Overview of the Constitutional Convention Process

Provisions generally began as Committee Proposals and were then brought to the convention floor for first reading. The majority of debate on the substance of provisions occurred during the first and second readings. There were two third readings; the first on an article-by-article basis and the second reviewing the Constitution as a whole. Following the third readings the entire Constitution was voted on by the delegates. The delegates then created the Notice of Address to the People, summarizing the Constitution on a provision-by-provision basis, which was distributed so that the people could be informed when making their ratification votes.

The convention used ALL CAPS to denote added material and [brackets] to denote removed material.

Mr. A. G. Elliott, for the committee on local government, introduced

I feel that we should place at least a given amount of money here to get the convention rolling as soon as it is called.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The question is upon the Mahinske amendment. As many as are in favor will say aye. As many as are opposed will say no.

The amendment is not adopted. The secretary will read the next amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Martin offers the following amendment:

1. Amend page 2, line 13, by striking out "such compensation as may be provided by law," and inserting "an amount equal to the annual compensation received by each member of the legislature."

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The Chair will recognize Mr. Martin on his amendment.

MR. MARTIN: Mr. Chairman, I simply offer this because you were seeking a self executing provision and this would do it. The term of the convention would presumably not last longer than a year. The salary of the legislature is a pretty good guide and will be in the future, and the amount of time spent by the legislature will be about that spent by the convention; so it would seem as though this would provide a reasonable guide line that would be flexible and would change as the amount received by the legislature might change from time to time.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The Chair will recognize Mr. Snyder.

MR. SNYDER: Mr. Chairman, the arguments that were provided for the recent amendments are still germane to this one. We would feel, however, that, should this be adopted, the delegates would be serving at less salary than the legislature. We feel, again, that this is an area that could be taken care of in the decision of the legislature at the time.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The question is on the Martin amendment. As many as are in favor will say aye. As many as are opposed will say no.

The amendment is not adopted. Are there further amendments on file, Mr. Secretary?

SECRETARY CHASE: None, Mr. Chairman.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: If not, the proposal will pass.

Committee Proposal 66 is passed.

MR. ERICKSON: Is there no question on the body of the proposal?

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Since this was in only one section and not divided, the Chair is of the opinion it is not necessary to ask on the body itself, Mr. Erickson. The proposal is passed. The secretary will read the next item.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 11 on the calendar, from the committee on miscellaneous provisions and schedule, by Mr. Erickson, chairman, Committee Proposal 68, A proposal pertaining to the schedule. Amends sections 10, 6 and 11 of the schedule.

Following is Committee Proposal 68 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. This constitution shall be submitted to the people for their adoption or rejection at the general election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, [1908] 1962. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to forthwith give notice of such submission to [the sheriffs of the several counties, and it shall also be the duty of the secretary of state and] all other officers required to give or publish any notice in regard to said election, to give notice as provided by law in case of an election for governor, that this constitution will be duly submitted to the electors at said election.

Sec. b. All officers elected under the [existing] 1908 constitution AS AMENDED and THE EXISTING laws on the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, [1908] 1962, shall take office on and after the first day of January, [1909] 1963, [under this constitution] AND COMPLETE THE TERM TO WHICH THEY WERE ELECTED.

Sec. c. Every [person entitled to vote for members of the legislature under the existing constitution and laws] REGISTERED VOTER may vote on said adoption or rejection, and the board of election commissioners in each county shall cause to be printed on a ballot separate from the ballot containing the names of the nominees for office the words "Adoption of the Revised Constitution () Yes." "Adoption of the Revised Constitution () No." All votes cast at said election shall be taken, counted, canvassed and returned as provided by law for the election of state officers. Should the revised constitution so submitted receive more votes in its favor than shall be cast against it, it shall be the supreme law of the state on and after the first day of January, [1909] 1963, except as herein otherwise provided; otherwise it shall be rejected.

