Overview of the Constitutional Convention Process

Provisions generally began as Committee Proposals and were then brought to the convention floor for first reading. The majority of debate on the substance of provisions occurred during the first and second readings. There were two third readings; the first on an article-by-article basis and the second reviewing the Constitution as a whole. Following the third readings the entire Constitution was voted on by the delegates. The delegates then created the Notice of Address to the People, summarizing the Constitution on a provision-by-provision basis, which was distributed so that the people could be informed when making their ratification votes.

The convention used ALL CAPS to denote added material and [brackets] to denote removed material.

If we do, then we believe that the executive and the legislative branches should not exercise the powers of the judiciary.

Now, in the development of our society, the legislature will pass laws; and either it will create in some instances—in fact, in many instances—an agency to enforce those laws, or the executive will do it. Obviously the legislature can't handle all of these things itself. So these agencies are created to enforce the laws. And these agencies lay down rules and they make determinations. In doing so, it is inevitable that they make judicial or quasi judicial findings that affect private rights. Now, in the first sentence of section a we recognize that condition as it exists, and we say that when any of these administrative, legislative or executive agencies—that's what they are—make findings that are judicial or quasi judicial and affect private rights, that those decisions shall be subject to direct review by the courts as provided by law. We come to what I said earlier. I think we have to determine whether we are going to have a government of men or of law. Certainly no one should object to judicial rights being determined according to law.

Now we go to the second sentence. All that second sentence says is that the review that is to be exercised by the court, as a minimum, shall determine first whether the decision of that administrative tribunal is authorized by law. In other words, did it exceed the law? Did it get into a field it shouldn't have gotten into, that it wasn't authorized to get into? Certainly, if we are to have a government of law, we can't object to that. We can object to individuals running over our private rights, just on their own whim, caprice or because of the autocratic nature they have assumed. And the other thing that it says is this—and this is all it says—it says if it's such a decision that a hearing is required, then they've got to make their decision based on reliable, probative and substantial evidence on the whole record. Again we come back to the fact that if the legislative and the executive are going to exercise judicial functions, they've got to have those decisions they make supported by reliable evidence. And certainly that is not too much to expect. We don't have tyranny here. We are supposed to be governed by law.

I am glad that Dr. Nord brought up the matter of the bar exam because I happen to have a son who is going to take the next bar exam, and he happens to be one of Dr. Nord's pupils, or is taking his refresher course. So I am vitally interested in this. But let's take his analogy. Would the bar examining board's decision be reviewable? According to this, the only thing that the court can determine is, first, in the first part of that second sentence, did it have authority to do what it is doing? And, secondly, if a hearing is required, is it supported by reliable, probative, and substantial evidence? Well, I didn't know a hearing was required in a bar exam. I don't think his example is at all applicable. I think it is indicative of the type of thing we've gotten into in this, where we are losing sight of the real issue.

I think it is important, to preserve our way of life, that a proper check be made on the exercise of authority by these administrative agencies. And that proper check is simply that they act according to law; and if they make findings on hearings, that there be some evidence to back up those findings. I ask that you vote against this amendment.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: Mr. Martin.

MR. MARTIN: Mr. Chairman, I have listened to the entire debate without commenting on this, because I wanted to know what the committee thought and what those who studied the problem thought.

I am impressed, first of all, by the tremendous scope of the proposal that is being made. There is no question at all but that this is one of the most far ranging proposals for change which we are making in this entire constitution. There is also no question but what there have been abuses in this field, and this proposal is designed to correct those abuses. At the same time, I recognize—and I think others of us recognize—that we have people whose rights and interests need to be protected on both sides of the controversies that may be involved before these administrative tribunals.

It is not only the question of the person whose property may be taken by the decisions of these tribunals, but it is also a problem of seeing to it that the people who come before these tribunals with respect to workmen's compensation awards and other matters of that kind receive prompt action within reasonable time on the matters that they bring before these boards. Because it is true that they are in many cases people who cannot afford long protracted proceedings, and if they are carried through a long series of judicial reviews from one court to another there may be some serious problems for them that we have to be concerned about, too. I raised the question yesterday with regard to the introduction of the words "privileges and licenses." I understand that the change which we made in changing "erroneous" to "supported by" is a change which Mr. Cooper, who is one of the acknowledged authorities in the country, is doubtful about. Mr. Norris has spoken about the possibility of reconciling some of the language of this proposal with some of the problems which he sees.

I think we should pass the proposal; I intend to support the committee on this, but I think that in light of its importance, we can't just send it to style and drafting and then bring it back and act on it without further thought. I think it has to go to style and drafting, and in the meantime I think the committee should take another long look at it. I would like to know what Blythe Stason, for example, who is one of the great experts on administrative law in this state, thinks about it; and Mr. Cooper, as well; and some of the other people who know what the impact and import of this proposal would be. When we know that, then I think we may be in better position to determine what changes, if any, should be made, or whether it should be passed exactly as it is presented to us here.

I just want to record for the record my feeling that this is not the final look as far as I'm concerned, at least, and that all of us better take another long look at it before we make up our minds that this is the way it ought to be, finally, once and for all.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: The question is on the amendment offered by Messrs. Krolkowski and Bledsoe to strike all of section a of Committee Proposal 95. Those in favor of the amendment will say aye. Those opposed will say no.

The amendment is not adopted.

DELEGATES: Division.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: A division is requested. Is the demand supported? It is supported. Those in favor of the Krolkowski-Bledsoe amendment will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and tally the vote.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the adoption of the amendment offered by Messrs. Krolkowski and Bledsoe, the yeas are 37, the nays are 83.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: The amendment is not adopted. Are there further amendments to Committee Proposal 95?

SECRETARY CHASE: There are none on file, Mr. Chairman.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: If not, it will pass.

Committee Proposal 95, as amended, is passed. The secretary will read the next committee proposal.

SECRETARY CHASE: From the committee on judicial branch, by Mr. Danhof, chairman, Committee Proposal 96, A proposal pertaining to general and special provisions relative to the courts of the state. A substitute for sections 17, 19, 20 and 23 of article VII.

Following is Committee Proposal 96 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. THE SUPREME COURT, THE COURT OF APPEALS, THE CIRCUIT COURT, THE PROBATE COURT AND OTHER COURTS DESIGNATED BY THE LEGISLATURE SHALL BE COURTS OF RECORD AND SHALL EACH HAVE A COMMON SEAL. EXCEPT AS AUTHORIZED OTHERWISE BY THIS CONSTITUTION,

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

JUSTICES AND JUDGES OF THE COURTS OF THIS STATE SHALL BE LAWYERS LICENSED TO PRACTICE LAW IN THIS STATE AND SHALL NOT BE ELECTED OR APPOINTED TO A JUDICIAL OFFICE AFTER REACHING THE AGE OF 70 YEARS. NO JUDGE OR JUSTICE OF ANY COURT IN THIS STATE SHALL BE PAID FROM THE FEES OF HIS OFFICE NOR SHALL THE AMOUNT OF HIS SALARY BE MEASURED BY THE FEES OR OTHER MONEYS RECEIVED NOR BY THE AMOUNT OF JUDICIAL ACTIVITY.

Sec. b. WHENEVER A JUDGE SHALL REMOVE HIS DOMICILE BEYOND THE LIMITS OF THE TERRITORY FROM WHICH HE WAS ELECTED, HE SHALL BE DEEMED TO HAVE VACATED HIS OFFICE.

Sec. c. A JUSTICE AND A JUDGE OF A COURT OF RECORD SHALL BE INELIGIBLE TO BE NOMINATED FOR, OR ELECTED TO AN ELECTIVE OFFICE OTHER THAN A JUDICIAL OFFICE DURING THE PERIOD OF HIS SERVICE AS A JUDGE AND FOR 1 YEAR THEREAFTER.

Sec. d. WHEN A VACANCY OCCURS IN THE OFFICE OF AN ELECTED JUDGE OF ANY COURT OF RECORD, IT SHALL BE FILLED AT A GENERAL OR SPECIAL ELECTION ACCORDING TO LAW. THE SUPREME COURT IS EMPOWERED TO AUTHORIZE PERSONS WHO HAVE SERVED AS JUDGES AND HAVE VOLUNTARILY RETIRED, TO PERFORM JUDICIAL DUTIES FOR THE LIMITED PERIOD OF TIME FROM THE OCCURRENCE OF THE VACANCY UNTIL THE SUCCESSOR IS ELECTED AND QUALIFIED.

Sec. e. THERE SHALL BE PRINTED UPON THE BALLOT UNDER THE NAME OF EACH ELECTED INCUMBENT JUSTICE OR JUDGE, WHO IS A CANDIDATE FOR NOMINATION OR ELECTION TO THE SAME OFFICE, THE DESIGNATION OF THAT OFFICE.

Sec. f. ANY JUSTICE OR JUDGE SERVING AT THE TIME THIS CONSTITUTION BECOMES EFFECTIVE MAY SERVE THE REMAINDER OF THE TERM AND BE ELIGIBLE FOR REELECTION TO HIS PRESENT OFFICE REGARDLESS OF OTHER PROVISIONS IN THIS CONSTITUTION PERTAINING TO THE QUALIFICATIONS FOR THE OFFICE.

Sec. g. SALARIES OF JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT, OF THE JUDGES OF THE COURT OF APPEALS, OF THE CIRCUIT JUDGES WITHIN THE COUNTY OR CIRCUIT, AND OF THE PROBATE JUDGES WITHIN A COUNTY OR DISTRICT, SHALL BE UNIFORM, AND MAY BE INCREASED BUT SHALL NOT BE DECREASED, DURING A TERM OF OFFICE EXCEPT AND ONLY TO THE EXTENT OF A GENERAL SALARY REDUCTION IN ALL OTHER BRANCHES OF GOVERNMENT.

EACH OF THE JUDGES OF THE CIRCUIT COURTS SHALL RECEIVE A SALARY PAYABLE MONTHLY. IN ADDITION TO THE SALARY PAID FROM THE STATE TREASURY, EACH CIRCUIT JUDGE MAY RECEIVE FROM ANY COUNTY IN WHICH HE REGULARLY HOLDS COURT SUCH ADDITIONAL SALARY AS MAY BE DETERMINED FROM TIME TO TIME BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY. IN ANY COUNTY WHERE SUCH ADDITIONAL SALARY IS GRANTED, IT SHALL BE PAID AT THE SAME RATE TO ALL CIRCUIT JUDGES REGULARLY HOLDING COURT THEREIN.

Sec. h. FOR REASONABLE CAUSE, WHICH SHALL NOT BE SUFFICIENT GROUND FOR IMPEACHMENT, THE GOVERNOR SHALL REMOVE ANY JUDGE ON A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF 2/3 OF THE MEMBERS ELECTED TO EACH HOUSE OF THE LEGISLATURE; AND THE CAUSE FOR WHICH SUCH REMOVAL IS REQUIRED SHALL BE STATED AT LENGTH IN SUCH RESOLUTION.

Sec. i. THE OFFICE OF CIRCUIT COURT COMMISSIONER AND JUSTICE OF THE PEACE SHALL CONTINUE TO HAVE, FOR A PERIOD OF NOT TO EXCEED 5 YEARS FROM THE DATE THIS CONSTITUTION BECOMES EFFECTIVE, ALL THEIR RESPECTIVE POWERS AND JURISDICTION UNTIL THE TIME WITHIN THIS PERIOD THAT THEY ARE ABOLISHED OR THEIR JURISDICTION AND POWERS ARE TRANSFERRED TO, OR INVESTED IN, OTHER COURTS THAT SHALL BE ESTABLISHED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THIS CONSTITUTION.

SPECIAL STATUTORY COURTS IN EXISTENCE AS OF THE TIME THIS CONSTITUTION BECOMES EFFECTIVE SHALL RETAIN THEIR POWERS AND JURISDICTION, EXCEPT AS PROVIDED BY LAW, UNTIL AND UNLESS THEY ARE ABOLISHED BY LAW.

Sec. j. THE PROVISIONS OF THIS CONSTITUTION REQUIRING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF STAGGERED TERMS OF OFFICES IN EXISTENCE, SHALL BE IMPLEMENTED AT THE NEXT ELECTION FOR SUCH OFFICES BY LEGISLATION PROVIDING FOR ELECTIONS FOR TERMS OF VARYING LENGTH, NONE OF WHICH SHALL BE SHORTER THAN THE BASIC TERM PROVIDED HEREIN FOR THE OFFICE.

Sec. k. EACH BRANCH OF THE LEGISLATURE AS WELL AS THE GOVERNOR SHALL HAVE THE AUTHORITY TO REQUEST THE OPINION OF THE SUPREME COURT UPON IMPORTANT QUESTIONS OF LAW AND UPON SOLEMN OCCASIONS.

Mr. Danhof, chairman of the committee on judicial branch, submits the following reasons in support of Committee Proposal 96:

Sec. a. Most of the content of this section is found in section 17 of article VII of the Constitution of 1908. The new court of appeals has been included as a court of record and the legislature is permitted to determine which of the lower courts will be so designated.

Two substantial additions have been made. One requires that all judges be lawyers. An exception is made in section f for those nonlawyers now serving as judges. In the case of justices of the peace, this exception cannot extend beyond 5 years. (See section i hereunder.)

The committee felt that a minimum requirement for judicial office should be a license to practice law. This doctrine has been recognized as to the supreme court and the circuit court through an amendment adopted by the people in 1955. We would apply it to all courts.

Abolition of the fee system would also be accomplished. The committee could find no support for paying a judge on the basis of the amount of litigation before him. Even the justices themselves would not wholeheartedly endorse what appears to the committee to be an indefensible method of payment.

Sec. b. The committee has in essence adopted the provisions of section 19 of article VII of the Constitution of 1908. Due, however, to the elimination of the justices of the peace from the proposed new article any reference to this office has been eliminated. In addition, the word "territory" has been substituted for the word "jurisdiction," inasmuch as the section refers to the physical moving of the judge from the territory from which he was elected.

Sec. c. Since 1850, circuit judges have been prohibited from holding other than a judicial office for their term and an additional year. We felt the principle of divorcing the judiciary from the political arena was valid. There seemed to be no reason to place the limitation on circuit judges alone. On the other hand, the committee felt that such a restriction should be tied to service on the bench, rather than the term to which he was elected.

Sec. d. This provision is a substitution for section 20 of article VII of the Constitution of 1908 and provides that vacancies in the office of an elected judge of any court

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair recognizes Mr. Faxon.

MR. FAXON: Mr. President, may I have consent to offer the motion which I indicated I was going to offer today but was unable to this morning? I would ask the secretary to read it.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Faxon offers the following motion: I move that following the conclusion of the proposals on the judicial branch, we move next to the report of the committee on legislative organization, and then to the executive branch, and then to the regular schedule.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, a point of order. Is Mr. Faxon's motion not out of order at this point? We had passed the order of motions and resolutions on the calendar this morning.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Van Dusen, your point is well taken. Mr. Faxon did ask yesterday for this privilege. He was not here this morning when the order of business came up. With unanimous consent Mr. Faxon can make his motion. Is there unanimous consent?

A DELEGATE: No. I object.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Ford.

MR. FORD: On the advice of our parliamentarian, I move that we return to the order of motions and resolutions.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Ford, the Chair is informed that it will be necessary for you to move that the rules be suspended to return to the order of motions and resolutions. Is that your motion?

MR. FORD: Yes. Thank you for the correction.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The motion by Mr. Ford is that the rules be suspended and we return to the order of motions and resolutions. Those in favor of that motion will say aye. Opposed will say no.

The Chair is in doubt. Those in favor of that motion will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and tally the vote.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the motion to suspend the rules, the yeas are 62; the nays are 66.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Two-thirds of the delegates not having voted in favor, the rules are not suspended. The Chair recognizes Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I move that the convention resolve itself into committee of the whole for the purpose of considering matters on the general orders calendar.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen. All those in favor say aye. Those opposed, no. The motion prevails. Mr. Van Dusen.

[Whereupon, Mr. Van Dusen assumed the Chair to preside as chairman of the committee of the whole.]

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: The committee will be in order. When the committee rose this morning we had under consideration Committee Proposal 96. We had disposed of all of the sections of that proposal as presented by the committee, and had disposed of several amendments to the body of the proposal. Are there any further amendments to the body of the proposal?

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Ford, in accordance with the minority report of Messrs. Ford, Barthwell, Bledsoe and Garvin—

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: Mr. Ford.

MR. FORD: In view of the action previously taken by the committee, unless one of the cosponsors of the minority report to the committee amendment to Committee Proposal 96 objects, I would like to withdraw our minority report and motion at this time.

For the minority report to the committee amendment, see above, page 1554.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: Mr. Ford withdraws his minority report amendment. Does Mr. Barthwell concur?

MR. BARTHWELL: Yes.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: Mr. Bledsoe?

MR. BLEDSOE: I concur.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: Mr. Garvin?

MR. GARVIN: Yes.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: With the consent of his cosponsors, the amendment is withdrawn by Mr. Ford. Are there further amendments to the body of Committee Proposal 96?

SECRETARY CHASE: There are none on file, Mr. Chairman.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: If not, the proposal will pass. Committee Proposal 96, as amended, is passed. The secretary will read the first exclusion report.

SECRETARY CHASE: From the committee on judicial branch, by Mr. Danhof, chairman, Exclusion Report 2042, A report recommending the exclusion of article VII, sections 15, 16 and 21.

Following is Exclusion Report 2042 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee on judicial branch recommends that article VII, sections 15, 16 and 21 of the present constitution be excluded from the new constitution.

Mr. Danhof, chairman of the committee on judicial branch, submits the following reasons in support of Exclusion Report 2042:

The committee has determined that the constitutional status of justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners make the inclusion of these sections no longer necessary. The reasons for the committee's determination are more fully set forth in connection with Committee Proposals 90 and 96.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: The question is on the exclusion report. Mr. Danhof.

MR. DANHOF: Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, this eliminates the references to the justices of the peace, their jurisdiction, and the circuit court commissioners. In view of the action previously taken by this convention regarding those officers and the provisions made for them, this exclusion report would seem to be in order, and I urge acceptance.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: Are there any amendments to the exclusion report? Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: A parliamentary inquiry. Would you please read again the sections that are excluded?

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: The secretary will read.

SECRETARY CHASE: As they are printed in the exclusion report, sections 15, 16 and 21 of article VII.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: Are there any amendments to the exclusion report? Mr. Ford.

MR. FORD: Mr. Chairman, members of the committee, I would like to support the committee on judicial branch, and urge a yes vote. I want to point out one word of caution, however, and that is that you should bear in mind in voting for the exclusion report—and I'm going to vote for it, and hope you do, too—that you are taking the last reference to a guarantee of a local court at the township level out of the constitution, and this should be borne in mind when we reach the other sections.

CHAIRMAN VAN DUSEN: Are there any amendments to the exclusion report? Mr. Mahinske.

MR. MAHINSKE: Is this divisible?

words, it is my understanding that every one of the provisions are implemented by statute, and I don't see how the statutes would be affected at all in the event that this convention recommended the deletion of the office of circuit court commissioner. It seems to me the legislature would have to do something very positive about it, in a very positive way. I think that this point is rather important on this question.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The question is upon the amendment offered by Mr. Mahinske, on which the yeas and nays have been demanded. All those in favor of the amendment will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Committee Proposal 96, as amended, is referred to the committee on style and drafting.

Following is Committee Proposal 96 as amended and referred to the committee on style and drafting:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. The supreme court, the court of appeals, the circuit court, the probate court and other courts designated as such by the legislature shall be courts of record and shall each have a common seal. Except as authorized otherwise by this constitution, justices and judges of the courts of record of this state shall be lawyers licensed to practice law in this state and no person shall be elected or appointed to a judicial office after reaching the age of 70 years. No judge or justice of any court in this state shall be paid from the fees of his office nor shall the amount of his salary be measured by the fees or other moneys received nor by the amount of judicial activity.

Sec. b. Whenever a judge shall remove his domicile beyond the limits of the territory from which he was elected, he shall be deemed to have vacated his office.

