representative areas on the basis of population by the method of equal proportions.

Any county comprising a representative area entitled to two or more representatives shall be divided into single member representative districts as follows:

(1) The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the representative area by the number of representatives to which it is entitled.

(2) Such single member districts shall follow city and township boundaries where applicable and shall be composed of compact and contiguous territory as nearly square in shape as possible.

Any representative area consisting of more than one county, entitled to more than one representative, shall be divided into single member districts as equal as possible in population, adhering to county lines.

Sec. 4. In counties having more than one representative or senatorial district, the territory in the same county annexed to or merged with a city between apportionments shall become a part of a contiguous representative or senatorial district in the city with which it is combined, if provided by ordinance of the city. The district or districts with which the territory shall be combined shall be determined by such ordinance certified to the secretary of state. No such change in the boundaries of a representative or senatorial district shall have the effect of removing a legislator from office during his term.

Sec. 5. Island areas are considered to be contiguous by land to the county of which they are a part.

Sec. 6. A commission on legislative apportionment is hereby established consisting of eight electors, four of whom shall be selected by the state organizations of each of the two political parties whose candidates for governor received the highest vote at the last general election at which a governor was elected preceding each apportionment. If a candidate for governor of a third political party has received at such election more than 25 percent of such gubernatorial vote, the commission shall consist of 12 members, four of whom shall be selected by the state organization of the third political party. One resident of each of the following four regions shall be selected by each political party organization: (1) the upper peninsula; (2) the northern part of the lower peninsula, north of a line drawn along the northern boundaries of the counties of Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana; (3) southwestern Michigan, those counties south of region (2) and west of a line drawn along the western boundaries of the counties of Bay, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Ingham, Jackson and Hillsdale; (4) southeastern Michigan, the remaining counties of the state.

No officers or employees of the federal, state or local governments, excepting notaries public and members of the armed forces reserve, shall be eligible for membership on the commission. Members of the commission shall not be eligible for election to the legislature until two years after the apportionment in which they participated becomes effective.

The commission shall be appointed immediately after the adoption of this constitution and whenever apportionment or districting of the legislature is required by the provisions of this constitution. Members of the commission shall hold office until each apportionment or districting plan becomes effective. Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as for original appointment.

The secretary of state shall be secretary of the commission without vote, and in that capacity shall furnish, under the direction of the commission, all necessary technical services. The commission shall elect its own chairman, shall make its own rules of procedure, and shall receive compensation provided by law. The legislature shall appropriate funds to enable the commission to carry out its activities.

Within 30 days after the adoption of this constitution, and after the official total population count of each federal decennial census of the state and its political subdivisions is available, the secretary of state shall issue a call convening the commission not less than 30 nor more than 45 days thereafter. The commission shall complete its work within 180 days after all necessary census information is available. The commission shall proceed to district and apportion the senate and house of representatives according to the provisions of this constitution. All final decisions shall require the concurrence of a majority of the members of the commission. The commission shall hold public hearings as may be provided by law.

Each final apportionment and districting plan shall be published as provided by law within 30 days from the date of its adoption and shall become law 60 days after publication. The secretary of state shall keep a public record of all the proceedings of the commission and shall be responsible for the publication and distribution of each plan.

If a majority of the commission cannot agree on a plan, each member of the commission, individually or jointly with other members, may submit a proposed plan to the supreme court. The supreme court shall determine which plan complies most accurately with the constitutional requirements and shall direct that it be adopted by the commission and published as provided in this section.

Upon the application of any elector filed not later than 60 days after final publication of the plan, the supreme court, in the exercise of original jurisdiction, shall direct the secretary of state or the commission to perform their duties, may review any final plan adopted by the commission, and shall remand such plan to the commission for further action if it fails to comply with the requirements of this constitution.

Sec. 7. Each senator and representative must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years of age, and an elector of the district he represents. The removal of his domicile from the district shall be deemed a vacation of the office. No person who has been convicted of subversion or who has within the preceding 20 years been convicted of a felony involving a breach of public trust shall be eligible for either house of the legislature.

Sec. 8. No person holding any office, employment or position under the United States or this state or a political subdivision thereof, except notaries public and members of the armed forces reserve, may be a member of either house of the legislature.

Sec. 9. No person elected to the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state from the governor, except notaries public, from the legislature, or from any other state authority, during the term for which he is elected.