Mr. Erickson, chairman of the committee on miscellaneous provisions and schedule, submits the following reasons in support of Committee Proposal 68:

Comments on section a. This section is submitted to the convention in its original form except for the deletion of the requirement that notice of submission be given to the sheriffs of the several counties. Sheriffs are not at this time involved in any way in the election process and there seems to be no valid reason for continuing the requirement that notice be given to the sheriffs. The requirement that notice be given to all officers to whom the secretary of state is required to give notice in the case of an election for governor seemed sufficient in the opinion of the committee.

We have also stricken 1908 and substituted 1962. In submitting the section containing the date November, 1962, we are proceeding on the assumption that the constitution will be ready for inclusion on the ballot of November, 1962. In the event this is not possible the matter could be handled either by rereferring the section to our committee or by a change on the floor upon second reading.

Comments on section b. The previous section 6 of the schedule is submitted with the one change being a revision of the dates. In making this revision the committee is proceeding upon the assumption that the revised constitution would be voted upon in November, 1962. In the event this is not possible we feel any change necessary can be made either by referring the matter back to the committee on miscellaneous provisions and schedule or, in the alternative, a change may be made on the floor on second reading at this time. The new language at the end of the section is designed to allow all state officers elected in November, 1962, to continue in office until the completion of their term.

Comments on section c. Section 11 of the 1908 schedule is submitted to the convention with only 2 changes from the wording contained in the 1908 constitution. The committee has deleted the language, "person entitled to vote for members of the legislature under the existing constitution and laws," and substituted therefor the terms, "registered voters." This is in line with a similar change which has been made in many sections of the 1908 constitution. We have also substituted the date 1963 in place of the previous date of 1909. In doing so we are operating under the presumption that the proposed revised constitution will be voted on in November, 1962. In the event this does not prove possible, this matter may be rereferred to the committee on miscellaneous provisions and schedule or, in the alternative, the date may be revised on the floor on second reading.

In the event the convention decides to submit the constitution to the voters in separate sections, then this section would have to be rereferred to the miscellaneous provisions and schedule committee to draft appropriate language to accord with the action of the convention.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The Chair will recognize the committee chairman, Mr. Erickson.

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

MR. ERICKSON: I cannot help but comment that this is—in my opinion, anyway—the most nonpartisan session we have had since October third.

Of course, the proposal, as the secretary has read, sets the time when the constitution should be voted on and the form of ballot and the time it would take effect and I would like to yield to Delegate Durst who was chairman of the subcommittee on schedule.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The Chair will recognize Mr. Durst and ask: do you want to consider this by paragraph or in toto?

MR. DURST: I think, Mr. Chairman, we can consider it in toto.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: All right. Proceed.

MR. DURST: Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, obviously, the matter that is presently before us is something which, really, we cannot decide at this time. As you know, as to section a, the president of this convention is to select a bipartisan committee to look into the desirability or the possibilities of submitting this document in November of 1962. At the time, of course, that the committee prepared this recommendation, we were in no position to know either what this convention would desire. It would be my recommendation and, I think, the recommendation of our committee that section a be approved by this committee at this time and prior to the time of third reading or, possibly, even as of some later date when we may assemble that this convention then may make a contrary decision as to when it should be submitted. But we would recommend that we approve this language as presently submitted, which is really the language of the 1908 constitution except for one style change, and that it stand until either second or third reading when we are in a better position to judge what we should like to do in this regard.

As to section b, this merely continues in office the elective officials. Actually, we have already taken care of this provision under the executive branch provision. I do not know how to do it, Mr. Chairman, at this time—am I in a position to move to strike a part of the report?

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: In the executive committee proposal?

MR. DURST: Well, the committee has not discussed it but this is the same language that has already been adopted in the executive branch article, or similar language.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: You may offer such an amendment, Mr. Durst.

MR. DURST: All right, then I will offer an amendment to strike section b, the reason being that we have already passed a provision of similar nature which has the same purpose and intent.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Durst, on behalf of the committee on miscellaneous provisions and schedule, offers the following amendment:

1. Amend the body of Committee Proposal 68 by striking out all of section b, lines 12 through 16, inclusive.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The question now is on the committee amendment to strike section b. Do you have further remarks, Mr. Durst, on that subject?