Sec. c. A justice and a judge of a court of record shall be ineligible to be nominated for, or elected to an elective office other than a judicial office during the period of his service as a judge and for 1 year thereafter.

Sec. d. When a vacancy occurs in the office of an elected judge of any court of record, it shall be filled at a general or special election according to law. The supreme court is empowered to authorize persons who have served as judges and have voluntarily retired, to perform judicial duties for the limited period of time from the occurrence of the vacancy until the successor is elected and qualified.

Sec. e. There shall be printed upon the ballot under the name of each elected incumbent justice or judge, who is a candidate for nomination or election to the same office, the designation of that office.

Sec. f. Any judge of probate serving at the time this constitution becomes effective may serve the remainder of the term and be eligible for reelection to his present office regardless of other provisions in this constitution requiring him to be licensed to practice law in this state.

Sec. g. Salaries of justices of the supreme court, of the judges of the court of appeals, of the circuit judges within the county or circuit, and of the probate judges within a county or district, shall be uniform, and may be increased but shall not be decreased, during a term of office except and only to the extent of a general salary reduction in all other branches of government.

Each of the judges of the circuit courts shall receive an annual salary as provided by law. In addition to the salary paid from the state treasury, each circuit judge may receive from any county in which he regularly holds court such additional salary as may be determined from time to time by the board of supervisors of the county. In any county where such additional salary is granted, it shall be paid at the same rate to all circuit judges regularly holding court therein.

Sec. h. For reasonable cause, which shall not be sufficient ground for impeachment, the governor shall remove any judge on a concurrent resolution of 2/3 of the members elected to each house of the legislature; and the cause for which such removal is required shall be stated at length in such resolution.

Sec. i. The office of circuit court commissioner and justice of the peace shall continue to have, for a period of not to exceed 5 years from the date this constitution becomes effective, all their respective powers and jurisdiction until the time within this period that they are abolished or their jurisdiction and powers are transferred to, or invested in, other courts that shall be established in accordance with this constitution.

Special statutory courts in existence as of the time this constitution becomes effective shall retain their powers and jurisdiction, except as provided by law, until and unless they are abolished by law.

Sec. j. The provisions of this constitution requiring the establishment of staggered terms of offices in existence, shall be implemented at the next election for such offices by legislation providing for elections for terms of varying length, none of which shall be shorter than the basic term provided herein for the office.

Sec. k. Each branch of the legislature as well as the governor shall have the authority to request the opinion of the supreme court upon important questions of law upon solemn occasions, in connection with legislation after it shall have been enacted into law but before its effective date. Such opinions shall relate only to questions of constitutionality.

Sec. l. Any elected judge of a circuit court or probate court may become a candidate in the primary election for the office of which he is then the incumbent, by filing a declaration of intention at such time and in such office as shall be provided by law.

Sec. m. Within 5 years from the date this constitution becomes effective, and subject to the limitations contained in Committee Proposal 90 and section a of Committee Proposal 96, the legislature shall establish statutory courts of limited jurisdiction inferior to the circuit court with a definition of their powers and jurisdiction, the location and number of such courts, the qualifications of the judges who shall preside therein, the method of their election and tenure of office and the amount of their salary and by what governmental units the same shall be paid.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. President, the committee of the whole has also had under consideration Exclusion Report 2042, A report recommending the exclusion of article VII, sections 15, 16 and 21. It reports this back to the convention without amendment and with the recommendation that it be adopted.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The question is upon adopting the exclusion report. All those in favor will say aye. Opposed will say no.

Exclusion Report 2042 is adopted and referred to the committee on style and drafting.

For Exclusion Report 2042 as referred to the committee on style and drafting, see above, page 1621.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. President, the committee of the whole has also had under consideration Exclusion Report 2043, A report recommending the exclusion of article VII, sections 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 17, 19, 20 and 23. It reports this back to the convention without amendment, and with the recommendation that it be adopted.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The question is upon adopting the exclusion report. All those in favor will say aye. Opposed will say no.

Exclusion Report 2043 is adopted and is referred to the committee on style and drafting.

For Exclusion Report 2043 as referred to the committee on style and drafting, see above, page 1622.

SECRETARY CHASE: This completes the report of the committee of the whole, Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. King.

MR. KING: Mr. President, it seems to me there's one thing that we still have left to handle under the judicial section. Now that Delegates Farnsworth and Hubbs have been duly installed as honorary barristers, I should like to nominate that long suffering Delegate Barthwell to this same rank of honorary barrister. I should also like to move at this time that we bestow upon the 20 lawyers who served on the judicial committee — and I had a hard time finding a suitable rank, but I looked through an old Naval Journal, and the ancient and distinguished naval rank of pharmacist's mate second class seems appropriate. (laughter)

MR. NORD: Point of order, Mr. President. Are motions in order at this time, Mr. President?

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Motions as such are not in order, Mr. Nord.

MR. NORD: Then I gather that Mr. King's motion is not in order, am I correct?

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The Chair didn't accept it as a motion. The Chair took it as a rhetorical motion. Mrs. Butler.

MRS. BUTLER: I rise to a point of personal privilege, Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: What is the point?

MRS. BUTLER: I would like to speak on the disrespect for our retired judges shown this afternoon.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The lady may proceed, without objection.

MRS. BUTLER: I feel, with the political overtones this afternoon, that I really should start out by saying that I demand equal time. But I am appalled at the disrespect for our retired judges. We have here in the convention a number of brilliant retired judges, and I don't like to hear them spoken of as out to pasture, and other terms. For the people who so glibly talk about jealousy because of the 6 terms of Governor Williams and the insulting jackpot of the latest political maneuver of another Democratic governor, I would say that we are jealous, that's all right. But as far as the political overtones in wanting retired judges to serve, I would like to ask, what would you do with Eleanor Roosevelt? (laughter)

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The Chair recognizes the lady from Wayne, Miss McGowan.

MISS MCGOWAN: Mr. President, I rise to ask permission to speak.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Miss McGowan asks unanimous consent to make a statement. Is there objection? The Chair hears no objection. You may proceed.

MISS MCGOWAN: Mr. President and fellow delegates, my statement deals with a fellow delegate — a fellow lawyer — whose party affiliation differs from my party affiliation. To use a trite expression, life has been good to me, and it has been my privilege, as I am sure it has been your privilege, to meet persons of integrity, impartiality, professional competence, humility and Christian charity. Of the persons I have had the honor of knowing who fall in this category, it is my opinion that Mr. Robert Danhof, the chairman of the committee on judicial branch of this constitutional convention, takes his place high among these top echelon individuals. I feel that I would be remiss if I did not reflect upon the truth at this time.

You entrusted Mr. Danhof with a high honor and privilege — the chairmanship of the committee on judicial branch. I feel sure he can give an excellent accounting of his stewardship. He brought to the committee on judicial branch superior legal knowledge, professional competence and skill; yet, he exhibited complete understanding for each member of the committee and for every person who appeared before the committee. He exerted an incalculable influence for good. He not only has a great intellect, but a great heart. Mr. Danhof, a member of the majority party serving as chairman of the committee on judicial branch, was completely unbiased, and sought to and did utilize the abilities and talents of each member of his committee with the thought in mind of the greatest good for the greatest number, and that thought alone. He conducted the committee meetings and deliberations so as to encourage each member of the committee to search for judicial truth and judicial truth alone in order that we could recommend to the convention a judicial system which we felt could adequately and efficiently serve and protect all of the people of the state of Michigan. Searching for judicial truth with 20 lawyers and one nonlawyer at times became laborious; yet Mr. Danhof never lost his sense of humor or balance or love for his brother.

As you know, Mr. Danhof is a young man. I was tremendously encouraged, inspired, and impressed by the marked respect he showed for all of the members of his committee and especially the respect he showed to the members of the committee who had lived longer than he and achieved greater experience. It is heart warming to reflect upon the respect he showed to and for the retired circuit judges who are members of the committee — Judge Mosier, Judge Pugsley and Judge Leibbrand.

I could go on acclaiming his excellence. In closing I would just like to say to you, thank you for giving us Mr. Danhof as chairman of the committee on judicial branch. He served well. We would wish for Mr. Danhof fair winds and smooth sailing. We would pray that almighty God would love him and grant him an even greater increase of the virtues of wisdom, justice, prudence and understanding. Thank you. (applause)

Communications.

SECRETARY CHASE: None.

broad tax base? The tax base not keeping up with the increase in the school population?

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Brake.

MR. BRAKE: In recent years, the primary school money has been distributed simply as a part of the general school aid, in effect, while it is paid to the districts on a school census basis. It is a deductible item when you compute your state aid. And therefore, for all practical purposes, it is simply a part of state aid as distributed.

MR. FORD: Thank you, Mr. Brake.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Those in favor of the Mahinske amendment will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The amendment is not adopted. The question now is on the adoption of Committee Proposal 52 as amended. Will you please clear the board. Mr. Stevens.

MR. STEVENS: Mr. President and delegates, to come back to this situation so ably explained by Dr. Hannah on Thursday, it is very important that the state have this money for the school aid fund. If this does not pass, there is no question but what the legislature will be requested by many local communities to try to get this tax base back to them for local use, and it will certainly help to destroy the whole concept of equalization in education in Michigan whereby small communities out in the state and otherwise are able to share the state money on a basis of school membership.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Time is up. The question is on the proposal. Those in favor will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay. This is on Committee Proposal 52, passage of Committee Proposal 52 as amended. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the passage of Committee Proposal 52 as amended, the yeas are 86; the nays are 40.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Committee Proposal 52, as amended, is passed and referred to the committee on style and drafting.

Following is Committee Proposal 52 as amended and rereferred to the committee on style and drafting:

The rate of taxation on such property shall be the average rate levied upon other property in this state under the general ad valorem tax law, or, if the legislature provides, the rate of tax applicable to the property of each business enterprise assessed by the state shall be the average rate of ad valorem taxation levied upon other property in all counties in which any of such property is situated.

provisions relative to the courts of the state. A substitute for sections 17, 19, 20 and 23 of article VII.

SEC. N. THE SUPREME COURT, THE COURT OF APPEALS, THE CIRCUIT COURT, OR ANY JUSTICES OR JUDGES THEREOF, SHALL NOT EXERCISE ANY POWER OF APPOINTMENT TO PUBLIC OFFICE EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED IN THIS CONSTITUTION.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Just for your information, there are 9 amendments offered to this proposal. Mr. Danhof.

MR. DANHOF: Mr. President, members of the convention, as the president has advised, there are a number of amendments pending to the present proposal. I think it would be more apropos if we went through and took the 2 pending committee amendments, which I would ask that we consider first.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Danhof, on behalf of the committee on judicial branch, offers the following amendment:

1. Amend page 2, line 2, [section d] by striking out "voluntarily or because of age"; so that the language will then read: The supreme court may authorize persons who have served as judges and who have retired, to perform judicial duties for the limited period of time from the occurrence of the vacancy until the successor is elected and qualified.

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

within their respective jurisdictions." What we have done is dropped the justice of the peace because he is no longer a constitutional officer, and made it possible for the legislature to confer the same power on whoever it is they create to take the place of the justice of the peace. Whether they call him a magistrate or whatever they call him, he will still be called upon to perform these basic duties.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President, through the Chair, I wonder if I might ask Mr. Danhof a question.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Danhof.

MR. HOXIE: It appears that this matter was discussed in the judiciary committee, and was not adopted. It is represented now that Mr. Ford, as I understand it, was not present and did not vote to report this to the convention. I am wondering if Mr. Danhof would give us the arguments presented by the majority of the committee at that time against this particular amendment which he now proposes.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Danhof.

MR. DANHOF: Mr. Hoxie, I thought I explained. Originally we took it out because we felt it served no useful purpose—none of us at that time. It was never discussed. At the time we advocated the original abolition, nobody brought to our attention, nor did we learn of it, that we might be endangering the one man grand jury system. When it was brought to our attention, it was too late. It was after first reading. So, last week, I brought it to my committee's attention. There were 10 votes in favor of the particular amendment that you see on the wall, but it takes 11 to report it out of the committee—in my committee, anyway, there were 21—and therefore, we could not report it as a committee amendment. Mr. Ford has given you almost all of the arguments that we had. Originally, we thought it served no useful purpose. We now think it does for the one man grand jury.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President, I don't think Mr. Danhof has answered my particular question. I would be interested in knowing what was the thinking and the discussion that took place in the judiciary by the members who did not approve of this particular amendment. What was their objection?

MR. DANHOF: To my knowledge, Mr. Hoxie, Mr. President, they advocated, in effect, the abolition of the one man grand jury. This was all of the recollection that I have, that they did not like or they desired to eliminate the one man grand jury. If this would do it indirectly, in effect, this is why they opposed this particular amendment. They are here to speak for themselves, Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President, then I will ask if any other member of the judiciary committee would like to explain to this convention why they oppose this particular amendment.

MR. BLEDSOE: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Bledsoe, you have one minute.

MR. BLEDSOE: Mr. President, the afflictions and the harm that the one man grand jury inflicted on a lot of people in this commonwealth, the story of it can't be told in one minute. I happen to see—I am looking right now into the kindly smiling eyes of a very fine jurist before whom I appeared over a period of 3 to 6 weeks; and there is another one sitting over here on the supreme court. I wish I could tell you the story. I was one of the lawyers in that case. It's a long, sordid story. I was one of those in the judiciary that opposed it. It is inherently defective in that—

PRESIDENT NISBET: Time has expired, Mr. Bledsoe. The question is on the adoption—

MR. WANGER: Mr. President, I move that Mr. Bledsoe be granted an additional 3 minutes in which to complete his statement.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Wanger. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. Mr. Bledsoe.

MR. BLEDSOE: Thank you very much. I appeared in those cases: the Carr-Sigler grand jury, the Ferguson-O'Hara, so called, grand jury. You remember what happened. Briefly, there was a system of paid witnesses that was developed throughout their case, the worst system of inquisition that wouldn't be tolerated by anybody in this room that was brought out in that trial. We finally got it. I want to say that the people of this state owe a debt to a very fine lawyer, Jim Haggerty, who took that case to the Supreme Court of the United States, and there it was reversed. But in the meantime, the harm had been done. I don't mean to say for one moment that some of the people who were involved in those proceedings were guiltless. That's not the issue, because a jury found some of them guilty. I am talking about the investigation and the star chamber proceedings and the people who were let go. If you will recall, in the Carr-Sigler grand jury not a single banker stood trial or went to jail. They went through the examination. There were some members of the legislature, of course, who were not able to carry the expensive appeal through in their trial, and they paid their penalty. But the people who spent the money to corrupt the legislators—the bankers who furnished the money, who hired the lobbyists, but who purged themselves on the witness stand and pointed their fingers out at legislators who had violated the law—I file no brief for them. I want to say to you members of the jury that people I know who escaped through procedures that were set up in that case to let certain people out should never be permitted again under any type of legislature. Let's get 12 citizens, more or less, to pass on the facts, and let them determine who is going to be prosecuted, and don't leave it to any one man. It's too much responsibility. (applause)

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the amendment offered by Mr. Ford and Mr. Danhof. The secretary will read.

SECRETARY CHASE: The amendment is:

[The amendment was again read by the secretary. For text, see above, page 2703.]

PRESIDENT NISBET: Those in favor of the amendment will vote—

DELEGATES: Division.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Division has been asked for. Is the demand seconded? Sufficient number up. Those in favor of the amendment will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. It has been requested to read the amendment again.

SECRETARY CHASE: The amendment offered by Mr. Danhof and Mr. Ford is:

PRESIDENT NISBET: Those in favor of the amendment will vote yes. Those opposed will vote no. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and tally the vote.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the amendment offered by Messrs. Danhof and Ford, the yeas are 58; the nays are 55.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The amendment is adopted. The question now is on Committee Proposal 96 as amended. Those in favor of Committee Proposal 96 will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no.

MR. FORD: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Ford.

MR. FORD: I would like to move to divide the question on Committee Proposal 96 and vote seriatim, section by section.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is not subject to division, Mr. Ford. That ruling was made this morning.

MR. FORD: I understood the ruling to be that we could not divide a section. Does this mean that we have to vote on everything from a to o as one package?

PRESIDENT NISBET: That's correct.

MR. FORD: Then, with the greatest respect, I should like to appeal the decision of the Chair and say that we are being placed in a position with this particular section of taking care of all of the miscellaneous matters in the judiciary article with a single vote. And some of these matters are totally unrelated to others. We run the gamut from one end of the judicial rainbow to the other and I don't feel that members of this convention can properly vote on a package this big at one time.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Chase.

SECRETARY CHASE: The decision with reference to the division of the question on second reading, as made by the president this morning, reads as follows. There was a search made of the precedents, and this was the finding:

[The ruling of the president was read by the secretary. For text, see above, page 2672.]

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President, I demand the yeas and nays on the appeal of the decision of the Chair.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The yeas and nays have been demanded. Is the demand seconded? Sufficient number up. Mr. Marshall.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President, I believe I still have the floor.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Excuse me, Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: I wish to say that it is with great reluctance—and this is the first and I hope the last time in this convention—that I have challenged the decision of the president of this convention. I feel that we have operated here very informally in the sense that proposals came out of committees and were amended, different ideas put in—

MR. YEAGER: Point of order, Mr. President. I believe the question of an appeal from the Chair is a question of order and as such is not debatable.

MR. DOWNS: Would the president read rule 70—

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair will rule that under section 232, paragraph 2 of Mason's Manual, an appeal is debatable. Mr. Downs may continue.

MR. DOWNS: I believe, Mr. President, that rule 70 states that each delegate may speak once on an appeal from the decision of the Chair. Am I correct, Mr. President?

PRESIDENT NISBET: You may proceed.

MR. DOWNS: I am in order then? All right, thank you. I would not want to be out of order in the convention.

I feel that this decision combined with the informality and the fact that germaneness has not been followed in the literal sense, puts many delegates in a position where we may feel very strongly in favor of one item of a proposal but are vigorously opposed to another, and then in some imaginary scale, we must create a moment of truth where we try to decide if we prefer one thing to another and by how much. This is a Hobson's choice that on second reading is, in my opinion, not desirable and should not be required. I therefore urge support of the appeal of the decision of the Chair and hope that the Chair will be overruled on this decision.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Marshall.

MR. MARSHALL: Mr. President, I first wish to make a parliamentary inquiry. On third reading, do we or do we not vote on each proposal section by section?

PRESIDENT NISBET: Will you please restate your question, Mr. Marshall.

MR. MARSHALL: On third reading, when we come to third reading, do we or do we not, in each article vote on each section separately? Or are we still required on third reading to take the entire article and be required to vote yes or no?

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Chase will read.

SECRETARY CHASE: The first thing this afternoon, at the beginning of second reading, the Chair handed down the following ruling in reference to rule 58, which reads:

[The ruling of the president in regard to voting on second and third reading was read by the secretary. For text, see above, page 2671.]

MR. MARSHALL: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I regret that I have to take exception to the ruling of the Chair. I have to urge the delegates to vote to override the Chair. And I make it very clear to the delegates that I have all the respect in the world for Steve Nisbet. I think that this is a ruling where we are making a serious mistake. We have compared this to the legislative process and the congress of the United States. We have compared it to the legislative process in the state legislature. Mr. Chase knows and some of the delegates in this convention who have served in the legislature know that when you have a bill before the legislature and amendments are offered, that the amendments offered to that bill are germane to the bill itself.

Here we have an altogether different situation where we have a committee proposal that contains an entire article which might have as many as 10, 11 and 12 sections to the article and some of them have sections that completely rest on their own merit. They are not germane to any other article or any other section in the article. Yet, we're put in the position—I don't know whether it is for the sake of expediency or what the reason is—but we are put in a position of having to vote yes or no on the entire article. Now, let's take—and I want to just use this as an example, Mr. President and fellow delegates: we'll be taking up the executive branch tomorrow. The entire article, practically—not all of it, but I'd say a great majority of that—we all agree on; there is no difference of opinion. There is one or two sections, one in particular, that isn't germane to any other section in the proposal. We will be compelled to vote no on the entire article. Then I guess we'll have to, in order to explain why we had to do it, we'll have to explain it for the journal. I'd rather not be put in that position.