Sec. 10. No member of the legislature nor any state officer shall be interested directly or indirectly in any contract with the state or any political subdivision thereof which shall cause a substantial conflict of interest. The legislature shall further implement this provision by appropriate legislation.

Sec. 11. Senators and representatives shall be privileged from civil arrest and civil process during sessions of the legislature and for five days next before the commencement and after the termination thereof. They shall not be questioned in any other place for any speech in either house.

Sec. 12. The compensation and expense allowances of the members of the legislature shall be determined by law. Changes in compensation or expense allowances shall become effective only when legislators commence their terms of office after a general election.

Sec. 13. The legislature shall meet at the seat of government on the second Wednesday in January of each year at twelve o'clock noon. Each regular session shall adjourn without day, on a day determined by concurrent resolution, at twelve o'clock noon. Any business, bill or joint resolution pending at the final adjournment of a regular session held in an odd numbered year shall carry over with the same status to the next regular session.

Sec. 14. A majority of the members elected to and serving in each house shall constitute a quorum to do business. A smaller number in each house may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in the manner and with penalties as each house may prescribe.

Sec. 15. There shall be a bi-partisan legislative council consisting of legislators appointed in the manner prescribed by law. The legislature shall appropriate funds for the council's operations and provide for its staff which shall maintain bill drafting, research and other services for the members of the legislature. The council shall periodically examine and recommend to the legislature revision of the various laws of the state.

Sec. 16. Each house, except as otherwise provided in this constitution, shall choose its own officers and determine the rules of its proceedings, but shall not adopt any rule that will prevent a majority of the members elected thereto and serving therein from discharging a committee from the further consideration of any measure. Each house shall be the sole judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its members, and may, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected thereto and serving therein, expel a member. The reasons for such expulsion shall be entered in the journal, with the votes and names of the members voting upon the question. No member shall be expelled a second time for the same cause.

Sec. 17. Each house of the legislature may establish the committees necessary for the efficient conduct of its business and the legislature may create joint committees. On all actions on bills and resolutions in each committee, names and votes of members shall be recorded. Such vote shall be available for public inspection. Notice of all committee hearings and a clear statement of all subjects to be considered at each hearing shall be published in the journal in advance of the hearing.

Sec. 18. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same unless the public security otherwise requires. The record of the vote and name of the members of either house voting on any question shall be entered in the journal at the request of one-fifth of the members present. Any member of either house may dissent from and protest against any act, proceeding or resolution which he deems injurious to any person or the public, and have the reason for his dissent entered in the journal.

Sec. 19. All elections in either house or in joint convention and all votes on appointments submitted to the senate for advice and consent shall be published by vote and name in the journal.

Sec. 20. The doors of each house shall be open unless the public security otherwise requires.

Sec. 21. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than two intervening calendar days, nor to any place other than where the legislature may then be in session.

Sec. 22. All legislation shall be by bill and may originate in either house.

Sec. 23. The style of the laws shall be: The People of the State of Michigan enact.

Sec. 24. No law shall embrace more than one object, which shall be expressed in its title. No bill shall be altered or amended on its passage through either house so as to change its original purpose as determined by its total content and not alone by its title.

Sec. 25. No law shall be revised, altered or amended by reference to its title only. The section or sections of the act altered or amended shall be re-enacted and published at length.

Sec. 26. No bill shall be passed or become a law at any regular session of the legislature until it has been printed or reproduced and in the possession of each house for at least five days. Every bill shall be read three times in each house before the final passage thereof. No bill shall become a law without the concurrence of a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house. On the final passage of bills, the votes and names of the members voting thereon shall be entered in the journal.

Sec. 27. No act shall take effect until the expiration of 90 days from the end of the session at which it was passed, but the legislature may give immediate effect to acts by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and serving in each house.

Sec. 28. When the legislature is convened on extraordinary occasions in special session no bill shall be passed on any subjects other than those expressly stated in the governor's proclamation or submitted by special message.

Sec. 29. The legislature shall pass no local or special act in any case where a general act can be made applicable, and whether a general act can be made applicable shall be a judicial question. No local or special act shall take effect until approved by two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house and by a majority of the electors voting thereon in the district affected. Any act repealing local or special acts shall require only a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house and shall not require submission to the electors of such district.