MR. DURST: I do not believe so, Mr. Chairman. Mr. Hanna is trying to say that we have not taken care of legislative officers. Actually, we have, and there is another provision previously approved in the schedule that takes care of that. I have on my desk a report from Dr. Joiner indicating that he has researched this question and he feels that this section b is in conflict with part of Committee Proposal 71, previously passed by the convention.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The question is on the Durst—Mr. Mahinske is recognized.

MR. MAHINSKE: I would like to direct a question to Mr. Durst and have him explain what the conflict is between 71 and this section b.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Mr. Durst is recognized.

MR. DURST: Between 71 and b there is no conflict. It is just a complete duplication.

MR. MAHINSKE: Well, if there is no conflict and if it is a complete duplication, I would not object to withdrawal; but is this the report you received from research: that it is an absolute duplication?

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Mr. Durst, you are recognized.

MR. DURST: I have no objection if it stays in to be removed by style and drafting, as far as that goes.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Do you withdraw the committee amendment, Mr. Durst?

MR. DURST: Well, I will withdraw it so we can carry on and they can take care of it there.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Without objection, the amendment is withdrawn. Would you like to proceed with your remarks?

MR. DURST: As to section c, yes. Again, we have before us a question which we are not yet ready to decide, and that is whether or not this whole constitution should be submitted as one whole document or whether it should be divided and some issues presented separately on the ballot. Again, I think it would be the wish of the committee that we approve this particular section at this time and reserve the right to make some different decision either on second or third reading.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The Chair will recognize Mr. Faxon.

MR. FAXON: Mr. Chairman, it seems to me that we are being a little bit premature in being asked to make a decision on a question on which the president and the committee are presently working, namely, the date and the time of submission of the constitution. I would wonder, then, in the light of having read over the report of the committee, the select committee that met to deal with this particular question, and seeing that they are going to attempt to bring in some conclusion on what the best time—whether they can submit it in November or not—by the twenty-eighth of this month, whether we could not pass over this section, this particular Committee Proposal 68 here, until a time certain, for instance, April 30, and at that time have the benefit of the knowledge and the information that the committee has found and not be put in the position of having to adopt something without having at our disposal the necessary information to make a qualified and deliberative judgment. So, if it is in order, Mr. Chairman, I would move that this section be passed over and put to the end of the calendar, at least to the end of miscellaneous provisions on April 30, at which time we will be able to act on this with more information.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Mr. Faxon, the Chair would advise that the end of the calendar, so far as committee of the whole is concerned, would be probably sometime tomorrow and that if you put this over, you are not going to have it considered in committee of the whole. It has to go through first reading in committee of the whole, which will be finished at that time.

MR. FAXON: Well, Mr. Chairman, as I understood it, the schedule is not, in the same vein, a part of the constitution. A schedule deals with the matter of presentation and it is not a part and parcel of the constitution. In other words, once the constitution goes into effect, this is not in the constitution any more and, therefore, it would seem to me that it would not come under the same treatment that we are giving to regular sections. This is something just to put it into effect. I wonder—Mr. Van Dusen is there—if he would respond to this.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Mr. Van Dusen is recognized.

MR. VANDUSEN: Mr. Chairman and Mr. Faxon, if we would all just sit quietly and let the chairman say that this section will pass, it is passed, it will then come up on April 30 for our consideration in the ordinary course of business on second reading.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Thank you, Mr. Van Dusen. Do you withdraw your amendment, Mr. Faxon, or do you—

MR. FAXON: Well, it was your opinion that my motion was not in order in light of the fact that this is committee of the whole, so that—am I correct?

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Well, you can persist in it.