I can't interpret rule 58 as it has been interpreted here. I can't find any justification for the ruling that has been made, other than the comparison to the federal congress and to the state legislature or to the legislature in Georgia. But I say to you in all frankness, in all sincerity: we are not dealing with the legislative process per se. We are dealing with the writing of a constitution where we have within one article many sections that are not related to one another. I say to our distinguished president and to the delegates, if we are compelled to vote under this type of—and I hate to use these words, but I have to look at it that it's an attempt to expedite—and I'm not opposed to expediting the process of the convention, and I think I'm on record for that. But for the sake of expediency, don't force the delegates who might want to vote for 10 sections in an article that contains 12, to have to vote against the whole article because we might disagree with 2 sections that aren't even germane to the rest of them. I ask you to please consider this because you are placing the minority in this convention in a very difficult situation. I'm only speaking for myself now. It appears to me that I am going to be forced to vote no on every issue, when I could be in accord on probably 75 or 70 per cent of it. I hope that the Chair will take this into consideration and I hope that the delegates will. I thank you.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Faxon.

MR. FAXON: Mr. President and fellow delegates, you may recall that last Wednesday, in the latter part of the morning, a motion was made for a question dealing with the educational article, to have it divided. The motion was defeated and then I got up and asked that it be divided, citing rule 51, which states:

Any delegate may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the convention.

At that time, I recall the Chair upheld the motion that I made and I think that the delegates at this convention—the understanding that I had then and the understanding that the other delegates had then—was that a motion to take a division of a proposal and vote on it seriatim would be all right. And at that time, the Chair so ruled. Now I understand, this week, that a deviation is being made from our observation of rule 51. It has already been pointed out that there are certain proposals which we will act upon which have sections which are different from one another. In speaking on this particular question, we could refer to the present proposal, which is an omnibus one, which does cover a number of separate items; we can refer to the action we will take on the executive article, where again we will be having substantive propositions that are separate from one another that are part of the same proposal.

Now, I feel that at the time this decision was made last Wednesday, the people in this convention were aware that this was a correct course. Afterwards, Mr. Van Dusen moved, under rule 58, that a vote be taken on the whole proposal. In any case, the fact remains that a division of a question in taking section by section of a proposal, where each one of them covers separate items, is a permissible thing and is under the rules and has been an understanding that I've had and I'm sure that other delegates have had. And I think that before we get into other proposals that are going to cover as many diverse things as what we've seen today, we ought to have the understanding that if the delegates want to vote ad seriatim on each separate section they should be free to do so, and that the rules provide for this under rule 51.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair recognizes Mr. Brown.

MR. T. S. BROWN: Mr. President, I should like to also respectfully support the appeal of the decision of the Chair for a reason which has not heretofore been mentioned, and state parenthetically, again, this is a "throwing the baby out with the bath water" situation or, in another context, "love me, love my dog," in that I recall that many months ago a decision was passed from the Chair to the effect that this was a sovereign body; and that in answer to a question by Father Dade, it was indicated that this body had the inherent authority to present this document to the people in whole or in part. And I suggest that if the people are entitled to have this document presented to them in whole or in part for their partial acceptance or partial rejection, that we should have that same right, because these are matters of import to us and we act for the people in our individual capacities as we are here. Now, I don't know if this convention has given any serious thought to how this document will be presented to the people and whether or not it will be presented in part. I understand that the New York constitution was presented last time in 13 parts. This requires an educated populace, but perhaps it's the best method. I suggest also that a similar method be used here because we will undoubtedly—and at this particular time, this perhaps appears to you to be a minority party plea, but it actually is a plea on principle and I think would be applicable to members of the majority party or any one of you individually or any group of us collectively as the weeks pass on at this convention.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Yeager.

MR. YEAGER: Mr. President and members of the convention, the arguments given by Mr. Marshall and some of the other people about the possibility of voting on this by dividing it, I think are invalid. When the people vote on this constitution, they are going to be able to vote yes or no, whether it's by article or in a total package. On the first reading, we considered these matters paragraph by paragraph. On second reading, I think it is reasonable that we are considering them article by article for decision. And I therefore urge that the decision of the Chair be upheld in this matter and that you vote yes to uphold the decision of the Chair.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Miss Donnelly.

MISS DONNELLY: I, too, do not wish to vote against the president of this convention, whom I personally hold in great esteem. However, I am most disturbed about this ruling, particularly as it applies to a section we just adopted, which is the first time it has ever come on this floor. It had 13 minutes discussion. It carried by 3 votes. And I find that I cannot believe this is a good way to write a constitution. If I am in order, I therefore, at this time, move that we reconsider the vote on the last section of Committee Proposal 96, which had 3 votes carrying it. When an individual section has the required number of votes, I think that's enough. But when we have a vote such as this last one, with limited debate, I cannot believe we are acting as constitutional delegates. I think we're just rushing through to get through a deadline and to make sure that nobody works past payday. I therefore, if in order, would like to move the reconsideration of that vote.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Mahinske.

MR. MAHINSKE: I still maintain that this convention is bound by the rules set up in the existing constitution, and I think that it would be proper for the Chair—and I am not suggesting an appeal from the decision of the Chair—I think it is proper at this time for the Chair to reconsider the decision in view of the language at the end of section 4, article XVII of the existing constitution. To date, we have adhered to every rule that is laid down in section 4 because we felt and the secretary of state and the attorney general of the state of Michigan felt that we were bound by these rules. Although I am reluctant to suggest this, I think that possibly one of our only ways out is with reference to the "no proposed constitution or amendment" language; that possibly we may have to seek an attorney general's opinion here to find out if we are proceeding properly under the language set out in section 4.

I think the safest course of conduct would be to permit divisions of these questions and take seriatim votes when it is requested. I don't see that it would serve any purpose to force through a package vote when we may have a majority of minorities building up—and I can see it coming, as far as Committee Proposal 96 is concerned. There are some 13 or 15 sections and I have objections to only 2. But I can't bring myself to voting against my feelings on these 2 sections to glean what I can out of the other 10 or 11 sections. I would feel that probably the most I'll do in this area is abstain. I think until we can get this question resolved and find out whether we are acting legally here, or constitutionally, that we should permit the division.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VANDUSEN: Mr. President, I move that further debate on the question of sustaining the ruling of the Chair be limited to 10 minutes.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen. Those in favor will say aye. Those opposed, no.

The motion prevails. The Chair recognizes Mr. Young.

MR. YOUNG: Mr. President, I would like to deal briefly with the matter that Miss Donnelly raised. Although it does not bear directly on the appeal of the decision of the Chair—

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Young, if this matter could be held up until this question—

MR. YOUNG: This is a question of order, Mr. President. The question that I raise is the procedure and the ruling—

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Young, just a minute. Without objection, then, we might proceed to Miss Donnelly's motion to reconsider the vote on this other amendment.

MR. BRAKE: I object.

PRESIDENT NISBET: There is objection. Mr. Young, you may proceed.

MR. YOUNG: The point I had to raise was in direct relation to this motion for reconsideration. It seems to me it's a dangerous precedent for us to set at this late date in this convention, providing for the possible adoption by a small minority of the elected delegates here. In the last case, less than 60 votes locked in a provision within an overall proposal which now requires 73 votes for complete passage. Now, it seems to me that this ruling of the Chair which allows a mere majority of those present and voting for the admission of an amendment to an overall proposal that requires 73 votes for adoption is creating an impossible and dangerous situation.

Now, in direct regard to the challenge or to the appeal of the decision of the Chair, I would like to say that together with the deal, or the agreement, or the settlement, or whatever you want to call it, this latest ruling means to me that this convention has finally thrown aside any pretext of proceeding with a give and take process of deliberation. The combination of the deal, plus the latest decision and ruling of the Chair, seems to me to indicate that a wilful majority here is determined to cram down the throats of the minority, which might well represent the majority of the people of this state, a decision made off the floor of this convention. It raises a question in my mind as to whether this convention will attempt to cram down the throats of the people of this state in the same manner such a duke's mixture on a Hobson's choice basis.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Lesinski.

MR. LESINSKI: Mr. President, you based your ruling on precedence that relates to legislation. I know we're legislating here. But have you considered some precedents in previous constitutional conventions, and what was done there? And I'd like to state one more point: now, if your ruling is upheld, I'd like to know if, in the legislative powers proposals, 4 or 5 proposals can be grouped together into one proposal.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Cudlip.

MR. CUDLIP: Mr. President, members of the convention, I rise to a point of information. Are there any amendments before this body for a proposed amendment to the rules of this convention?

PRESIDENT NISBET: No, sir, there are none.

MR. CUDLIP: I think the majesty and the grandeur of a parliamentary body depends upon rules. We adopted these rules and they are interpreted by capable people. And if we don't like those rules, I think the course of action is for those who do not like them, to propose that they be changed and let's have a vote on that. And if it carries, fine. And if it doesn't, fine. The majority will rule. But we must stick to these cardinal principles or the glory of such a group as this goes out the window. And we can't be changing the rules in the middle of the game unless the majority will says so.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hodges.

MR. HODGES: First in answer to Mr. Cudlip, nobody is trying to change the rules. We're talking about interpretation of those rules. I would submit that the precedents given by the parliamentarian are all from legislative bodies. What we are doing here is writing the most fundamental document of our state. And it seems to me that on any proposal, it should have to stand or fall on its own weight by a majority of the delegates elected. This is the most important thing we're doing here is writing a constitution. This is not writing a group of bills in the legislature. If we pick up cripples along the way and include them in the total package and people go along just for the sake of going along to get something done, then I think we're subverting the very fundamental reason we're here in writing a constitution. I think that by all means the appeal to the Chair should be sustained.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is: shall the judgment of the Chair stand as the judgment of the convention? Mr. Farnsworth.

MR. FARNSWORTH: Mr. President, I wonder if the secretary will be so good as to explain to us that a yes vote is a vote to uphold the Chair. Will the secretary please explain the procedure.

SECRETARY CHASE: Rule 69 of the convention provides:

On all appeals from decisions of the Chair, the question shall be "shall the judgment of the Chair stand as the judgment of the convention?" which question shall be decided by a majority vote of those present and voting by a recorded machine vote, unless otherwise ordered by the convention.

Under the rule, if the convention wishes to sustain the decision of the Chair, they will vote yes. If they wish to overrule the decision of the Chair, the delegates will vote no.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Mahinske.

MR. MAHINSKE: Could we have the rule in question — I think it's rule 53 — reread in view of the decision of the Chair. Rule 53, isn't it? Oh, 58 then.

SECRETARY CHASE: Rule 58 reads as follows:

On the passage of every proposal, section, article and any complete revision of or amendment to the constitution, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and entered on the journal, and no proposal, section, article or any such amendment or complete revision shall be declared passed unless a majority of all the delegates elected to the convention shall have voted in favor of the passage of the same.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the decision of the Chair. Mr. Brown.

MR. T. S. BROWN: Mr. President, I'm not speaking a second time on this matter. I have a point of parliamentary inquiry and request of the secretary if he knows another way out of this dilemma. I feel it is a dilemma. I personally — and I don't think anybody else should like to personally challenge the decision of the Chair in this matter. I think it is a matter of interpretation of the rules and I'm sure there is a logical way out of this matter without getting into a vote on the exact appeal.

SECRETARY CHASE: May the secretary call attention to the next to the last paragraph of the decision that the Chair made in decision number 2 in regard to this matter:

The Chair will point out that the purpose desired, namely, getting a record vote on any portion of a proposal, or elimination of any part of a proposal from the final draft thereof, can be accomplished by the offering of the proper amendments.

May the secretary suggest that Miss Donnelly made a motion to reconsider the vote by which this last amendment was adopted.

MR. MARSHALL: Mr. President, parliamentary inquiry.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Marshall.

MR. MARSHALL: Would it be possible to ask the president and the secretary, rather than to follow through on appealing from the ruling of the Chair, to ask our distinguished president and secretary to take into consideration the language of rule 58, where it specifically spells out proposal, section, article and any complete revision of or amendment to the constitution, analyze this language a little closer, take into consideration the language of the present constitution that we are still living under, as pointed out by Delegate Mahinske, and also come up with some background on other constitutional conventions as to how it was conducted.

I am just fearful that what we're doing here, in order to expedite things, is picking up a few cripples and throwing them into an overall package and trying to cram it down people's throats. And I don't think it's good. Neither do I think it's good to be put in a position of having to appeal the ruling of the Chair. I wonder if all that Mr. Chase has given us, as I said once before, is what has gone in the U.S. congress, what has gone on in the state legislature, where you change it one year later, and the procedure and the method of introducing bills is altogether different. I wonder if it would be possible to ask the president if he, himself, could reconsider this decision and take into consideration all of these things and try to tell us what's happened in some other constitutional conventions and pass over the appealing from the ruling of the Chair tonight and try to dispose of it tomorrow. Would that be possible, Mr. President?

MR. KUHN: Mr. President, in regard to what Mr. Marshall said, may I respectfully urge the convention to follow rule 71 at this time, and I move that the appeal be laid on the table.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Kuhn that the appeal be laid on the table.

MR. MARSHALL: I didn't get an answer to the question that I asked.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair might say, Mr. Marshall, in reply to your query, in discussion with Mr. Chase, we'll be very happy to look into this further to see if there is any other interpretation that we could come up with, if that would meet your pleasure.

MR. MARSHALL: I want to make it clear, Mr. President, that it doesn't make any difference to me. It's not my pleasure, because I can abstain from voting on every article and explain my vote in the record, for the journal; but I hope that something can be done. I don't like to see us get in the position of appealing the ruling of the Chair. On the other hand, I think the precedent being set at this late —

A DELEGATE: Mr. Marshall is continuing his second speech.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President, fellow delegates, I think we're all conscious of the problem facing us, that of appealing the decision of the Chair. I think most of us believe that the president was sincere and conscientious in his ruling. The question before us is: should we override the ruling of the Chair? I'm sure none of us want to do that. I would like to respectfully request that the individual who requested this matter withdraw his motion and that a motion be made to amend our rules, whereby the question can be divided, both on second and third reading.

MR. KUHN: Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Kuhn.

MR. KUHN: Isn't it before this convention now whether or not this appeal should be laid on the table under rule 71?

PRESIDENT NISBET: That's the motion, if you make the motion.

MR. KUHN: I so make it.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Kuhn. Those in favor will say aye—

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Is the motion under rule 71 to lay on the table a debatable motion?

PRESIDENT NISBET: It is not.

MR. DOWNS: May the motion be amended to carry with it the proposal upon which the appeal is based?

PRESIDENT NISBET: That is a separate motion, Mr. Downs.

MR. FORD: Mr. President, parliamentary inquiry, please.

MR. MAHINSKE: Mr. President, I would like to know if a motion to lay the question of reconsideration over to a time certain is a preferential motion in view of the conflict we have between the ruling of the Chair, the rule of the convention and the rule as laid out in the constitution itself.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The motion is now, Mr. Mahinske, to lay the appeal on the table. When that motion is taken care of, then we'll discuss the other one.

MR. FORD: Parliamentary inquiry.

MR. MAHINSKE: I was asking if it was a preferential motion to lay the—

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Ford.

MR. FORD: Is it my understanding that if the motion to table passes, that the convention will then have to go ahead and act on Committee Proposal 96 before it, because of the language of rule 71, which says that the motion to table only tables the appeal that I have made from the decision of the Chair and does not carry with it the subject matter before the convention so that we would be in the same position as if no appeal had been made.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair might say, Mr. Ford, that the next motion to be considered is Miss Donnelly's motion to reconsider the vote on an amendment that was passed a short time ago. The question is now—

MR. FORD: That doesn't answer my question. If the motion to table made by Mr. Kuhn prevails, does that leave the convention with Committee Proposal 96 before it to be acted upon—

PRESIDENT NISBET: It does.

MR. FORD: —even though we won't vote on the appeal until some later date?

PRESIDENT NISBET: It does. The question is on the motion of Mr. Kuhn.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President, point of information.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Yes, Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Is a motion to postpone action on Committee Proposal 96 and all pending matters in order at this time?

PRESIDENT NISBET: That motion can be made, Mr. Hoxie—

MR. HOXIE: I so move.

PRESIDENT NISBET: —after this is finished, though. The question now is on the motion of Mr. Kuhn.

MR. DOWNS: Parliamentary inquiry. Would the secretary restate Delegate Hoxie's motion?

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Hoxie's motion is that Committee Proposal 96 be postponed.

MR. HUTCHINSON: What is the question immediately before the convention?

PRESIDENT NISBET: The motion of Mr. Kuhn to lay the appeal on the table.

MR. HUTCHINSON: Is that debatable?

PRESIDENT NISBET: No.

MR. HUTCHINSON: Then I suggest that we vote on that motion.

MR. DOWNS: I have a parliamentary inquiry. I raise the question if Delegate Hoxie's motion is a preferential motion.

PRESIDENT NISBET: It is not, Mr. Downs. The question is on the motion of Mr. Kuhn. Those in favor will say aye. Those opposed will vote nay.

MR. DOWNS: I demand the yeas and nays, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The yeas and nays have been ordered. Is that demand seconded? Sufficient number up. Those in favor of Mr. Kuhn's motion to lay the appeal on the table will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay. Have you all voted?

MR. MAHINSKE: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Mahinske.

MR. MAHINSKE: Before the vote is taken, I think we went into this matter last Wednesday or Thursday—somebody moved to lay a matter on the table and I think Mr. Hutchinson brought up the point that if we lay it on the table, we cannot take it off the table. I'd like a ruling from the Chair on this.

PRESIDENT NISBET: That's not on this question, Mr. Mahinske.

MR. MAHINSKE: Not on this matter?

PRESIDENT NISBET: Not on this question. Have you all voted? Mr. Sterrett.

MR. STERRETT: Mr. President, to answer Mr. Mahinske, Mr. Hutchinson pointed out if you had a motion to reconsider and it was laid on the table, then it was all done.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the motion of Mr. Kuhn that the appeal from the decision of the Chair be laid on the table, the yeas are 77; the nays are 44.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The motion prevails.

SECRETARY CHASE: Miss Donnelly has made a motion that the vote by which section o was adopted be reconsidered.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Miss Donnelly. Mr. Chase, will you read that amendment so we'll know it.

SECRETARY CHASE: The amendment that was adopted was to add at the end of the proposal a section o to read:

Justices of the supreme court, judges of the court of appeals, circuit judges, and other judges as provided by law shall be conservators of the peace within their respective jurisdictions.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion to reconsider.

MR. DANHOF: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Danhof.

MR. DANHOF: Mr. President, members of the convention, I think this convention should be apprised that there is an amendment pending by Mr. Bledsoe relating to one man grand juries; that the conservators of the peace—if this is what Miss Donnelly gets at—have other functions beside this; that if this is her desire, to get a vote on the one man grand jury, it can best be done on Mr. Bledsoe's amendment which is specifically to the point. In view of the amendment pending, I urge that you vote no on the motion to reconsider.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on Miss Donnelly's motion to reconsider. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion does not prevail. There is an amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Bledsoe offers the following amendment:

1. Amend page 4, following section o, by inserting a new section p to read as follows:

"Sec. p. One man grand juries are hereby abolished." (laughter)

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Bledsoe. Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I move that debate on Mr. Bledsoe's amendment be limited to 10 minutes.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen. Those in favor say aye. Those opposed will say no.

The motion prevails. Mr. Bledsoe.

MR. BLEDSOE: Mr. President, fellow delegates, this motion squarely faces the issue and I am certain that those of us who are familiar with the fact that we do have grand juries provided for under our system of jurisprudence feel that is sufficient to protect all of our people. It is practiced in the federal courts and the statute provides for grand jury systems. The one man grand jury was a legislative creature that came from somewhere. Where, I hardly know. I do know that the honorable Judge Connelly, who has passed on to the great beyond, was the father of it. But certainly, I do hope that you will use your franchise here in this body to make it possible that no other citizens' liberties, whose families and reputations are involved, will be placed in the hands of one person. It is just too much, too much. I am going to yield to Mr. Hoxie.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hoxie.