Sec. 30. The assent of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature shall be required for the appropriation of public money or property for local or private purposes.

Sec. 31. The general appropriation bills for the succeeding fiscal period covering items set forth in the budget shall be passed or rejected in either house of the legislature before that house passes any appropriation bill for items not in the budget except bills supplementing appropriations for the current fiscal year's operation. Any bill requiring an appropriation to carry out its purpose shall be considered an appropriation bill. One of the general appropriation bills as passed by the legislature shall contain an itemized statement of estimated revenue by major source in each operating fund for the ensuing fiscal period, the total of which shall not be less than the total of all appropriations made from each fund in the general appropriation bills as passed.

Sec. 32. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax.

Sec. 33. Every bill passed by the legislature shall be presented to the governor before it becomes law, and the governor shall have 14 days measured in hours and minutes from the time of presentation in which to consider it. If he approves, he shall within that time sign and file it with the secretary of state and it shall become law. If he does not approve, and the legislature has within that time finally adjourned the session at which the bill was passed, it shall not become law. If he disapproves, and the legislature continues the session at which the bill was passed, he shall return it within such 14-day period with his objections, to the house in which it originated. That house shall enter such objections in full in its journal and reconsider the bill. If two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in that house pass the bill notwithstanding the objections of the governor, it shall be sent with the objections to the other house for reconsideration. The bill shall become law if passed by two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in that house. The vote of each house shall be entered in the journal with the votes and names of the members voting thereon. If any bill is not returned by the governor within such 14-day period, the legislature continuing in session, it shall become law as if he had signed it.

Sec. 34. Any bill passed by the legislature and approved by the governor, except a bill appropriating money, may provide that it will not become law unless approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon.

Sec. 35. All laws enacted at any session of the legislature shall be published in book form within 60 days after final adjournment of the session, and shall be distributed in the manner provided by law. The prompt publication of judicial decisions shall be provided by law. All laws and judicial decisions shall be free for publication by any person.

The rate of taxation on such property shall be the average rate levied upon other property in this state under the general ad valorem tax law, or, if the legislature provides, the rate of tax applicable to the property of each business enterprise assessed by the state shall be the average rate of ad valorem taxation levied upon other property in all counties in which any of such property is situated.

Sec. 6. Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, the total amount of general ad valorem taxes imposed upon real and tangible personal property for all purposes in any one year shall not exceed 15 mills on each dollar of the assessed valuation of property as finally equalized. Under procedures provided by law, which shall guarantee the right of initiative, separate tax limitations for any county and for the townships and for school districts therein, the aggregate of which shall not exceed 18 mills on each dollar of such valuation, may be adopted and thereafter altered by the vote of a majority of the qualified electors of such county voting thereon, in lieu of the limitation hereinbefore established. These limitations may be increased to an aggregate of not to exceed 50 mills on each dollar of valuation, for a period of not to exceed 20 years at any one time, if approved by a majority of the electors, qualified under Section 6 of Article II of this constitution, voting on the question.

The foregoing limitations shall not apply to taxes imposed for the payment of principal and interest on bonds or other evidences of indebtedness or for the payment of assessments or contract obligations in anticipation of which bonds are issued, which taxes may be imposed without limitation as to rate or amount; or to taxes imposed for any other purpose by any city, village, charter county, charter township, charter authority or other authority, the tax limitations of which are provided by charter or by general law.

Sec. 10. One-eighth of all taxes imposed on retailers on taxable sales at retail of tangible personal property shall be used exclusively for assistance to townships, cities and villages, on a population basis as provided by law. Such indebtedness in any fiscal year shall not exceed 15 percent of undedicated revenues received by the state during the preceding fiscal year and such debts shall be repaid at the time the revenues so pledged are received, but not later than the end of the same fiscal year.

Sec. 15. The question submitted to the electors shall state the amount to be borrowed, the specific purpose to which the funds shall be devoted, and the method of repayment.

Sec. 16. The state, in addition to any other borrowing power, may borrow from time to time such amounts as shall be required, pledge its faith and credit and issue its notes or bonds therefor, for the purpose of making loans to school districts as provided in this section.