MR. FAXON: No, in the light of your statement and that of Mr. Van Dusen—I simply wanted to call this to the attention of the delegates that this is something which is not a part of the constitution as such and we might be better off waiting until the thirtieth, but if Mr. Van Dusen assures me that this will be the time that we will consider this more completely, then I will withdraw it.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: It is subject to amendment on each reading. Mr. Erickson.

MR. ERICKSON: I just want to correct any impression — if it is left here — that the schedule is not part of the constitution because it really is. It has many parts which will perform a very essential function until we are through the transition period. So it is really part of the constitution.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Are there any amendments? Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. Chairman, I sympathize completely with the fatigue in Delegate Van Dusen's voice when he suggested we just have the chairman say that it is passed and it shall pass. I am not concerned about this part because, as Delegate Van Dusen and others have said, this will finally be acted upon on the third reading or final action.

I am a little concerned that this might be construed that we have unanimously decided to go ahead at this time contrary to the attorney general's opinion. I thought of offering an amendment and perhaps having the date blank but I think that would be even more confusing, so perhaps I end up agreeing with what the chairman of the rules committee said originally.

I just would like to state — and I believe it has been made clear — that our voting on this does not necessarily indicate that this is the final action and we will certainly want a chance to review it by the special committee the president has appointed to review this whole matter. I just hope that in acting on this we do not give it more import in the press and publicity than apparently the delegates are taking.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Are there any amendments on file, Mr. Secretary?

SECRETARY CHASE: None, Mr. Chairman.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: If not, the proposal will pass.

Committee Proposal 68 is passed. The secretary will read the next item.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 12 on the calendar, from the committee on miscellaneous provisions and schedule, by Mr. Erickson, chairman, Committee Proposal 61, A proposal pertaining to terms of public officers. Retains section 1, article XVI.

Following is Committee Proposal 61 as read by the secretary, and the reasons submitted in support thereof:

The committee recommends that the following be included in the constitution:

Sec. a. The terms of office of all elective state officers and of all judges of courts of record shall begin on the first day of January next succeeding their election, except as otherwise prescribed in this constitution. The terms of office of all county officers shall begin on the first day of January next succeeding their election, except as otherwise prescribed by law.

Mr. Erickson, chairman of the committee on miscellaneous provisions and schedule, submits the following reasons in support of Committee Proposal 61:

The committee recommends the inclusion of section 1 of article XVI of the constitution of 1908 without amendment.

The committee is of the opinion that the commencement of the terms of public officers may be changed by other decisions of the convention, but the section is reported to the committee of the whole so it will be a vehicle upon which such changes may be accomplished.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The Chair will recognize Mr. Erickson, the chairman of the committee.

MR. ERICKSON: This Committee Proposal 61 report will be handled by Delegate Bledsoe, who is the second vice chairman of the committee on miscellaneous provisions and schedule.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Mr. Erickson yields to Mr. Bledsoe.

MR. BLEDSOE: Mr. Chairman, Mr. Erickson and members of the committee of the whole, you have heard the secretary read this proposal and it comes to you without any changes whatsoever. It is the consensus of the committee, and I shall give to you this consensus which reads as follows:

[The supporting reasons were read by Mr. Bledsoe. For text, see above.]

And by so much we recommend that the committee of the whole adopt this proposal.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Does Mr. Erickson have further presentation? Are there any amendments to this proposal?

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Hutchinson offers the following amendment:

1. Amend page 1, line 7, after "officers" by inserting a comma and "members of the legislature,"; so the language will read:

The terms of office of all elective state officers, members of the legislature, and of all judges of courts of record shall begin on the first day of January . . .

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The Chair will recognize Mr. Hutchinson on the amendment.

MR. HUTCHINSON: Mr. Chairman, I offer this amendment in order to clear up an ambiguity which has rested in the Constitution of 1908 all of these years. I suppose that it never has been really settled as to when the term of the members of the legislature commences, whether it commences on the first day of January or whether it commences as of the opening of the regular session which is the second Wednesday in January. I do not think any real problem has arisen because nobody has raised the question, but it is there. Now it is there because of the fact that the language says that the terms of "all elective state officers" — and you would think that, in and of itself, that term would be all inclusive; and it would be all inclusive but for the fact that the constitution goes on and says "and all judges of courts of record," so that, apparently, judges of the courts of record are not to be included as state officers within this language. So you get around to the idea that they meant by "elective state officers" the governor, the lieutenant governor, the secretary of state, the state treasurer, the auditor general and the attorney general.