MR. HOXIE: Mr. President, fellow delegates, as a member of the legislature, I saw many abuses of the so called one man grand jury. I was not a member of the legislature when the alleged offenses took place. That was before my time in the legislature. However, I did see the abuses that were exercised on many of my friends in the legislature, fellows that were not charged with any offense, but were brought into disrepute in their particular districts because of the fact that they were called before the grand jury without an opportunity to explain any of the facts or circumstances on which they were called before the grand jury. I remember one senator who sat with both our former senators in this delegation, who was taken off of a tractor; he was brought before the grand jury, and only on a fishing expedition. It was not because he was guilty of any offense, but they were trying to make him state that someone else was guilty of bribery, of which he knew nothing. I know a certain representative in the house that was kept in the grand jury quarters for 3 days, trying to make him confess that he knew of some offense against his fellow colleagues. Gentlemen, it's a rugged situation. We did correct part of it by allowing those individuals to have legal counsel sit in the grand jury room with the right to advise them. But it appears now we're going back to the same old proposition where the individual does not have any rights.

I think that the grand jury serves a good purpose but I don't believe it should be used to bring individuals into disrepute, and I certainly believe that all of us think that the individuals should have rights, regardless of the fact that they may be guilty of an offense. The grand jury is something that I think we should all consider as a violation of the rights of the individuals unless we adequately protect them against those abuses. I am going to vote for Mr. Bledsoe's amendment and I certainly hope that you go along with me. There are other ways to accomplish what is intended, and that is to get the individuals that're guilty of an offense. But I think that anyone who knows anything about the Carr-Sigler grand jury would not approve of the tactics that were used in that particular instance.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Martin.

MR. MARTIN: Mr. President, fellow delegates, this question of the one man grand jury sprang on us full grown here, without anyone realizing quite what was happening until this proposal about conservators hit the screen up here. And it seems to me that this is no time—we should not be trying to decide on this question of one man grand juries on the basis of less than 10 minutes' argument regarding a matter which is of tremendous importance to the state; which has been the subject of lengthy hearings in both the senate and the house; with respect to which the senate and the house have both passed important and extensive legislation changing the rules for one man grand juries to prevent the very abuses that Mr. Hoxie and Mr. Bledsoe have talked about and those same abuses have not, so far as I know, occurred since that action was taken in the legislature a number of years ago now, when I happened to be there and when all this debate went on.

Since that time, insofar as they have been used, one man grand juries have not been subject to abuse. They can be usefully used. They do simplify procedure without in any way violating the principles of due process. And it seems to me that this is a very rash and ill considered action for us to suddenly do away with grand juries on the spur of the moment, on the testimony of 2 persons whom we respect very much but who are talking about situations that have already been corrected, were corrected long ago by legislation. I therefore hope that we are not going to approve this amendment on the spur of the moment in this fashion.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Yeager.

MR. YEAGER: Mr. President, I rise to agree with Mr. Hoxie and Mr. Bledsoe. I urge a yes vote on this amendment and I ask for the yeas and nays.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The yeas and nays have been demanded. Is the demand seconded? Sufficient number up. The Chair recognizes Mr. Faxon.

MR. DANHOF: Mr. President, I think I have a preferential motion.

PRESIDENT NISBET: State it.

MR. DANHOF: Mr. Faxon, if you would yield for just a moment?

MR. FAXON: Yes.

MR. DANHOF: I agree with what Mr. Martin stated. We have but one functioning committee within this convention. This is a matter I am not sure is a judicial matter; I think it may be more of a civil rights matter. I'm not even sure it belongs there. But there is one committee that is functioning. In order to proceed with this particular section, I move at this time that the amendment be referred to the committee on emerging problems.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Danhof, if you send this amendment to the committee on emerging problems, then the whole proposal goes with it. (laughter)

MR. DANHOF: I did not have that in mind, Mr. President. I just wanted to get on with the balance of the proposal. I will withdraw the motion if that is the effect of it.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Faxon.

MR. FAXON: Mr. President, I think we're getting into a very dangerous business when all of a sudden in 13 minutes, as Miss Donnelly pointed out earlier, we approve a whole new section of the constitution, one that didn't even have the opportunity of having the full consideration of the committee of the whole. Then we are asked now to take another section in the haste that certain individuals feel that we must act under now; we are asked that this be done in 10 minutes, absolutely no more time. Everyone get up, give their testimony, and sit down because we've got to get through in 10 minutes on this and we've got to get on to the other sections.

Now, I can't see how we can make any decisions of any deliberative intelligence here with the fact that we have to rush through a section which I think is very important and now, I understand, after having talked to someone else, I don't think everyone fully understood what we were talking about when we were talking about conservators of the peace. And so I, first of all, would like to move that the 10 minute restriction be lifted so as to permit others who wish to speak on this to have the opportunity. And if it's in order, Mr. President, I'd like to move that the 10 minute limit, whatever time has elapsed of it, be lifted so others who want a chance to speak on this could do so.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Faxon, which as the Chair understands it, is to extend the time—as long as we have people who want to speak on this?

MR. FAXON: It's not a question of indefinitely because you can always move the previous question. But I feel that to put in a whole new section and say 10 minutes and have this put into a constitution, doesn't really give us much of an opportunity.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Will you state your motion, then?

MR. FAXON: I would just move that the 10 minute limit on debate be removed.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Faxon. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no. The Chair is in doubt. Those in favor of Mr. Faxon's motion will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the totals.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the motion of Mr. Faxon to remove the 10 minute limit on debate, the yeas are 43; the nays are 68.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The motion does not prevail. Mr. Faxon, you have 2 minutes left. You have the floor.

MR. FAXON: I just want to ask these couple of questions then: does this mean that a 2 man grand jury could be permitted or a 3 man grand jury? Or are we talking about a 23 man grand jury? This says one man grand jury. Is it possible to have a 2 man and a 3 man grand jury? And would this language forbid the grouping together? I still haven't, to my own satisfaction, understood the full impact of this particular section. I would only suggest that those delegates who are in haste to conclude this that this was something which we had no preparation for, no advance notice of; and I, for one, need more information before I can make any judgment on this question.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Judge Leibrand.

MR. LEIBRAND: Mr. President, may I inquire what is the topic under discussion at the present time? Is it the Bledsoe amendment or something else?

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Bledsoe amendment.

MR. LEIBRAND: Well, I rise to oppose the Bledsoe amendment. One indicted by a one man grand jury has the same rights as any other defendant in the criminal courts. He has the right to an examination by a magistrate, the right to a trial before 12 jurors, men and women, full rights of appeal, full rights of counsel.

Now, to talk about giving too much power to one man—the one man grand jury law, which is basically legislative, and not constitutional, gives too much power to one man—is to ignore the facts of life. I call to the attention of the attorneys here, at least, the fact that 99 out of 100 criminal defendants that go through the criminal courts go through there on the authorization of one man, the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the offense was committed. I assure you my friends, you can trust a judge as far as you can trust a prosecutor. (laughter) I oppose the amendment.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The time has expired. The question is on the Bledsoe amendment. The yeas and nays have been demanded. Is the demand supported? Sufficient number up. Those in favor of the Bledsoe amendment will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay.

MR. KING: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. King.

MR. KING: I wish to announce my intention to abstain.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. King abstains. Mr. Faxon.

MR. FAXON: I wish to announce my intention to abstain because of reasons I have already given.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mrs. Cushman.

MRS. CUSHMAN: Mr. President, I'd like to abstain too on account of I don't know anything about it.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mrs. Conklin.

MRS. CONKLIN: That's me, on the same basis.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mrs. Conklin abstains. Mr. Higgs.

MR. HIGGS: Mr. President, in view of the lapse of time, are there any questions in order?

PRESIDENT NISBET: No. The vote has been started.

MR. HIGGS: I'd like to abstain from voting.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

The roll was called and the delegates voted as follows:

PRESIDENT NISBET: The amendment is not adopted.

Following is statement explaining abstention from voting submitted by Mrs. Cushman:

I am not prepared to vote on an issue which arose for the first time this evening and which is of great importance.

We're right back to where we were an hour ago. The question is on the adoption of Committee Proposal 96, as amended. Can the board be cleared? Those in favor of adopting Committee Proposal 96 will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay.

MR. MAHINSKE: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Mahinske.

MR. MAHINSKE: For the reasons that I outlined before, I have one or two objections to this proposal, but I agree with the majority of it. PRESIDENT NISBET: Have you all voted?

MR. FORD: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Ford.

MR. FORD: It isn't easy, but I'm going to have to abstain after many months of work on the judiciary article. And I'd like to reserve the right to submit a detailed statement for the record at a later date.

PRESIDENT NISBET: You may do that. Miss Donnelly.

MISS DONNELLY: For the reason that I cannot support the entire proposal, though I am a member of the committee and supported it originally when it came out, I now wish to abstain.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the passage of Committee Proposal 96, the yeas are 89; the nays are 14.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Committee Proposal 96, as amended, is passed. It is referred to the committee on style and drafting.

Following is Committee Proposal 96 as amended and rereferred to the committee on style and drafting:

Sec. a. The supreme court, the court of appeals, the circuit court, the probate court and other courts designated as such by the legislature shall be courts of record and shall each have a common seal. Except as otherwise authorized by this constitution, justices and judges of the courts of record of this state shall be licensed to practice law in this state and no person shall be elected or appointed to a judicial office after reaching the age of 70 years.

Sec. a¹. No judge or justice of any court of this state shall be paid from the fees of his office nor shall the amount of his salary be measured by fees, other moneys received or by the amount of judicial activity of his office.

Sec. b. Whenever a judge removes his domicile beyond the limits of the territory from which he was elected, he shall be deemed to have vacated his office.

Sec. c. Any justice or judge of a court of record shall be ineligible to be nominated for or elected to an elective office other than a judicial office during the period of his service as a judge and for one year thereafter.

Sec. d. A vacancy in the elective office of a judge of any court of record shall be filled at a general or special election according to law. The supreme court may authorize persons who have served as judges and who have retired, to perform judicial duties for the limited period of time from the occurrence of the vacancy until the successor is elected and qualified.

Sec. e. There shall be printed upon the ballot under the name of each elected incumbent justice or judge, who is a candidate for nomination or election to the same office, the designation of that office.

Sec. f. Any supreme court justice, circuit judge, judge of probate serving at the time this constitution becomes effective may serve the remainder of the term and be eligible for election to his present office regardless of other provisions in this constitution requiring him to be licensed to practice law in this state.

Sec. g. Salaries of justices of the supreme court, of the judges of the court of appeals, of the circuit judges within a county or circuit, and of the probate judges within a county or district, shall be uniform, and may be increased, but shall not be decreased during a term of office except and only to the extent of a general salary reduction in all other branches of government.

Each of the judges of the circuit courts shall receive an annual salary as provided by law. In addition to the salary received from the state treasury, each circuit judge may receive from any county in which he regularly holds court such additional salary as may be determined from time to time by the board of supervisors of the county. In any county where such additional salary is granted, it shall be paid at the same rate to all circuit judges regularly holding court therein.

Sec. h. For reasonable cause, which is not sufficient ground for impeachment, the governor shall remove any judge on a concurrent resolution of 2/3 of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature. The cause for removal shall be stated at length in such resolution.

Sec. i. The offices of circuit court commissioner and justice of the peace shall be abolished at the expiration of 5 years from the date this constitution becomes effective or may within this period be abolished by law. Their jurisdiction and powers within this period shall be as provided by law. Within such 5 year period, the legislature shall establish a court or courts of limited jurisdiction with powers and jurisdiction defined by law. The location of such court or courts, and the qualifications, tenure, method of election, and salary of the judges of such court or courts, and by what governmental units the same shall be paid, shall be provided by law, subject to the limitations contained in this article.

Statutory courts in existence at the time this constitution becomes effective shall retain their powers and jurisdiction, except as provided by law, until they are abolished by law.

Sec. j. The provisions of this article providing that terms of offices shall not all expire at the same time, shall be implemented at the next election for such offices by legislation providing for elections for terms of varying length, none of which shall be shorter than the basic term provided for the office.

Sec. k. Either house of the legislature or the governor may request the opinion of the supreme court upon important questions of law upon solemn occasions as to the constitutionality of legislation after it has been enacted into law but before its effective date.

Sec. l. Any elected judge of a court of appeals, circuit court or probate court may become a candidate in the primary election for the office of which he is the incumbent by filing an affidavit of candidacy in the form and manner provided by law.

Sec. n. The supreme court, the court of appeals, the circuit court, or any justices or judges thereof, shall not exercise any power of appointment to public office except as otherwise provided in this constitution.

Sec. o. Justices of the supreme court, judges of the court of appeals, circuit judges, and other judges as provided by law shall be conservators of the peace within their respective jurisdictions.

SECRETARY CHASE: Committee Proposal 95, A proposal pertaining to appeals from administrative tribunals. Adds a new section to article VII.

Following is Committee Proposal 95 as reported by the committee on style and drafting and read by the secretary. (For text as referred to said committee, see above, page 1487.):

Sec. a. All final decisions, findings, rulings and orders of any administrative officer or body existing under the constitution or by law, which are judicial or quasi judicial and affect private rights, privileges or licenses, shall be subject to direct review by the courts as shall be provided by law. This review shall include, as a minimum, the determination whether such final decisions, findings, rulings and orders are authorized by law, and, in cases in which a hearing is required, whether the same are supported by reliable, probative, and substantial evidence on the whole record.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I am advised that there are 5 amendments pending to Committee Proposal 95, most of which I think were offered and debated fully in committee of the whole. Therefore, I would move that debate on each of these amendments be limited to 10 minutes.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails.

DELEGATES: Division.

PRESIDENT NISBET: A division has been demanded. Is the demand supported? Sufficient number up. Those in favor of Mr. Van Dusen's motion to limit debate to 10 minutes will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I think it ought to be clear that my motion is 10 minutes on each of the 5 amendments.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Ten minutes on each amendment. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and tally the vote.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the motion of Mr. Van Dusen to limit debate on each of the pending amendments to Committee Proposal 95 to 10 minutes, the yeas are 81; the nays are 29.

The motion prevails.

MR. A. G. ELLIOTT: Mr. President, point of information. PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Elliott.

MR. A. G. ELLIOTT: Mr. President, the thing that concerns me is, how do we make reasonably sure that there is a fair expression in this 10 minutes per each amendment for both sides of the issue? If the proponent of the amendment gets up and speaks for 9½ minutes on his amendment, it doesn't leave any time for the opponents.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair might say, Mr. Elliott, that on only one occasion have we ever used up the time. Normally, the delegates who speak are cognizant of the fact and they pace themselves. Mr. Madar.

MR. MADAR: I'd like to move at this time that the judicial committee be given 2 minutes to explain their proposal. Let's not waste any time.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Madar. All in favor say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion does not prevail. Mr. Bledsoe.

MR. BLEDSOE: Mr. President, may I speak in opposition to that motion?

PRESIDENT NISBET: The motion did not prevail.

DELEGATES: Division.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Division has been requested. Is the demand seconded? Not sufficient number up. Mr. Danhof.

MR. DANHOF: Mr. President, members of the convention, there are several amendments pending. I think it best we get on with the first amendment. During that time the debate will, I am sure, take care of all of the questions you have. There has been no change as this matter was reported from the committee of the whole and the convention to the committee on style and drafting. The judicial committee met, made no recommendations for any amendments thereto. All the other amendments are individual and will be handled at that time.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The first amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Messrs. Ford, Garvin, Downs, Marshall and Hodges offer the following amendment:

1. Amend page 1 by striking out the entire proposal.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair recognizes Mr. Ford.

MR. FORD: Mr. President, members of the convention, if you recall, we spent a considerable amount of time on this in committee of the whole, when it was before us on first reading and, subsequent to its adoption, we got a tremendous amount of reaction from throughout the state from people who are directly involved in the field of administrative law. We tried in numerous ways to patch this up or correct it and make it workable, and some of us who have tried to work on it find that the more you work with it, the more difficult it becomes.

Our research department has submitted—and I think most of the delegates have had an opportunity to see—a considerable amount of research material, some material presented to us by so called experts in the field of administrative law from the major universities in the state and from others in this field indicating that the proposal, as we have passed it, opens up entire new vistas of litigation that could have far felt effects not contemplated by anyone at the outset. As a matter of fact, one of the authorities—and I believe it was Professor Kauper—indicated there was no way to predict

Article IV

Legislative Branch

Sec. 1. The legislative power of the State of Michigan is vested in a senate and a house of representatives.

Sec. 2. The senate shall consist of 38 members[,] to be elected from single member districts at the same [time] ELECTION as the governor for [4] FOUR-year terms concurrent with the term of office of the governor.

In districting the state for the purpose of electing senators after the official publication of the total population count of each federal decennial census, each county shall be assigned an apportionment factor equal to the sum of its percentage of the state's population as shown by the last regular federal decennial census computed to the nearest [1/100] ONE-ONE HUNDREDTH of one percent multiplied by [4] FOUR and its percentage of the state's land area computed to the nearest [1/100] ONE-ONE HUNDREDTH of one percent.

In arranging the state into senatorial districts, the apportionment commission shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Counties with 13 or more apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. After each such county has been allocated one senator, the remaining senators to which this class of counties [are] IS entitled shall be distributed among such counties by the method of equal proportions applied to the apportionment factors.

(2) Counties having less than 13 apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment FACTORS of the state computed to the nearest whole number. Such counties shall thereafter be arranged into senatorial districts that are compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, as rectangular in shape as possible, and having as nearly as possible 13 apportionment factors, but in no event less than 10 or more than 16. Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there [shall be] IS a failure to comply with the above standards.

(3) Counties entitled to [2] TWO or more senate districts shall be [further sub]divided into single member districts. The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the county by the number of senators to which it is entitled. Each such district shall follow incorporated city or township boundary lines to the extent possible and shall be compact, contiguous, and as nearly uniform in shape as possible.

Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of 110 members elected for [2] TWO-year terms from single member districts apportioned on a basis of population as [hereinafter] provided IN THIS ARTICLE. The districts shall consist of compact and convenient territory contiguous by land.

Each county which has a population of not less than [7/10] SEVEN-TENTHS of one percent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative area. Each county having less than [7/10] SEVEN-TENTHS of one percent of the population of the state shall be combined with another county or counties to form a representative area of not less than [7/10] SEVEN-

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

TENTHS of one percent of the population of the state. Any county which is isolated under the initial allocation as [herein] provided IN THIS SECTION shall be joined with that contiguous representative area having the smallest percentage of the state's population. Each such representative area shall be entitled initially to one representative.

After the assignment of one representative to each of the representative areas, the remaining house seats shall be apportioned among the representative areas on the basis of population by the method of equal proportions.

Any county comprising a representative area entitled to [2] TWO or more representatives shall be divided into single member representative districts as follows:

(1) The population of [each] SUCH districtS shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the representative area by the number of representatives to which it is entitled.

(2) Such single member districts shall follow city and township boundaries where applicable and shall be composed of compact and contiguous territory as nearly square in shape as possible.

Any representative area consisting of more than one county, entitled to more than one representative, shall be divided into single member districts as equal as possible in population adhering to county lines.

Sec. 4. In counties having more than one representative or senatorial district, the territory in the same county annexed to or merged with a city between apportionments shall become a part of a contiguous representative or senatorial district in the city with which it is combined upon the effective date of the annexation or merger[.]. THE DISTRICTS WITH WHICH THE TERRITORY SHALL BE COMBINED SHALL BE [as] determined by ordinance of the city certified to the secretary of state.

[No legislator shall be deemed to have vacated his office by virtue of the above section.] NO SUCH CHANGE IN THE BOUNDARIES OF A REPRESENTATIVE OR SENATORIAL DISTRICT SHALL HAVE THE EFFECT OF REMOVING A LEGISLATOR FROM OFFICE DURING HIS TERM.