If the minimum amount which would otherwise be necessary for a school district to levy in any year to pay principal and interest on its qualified bonds, including any necessary allowances for estimated tax delinquencies, exceeds 13 mills on each dollar of its assessed valuation as finally equalized, or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, then the school district may elect to borrow all or any part of the excess from the state. In that event the state shall lend the excess amount to the school district for the payment of principal and interest. If for any reason any school district will be or is unable to pay the principal and interest on its qualified bonds when due, then the school district shall borrow and the state shall lend to it an amount sufficient to enable the school district to make the payment.

The term "qualified bonds" means general obligation bonds of school districts issued for capital expenditures, including refunding bonds, issued prior to May 4, 1955, or issued thereafter and qualified as provided by law pursuant to Section 27 or Section 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908 or pursuant to this section.

After a school district has received loans from the state, each year thereafter it shall levy for debt service, exclusive of levies for nonqualified bonds, not less than 13 mills or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, until the amount loaned has been repaid, and any tax collections therefrom in any year over and above the minimum requirements for principal and interest on qualified bonds shall be used toward the repayment of state loans. In any year when such levy would produce an amount in excess of the requirements and the amount due to the state, the levy may be reduced by the amount of the excess.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, the legislature shall have the power to prescribe and to limit the procedure, terms and conditions for the qualification of bonds, for obtaining and making state loans, and for the repayment of loans.

The power to tax for the payment of principal and interest on bonds hereafter issued which are the general obligations of any school district, including refunding bonds, and for repayment of any state loans made to school districts, shall be without limitation as to rate or amount.

All rights acquired under Sections 27 and 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908, by holders of bonds heretofore issued, and all obligations assumed by the state or any school district under these sections, shall remain unimpaired.

Sec. 7. Any judge of probate serving on the effective date of this constitution may serve the remainder of the term and be eligible to succeed himself for election regardless of other provisions in this constitution requiring him to be licensed to practice law in this state.

Sec. 8. The provisions of Article VI providing that terms of judicial offices shall not all expire at the same time, shall be implemented by law providing that at the next election for such offices judges shall be elected for terms of varying length, none of which shall be shorter than the regular term provided for the office.

Sec. 9. The members of the state board of education provided for in Section 3 of Article VIII of this constitution shall first be elected at the first general election after the effective date of this constitution for the following terms: two shall be elected for two years, two for four years, two for six years, and two for eight years as prescribed by law.

The state board of education provided for in the constitution of 1908 is abolished at twelve o'clock noon January 1 of the year following the first general election under this constitution and the terms of members thereof shall then expire.

Sec. 10. The provisions of this constitution providing for members of boards of control of institutions of higher education and the state board of public community and junior colleges shall be implemented by law. The law may provide that the term of each member in office on the date of the vote on this constitution may be extended, and may further provide that the initial terms of office of members may be less than eight years.

Sec. 11. The provisions of this constitution increasing the number of members of the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University and of the Board of Governors of Wayne State University to eight, and of their term of office to eight years, shall be implemented by law. The law may provide that the term of each member in office on the date of the vote on this constitution may be extended one year, and may further provide that the initial terms of office of the additional members may be less than eight years.

Sec. 12. The initial allocation of departments by law pursuant to Section 2 of Article V of this constitution, shall be completed within two years after the effective date of this constitution. If such allocation shall not have been completed within such period, the governor, within one year thereafter, by executive order, shall make the initial allocation.

Sec. 13. Contractual obligations of the state incurred pursuant to the constitution of 1908 shall continue to be obligations of the state.

For the retirement of notes and bonds issued under Section 26 of Article X of the 1908 constitution, there is hereby appropriated from the general fund each year during their life a sum equal to the amount of principal and interest payments due and payable in each year.

Sec. 14. The legislature by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house may provide that the state may borrow money and may pledge its full faith and credit for refunding any bonds issued by the Mackinac Bridge Authority and at the time of refunding the Mackinac Bridge Authority shall be abolished and the operation of the bridge shall be assumed by the state highway department. The legislature may implement this section by law.

Sec. 15. This constitution shall be submitted to the people for their adoption or rejection at the general election to be held on the first Monday in April, 1963. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state forthwith to give notice of such submission to all other officers required to give or publish any notice in regard to a general election. He shall give notice that this constitution will be duly submitted to the electors at such election. The notice shall be given in the manner required for the election of governor.