I think that this is purely a clarifying amendment. It will make it clear that just as you speak of the judges separately from the state officers in this language, if you will speak of the members of the legislature separately there will be no doubt at all when their term of office will commence. I think that we will have to remember, too, that somewhere along the line, perhaps in style and drafting — the executive article says that these terms of office begin at 12:00 o'clock noon on the first day of January and this will have to be made to conform.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The Chair will recognize Mr. William Hanna.

MR. W. F. HANNA: Mr. Chairman, if I may address a question to Mr. Erickson, please?

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: If Mr. Erickson cares to answer.

MR. W. F. HANNA: Mr. Erickson, in connection with this Committee Proposal 61, and in view of the action taken by this committee to have only fall elections, in November, could we not rephrase this — and I am asking this primarily for style and drafting — that all officials elected at a November election shall take office at 12:00 o'clock noon on the first day of January next following their election, and eliminate the problem of including some and leaving out some that has been faced either by Mr. Hutchinson's amendment or the construction placed on it over the years?

MR. ERICKSON: I believe that is a very good question, Mr. Chairman, Mr. Hanna. I have considerable confidence in the style and drafting committee and this will be one area that they will have to resolve. I am sure there will be several others that will have to have like treatment.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The Chair would advise that the question is on the Hutchinson amendment. Mr. Leppien.

MR. LEPPIEN: Mr. Chairman and fellow delegates, I would like to ask Delegate Hanna a question in view of his question to Delegate Erickson. According to your language, cost of doing business. It is the kind of thing by which, in essence, they justify their existence: namely, by assuming risks, providing capital and providing jobs and services—as well as making a profit for the stockholders. This is a part of the whole free enterprise system and it seems to me that we do a disservice to business to make a pronouncement on the floor of this convention that the way to encourage business is to let it avoid liability—with some semblance of teeth—for wage claims that are not satisfied.

I wish to remind the delegates that, in the last analysis, you do not have any protection at all unless you have solvent stockholders, and in many of these cases you do not have that. All you have here is a meager protection in the public interest—in the public interest as well as in the interest of the wage earner. I think that this particular amendment, bearing in mind all of the arguments that have been advanced—and very well said by Mr. Woolfenden and Mr. Habermehl and Mr. Snyder and Mr. Lawrence and Judge Mosier—with all these good arguments; nevertheless, I feel that this provision ought to be supported.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The Chair would remark that Monday will pass; it is past. The next speaker to be recognized is Mr. Snyder.

MR. SNYDER: What I wanted to say should have been said on Monday, so I will pass, Mr. Chairman.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: Thank you. Mr. Bledsoe.

MR. BLEDSOE: Mr. Chairman, there is just one issue that I would like to suggest: Mr. Lawrence speaks about this widow. Of course, it was a very touching note but she has a remedy. She has a remedy against the other stockholders. She is not left without a remedy.

In that regard, in answer to Mr. Norris, it would occur to me that there is the possibility of limiting the liability to the amount of stock that a shareholder has in the corporation and making that the extent of his liability rather than making the poor little widow with one share of stock carry the whole load. Now with an amendment like that, I think the matter could be improved; but, in addition to that, she also has a right against the stockholders themselves which labor does not have. So it is not just one sided.

And always remember this: if, through his labor—if, as the result of the labor of these people who work, the stockholders make a lot of money, the laborer does not make any profit. He does not get any of it. All he is entitled to is his labor. So the thing kind of balances up. And then, these rights we are involved with here are constitutional rights. We are not setting up an equity court. By virtue of that fact, I think this is the one little spark of protection that people have who work for a living. I think it is about the only spark in the constitution that protects them and I think it ought to be left there.