Sec. 5. ISLAND AREAS ARE CONSIDERED TO BE CONTIGUOUS BY LAND TO THE COUNTY OF WHICH THEY ARE A PART.

Sec. 6. SECRETARY CHASE: On the adoption of the amendment offered by Messrs. Allen, Austin and Brake, the yeas are 57; the nays are 68.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The amendment is not adopted. The secretary will read the next amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: We have no others on this section.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: There are no further amendments on the secretary's desk. The question is upon the passage of article VI. Mr. Higgs.

MR. HIGGS: Mr. President and fellow delegates, in supporting this article it is my intention, and I trust the intention of the convention, that the change in the language in section 28 from "workmen's compensation commission" to "workmen's compensation proceedings" was not a matter of substance, not a material change. I make this comment for the record. I believe that the decision of the convention in acting upon the ruling which prevented Delegate Danhof from introducing his amendment to strike this proviso—I interpret this action of the convention as indicating an intention to support the committee on style and drafting in such a way as to determine that there was no change in substance or material change made when style and drafting inserted the word "proceedings" in place of the word "commission." With that construction and intention, I feel I can support this article. If this is not the intention of the convention on the part of other delegates, I would appreciate such delegates so stating.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, have you any speakers other than Mr. Ford seeking recognition?

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Yes, I have one other.

MR. VAN DUSEN: I would move to limit debate on the article to 5 minutes.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: On the motion to limit debate upon the article to 5 minutes, all those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. Debate is limited. The Chair next recognizes Mr. Prettie.

MR. PRETTIE: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I decided to become a candidate for delegate to this convention because I was deeply concerned about the present inconsistent method of electing supreme court justices. When I campaigned I told my constituents that, among other things, I would work to make our courts truly nonpartisan at all levels. I did work hard and long to accomplish this result and many of you worked with me and I appreciate your support, but we failed to get enough votes to accomplish this, not by a vote of 2 to 1 or 3 to 1 but by a very narrow margin. Other equally sincere delegates to this convention, equally concerned with an honest court structure, came to this convention pledged to work for the adoption of the ABA plan for selecting our judges. They had committed themselves to this plan and gave not only of their time but of their substance to present the merits of this plan. They, too, I am sure, are disappointed.

We have a judicial article, unfortunately, that continues the unhappy influence of party politics at the highest echelon of our court structure, and many other batters are not fully satisfied with what we have done here. My personal batting average on my own promises to my constituents is probably not even half of 87.9 per cent, but that is beside the point.

I shall not urge a no vote on this article merely because my views did not prevail. I shall not return to my district and urge voters to reject this document because many of its provisions are not to their liking or to mine. I shall endeavor to explain that this is the product of the democratic process. It is the result of the working together of 144 honest and sincere women and men possessed of integrity and wisdom but also of diverse points of view. Long hours of debate on this floor have forged this document. It is not a result of any clandestine accommodations. I shall point out that our labors of 7½ months are typical of the inefficiency of our form of government but that this slow and tedious process and its sometimes imperfect results are at once the weakness and the strength of the best form of government the mind of man has yet developed.

In spite of personal frustration I shall vote to adopt this article. I urge the scores of delegates who share my views to do the same. I urge those who failed in their efforts to write the ABA plan into the judicial article to put aside their disappointment and vote for it. It is my hope that this greatly improved court structure for this state will be approved not by a vote of 3 to 1 but by a resounding and substantially unanimous vote. (applause)

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Ford.

MR. FORD: I appreciate Mr. Prettie's point of view. Although I haven't always agreed with him, I have enjoyed working with him on the judiciary committee and it is not easy for me to say what I am going to say now without sounding like I am being a dog in the manger but, believe me, in sincerity, this is not what I am trying to do and I am not trying to impose, at this point, my point of view on anyone else. I am trying to express my own point of view and the reason for voting the way I am going to vote.

As has been said before, by the chairman of our committee on this floor, the judiciary system in Michigan and its present status was not one of the compelling reasons for the calling of this convention. Our present judicial system is superior in all ways. It ranks in the view of people outside of the state amongst the top 3 states in the entire country inasmuch as we have a system that has been completely free from scandal and is as close to efficiency as you are ever going to get in a democratic system of courts.

I cannot support the article as we have now written it because I do not honestly believe that it is an improvement over the 1908 constitution, as amended. If we had truly made the kind of improvements that Mr. Prettie alludes to, I think it would be entirely a different thing. There are 2 or 3 things in the article that are new but they are not constitutional matters to begin with and they do not justify either the time spent by this convention nor do we face the prospect of losing them if this particular section is not incorporated into the new constitution to replace what we presently have. The outstanding example of that is the appellate —

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Time for debate has expired.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I would move to extend debate for an additional 3 minutes to permit Mr. Ford to complete his remarks.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Ford and Mr. Danhof both seek recognition.

MR. VAN DUSEN: I guess we had better make it 5 minutes.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Van Dusen moves to extend debate by 5 minutes upon the article. All those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. Mr. Ford may continue.

MR. FORD: The appellate court at first glance seems to be an improvement and everybody in this room, I think, agrees that we should have an appellate court. However, I might remind you that the legislature had already perfected and was ready to bring out of the committee over there an appellate court system and would do the same tomorrow if it were not for the pending action of this convention at the present time. There is nothing in here with regard to the appellate court that is constitutional to the exclusion of all other considerations, and what we have accomplished here could just as well have been done across the street.

The filling of vacancies is something we have talked about and we have passed over. It is something that is of very great importance, and the more I have talked to fellow attorneys and the people back in the area that I represent, the more I am concerned with how serious this particular aspect is and how quickly we have passed over it.

The section that we just finished discussing a few moments ago bears absolutely no resemblance to the language that was originally proposed to the judiciary committee by Mr. Cooper and others who first brought the matter forcibly to our attention, and bears little or no resemblance to the work that was put into it by the judiciary committee.

The local court system has been placed — by reason of the fact that many people, for whatever their reasons, came to this convention with preconceived prejudices in this respect — in a status now where very few people at the local level have any confidence or any prospect of hope as to the continued existence of the autonomy of their local courts as they know them now. I think that the section with respect to local courts places in jeopardy a long standing traditional system in this state.

I think that we have, for all intents and purposes, destroyed the 5 tier system that we started out with in the judiciary committee and, again, this was not the judiciary committee that did it. It was done here on the floor. There is no longer a separate and distinct probate court as a constitutional matter. We now have a 3 court system with a conglomerate of the 2 last tiers that the judiciary committee contemplated. You can now merge all or any part of the functions of these lower courts to the end that all or part of them will be extinguished. We set out to set up a 5 tier court system which, in my opinion, would have been a distinct improvement and the one thing that we could have done by constitution that may have been a great improvement over what the legislature might have done, but we failed in this respect. For that reason I don't feel that I can support the article as it now reads.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Danhof.

MR. DANHOF: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I am very happy to endorse the words of Mr. Prettie. We did have on the floor of this particular convention a long and tedious debate on the judicial article. With 58 and now 59 or 60 lawyers, this was probably inevitable. But I think he has pointed out what has been the thinking, at least, of a majority of us. I am sorry to hear the words of my good friend, Bill Ford, who was of great assistance in the committee. I think we have retained an elective system of the judiciary. We have established an intermediate court of appeals. And I point out that it was not really until this constitutional convention got going that we got real action across the street, and this is not in derogation of those gentlemen.

I think we have strengthened the circuit courts, the probate courts. We have made great strides and have provided a system which, I am sure, will last the people of this state for a good 50 or 75 years or whenever we call another convention. We have allowed the legislature greater leeway. This, I think, is an advantage and not a disadvantage. I would hope that we would pass the article. I point out to you that we have had more hours of debate on this than on any other particular article. I urge your support. Thank you.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Time has expired. The question is upon the passage of article VI on the judicial branch. All those in favor will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

The roll was called and the delegates voted as follows:

SECRETARY CHASE: On the passage of article VI, the judicial branch, the yeas are 103; the nays are 33.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: A majority of the delegates elect having voted in favor thereof, article VI, as amended, is passed.

For sections 1 through 7, 9 through 25, 27, 28 and 29 of article VI as passed, see above, page 3060.

Following is section 8 of article VI as amended and passed:

Sec. 8. The court of appeals shall consist initially of nine judges who shall be nominated and elected at non-partisan elections from districts drawn on county lines and as near as possible of equal population, as prescribed by law. The supreme court may prescribe by rule that the court of appeals may sit in divisions and for the terms of court and the times and places thereof. Each such division shall consist of not fewer than three judges. The number of judges comprising the court of appeals may be increased, and the districts from which they are elected may be changed by law.

Following is section 26 of article VI as amended and passed:

Sec. 26. The offices of circuit court commissioner and justice of the peace shall be abolished at the expiration of five years from the date this constitution becomes effective or may within this period be abolished by law. Their jurisdiction, compensation and powers within this period shall be as provided by law. Within this five-year period, the legislature shall establish a court or courts of limited jurisdiction with powers and jurisdiction defined by law. The location of such court or courts, and the qualifications, tenure, method of election and salary of the judges of such court or courts, and by what governmental units the judges shall be paid, shall be provided by law, subject to the limitations contained in this Article.

Statutory courts in existence at the time this constitution becomes effective shall retain their powers and jurisdiction, except as provided by law, until they are abolished by law.

Following is explanation of vote submitted by Mr. McAllister:

My reason for voting no on article VI, the judicial article, is that I believe the provisions of the present constitution are better than the provisions of the new article.

Following is explanation of vote submitted by Messrs. Krolikowski, Binkowski, Garvin, Madar, Ford, Downs and Miss Hart:

We voted no on article VI because Michigan's traditional judicial system has stood the test of time in the basic matter of selection of judges. Michigan's judiciary has a nationwide reputation for ability, integrity and efficiency.

Michigan's judicial system provides that when a vacancy occurs the governor appoints a judge to serve until the next election. At the next election that judge who was temporarily appointed must run against any other candidates nominated by the people, either through petition or by convention, as in the case of the supreme court.

Article VI as adopted removes the governor's right to select the judge on a temporary basis—a system that is proven in practice to have the best of the appointed and the elected systems. The proponents of this change did not prove their need for changing the historically satisfactory method.

Another severe weakness was a constitutional provision in section 28 for appeals from administrative agencies. Present appeals are handled either by general law or specific statute affecting specially created agencies. This proposal has a constitutional, rigid appeal system that could, in effect, make one who wins his case before the administrative tribunal for all intents and purposes go before a court and win his case all over again. This is frustrating, expensive and time-consuming for litigants as well as courts.

We believe that the proposed judicial article does not contain sufficient improvement over the present judicial system to justify replacing the 1908 constitution, as amended. Any improvements found in the article may and should be accomplished by statutory enactment.

We believe that these 2 changes alone are significant steps backward from Michigan's present constitution, and we therefore voted no on article VI—judicial branch.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON (continuing): The secretary will read article VII, local government.

SECRETARY CHASE: Article VII, local government:

[Article VII, sections 1 through 33, was read by the secretary. For text, see above, page 3083.]

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Article VII has been read a third time.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Cudlip, on behalf of the committee on style and drafting, requests that the following corrections be made in article VII of the proposed revision of the constitution:

sec- tion	col- umn	line	Corrections
10	2	29	After "be" remove brackets around "re".
10	2	30	After "to be" insert brackets as follows "[re]".
17	1	27	After "law" insert "[" before "and".
17	1	28	After "constitution" insert "[".
20	1	45	After "provide" insert "by law".
24	2	27	After "own" insert "[".
24	2	30	After "disposal" delete "[".
30	1	55	After "a" insert "[longer]".
30	1	56	Change "longer" to "LONGER".

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Without objection it is so ordered. [Corrections made above.] The secretary will report an amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Messrs. Sharpe and Kuhn offer the following amendment:

1. Amend article VII, section 21 (column 2, line 6) after "law.", by inserting "No governmental subdivision of the state shall impose an income tax unless approved by three-fifths of the qualified electors voting on the question."

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: The substance of this amendment has been debated at some length before and I would move at this time to limit debate on this amendment to 10 minutes.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The question is on the motion to limit debate to 10 minutes. All those in favor will say aye. Opposed will say no.

The motion prevails. Mr. Brown.

MR. G. E. BROWN: Point of order, Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: State your point.

MR. G. E. BROWN: The exact language that is presently proposed was offered on second reading except that instead of a majority of the qualified electors, 3/5 has now been added and changed. I think in substance this is the same. When you make the requirement more stringent than failed to pass before, I don't think you have a different matter before you and I would refer you to journal page 999.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Well, the Chair would be disposed to rule and does rule that this presents a different question. The body has not heretofore considered the matter of a 60 per cent on this thing. Mr. Kuhn.

MR. KUHN: Mr. President and members of the convention, once again we come to you and ask you to consider the question of whether or not a governmental subdivision shall authorize an income tax without a vote of its people. Now it has been argued that this is legislative in nature, and when the Bowman bill passed the legislature you had a pretty strong argument. But since the governor in his wisdom saw fit to veto this bill, I think it now presents the same question that has been raised by many delegates who have things that they felt were necessary to be in this constitution; for example, the civil rights commission, civil service, and things of that nature. We know that those are legislative matters and yet we thought they should be in the constitution, because the legislature did not provide for them. We therefore strongly urge that the delegates to this convention decide this issue for the people and put it in the constitution.

MR. W. F. HANNA: Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Hanna.

MR. W. F. HANNA: I rise to a point of order. I challenge the germaneness of this proposed amendment to this section. Section 21 of local government is the historical local government article dealing with home rule cities and villages and the reference to tax laws in there are to cities and villages as they may put in their charters for municipal purposes and public purposes.

The amendment says "No governmental subdivision" which would cover school districts, charter or other authorities, town-

Sec. 20. In every criminal prosecution, the accused shall have the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury, which may consist of less than 12 jurors in all courts not of record; to be informed of the nature of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor; to have the assistance of counsel for his defense; to have an appeal as a matter of right; and in courts of record, when the trial court so orders, to have such reasonable assistance as may be necessary to perfect and prosecute an appeal.

Article II Elections

Sec. 1. Every citizen of the United States who has attained the age of 21 years, who has resided in this state six months, and who meets the requirements of local residence provided by law, shall be an elector and qualified to vote in any election except as otherwise provided in this constitution. The legislature shall define residence for voting purposes.

Sec. 2. The legislature may by law exclude persons from voting because of mental incompetence or commitment to a jail or penal institution.

Sec. 3. For purposes of voting in the election for president and vice-president of the United States only, the legislature may by law establish lesser residence requirements for citizens who have resided in this state for less than six months and may waive residence requirements for former citizens of this state who have removed herefrom. The legislature shall not permit voting by any person who meets the voting residence requirements of the state to which he has removed.

Sec. 4. The legislature shall enact laws to regulate the time, place and manner of all nominations and elections, except as otherwise provided in this constitution or in the constitution and laws of the United States. The legislature shall enact laws to preserve the purity of elections, to preserve the secrecy of the ballot, to guard against abuses of the elective franchise, and to provide for a system of voter registration and absentee voting. No law shall be enacted which permits a candidate in any partisan primary or partisan election to have a ballot designation except when required for identification of candidates for the same office who have the same or similar surnames.

Sec. 5. Except for special elections to fill vacancies, or as otherwise provided in this constitution, all elections for national, state, county and township offices shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in each even-numbered year or on such other date as members of the congress of the United States are regularly elected.

Sec. 6. Whenever any question is required to be submitted by a political subdivision to the electors which involves the increase of any ad valorem tax rate limitation for a period of more than five years, or the issue of bonds, only electors in, and who have property assessed for any ad valorem taxes in, any part of the district or territory to be affected by the result of such election or electors who are the lawful husbands or wives of such persons shall be entitled to vote thereon. All electors in the district or territory affected may vote on all other questions.

Sec. 7. A board of state canvassers of four members shall be established by law. No candidate for an office to be canvassed nor any inspector of elections shall be eligible to serve as a member of a board of canvassers. A majority of any board of canvassers shall not be composed of members of the same political party.

Sec. 8. Laws shall be enacted to provide for the recall of all elective officers except judges of courts of record upon petition of electors equal in number to 25 percent of the number of persons voting in the last preceding election for the office of governor in the electoral district of the officer sought to be recalled. The sufficiency of any statement of reasons or grounds procedurally required shall be a political rather than a judicial question.

Sec. 9. The people reserve to themselves the power to propose laws and to enact and reject laws, called the initiative, and the power to approve or reject laws enacted by the legislature, called the referendum. The power of initiative extends only to laws which the legislature may enact under this constitution. The power of referendum does not extend to acts making appropriations for state institutions or to meet deficiencies in state funds and must be invoked in the manner prescribed by law within 90 days following the final adjournment of the legislative session at which the law was enacted. To invoke the initiative or referendum, petitions signed by a number of registered electors, not less than eight percent for initiative and five percent for referendum of the total vote cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected shall be required.

No law as to which the power of referendum properly has been invoked shall be effective thereafter unless approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at the next general election.

Any law proposed by initiative petition shall be either enacted or rejected by the legislature without change or amendment within 40 session days from the time such petition is received by the legislature. If any law proposed by such petition shall be enacted by the legislature it shall be subject to referendum, as hereinafter provided.

If the law so proposed is not enacted by the legislature within the 40 days, the state officer authorized by law shall submit such proposed law to the people for approval or rejection at the next general election. The legislature may reject any measure so proposed by initiative petition and propose a different measure upon the same subject by a yea and nay vote upon separate roll calls, and in such event both measures shall be submitted by such state officer to the electors for approval or rejection at the next general election.

Any law submitted to the people by either initiative or referendum petition and approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon at any election shall take effect 10 days after the date of the official declaration of the vote. No law initiated or adopted by the people shall be subject to the veto power of the governor, and no law adopted by the people at the polls under the initiative provisions of this section shall be amended or repealed, except by a vote of the electors or three-fourths of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature. Laws approved by the people under the referendum provision of this section may be amended by the legislature at any subsequent session thereof. If two or more measures approved by the electors at the same election conflict, that receiving the highest affirmative vote shall prevail.

The legislature shall implement the provisions of this section.

Article III

General Government

Sec. 1. The seat of government shall be at Lansing.

Sec. 2. The powers of government are divided into three branches: legislative, executive and judicial. No person exercising powers of one branch shall exercise powers properly belonging to another branch except as expressly provided in this constitution.

Sec. 3. There shall be a great seal of the State of Michigan and its use shall be provided by law.

Sec. 4. The militia shall be organized, equipped and disciplined as provided by law.

Sec. 5. Subject to provisions of general law, this state or any political subdivision, any governmental authority or any combination thereof may enter into agreements for the performance, financing or execution of their respective functions, with any one or more of the other states, the United States, the Dominion of Canada, or any political subdivision thereof unless otherwise provided in this constitution. Any other provision of this constitution notwithstanding, an officer or employee of the state or of any such unit of government or subdivision or agency thereof may serve on or with any governmental body established for the purposes set forth in this section and shall not be required to relinquish his office or employment by reason of such service. The legislature may impose such restrictions, limitations or conditions on such service as it may deem appropriate.

Sec. 6. The state shall not be a party to, nor be financially interested in, any work of internal improvement, nor engage in carrying on any such work, except for public internal improvements provided by law.

Sec. 7. The common law and the statute laws now in force, not repugnant to this constitution, shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitations, or are changed, amended or repealed.

Sec. 8. Either house of the legislature or the governor may request the opinion of the supreme court on important questions of law upon solemn occasions as to the constitutionality of legislation after it has been enacted into law but before its effective date.

Article IV Legislative Branch

Sec. 1. The legislative power of the State of Michigan is vested in a senate and a house of representatives.

Sec. 2. The senate shall consist of 38 members to be elected from single member districts at the same election as the governor for four-year terms concurrent with the term of office of the governor.