Sec. 16. Every registered elector may vote on the adoption of the constitution. The board of election commissioners in each county shall cause to be printed on a ballot separate from the ballot containing the names of the nominees for office, the words: Shall the revised constitution be adopted? () Yes. () No. All votes cast at the election shall be taken, counted, canvassed and returned as provided by law for the election of state officers. If the revised constitution so submitted receives more votes in its favor than were cast against it, it shall be the supreme law of the state on and after the first day of January of the year following its adoption.

[ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE]

What the Proposed
New State Constitution
Means to You

- A report to the people of Michigan by their elected delegates to the Constitutional Convention of 1961-62.

Lansing, Michigan

August 1, 1962

Legislature; consent to adjourn.

Sec. 21. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than two intervening calendar days, nor to any place other than where the legislature may then be in session.

This is a revision of the second sentence of Sec. 18, Article V, of the present constitution to change "three days" to "two intervening calendar days." This is to spell out definitely terminology which has provoked some legislative controversy in recent years.

Bills.

Sec. 22. All legislation  shall be by bill and may originate in either house. **

No change from Sec. 19, Article V, of the present constitution except for improvement in phraseology.

Style of laws.

Sec. 23. The style of the laws shall be: The People of the State of Michigan enact.

No change from Sec. 20, Article V, of the present constitution.

Laws; object and title.

Sec. 24. No law shall embrace more than one object, which shall be expressed in its title.  No bill shall be altered or amended on its passage through either house so as to change its original purpose as determined by its total content and not alone by its title.

This is a revision combining parts of Secs. 21 and 22, Article V, of the present constitution. No substantive change is involved.

Laws; revision, amendment.

Sec. 25. No law shall be revised, altered or amended by reference to its title only.  The section or sections of the act altered or amended shall be re-enacted and published at length.

This is a revision of parts of Sec. 21, Article V, of the present constitution eliminating language which requires that the whole of an act revised be re-printed. This would be costly and unnecessary.

Bills; printing; reading; passage; vote.

Sec. 26. No bill shall be passed or become a law at any regular session of the legislature until it has been printed or reproduced and in the possession of each house for at least five days. * Every bill shall be read three times in each house before the final passage thereof. No bill shall become a law without the concurrence of * the members elected to and serving in each house. On the final passage of * bills, the votes and names of the members voting thereon shall be entered in the journal.

This is a revision incorporating parts of Secs. 22 and 23, Article V, of the present constitution. Addition of the word "reproduced" recognizes new developments in the graphic arts. The words "and serving" clarify the method of computing a majority provided in Sec. 14 of this Article.

Acts; effective date.

Sec. 27. No act shall take effect  until the expiration of 90 days from the end of the session at which it was passed, * but the legislature may give immediate effect to acts * by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and serving in each house.

This is a revision of a part of Sec. 21, Article V, of the present constitution. The 90-day provision as to effective date of statutes is retained, but the legislature is authorized to give immediate effect to any act by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and serving in each house.

This is a change from present language which specifies that only acts making appropriations and acts "necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety" may be given immediate effect. The two-thirds vote restriction seems adequate to prevent abuse of the "immediate effect" provision.

Bills; subjects at special session.

Sec. 28. When the legislature is convened on extraordinary occasions in special session no bill shall be passed on any subjects other than those expressly stated in the governor's proclamation or submitted by special message.

This is a revision of a part of Sec. 22, Article V, of the present constitution. The new language is only to clarify existing meaning.

Local or special acts; referendum.

Sec. 29. The legislature shall pass no local or special act in any case where a general act can be made applicable, and whether a general act can be made applicable shall be a judicial question. No local or special act * shall take effect until approved by * two-thirds * of the members elected to and serving in each house and by a majority of the electors voting thereon in the district * affected. Any act repealing local or special acts shall require only a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house and shall not require submission to the electors of such district.

This is a revision of Sec. 30, Article V, of the present constitution with changes to clear up ambiguous language and eliminate a date (January 1, 1909) now unnecessary. The requirement of a two-thirds vote of both houses and a majority vote in the area affected protects localities against arbitrary action. By allowing a majority of the legislature to repeal existing local laws, uniformity will be easier to obtain.

Appropriations for local purposes.

Sec. 30. The assent of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature shall be required for the appropriation of public money or property for local or private purposes.