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The question is on the minority report amendment. There is one speaker left. The Chair will recognize Mr. Lawrence.

MR. LAWRENCE: If I were running for office, I think I would get more votes at this time of night if instead of talking I would just sit down. So if any of you feel so inclined, I am through. (applause)

CHAIRMAN YEAGER: The question is on the minority report amendment. The yeas and nays have been ordered. This is a recorded roll call vote. As many as are in favor of the minority report amendment will vote aye. As many as are opposed will vote no. The question, again, is on the adoption of the minority report amendment. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Second reading. We are on the proposals of the committee on declaration of rights, suffrage and elections. The secretary will read.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 1 on the calendar, Committee Proposal 15, A proposal to amend article II pertaining to the declaration of rights. It reads as follows—

MR. POLLOCK: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Pollock.

MR. POLLOCK: If it's in order, I suggest that we do not read this whole proposal.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Dr. Pollock that the proposal be considered read. Those in favor will say aye.

The motion prevails.

Following is Committee Proposal 15 as reported by the committee on style and drafting and considered read. (For full text as referred to said committee, see above, page 687.):

Sec. 1. All political power is inherent in the people. Government is instituted for their equal benefit, security and protection.

Sec. 2. The people have the right peaceably to assemble, to consult for the common good, to instruct their representatives and to petition the government for redress of grievances.

Sec. 3. Every person shall be at liberty to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience. No person shall be compelled to attend, or, against his consent, to contribute to the erection or support of any place of religious worship [;], or to pay tithes, taxes or other rates for the support of any minister of the gospel or teacher of religion. No money shall be appropriated or drawn from the treasury for the benefit of any religious sect or society, theological or religious seminary; nor shall property belonging to the state be appropriated for any such purpose. The civil and political rights, privileges and capacities of no person shall be diminished or enlarged on account of his religious belief.

Sec. 4. Every person may freely speak, write, express, and publish his views on all subjects, being responsible for would be interested in my opinions adoption of the constitution as a unit if it is submitted in that form. I wish we were not being called on at this time to make that final decision, but as things stand now I shall have to vote no on any proposal to submit it as a unit.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Erickson.

MR. ERICKSON: Mr. President, fellow delegates, I will submit it is most desirable to submit this document as one unit. I don't want to see it submitted in 6 to 10 different units. And I realize the work of style and drafting if that was done. But it would be very simple to take what appear to be the 2 most controversial subjects—and that would be practically no work for style and drafting—and that is to submit the matter of apportionment, and if that did not carry the way this convention voted it, we would go back to what we had. The same way with the second item, which would be the highway commissioner. If the people did not vote section h of Committee Proposal 71 in, we would go back to just the way we have it now and leave it with the legislature who at any time could make it appointive. And it does seem to me that we are rather autocratic if we present our work with the attitude of take it or leave it.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, the arguments advanced by Mr. Downs and Mr. Norris and by Mr. Erickson were considered carefully by the committee on rules and resolutions and, as I said, by a substantial bipartisan majority we felt that it should be submitted as a single document largely for the reasons expressed very well by Dr. Pollock. I would point out to Judge Dehnke that the reason that the decision must be made now is that the committee on style and drafting must within the next few days arrange this document into the form in which it will be submitted, and therefore the question is now upon us.

I strongly urge first the rejection of the Downs substitute and then the adoption of the committee amendment, which is to submit the matter as a single document, then the adoption of the resolution, as amended, so that style and drafting will have our guidance in this matter.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Blandford.

MR. BLANDFORD: Mr. President, I think that very few people in this convention could agree as to what is controversial and what is not. I believe our votes have proven this because we have had very few unanimous votes. Mr. Downs has asked this convention to accept either his version or the version of style and drafting as to what is controversial. I, for one, am not willing to do this, and I happen to be a member of style and drafting. There are items in this document that all of us have voted against. However, I am sure that most of us are willing to go out and work for and vote for this constitution in its entirety. Those who wish to submit this in sections, I feel, want a document modeled solely after their own whim and desire.