In districting the state for the purpose of electing senators after the official publication of the total population count of each federal decennial census, each county shall be assigned an apportionment factor equal to the sum of its percentage of the state's population as shown by the last regular federal decennial census computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent multiplied by four and its percentage of the state's land area computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent.

In arranging the state into senatorial districts, the apportionment commission shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Counties with 13 or more apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. After each such county has been allocated one senator, the remaining senators to which this class of counties is entitled shall be distributed among such counties by the method of equal proportions applied to the apportionment factors.

(2) Counties having less than 13 apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. Such counties shall thereafter be arranged into senatorial districts that are compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, as rectangular in shape as possible, and having as nearly as possible 13 apportionment factors, but in no event less than 10 or more than 16. Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there is a failure to comply with the above standards.

(3) Counties entitled to two or more senate districts shall be divided into single member districts. The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the county by the number of senators to which it is entitled. Each such district shall follow incorporated city or township boundary lines to the extent possible and shall be compact, contiguous, and as nearly uniform in shape as possible.

Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of 110 members elected for two-year terms from single member districts apportioned on a basis of population as provided in this article. The districts shall consist of compact and convenient territory contiguous by land.

Each county which has a population of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative area. Each county having less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall be combined with another county or counties to form a representative area of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state. Any county which is isolated under the initial allocation as provided in this section shall be joined with that contiguous representative area having the smallest percentage of the state's population. Each such representative area shall be entitled initially to one representative.

After the assignment of one representative to each of the representative areas, the remaining house seats shall be apportioned among the representative areas on the basis of population by the method of equal proportions.

Any county comprising a representative area entitled to two or more representatives shall be divided into single member representative districts as follows:

(1) The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the representative area by the number of representatives to which it is entitled.

(2) Such single member districts shall follow city and township boundaries where applicable and shall be composed of compact and contiguous territory as nearly square in shape as possible.

Any representative area consisting of more than one county, entitled to more than one representative, shall be divided into single member districts as equal as possible in population adhering to county lines.

Sec. 4. In counties having more than one representative or senatorial district, the territory in the same county annexed to or merged with a city between apportionments shall become a part of a contiguous representative or senatorial dis-

1 | trict in the city with which it is combined, if
2 | provided by ordinance of the city. The district
3 | or districts with which the territory shall be
4 | combined shall be determined by such ordinance
5 | certified to the secretary of state. No such change
6 | in the boundaries of a representative or senatorial
7 | district shall have the effect of removing a legis-
8 | lator from office during his term.

9 | Sec. 5. Island areas are considered to be con-
10 | tiguous by land to the county of which they are
11 | a part.

12 | Sec. 6. A commission on legislative apportion-
13 | ment is hereby established consisting of eight
14 | persons, four of whom shall be selected by the
15 | state organizations of each of the two political
16 | parties whose candidates for governor received
17 | the highest vote at the last general election at
18 | which a governor was elected preceding each ap-
19 | portionment. If a candidate for governor of a third
20 | political party has received at such election more
21 | than 25 percent of such gubernatorial vote, the
22 | commission shall consist of 12 members, four of
23 | whom shall be selected by the state organization of
24 | the third political party. One member of the com-
25 | mission shall be selected by each political party or-
26 | ganization from each of the following four regions:
27 | (1) The upper peninsula; (2) The northern part of
28 | the lower peninsula, north of a line drawn along
29 | the northern boundaries of the counties of Bay,
30 | Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana;
31 | (3) Southwestern Michigan, those counties south
32 | of region (2) and west of a line drawn along
33 | the western boundaries of the counties of Bay,
34 | Saginaw, Shiawassee, Ingham, Jackson and Hills-
35 | dale; (4) Southeastern Michigan, the remaining
36 | counties of the state.

37 | No officers or employees of the federal, state
38 | or local governments, excepting notaries public
39 | and members of the armed forces reserve, shall
40 | be eligible for membership on the commission.
41 | Members of the commission shall not be eligible
42 | for election to the legislature until two years after
43 | the apportionment in which they participated
44 | becomes effective.

45 | The commission shall be appointed immediately
46 | after the adoption of this constitution and when-
47 | ever apportionment or districting of the legislature
48 | is required by the provisions of this constitution.
49 | Members of the commission shall hold office until
50 | each apportionment or districting plan becomes
51 | effective. Vacancies shall be filled in the same
52 | manner as for original appointment.

53 | The secretary of state shall be secretary of
54 | the commission without vote, and in that capacity
55 | shall furnish, under the direction of the commis-
56 | sion, all necessary technical services. The com-
57 | mission shall elect its own chairman, shall make
58 | its own rules of procedure, and shall receive com-
59 | pensation provided by law. The legislature shall
60 | appropriate funds to enable the commission to carry out its activities.

1 | Within 30 days after the adoption of this con-
2 | stitution, and after the official total population
3 | count of each federal decennial census of the state
4 | and its political subdivisions is available, the se-
5 | cretary of state shall issue a call convening the
6 | commission not less than 30 nor more than 45
7 | days thereafter. The commission shall complete
8 | its work within 180 days after all necessary census
9 | information is available. The commission shall
10 | proceed to district and apportion the senate and
11 | house of representatives according to the provi-
12 | sions of this constitution. All final decisions shall
13 | require the concurrence of a majority of the mem-
14 | bers of the commission. The commission shall hold
15 | public hearings as may be provided by law.

16 | Each final apportionment and districting plan
17 | shall be published as provided by law within 30
18 | days from the date of its adoption and shall be-
19 | come law 60 days after publication. The secre-
20 | tary of state shall keep a public record of all the
21 | proceedings of the commission and shall be re-
22 | sponsible for the publication and distribution of
23 | each plan.

24 | If a majority of the commission cannot agree
25 | on a plan, each member of the commission, indi-
26 | vidualy or jointly with other members, may sub-
27 | mit a proposed plan to the supreme court. The
28 | supreme court shall determine which plan com-
29 | plies most accurately with the constitutional re-
30 | quirements and shall direct that it be adopted
31 | by the commission and published as provided
32 | in this section.

33 | Upon the application of any elector filed not
34 | later than 60 days after final publication of the
35 | plan, the supreme court, in the exercise of origi-
36 | nal jurisdiction, shall direct the secretary of
37 | state or the apportionment commission to per-
38 | form their duties, may review any final plan
39 | adopted by the commission, and shall remand
40 | such plan to the commission for further action
41 | if it fails to comply with the requirements of
42 | this constitution.

43 | Sec. 7. Each senator and representative
44 | must be a citizen of the United States, at least
45 | 21 years of age, and an elector of the district
46 | he represents. The removal of his domicile from
47 | the district shall be deemed a vacation of the
48 | office. No person who has been convicted of sub-
49 | version or who has within the preceding 20 years
50 | been convicted of a felony involving a breach
51 | of public trust shall be eligible for either house
52 | of the legislature.

53 | Sec. 8. No person holding any office under the
54 | United States or this state or a political subdi-
55 | vision thereof, except notaries public and officers
56 | of the armed forces reserve, may be a member of
57 | either house of the legislature.

58 | Sec. 9. No person elected to the legislature
59 | shall receive any civil appointment within this

1 state from the governor, except notaries public,
2 from the legislature, or from any other state
3 authority, during the term for which he is elected.

4 Sec. 10. No member of the legislature nor any 5 state officer shall be interested directly or in-6 directly in any contract with the state or any 7 political subdivision thereof which shall cause a
8 substantial conflict of interest. The legislature
9 shall further implement this provision by appro-
10 priate legislation.

11 Sec. 11. Senators and representatives shall be 12 privileged from civil arrest and civil process dur-
13 ing sessions of the legislature and for five days
14 next before the commencement and after the 15 termination thereof. They shall not be ques-
16 tioned in any other place for any speech in either
17 house.

18 Sec. 12. The compensation and expense al-
19 lowances of the members of the legislature shall 20 be determined by law. Changes in compensation
21 or expense allowances shall become effective only 22 when legislators commence their terms of office
23 after a general election.

24 Sec. 13. The legislature shall meet at the seat
25 of government on the second Wednesday in Janu-
26 ary of each year at twelve o'clock noon. Each
27 regular session shall adjourn without day, on a 28 day determined by concurrent resolution, at 29 twelve o'clock noon. Any business, bill or joint 30 resolution pending at the final adjournment of 31 a regular session held in an odd numbered year
32 shall carry over with the same status to the 33 next regular session.

34 Sec. 14. A majority of the members elected
35 to and serving in each house shall constitute a 36 quorum to do business. A smaller number in 37 each house may adjourn from day to day, and 38 may compel the attendance of absent members in 39 the manner and with penalties as each house may 40 prescribe.

41 Sec. 15. There shall be a bi-partisan legisla-
42 tive council consisting of legislators appointed in 43 the manner prescribed by law. The legislature
44 shall appropriate funds for the council's opera-
45 tions and provide for its staff which shall main-
46 tain bill drafting, research and other services
47 for the members of the legislature. The council 48 shall periodically examine and recommend to the 49 legislature revision of the various laws of the 50 state.

51 Sec. 16. Each house, except as otherwise pro-
52 vided in this constitution, shall choose its own
53 officers and determine the rules of its proceedings,
54 but shall not adopt any rule that will prevent a 55 majority of the members elected thereto and 56 serving therein from discharging a committee
57 from the further consideration of any measure.
58 Each house shall be the sole judge of the quali-
59 fications, elections and returns of its members, 60 and may, with the concurrence of two-thirds of

1 all the members elected thereto and serving
2 therein, expel a member. The reasons for such 3 expulsion shall be entered in the journal, with 4 the votes and names of the members voting upon
5 the question. No member shall be expelled a
6 second time for the same cause.

7 Sec. 17. Each house of the legislature may 8 establish the committees necessary for the effi-
9 cient conduct of its business and the legislature
10 may create joint committees. Each committee
11 shall by roll call vote record the vote and name 12 of all action on bills and resolutions taken in 13 the committee. Such vote shall be available for 14 public inspection. Notice of all committee hear-
15 ings and a clear statement of all subjects to be 16 considered at each hearing shall be published in 17 the journal in advance of the hearing.

18 Sec. 18. Each house shall keep a journal of 19 its proceedings, and publish the same unless the 20 public security otherwise requires. The record
21 of the vote and name of the members of either
22 house voting on any question shall be entered 23 in the journal at the request of one-fifth of the 24 members present. Any member of either house
25 may dissent from and protest against any act,
26 proceeding or resolution which he deems injuri-
27 ous to any person or the public, and have the 28 reason for his dissent entered in the journal.

29 Sec. 19. All elections in either house or in 30 joint convention and all votes on appointments
31 submitted to the senate for advice and consent
32 shall be published by vote and name in the journal.

33 Sec. 20. The doors of each house shall be open
34 unless the public security otherwise requires.

35 Sec. 21. Neither house shall, without the con-
36 sent of the other, adjourn for more than two 37 intervening calendar days, nor to any place other 38 than where the legislature may then be in session.

39 Sec. 22. All legislation shall be by bill and 40 may originate in either house.

41 Sec. 23. The style of the laws shall be: The 42 People of the State of Michigan enact.

43 Sec. 24. No law shall embrace more than one
44 object, which shall be expressed in its title. No
45 bill shall be altered or amended on its passage
46 through either house so as to change its original 47 purpose as determined by its total content and 48 not alone by its title.

49 Sec. 25. No law shall be revised, altered or 50 amended by reference to its title only. The section
51 or sections of the act altered or amended shall 52 be re-enacted and published at length.

53 Sec. 26. No bill shall be passed or become a 54 law at any regular session of the legislature until 55 it has been printed or reproduced and in the pos-
56 session of each house for at least five days. Every 57 bill shall be read three times in each house be-58 fore the final passage thereof. No bill shall be-59 come a law without the concurrence of a majority 60 of the members elected to and serving in each house. On the final passage of bills, the votes and names of the members voting thereon shall be entered in the journal.

Sec. 27. No act shall take effect until the expiration of 90 days from the end of the session at which it was passed, but the legislature may give immediate effect to acts by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and serving in each house.

Sec. 28. When the legislature is convened on extraordinary occasions in special session no bill shall be passed on any subjects other than those expressly stated in the governor's proclamation or submitted by special message.

Sec. 29. The legislature shall pass no local or special act in any case where a general act can be made applicable, and whether a general act can be made applicable shall be a judicial question. No local or special act shall take effect until approved by two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house and by a majority of the electors voting thereon in the district affected. Any act repealing local or special acts shall require only a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house and shall not require submission to the electors of such district.

Sec. 30. The assent of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature shall be required for the appropriation of public money or property for local or private purposes.

Sec. 31. The general appropriation bills for the succeeding fiscal period covering items set forth in the budget shall be passed or rejected in either house of the legislature before that house passes any appropriation bill for items not in the budget except bills supplementing appropriations for the current fiscal year's operation. Any bill requiring an appropriation to carry out its purpose shall be considered an appropriation bill. One of the general appropriation bills as passed by the legislature shall contain an itemized statement of estimated revenue by major source in each operating fund for the ensuing fiscal period, the total of which shall not be less than the total of all appropriations made from each fund in the general appropriation bills as passed.

Sec. 32. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax.

Sec. 33. Every bill passed by the legislature shall be presented to the governor before it becomes law, and the governor shall have 14 days measured in hours and minutes from the time of presentation in which to consider it. If he approves, he shall within that time sign and file it with the secretary of state and it shall become law. If he does not approve, and the legislature has within that time finally adjourned the session at which the bill was passed, it shall not become law. If he does not approve, and the legislature continues the session at which the bill was passed, he shall return it within such 14-day period with his objections, to the house in which it originated. That house shall enter such objections in full in its journal and reconsider the bill. If two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in that house pass the bill notwithstanding the objections of the governor, it shall be sent with the objections to the other house for reconsideration. The bill shall become law if passed by two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in that house. The vote of each house shall be entered in the journal with the votes and names of the members voting thereon. If any bill is not returned by the governor within such 14-day period, the legislature continuing in session, it shall become law as if he had signed it.

Sec. 34. Any bill passed by the legislature and approved by the governor, except a bill appropriating money, may provide that it will not become law unless approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon.

Sec. 35. All laws enacted at any session of the legislature shall be published in book form within 60 days after final adjournment of the session, and shall be distributed in the manner provided by law. The prompt publication of judicial decisions shall be provided by law. All laws and judicial decisions shall be free for publication by any person.

Sec. 36. No general revision of the laws shall be made. The legislature may provide for a compilation of the laws in force, arranged without alteration, under appropriate heads and titles.

Sec. 37. The legislature may by concurrent resolution empower a joint committee of the legislature acting between sessions to suspend until the end of the next regular legislative session any rule or regulation of an administrative agency promulgated when the legislature is not in regular session.

Sec. 38. The legislature may provide by law the cases in which any office shall be vacant and the manner of filling vacancies where no provision is made in this constitution.

Sec. 39. In order to insure continuity of state and local governmental operations in periods of emergency only, resulting from disasters occurring in this state caused by enemy attack on the United States, the legislature may provide by law for prompt and temporary succession to the powers and duties of public offices, of whatever nature and whether filled by election or appointment, the incumbents of which may become unavailable for carrying on the powers and duties of such offices; and enact other laws necessary and proper for insuring the continuity of governmental operations. Notwithstanding the power conferred by this section, elections shall always be called as soon as possible to fill any vacancies in elective offices temporarily occupied by operation of any legislation enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section.

Sec. 40. The legislature may by law establish a liquor control commission which, subject to statutory limitations, shall exercise complete control of the alcoholic beverage traffic within this state, including the retail sales thereof. The legislature may provide for an excise tax on such sales. Neither the legislature nor the commission may authorize the manufacture or sale of alcoholic beverages in any county in which a majority of the electors voting thereon shall prohibit the same.

Sec. 41. The legislature shall not authorize any lottery nor permit the sale of lottery tickets.

Sec. 42. The legislature may provide for the incorporation of ports and port districts, and confer power and authority upon them to engage in work of internal improvements in connection therewith.

Sec. 43. No general law providing for the incorporation of trust companies or corporations for banking purposes, or regulating the business thereof, shall be enacted, amended or repealed except by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house.

Sec. 44. The legislature may authorize a trial by a jury of less than 12 jurors in civil cases.

Sec. 45. The legislature may provide for indeterminate sentences as punishment for crime and for the detention and release of persons imprisoned or detained under such sentences.

Sec. 46. No law shall be enacted providing for the penalty of death.

Sec. 47. The legislature may authorize the employment of chaplains in state institutions of detention or confinement.

Sec. 48. The legislature may enact laws providing for the resolution of disputes concerning public employees, except those in the state classified civil service.

Sec. 49. The legislature may enact laws relative to the hours and conditions of employment.

Sec. 50. The legislature may provide safety measures and regulate the use of atomic energy and forms of energy developed in the future, having in view the general welfare of the people of this state.

Sec. 51. The public health and general welfare of the people of the state are hereby declared to be matters of primary public concern. The legislature shall pass suitable laws for the protection and promotion of the public health.

Sec. 52. The conservation and development of the natural resources of the state are hereby declared to be of paramount public concern in the interest of the health, safety and general welfare of the people. The legislature shall provide for the protection of the air, water and other natural resources of the state from pollution, impairment and destruction.

Sec. 53. The legislature by a majority vote of the members elected to and serving in each house, shall appoint an auditor general, who shall be a certified public accountant licensed to practice in this state, to serve for a term of eight years. He shall be ineligible for appointment or election to any other public office in this state from which compensation is derived while serving as auditor general and for two years following the termination of his service. He may be removed for cause at any time by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and serving in each house. The auditor general shall conduct post audits of financial transactions and accounts of the state and of all branches, departments, offices, boards, commissions, agencies, authorities and institutions of the state established by this constitution or by law, and performance post audits thereof.

He shall report annually to the legislature and to the governor and at such other times as he deems necessary or as required by the legislature. He shall be assigned no duties other than those specified in this section.

The auditor general, his deputy and one other member of his staff shall be exempt from classified civil service. All other members of his staff shall have classified civil service status.

Article V

Executive Branch

Sec. 1. The executive power is vested in the governor.

Sec. 2. All executive and administrative offices, agencies and instrumentalities of the executive branch of state government and their respective functions, powers and duties, except for the office of governor and lieutenant governor and the governing bodies of institutions of higher education provided for in this constitution, shall be allocated by law among and within not more than 20 principal departments. They shall be grouped as far as practicable according to major purposes.

Subsequent to the initial allocation, the governor may make changes in the organization of the executive branch or in the assignment of functions among its units which he considers necessary for efficient administration. Where these changes require the force of law, they shall be set forth in executive orders and submitted to the legislature. Thereafter the legislature shall have 60 calendar days of a regular session, or a full session if of shorter duration, to disapprove each executive order. Unless disapproved in both houses by a resolution concurred in by a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house, each order shall become effective at a date thereafter to be designated by the governor.

Sec. 3. The head of each principal department shall be a single executive unless otherwise provided in this constitution or by law. The single executives heading principal departments shall include a secretary of state, a state treasurer and an attorney general. When a single executive is the head of a principal department, unless elected or appointed as otherwise provided in this constitution, he shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate and he shall serve at the pleasure of the governor.

When a board or commission is at the head of a principal department, unless elected or appointed as otherwise provided in this constitution, the members thereof shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate. The term of office and procedure for removal of such members shall be as prescribed in this constitution or by law.

Terms of office of any board or commission created or enlarged after the effective date of this constitution shall not exceed four years except as otherwise authorized in this constitution. The terms of office of existing boards and commissions which are longer than four years shall not be further extended except as provided in this constitution.

Sec. 4. Temporary commissions or agencies for special purposes with a life of no more than two years may be established by law and need not be allocated within a principal department.

Sec. 5. At no time shall an examining or licensing board of a profession include less than a majority of members of that profession.

Sec. 6. Appointment by and with the advice and consent of the senate when used in this constitution or laws in effect or hereafter enacted means appointment subject to disapproval by a majority vote of the members elected to and serving in the senate if such action is taken within 60 session days after the date of such appointment. Any appointment not disapproved within such period shall stand confirmed.

Sec. 7. Vacancies in any office, appointment to which requires advice and consent of the senate, shall be filled by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate. A person whose appointment has been disapproved by the senate shall not be eligible for an interim appointment to the same office.

Sec. 8. Each principal department shall be under the supervision of the governor unless otherwise provided by this constitution. The governor shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government and may require information in writing from all executive and administrative state officers, elective and appointive, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

The governor may initiate court proceedings in the name of the state to enforce compliance with any constitutional or legislative mandate, or to restrain violations of any constitutional or legislative power, duty or right by any officer, department or agency of the state or any of its political subdivisions. This authority shall not be construed to authorize court proceedings against the legislature.

Sec. 9. Single executives heading principal departments and the chief executive officers of principal departments headed by boards or commissions shall keep their offices at the seat of government except as otherwise provided by law, superintend them in person and perform duties prescribed by law.

Sec. 10. The governor shall have power and it shall be his duty to inquire into the condition and administration of any public office and the acts of any public officer, elective or appointive. He may remove or suspend from office for gross neglect of duty or for corrupt conduct in office, or for any other misfeasance or malfeasance therein, any elective or appointive state officer, except legislative or judicial, and shall report the reasons for such removal or suspension to the legislature.

Sec. 11. The governor may make a provisional appointment to fill a vacancy occasioned by the suspension of an appointed or elected officer, other than a legislative or judicial officer, until he is reinstated or until the vacancy is filled in the manner prescribed by law or this constitution.

Sec. 12. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the armed forces and may call them out to execute the laws, suppress insurrection and repel invasion.

Sec. 13. The governor shall issue writs of election to fill vacancies in the senate or house of representatives. Any such election shall be held in a manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 14. The governor shall have power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons after convictions for all offenses, except cases of impeachment, upon such conditions and limitations as he may direct, subject to procedures and regulations prescribed by law. He shall inform the legislature annually of each reprieve, commutation and pardon granted, stating reasons therefor.

Sec. 15. The governor may convene the legislature on extraordinary occasions.

Sec. 16. The governor may convene the legislature at some other place when the seat of government becomes dangerous from any cause.

Sec. 17. The governor shall communicate by message to the legislature at the beginning of each session and may at other times present to the legislature information as to the affairs of the state and recommend measures he considers necessary or desirable.

Sec. 18. The governor shall submit to the legislature at a time fixed by law, a budget for the ensuing fiscal period setting forth in detail, for all operating funds, the proposed expenditures and estimated revenue of the state. Proposed expenditures from any fund shall not exceed the estimated revenue thereof. On the same date, the governor shall submit to the legislature general appropriation bills to embody the proposed expenditures and any necessary bill or bills to provide new or additional revenues to meet proposed expenditures. The amount of any surplus created or deficit incurred in any fund during the last preceding fiscal period shall be entered as an item in the budget and in one of the appropriation bills. The governor may submit amendments to appropriation bills to be offered in either house during consideration of the bill by that house, and shall submit any bills to meet deficiencies in current appropriations.

Sec. 19. The governor may disapprove any distinct item or items appropriating moneys in any appropriation bill. The part or parts approved shall become law, and the item or items disapproved shall be void unless re-passed according to the method prescribed for the passage of other bills over the executive veto.

Sec. 20. No appropriation shall be a mandate to spend. The governor, with the approval of the appropriating committees of the house and senate, shall reduce expenditures authorized by appropriations whenever it appears that actual revenues for a fiscal period will fall below the revenue estimates on which appropriations for that period were based. Reductions in expenditures shall be made in accordance with procedures prescribed by law. The governor may not reduce expenditures of the legislative and judicial branches or from funds constitutionally dedicated for specific purposes.

Sec. 21. The governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general shall be elected for four-year terms at the general election in each alternate even-numbered year.

The lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general shall be nominated by party conventions in a manner prescribed by law. In the general election one vote shall be cast jointly for the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor nominated by the same party.

Finance and Taxation

13 Sec. 1. The legislature shall impose taxes suf-14 ficient with other resources to pay the expenses of 15 state government.

16 Sec. 2. The power of taxation shall never be 17 surrendered, suspended or contracted away.

18 Sec. 3. The legislature shall provide for the 19 uniform general ad valorem taxation of real and 20 tangible personal property not exempt by law. The 21 legislature shall provide for the determination of 22 true cash value of such property; the proportion 23 of true cash value at which such property shall 24 be uniformly assessed, which shall not, after 25 January 1, 1966, exceed 50 percent; and for a sys-
26 tem of equalization of assessments. The legislature
27 may provide for alternative means of taxation of 28 designated real and tangible personal property in 29 lieu of general ad valorem taxation. Every tax
30 other than the general ad valorem property tax 31 shall be uniform upon the class or classes on 32 which it operates.

33 Sec. 4. Property owned and occupied by non-34 profit religious or educational organizations and 35 used exclusively for religious or educational pur-
36 poses, as defined by law, shall be exempt from 37 real and personal property taxes.

38 Sec. 5. The legislature shall provide for the 40 public service businesses assessed by the state

41 at the date this constitution becomes effective, and 42 of other property as designated by the legislature,
43 and for the imposition and collection of taxes
44 thereon. Property assessed by the state shall be 45 assessed at the same proportion of its true
46 cash value as the legislature shall specify for 47 property subject to general ad valorem taxation.
48 The rate of taxation on such property shall be 49 the average rate levied upon other property in this 50 state under the general ad valorem tax law, or,
51 if the legislature provides, the rate of tax applicable
52 to the property of each business enterprise assessed
53 by the state shall be the average rate of ad valorem
54 taxation levied upon other property in all counties
55 in which any of such property is situated.

56 Sec. 6. Except as otherwise provided in this 57 constitution, the total amount of general ad valo-
58 rem taxes imposed upon real and tangible per-59 sonal property for all purposes in any one year
60 shall not exceed 15 mills on each dollar of the

1 assessed valuation of property as finally equalized.
2 Under procedures provided by law, which shall
3 guarantee the right of initiative, separate tax
4 limitations for any county and for the townships
5 and for school districts therein, the aggregate of 6 which shall not exceed 18 mills on each dollar of 7 such valuation, may be adopted and thereafter
8 altered by the vote of a majority of the qualified
9 electors of such county voting thereon, in lieu 10 of the limitation hereinbefore established. These 11 limitations may be increased to an aggregate of 12 not to exceed 50 mills on each dollar of valuation,
13 for a period of not to exceed 20 years at any one
14 time, if approved by a majority of the electors,
15 qualified under Section 6 of Article II of this 16 constitution, voting on the question.

17 The foregoing limitations shall not apply to 18 taxes imposed for the payment of principal and 19 interest on bonds or other evidences of indebted-20 ness or for the payment of assessments or con-
21 tract obligations in anticipation of which bonds
22 are issued, which taxes may be imposed without 23 limitation as to rate or amount; or to taxes im-
24 posed for any other purpose by any city, vil-
25 lage, charter county, charter township, charter
26 authority or other authority, the tax limitations
27 of which are provided by charter or by general
28 law.

29 In any school district which extends into two 30 or more counties, property taxes at the highest 31 rate available in the county which contains the 32 greatest part of the area of the district may be 33 imposed and collected for school purposes through-34 out the district.

35 Sec. 7. No income tax graduated as to rate
36 or base shall be imposed by the state or any of 37 its subdivisions.

38 Sec. 8. The legislature shall not impose a 39 sales tax on retailers at a rate of more than

44 rectly or indirectly on fuels sold or used 45 to propel motor vehicles upon highways and on 46 registered motor vehicles shall, after the payment
47 of necessary collection expenses, be used exclusi-
48 vely for highway purposes as defined by law.

49 Sec. 10. One-eighth of all taxes imposed on 50 retailers on taxable sales at retail of tangible 51 personal property shall be used exclusively for 52 assistance to townships, cities and villages, on 53 a population basis as provided by law. In de-
54 termining population the legislature may exclude 55 any portion of the total number of persons who 56 are wards, patients or convicts in any tax sup-
57 ported institution.

58 Sec. 11. There shall be established a state
59 school aid fund which shall be used exclusively
60 for the support of public education and school

Such indebtedness in any fiscal year shall not exceed 15 percent of undedicated revenues received by the state during the preceding fiscal year and such debts shall be repaid at the time the revenues so pledged are received, but not later than the end of the same fiscal year.

Sec. 15. The state may borrow money for specific purposes in amounts as may be provided by acts of the legislature adopted by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house, and approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at any general election. The question submitted to the electors shall state the amount to be borrowed, the specific purpose to which the funds shall be devoted, and the method of repayment.

Sec. 16. The state, in addition to any other borrowing power, may borrow from time to time such amounts as shall be required, pledge its faith and credit and issue its notes or bonds therefor, for the purpose of making loans to school districts as provided in this section.

If the minimum amount which would otherwise be necessary for a school district to levy in any year to pay principal and interest on its qualified bonds, including any necessary allowances for estimated tax delinquencies, exceeds 13 mills on each dollar of its assessed valuation as finally equalized, or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, then the school district may elect to borrow all or any part of the excess from the state. In that event the state shall lend the excess amount to the school district for the payment of principal and interest. If for any reason any school district will be or is unable to pay the principal and interest on its qualified bonds when due, then the school district shall borrow and the state shall lend to it an amount sufficient to enable the school district to make the payment.

The term "qualified bonds" means general obligation bonds of school districts issued for capital expenditures, including refunding bonds, issued prior to May 4, 1955, or issued thereafter and qualified as provided by law pursuant to Section 27 or Section 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908 or pursuant to this section.

After a school district has received loans from the state, each year thereafter it shall levy for debt service, exclusive of levies for nonqualified bonds, not less than 13 mills or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, until the amount loaned has been repaid, and any tax collections therefrom in any year over and above the minimum requirements for principal and interest on qualified bonds shall be used toward the repayment of state loans. In any year when such levy would produce an amount in excess of the requirements and the amount due to the state, the levy may be reduced by the amount of the excess.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, the legislature shall have the power to prescribe and to limit the procedure, terms and conditions for the qualification of bonds, for obtaining and making state loans, and for the repayment of loans.

The power to tax for the payment of principal and interest on bonds hereafter issued which are the general obligations of any school district, including refunding bonds, and for repayment of any state loans made to school districts, shall be without limitation as to rate or amount.

All rights acquired under Sections 27 and 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908, by holders of bonds heretofore issued, and all obligations assumed by the state or any school district under these sections, shall remain unimpaired.

Sec. 17. No money shall be paid out of the state treasury except in pursuance of appropriations made by law.

Sec. 18. The credit of the state shall not be granted to, nor in aid of any person, association or corporation, public or private, except as authorized in this constitution.

() Yes. () No. All votes cast at the election shall be taken, counted, canvassed and returned as provided by law for the election of state officers. If the revised constitution so submitted receives more votes in its favor than were cast against it, it shall be the supreme law of the state on and after the first day of January of the year following its adoption.

against the secretary of state, by Mr. Van Dusen, chairman, submits the following report:

In accordance with Resolution 96, the committee on action against secretary of state on May 14, 1962, filed with the circuit court for the county of Ingham, a petition for declaration of rights in an action entitled, Stephen S. Nisbet, President of the Michigan Constitutional Convention of 1961-1962 v. James M. Hare, Secretary of State. The relief sought was a declaration that the convention has the right to provide for submission of the proposed new constitution to the electors at the general election to be held November 6, 1962. The summons and petition were served on the secretary of state on the same day.

On May 22, having had no response from the attorney general, petitioner filed a motion for the entry of a decree. On May 25, the secretary of state appeared specially by the attorney general and moved to dismiss the petition on the ground that the case did not present an actual controversy. The trial court heard argument on the attorney general's motion on June 1 and on June 6 rendered an opinion denying the motion to dismiss. An order to that effect was entered on June 11.

Instead of proceeding to file an answer, the attorney general then filed an application to the supreme court for leave to appeal. This application was granted by the supreme court and the attorney general, on July 2, filed a claim of appeal.

The attorney general has not yet filed a brief and he states that he does not intend to do so until after August 7.

It is obvious that no judicial determination of the right of the constitutional convention to require submission of the proposed constitution to the electors on November 6 will be made in time to be useful to the convention. Accordingly, the committee recommends:

1) That section 15 [formerly section 16] of the schedule and temporary provisions of the proposed constitution be amended by striking from the first sentence the words "Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962" and inserting "first Monday in April, 1963."

2) That the committee be authorized to discontinue the action entitled, Nisbet v. Hare.

Richard C. Van Dusen, chairman.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I move the adoption of the report.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen that the report be adopted. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The report is adopted. Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, in compliance with our rules, I think it would now be necessary to take a roll call vote on the amendment to the constitution changing the date.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Chase will read the amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: The amendment recommended in the report is as follows:

1. Amend the schedule, section 15 [formerly section 16] (column 2) line 11, after "held on the" by striking out "Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962.", and inserting "first Monday in April, 1963."

PRESIDENT NISBET: The secretary will call the roll. Those in favor of the amendment will vote aye as your name is called. Those opposed will vote no.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the adoption of the constitution as amended, the yeas are 98; the nays are 43. (applause)
PRESIDENT NISBET: The constitution is adopted.

For the constitution as adopted, see below, page 3317.

Because of the hour, it being almost noon, the Chair recognizes Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VANDUSEN: Mr. President, I move that the convention now stand in recess until 2:00 p.m.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen that we recess until 2:00 p.m. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. We are recessed until 2:00 o'clock.

[Whereupon, at 11:50 o'clock a.m., the convention recessed; and, at 2:00 o'clock p.m., reconvened.]

Will the delegates please take their seats. The convention will please come to order.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. President, a quorum of the convention is present.

PRESIDENT NISBET: I think we should recognize the fact that many of our employees are voluntarily back with us today, meeting with the delegates. I'm sure all of us are very happy to have them here. It brings about a happy result to see them and I think we ought to give them a good hand. (applause) Mr. Chase has an announcement.

SECRETARY CHASE: There are 3 announcements that possibly should have been made before we recessed for lunch.

First, there is mail for all of the delegates in the mail room downstairs.

Just prior to the May 11 adjournment, several of the delegates took out, on loan, sets of convention slides which have not been returned. Missing from our files are 12 complete sets of slides. Since we frequently have call from other delegates for the use of these slides, we would appreciate their return as soon as possible. Ink White, chairman of the committee on public information.

I am sure the delegates recall the lady on the civic center staff who took such good care of keeping the windows clean and the place well slicked up, who had to go to the hospital for a very critical operation. A number of the delegates contributed to a fund to help her over her financial difficulties. I have the following card:

It is very difficult to express my appreciation to all the wonderful people of con. con. Let me say, with my heart, your kindness and generosity will always be remembered.

Sincerely,
Freda Adams.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Since the adjournment on May 11, we have added 2 new associate members to the delegation: Mrs. Charles Follo and Mrs. Gil Wanger.

I asked Charlie if Mrs. Follo was present so that he might present her, but he said she isn't. We are sorry, Charlie, she couldn't be with us.

Mr. Wanger, is your associate delegate present? Would you present her?

[Whereupon, the delegates accorded Mrs. Wanger a standing ovation.]

At the final session before the long recess the president was authorized to name a reunion committee for the constitutional convention. Accordingly, the president appoints, as members of the reunion committee: Mr. Erickson, Mrs. Koeze, Messrs. Jones, Bowens, Brake, Mrs. Conklin, Mr. Dean Doty, Mrs. Daisy Elliott, Messrs. Faxon, Kelsey, Kuhn, Powell, Sharpe, Wanger, White and Norris.

Without objection, the appointments are approved. You will notice that most of these delegates are within the area of Lansing, Detroit or Grand Rapids for their ease in getting together when they have to meet. Mr. Claud Erickson is chairman of the committee.

Returning to the order of business, approval of address to people. We will take up the report of the committee on public information. Mr. White, chairman.

MR. WHITE: Mr. President, under date of June 26, 1962, each delegate was mailed proof copies of the proposed address to the people. Since that time our committee has received numerous suggestions for corrections, additions, deletions and so on. Our committee has met and gone over these suggestions and they have been, for the most part, agreed to. I might say, parenthetically, the address in its present corrected form represents the writing and editing of upwards of 50 of our delegates.

Under date of July 27, 1962, each of you was mailed a 16 page multilith report which outlined in detail some 108 corrections. This communication also carried the recommendation that we be authorized to correct the text of the constitution as it appears in the address to conform with the style and drafting changes adopted at today's session, and to offer comments accordingly, if necessary. All of this material has been delivered again to each delegate's desk today. Additionally, you have a single white multilith sheet from our committee containing brief addenda to this 16 page report.

It seems to me, Mr. President, the delegates have had ample time to consider these matters, and to expedite our final deliberations, I move that the report of the public information committee, with the recommended addenda, be considered read.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Without objection, it is so ordered.

Following is the report as submitted and considered read:

After careful consideration of suggestions from delegates, your committee on public information recommends the adoption of the following changes in the proof copy of the address to the people:

1. Amend page 2, second full paragraph, line 3, after "that one" by striking out "must" and inserting "should"; to improve phraseology.

2. Amend page 2, third full paragraph, line 1, by striking out "Ordered by popular vote, its delegates selected by the people on the basis of one from each senatorial and representative district, the Constitutional Convention of 1961-62 met in Lansing on October 3, 1961.", and inserting "The convention was ordered by popular vote in April of 1961. There were 144 delegates, representing Michigan's 34 State Senatorial districts and 110 State Representative seats. They were elected in statewide voting on September 12, 1961, and convened at Lansing on October 3, 1961."; to improve awkward sentence construction and correct error by indicating "seats" rather than representative "districts."

3. Amend page 2, fifth full paragraph, line 2, after "overlapped" by striking out "each other"; to improve phraseology.

4. Amend page 2, fifth full paragraph, line 6, after

CONSTITUTION OF THE
STATE OF MICHIGAN

as finally adopted by the Convention
August 1, 1962

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the State of Michigan, grateful to Almighty God for the blessings of freedom, and earnestly desiring to secure these blessings undiminished to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution.

Sec. 21. No person shall be imprisoned for debt arising out of or founded on contract, express or implied, except in cases of fraud or breach of trust.

Sec. 22. Treason against the state shall consist only in levying war against it or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless upon the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act or on confession in open court.

ARTICLE II

Elections

Sec. 1. Every citizen of the United States who has attained the age of 21 years, who has resided in this state six months, and who meets the requirements of local residence provided by law, shall be an elector and qualified to vote in any election except as otherwise provided in this constitution. The legislature shall define residence for voting purposes.

Sec. 2. The legislature may by law exclude persons from voting because of mental incompetence or commitment to a jail or penal institution.

Sec. 3. For purposes of voting in the election for president and vice-president of the United States only, the legislature may by law establish lesser residence requirements for citizens who have resided in this state for less than six months and may waive residence requirements for former citizens of this state who have removed herefrom. The legislature shall not permit voting by any person who meets the voting residence requirements of the state to which he has removed.

Sec. 4. The legislature shall enact laws to regulate the time, place and manner of all nominations and elections, except as otherwise provided in this constitution or in the constitution and laws of the United States. The legislature shall enact laws to preserve the purity of elections, to preserve the secrecy of the ballot, to guard against abuses of the elective franchise, and to provide for a system of voter registration and absentee voting. No law shall be enacted which permits a candidate in any partisan primary or partisan election to have a ballot designation except when required for identification of candidates for the same office who have the same or similar surnames.

Sec. 5. Except for special elections to fill vacancies, or as otherwise provided in this constitution, all elections for national, state, county and township offices shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in each even-numbered year or on such other date as members of the congress of the United States are regularly elected.

Sec. 6. Whenever any question is required to be submitted by a political subdivision to the electors for the increase of the ad valorem tax rate limitation imposed by Section 6 of Article IX for a period of more than five years, or for the issue of bonds, only electors in, and who have property assessed for any ad valorem taxes in, any part of the district or territory to be affected by the result of such election or electors who are the lawful husbands or wives of such persons shall be entitled to vote thereon. All electors in the district or territory affected may vote on all other questions.