In government, the first lesson we learn is to give and take. Those who want this in sections only want to take. If voters study this constitution as closely as Mr. Downs says they will, I feel they will find 10 reasons for voting for this constitution to every single reason they will find for voting against it. In my judgment, that is why the document should be submitted in its entirety, and I certainly oppose the Downs substitute.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the substitute as offered by Mr. Downs and others. The yeas and nays have been demanded. Those in favor of the substitute as offered by Mr. Downs and others will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the substitute offered by Mr. Downs and others, the yeas are 36; the nays, 75.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The substitute is not adopted. The question now is on the amendment offered by the committee. Will the secretary read it?

SECRETARY CHASE: The committee amendment is:

[The amendment was again read by the secretary. For text, see above, page 3028.]

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I would simply repeat, as I said earlier, that the committee on rules and resolutions urges a yes vote on the amendment and on the resolution.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the amendment as offered by the committee. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The amendment is adopted. The question now is on Resolution 34, as amended. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no. Resolution 34, as amended, is adopted.

Following is Resolution 34 as amended and adopted:

A resolution regarding submission of the constitution to the people for ratification.

Whereas, The convention has not prepared a series of amendments to the present constitution, but has drafted an entirely new document; and

Whereas, The provisions of the proposed new constitution adopted to date are interrelated and decisions made have been interdependent; and

Whereas, The submission of the new constitution to the people in pieces rather than as a whole could result in confusion at the polls and in a patchwork document; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the new constitution proposed by this convention shall be submitted to the people for acceptance or rejection as a single document.

PRESIDENT NISBET (continuing): The secretary will read the next proposal.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 16 on the calendar, Committee Proposal 68, A proposal pertaining to the schedule. Amends sections 10, 6 and 11 of the schedule.

Following is Committee Proposal 68 as reported by the committee on style and drafting and read by the secretary. (For text as referred to said committee, see above, page 2490.):

Sec. a. This constitution shall be submitted to the people for their adoption or rejection at the general election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state [to] forthwith TO give notice of such submission to all other officers required to give or publish any notice in regard to [said] SUCH election[,] HE SHALL [to] give notice [as provided by law in case of an election for governor,] that this constitution will be duly submitted to the electors at [said] SUCH election. THE NOTICE SHALL BE GIVEN IN THE MANNER REQUIRED FOR THE ELECTION OF GOVERNOR.

Sec. b. All officers elected [under the 1908 constitution as amended and the existing laws] on the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962[,] UNDER THE 1908 CONSTITUTION AS AMENDED AND EXISTING LAWS shall take office on and after the first day of January, 1963, and complete the term to which they were elected.

Sec. c. Every registered [voter] ELECTOR may vote on [said] THE adoption OF THE CONSTITUTION, [or rejection, and] The board of election commissioners in each county shall cause to be printed on a ballot separate from the ballot containing the names of the nominees for office, the words "Adoption of the Revised Constitution () Yes." "Adoption of the Revised Constitution () No." All votes cast at [said] THIS election shall be taken, counted, canvassed and returned as provided by law for the election of state officers. Should the revised constitution so submitted receive more votes in its favor than [shall be] WERE cast against it, it shall be the supreme law of the state on and after the first day of January, 1963, except as [herein] otherwise provided IN THIS CONSTITUTION; otherwise it shall be rejected].

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Erickson.

MR. ERICKSON: Mr. President and fellow delegates, this committee proposal contains 3 elements: the first is that the election on this new constitution will be held next November; the second is that all officers elected at that election will serve out the term for which they are elected; and the third provides for the submission of the document as one package. I urge the adoption of this.

PRESIDENT NISBET: There is an amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Binkowski offers the following amendment:

1. Amend page 2, following line 2, by inserting a new section d to read as follows:

"Sec. d. Stockholders of a corporation or joint stock association shall be liable for that portion of all labor performed for the corporation or association, and for all other contractual and legal obligations that arise out of the course of employment for such corporation or association, that the number of shares held bears to the total number of shares outstanding."