Sec. 7. A board of state canvassers of four members shall be established by law. No candidate for an office to be canvassed nor any inspector of elections shall be eligible to serve as a member of a board of canvassers. A majority of any board of canvassers shall not be composed of members of the same political party.

Sec. 8. Laws shall be enacted to provide for the recall of all elective officers except judges of courts of record upon petition of electors equal in number to 25 percent of the number of persons voting in the last preceding election for the office of governor in the electoral district of the officer sought to be recalled. The sufficiency of any statement of reasons or grounds procedurally required shall be a political rather than a judicial question.

Sec. 9. The people reserve to themselves the power to propose laws and to enact and reject laws, called the initiative, and the power to approve or reject laws enacted by the legislature, called the referendum. The power of initiative extends only to laws which the legislature may enact under this constitution. The power of referendum does not extend to acts making appropriations for state institutions or to meet deficiencies in state funds and must be invoked in the manner prescribed by law within 90 days following the final adjournment of the legislative session at which the law was enacted. To invoke the initiative or referendum, petitions signed by a number of registered electors, not less than eight percent for initiative and five percent for referendum of the total vote cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected shall be required.

No law as to which the power of referendum properly has been invoked shall be effective thereafter unless approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at the next general election.

Any law proposed by initiative petition shall be either enacted or rejected by the legislature without change or amendment within 40 session days from the time such petition is received by the legislature. If any law proposed by such petition shall be enacted by the legislature it shall be subject to referendum, as hereinafter provided.

If the law so proposed is not enacted by the legislature within the 40 days, the state officer authorized by law shall submit such proposed law to the people for approval or rejection at the next general election. The legislature may reject any measure so proposed by initiative petition and propose a different measure upon the same subject by a yea and nay vote upon separate roll calls, and in such event both measures shall be submitted by such state officer to the electors for approval or rejection at the next general election.

Any law submitted to the people by either initiative or referendum petition and approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon at any election shall take effect 10 days after the date of the official declaration of the vote. No law initiated or adopted by the people shall be subject to the veto power of the governor, and no law adopted by the people at the polls under the initiative provisions of this section shall be amended or repealed, except by a vote of the electors unless otherwise provided in the initiative measure or by three-fourths of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature. Laws approved by the people under the referendum provision of this section may be amended by the legislature at any subsequent session thereof. If two or more measures approved by the electors at the same election conflict, that receiving the highest affirmative vote shall prevail.

The legislature shall implement the provisions of this section.

General Government

Sec. 1. The seat of government shall be at Lansing.

Sec. 2. The powers of government are divided into three branches: legislative, executive and judicial. No person exercising powers of one branch shall exercise powers properly belonging to another branch except as expressly provided in this constitution.

Sec. 3. There shall be a great seal of the State of Michigan and its use shall be provided by law.

Sec. 4. The militia shall be organized, equipped and disciplined as provided by law.

Sec. 5. Subject to provisions of general law, this state or any political subdivision thereof, any governmental authority or any combination thereof may enter into agreements for the performance, financing or execution of their respective functions, with any one or more of the other states, the United States, the Dominion of Canada, or any political subdivision thereof unless otherwise provided in this constitution. Any other provision of this constitution notwithstanding, an officer or employee of the state or of any such unit of government or subdivision or agency thereof may serve on or with any governmental body established for the purposes set forth in this section and shall not be required to relinquish his office or employment by reason of such service. The legislature may impose such restrictions, limitations or conditions on such service as it may deem appropriate.

Sec. 6. The state shall not be a party to, nor be financially interested in, any work of internal improvement, nor engage in carrying on any such work, except for public internal improvements provided by law.

Sec. 7. The common law and the statute laws now in force, not repugnant to this constitution, shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitations, or are changed, amended or repealed.

Sec. 8. Either house of the legislature or the governor may request the opinion of the supreme court on important questions of law upon solemn occasions as to the constitutionality of legislation after it has been enacted into law but before its effective date.

ARTICLE IV

Legislative Branch

Sec. 1. The legislative power of the State of Michigan is vested in a senate and a house of representatives.

Sec. 2. The senate shall consist of 38 members to be elected from single member districts at the same election as the governor for four-year terms concurrent with the term of office of the governor.

In districting the state for the purpose of electing senators after the official publication of the total population count of each federal decennial census, each county shall be assigned apportionment factors equal to the sum of its percentage of the state's population as shown by the last regular federal decennial census computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent multiplied by four and its percentage of the state's land area computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent.

In arranging the state into senatorial districts, the apportionment commission shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Counties with 13 or more apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. After each such county has been allocated one senator, the remaining senators to which this class of counties is entitled shall be distributed among such counties by the method of equal proportions applied to the apportionment factors.

(2) Counties having less than 13 apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. Such counties shall thereafter be arranged into senatorial districts that are compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, as rectangular in shape as possible, and having as nearly as possible 13 apportionment factors, but in no event less than 10 or more than 16. Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there is a failure to comply with the above standards.

(3) Counties entitled to two or more senators shall be divided into single member districts. The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the county by the number of senators to which it is entitled. Each such district shall follow incorporated city or township boundary lines to the extent possible and shall be compact, contiguous, and as nearly uniform in shape as possible.

Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of 110 members elected for two-year terms from single member districts apportioned on a basis of population as provided in this article. The districts shall consist of compact and convenient territory contiguous by land.

Each county which has a population of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative area. Each county having less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall be combined with another county or counties to form a representative area of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state. Any county which is isolated under the initial allocation as provided in this section shall be joined with that contiguous representative area having the smallest percentage of the state's population. Each such representative area shall be entitled initially to one representative.

After the assignment of one representative to each of the representative areas, the remaining house seats shall be apportioned among the representative areas on the basis of population by the method of equal proportions.

Any county comprising a representative area entitled to two or more representatives shall be divided into single member representative districts as follows:

(1) The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the representative area by the number of representatives to which it is entitled.

(2) Such single member districts shall follow city and township boundaries where applicable and shall be composed of compact and contiguous territory as nearly square in shape as possible.

Any representative area consisting of more than one county, entitled to more than one representative, shall be divided into single member districts as equal as possible in population, adhering to county lines.

Sec. 4. In counties having more than one representative or senatorial district, the territory in the same county annexed to or merged with a city between apportionments shall become a part of a contiguous representative or senatorial district in the city with which it is combined, if provided by ordinance of the city. The district or districts with which the territory shall be combined shall be determined by such ordinance certified to the secretary of state. No such change in the boundaries of a representative or senatorial district shall have the effect of removing a legislator from office during his term.

Sec. 5. Island areas are considered to be contiguous by land to the county of which they are a part.

Sec. 6. A commission on legislative apportionment is hereby established consisting of eight electors, four of whom shall be selected by the state organizations of each of the two political parties whose candidates for governor received the highest vote at the last general election at which a governor was elected preceding each apportionment. If a candidate for governor of a third political party has received at such election more than 25 percent of such gubernatorial vote, the commission shall consist of 12 members, four of whom shall be selected by the state organization of the third political party. One resident of each of the following four regions shall be selected by each political party organization: (1) the upper peninsula; (2) the northern part of the lower peninsula, north of a line drawn along the northern boundaries of the counties of Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana; (3) southwestern Michigan, those counties south of region (2) and west of a line drawn along the western boundaries of the counties of Bay, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Ingham, Jackson and Hillsdale; (4) southeastern Michigan, the remaining counties of the state.

No officers or employees of the federal, state or local governments, excepting notaries public and members of the armed forces reserve, shall be eligible for membership on the commission. Members of the commission shall not be eligible for election to the legislature until two years after the apportionment in which they participated becomes effective.

The commission shall be appointed immediately after the adoption of this constitution and whenever apportionment or districting of the legislature is required by the provisions of this constitution. Members of the commission shall hold office until each apportionment or districting plan becomes effective. Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as for original appointment.

The secretary of state shall be secretary of the commission without vote, and in that capacity shall furnish, under the direction of the commission, all necessary technical services. The commission shall elect its own chairman, shall make its own rules of procedure, and shall receive compensation provided by law. The legislature shall appropriate funds to enable the commission to carry out its activities.

Within 30 days after the adoption of this constitution, and after the official total population count of each federal decennial census of the state and its political subdivisions is available, the secretary of state shall issue a call convening the commission not less than 30 nor more than 45 days thereafter. The commission shall complete its work within 180 days after all necessary census information is available. The commission shall proceed to district and apportion the senate and house of representatives according to the provisions of this constitution. All final decisions shall require the concurrence of a majority of the members of the commission. The commission shall hold public hearings as may be provided by law.

Each final apportionment and districting plan shall be published as provided by law within 30 days from the date of its adoption and shall become law 60 days after

Under procedures provided by law, which shall guarantee the right of initiative, separate tax limitations for any county and for the townships and for school districts therein, the aggregate of which shall not exceed 18 mills on each dollar of such valuation, may be adopted and thereafter altered by the vote of a majority of the qualified electors of such county voting thereon, in lieu of the limitation hereinbefore established. These limitations may be increased to an aggregate of not to exceed 50 mills on each dollar of valuation, for a period of not to exceed 20 years at any one time, if approved by a majority of the electors, qualified under Section 6 of Article II of this constitution, voting on the question.

Sec. 10. One-eighth of all taxes imposed on retailers on taxable sales at retail of tangible personal property shall be used exclusively for assistance to townships, cities and villages, on a population basis as provided by law. Sec. 16. The state, in addition to any other borrowing power, may borrow from time to time such amounts as shall be required, pledge its faith and credit and issue its notes or bonds therefor, for the purpose of making loans to school districts as provided in this section.

If the minimum amount which would otherwise be necessary for a school district to levy in any year to pay principal and interest on its qualified bonds, including any necessary allowances for estimated tax delinquencies, exceeds 13 mills on each dollar of its assessed valuation as finally equalized, or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, then the school district may elect to borrow all or any part of the excess from the state. In that event the state shall lend the excess amount to the school district for the payment of principal and interest. If for any reason any school district will be or is unable to pay the principal and interest on its qualified bonds when due, then the school district shall borrow and the state shall lend to it an amount sufficient to enable the school district to make the payment.

The term "qualified bonds" means general obligation bonds of school districts issued for capital expenditures, including refunding bonds, issued prior to May 4, 1955, or issued thereafter and qualified as provided by law pursuant to Section 27 or Section 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908 or pursuant to this section.

After a school district has received loans from the state, each year thereafter it shall levy for debt service, exclusive of levies for nonqualified bonds, not less than 13 mills or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, until the amount loaned has been repaid, and any tax collections therefrom in any year over and above the minimum requirements for principal and interest on qualified bonds shall be used toward the repayment of state loans. In any year when such levy would produce an amount in excess of the requirements and the amount due to the state, the levy may be reduced by the amount of the excess.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, the legislature shall have the power to prescribe and to limit the procedure, terms and conditions for the qualification of bonds, for obtaining and making state loans, and for the repayment of loans.

The power to tax for the payment of principal and interest on bonds hereafter issued which are the general obligations of any school district, including refunding bonds, and for repayment of any state loans made to school districts, shall be without limitation as to rate or amount.

All rights acquired under Sections 27 and 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908, by holders of bonds heretofore issued, and all obligations assumed by the state or any school district under these sections, shall remain unimpaired.

Sec. 17. No money shall be paid out of the state treasury except in pursuance of appropriations made by law.

Sec. 18. The credit of the state shall not be granted to, nor in aid of any person, association or corporation, public or private, except as authorized in this constitution.

Within 60 calendar days following such transmission, the legislature may, by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and serving in each house, reject or reduce increases in rates of compensation authorized by the commission. Any reduction ordered by the legislature shall apply uniformly to all classes of employees affected by the increases and shall not adjust pay differentials already established by the civil service commission. The legislature may not reduce rates of compensation below those in effect at the time of the transmission of increases authorized by the commission.

The appointing authorities may create or abolish positions for reasons of administrative efficiency without the approval of the commission. Positions shall not be created nor abolished except for reasons of administrative efficiency. Any employee considering himself aggrieved by the abolition or creation of a position shall have a right of appeal to the commission through established grievance procedures.

The civil service commission shall recommend to the governor and to the legislature rates of compensation for all appointed positions within the executive department not a part of the classified service.

To enable the commission to exercise its powers, the legislature shall appropriate to the commission for the ensuing fiscal year a sum not less than one percent of the aggregate payroll of the classified service for the preceding fiscal year, as certified by the commission. Within six months after the conclusion of each fiscal year the commission shall return to the state treasury all moneys unexpended for that fiscal year.

The commission shall furnish reports of expenditures, at least annually, to the governor and the legislature and shall be subject to annual audit as provided by law.

No payment for personal services shall be made or authorized until the provisions of this constitution pertaining to civil service have been complied with in every particular. Violation of any of the provisions hereof may be restrained or observance compelled by injunctive or mandamus proceedings brought by any citizen of the state.

Sec. 6. By ordinance or resolution of its governing body which shall not take effect until approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, unless otherwise provided by charter, each county, township, city, village, school district and other governmental unit or authority may establish, modify or discontinue a merit system for its employees other than teachers under contract or tenure. The state civil service commission may on request furnish technical services to any such unit on a reimbursable basis.

Sec. 7. The house of representatives shall have the sole power of impeaching civil officers for corrupt conduct in office or for crimes or misdemeanors, but a majority of the members elected thereto and serving therein shall be necessary to direct an impeachment.

When an impeachment is directed, the house of representatives shall elect three of its members to prosecute the impeachment.

Every impeachment shall be tried by the senate immediately after the final adjournment of the legislature. The senators shall take an oath or affirmation truly and impartially to try and determine the impeachment according to the evidence. When the governor or lieutenant governor is tried, the chief justice of the supreme court shall preside.

No person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the senators elected and serving. Judgment in case of conviction shall not extend further than removal from office, but the person convicted shall be liable to punishment according to law.

No judicial officer shall exercise any of the functions of his office after an impeachment is directed until he is acquitted.

ARTICLE XII

Proposed amendments agreed to by two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house on a vote with the names and vote of those voting entered in the respective journals shall be submitted, not less than 60 days thereafter, to the electors at the next general election or special election as the legislature shall direct. If a majority of electors voting on a proposed amendment approve the same, it shall become part of the constitution and shall abrogate or amend existing provisions of the constitution at the end of 45 days after the date of the election at which it was approved.

Sec. 2. Amendments may be proposed to this constitution by petition of the registered electors of this state. Every petition shall include the full text of the proposed amendment, and be signed by registered electors of the state equal in number to at least 10 percent of the total vote cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected. Such petitions shall be filed with the person authorized by law to receive the same at least 120 days before the election at which the proposed amendment is to be voted upon. Any such petition shall be in the form, and shall be signed and circulated in such manner, as prescribed by law. The person authorized by law to receive such petition shall upon its receipt determine, as provided by law, the validity and sufficiency of the signatures on the petition, and make an official announcement thereof at least 60 days prior to the election at which the proposed amendment is to be voted upon.

Any amendment proposed by such petition shall be submitted, not less than 120 days after it was filed, to the electors at the next general election. Such proposed amendment, existing provisions of the constitution which would be altered or abrogated thereby, and the question as it shall appear on the ballot shall be published in full as provided by law. Copies of such publication shall be posted in each polling place and furnished to news media as provided by law.

The ballot to be used in such election shall contain a statement of the purpose of the proposed amendment, expressed in not more than 100 words, exclusive of caption. Such statement of purpose and caption shall be prepared by the person authorized by law, and shall consist of a true and impartial statement of the purpose of the amendment in such language as shall create no prejudice for or against the proposed amendment.

If the proposed amendment is approved by a majority of the electors voting on the question, it shall become part of the constitution, and shall abrogate or amend existing provisions of the constitution at the end of 45 days after the date of the election at which it was approved. If two or more amendments approved by the electors at the same election conflict, that amendment receiving the highest affirmative vote shall prevail.

Sec. 3. At the general election to be held in the year 1978, and in each 16th year thereafter and at such times as may be provided by law, the question of a general revision of the constitution shall be submitted to the electors of the state. If a majority of the electors voting on the question decide in favor of a convention for such purpose, at an election to be held not later than six months after the proposal was certified as approved, the electors of each representative district as then organized shall elect one delegate and the electors of each senatorial district as then organized shall elect one delegate at a partisan election. The delegates so elected shall convene at the seat of government on the first Tuesday in October next succeeding such election or at an earlier date if provided by law.

The convention shall choose its own officers, determine the rules of its proceedings and judge the qualifications, elections and returns of its members. To fill a vacancy in the office of any delegate, the governor shall appoint a qualified resident of the same district who shall be a member of the same party as the delegate vacating the office. The convention shall have power to appoint such officers, employees and assistants as it deems necessary and to fix their compensation; to provide for the printing and distribution of its documents, journals and proceedings; to explain and disseminate information about the proposed constitution and to complete the business of the convention in an orderly manner. Each delegate shall receive for his services compensation provided by law.

No proposed constitution or amendment adopted by such convention shall be submitted to the electors for approval as hereinafter provided unless by the assent of a majority of all the delegates elected to and serving in the convention, with the names and vote of those voting entered in the journal. Any proposed constitution or amendments adopted by such convention shall be submitted to the qualified electors in the manner and at the time provided by such convention not less than 90 days after final adjournment of the convention. Upon the approval of such constitution or amendments by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon the constitution or amendments shall take effect as provided by the convention.

[ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE]

What the Proposed
New State Constitution Means to You

- A report to the people of Michigan by their elected delegates to the Constitutional Convention of 1961-62.

Lansing, Michigan

August 1, 1962

This is a new section abolishing the offices of circuit court commissioner and justice of the peace five years from the date this constitution becomes effective, unless within this period they are abolished by the legislature. This will give the legislature time in which to re-evaluate the entire system of courts of limited jurisdiction and to develop a lower court structure better adapted to the needs of the people and the ends of justice.

The second paragraph of the section continues in existence the several statutory courts created under the present constitution. Included are the Recorder's court and Common Pleas court in Detroit, Superior court in Grand Rapids, municipal courts throughout the state and the Court of Claims. These courts are unchanged by this section, but the legislature has the power to abolish them or transfer their duties elsewhere.

Prohibition; power of appointment.

*Sec. 27. The supreme court, the court of appeals, the circuit court, or any justices or judges thereof, shall not exercise any * power of appointment to public office except as provided in this constitution.*

This is a revision of the second sentence of Sec. 11, Article VII, of the present constitution and is made applicable to the supreme court and court of appeals as well as circuit courts.

Administrative decisions; review.

Sec. 28. All final decisions, findings, rulings and orders of any administrative officer or agency existing under the constitution or by law, which are judicial or quasi-judicial and affect private rights or licenses, shall be subject to direct review by the courts as provided by law. This review shall include, as a minimum, the determination whether such final decisions, findings, rulings and orders are authorized by law; and, in cases in which a hearing is required, whether the same are supported by competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record. Findings of fact in workmen's compensation proceedings shall be conclusive in the absence of fraud unless otherwise provided by law.

In the absence of fraud, error of law or the adoption of wrong principles, no appeal may be taken to any court from any final agency provided for the administration of property tax laws from any decision relating to valuation or allocation.

This is a new section recognizing the increased significance assumed by administrative law in the legal system of the state in recent years. It provides that decisions, findings, rulings and orders of administrative officers or agencies which affect private rights be subject to judicial review.

Excepted in the section are findings of fact in workmen's compensation proceedings. These findings would be conclusive in the absence of fraud, unless otherwise provided by law. Also excepted are appeals of certain decisions of agencies dealing with administration of property tax laws.

Conservators of the peace.

Sec. 29. Justices of the supreme court, judges of the court of appeals, circuit judges and other judges as provided by law shall be conservators of the peace within their respective jurisdictions.

No change from Sec. 18, Article VII, of the present constitution except for new language to recognize "judges of the court of appeals" and "other judges as provided by law."