MR. GUST: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Gust.

MR. GUST: I would like to relieve Messrs. Danhof and Van Dusen, if I may, and move that debate on this, which was thoroughly thrashed out in committee of the whole, be limited to 5 minutes.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Gust. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. Mr. Binkowski.

MR. BINKOWSKI: Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the convention, because of the time limitation and because of the fact, I think, if I judge the mood of the convention, that we are not in for very long speeches, I doubt very seriously the statement made by Mr. Gust that this was thoroughly discussed, but be that as it may—

MISS DONNELLY: Mr. President, point of order. Is this germane?

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The point of order is well taken. This is not germane to this subject.

MR. BINKOWSKI: Mr. President, may I have a ruling? I asked and inquired about the possibility of submitting this as an amendment. I think that the convention and the Chair should be aware that Exclusion Report 2033 eliminated the present section 4 of the article on corporations in our present constitution. Now, may I ask: if it is not germane at this point, at what point would this amendment be germane? This is not new matter, I submit, Mr. President. This is matter which is in the constitution which we had decided to delete. I offer a compromise.

MR. HABERMEHL: Mr. President, perhaps I have a suggestion: one section of the corporation article still remains in the constitution. It has been adopted on second reading. On third reading, clearly Mr. Binkowski's amendment would be germane to that section.

MR. BINKOWSKI: Query, Mr. President. That amendment is not germane to the banking section at all. I don't see the germaneness of it.

PRESIDENT NISBET: It certainly is not germane to this section, Mr. Binkowski.

MR. BINKOWSKI: May I offer the amendment at the end of all committee proposals with respect to miscellaneous provisions?

MR. GADOLA: Mr. President, may we have it on the wall here so we can know what we are talking about?

MR. DURST: Mr. President, I realize that this perhaps is not germane. I think, however, Mr. Binkowski should have the right to at least present this and get his vote, and if it is necessary, I would move that the rules be suspended and that he be allowed to offer this amendment.

PRESIDENT NISBET: A sustained point of order cannot be abrogated by a motion to suspend the rule. Miss Donnelly, do you insist on your point of order or do you withdraw?

MISS DONNELLY: I insist upon my point of order at this time. If this comes up at the end of everything, it is something else—a proposal of its own. It is not germane. You can't suspend the rules and make it germane.

PRESIDENT NISBET: That is correct. It is not germane to this section.

MR. ERICKSON: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Erickson.

MR. ERICKSON: May I make the suggestion that we follow the same procedure we had before? You could call this Committee Proposal 68A if you wish to dispose of this so we won't take too much time on this.

MR. BINKOWSKI: I would be very amenable to this, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Binkowski, it seems that the best time to offer this is to follow Mr. Habermehl's suggestion and offer it to the corporation section when it comes up on third reading.

MR. BINKOWSKI: Mr. President, that is your ruling then, so that on third reading the point of order of germaneness then will be out of order?

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Binkowski, you may bring this up under the corporations article on third reading.

MR. BINKOWSKI: Thank you, Mr. President.

MR. ERICKSON: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Erickson.

MR. ERICKSON: I don't believe there will be an article on corporations when it comes from style and drafting.

PRESIDENT NISBET: There is an article on banking in there somewhere, Mr. Erickson. The secretary will read the next amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Austin offers the following amendment to Committee Proposal 68:

1. Amend page 1, line 19, [section c] after "Yes.", by strike out the 2 quotation marks and "Adoption of the Revised Constitution"; so the language will read:

The board of election commissioners in each county shall cause to be printed on a ballot separate from the ballot containing the names of the nominees for office, the words "Adoption of the Revised Constitution () Yes. () No."

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Austin.

MR. AUSTIN: Mr. President and fellow delegates, this is a matter that I raised in the committee on style and drafting, and it was felt at that time that it was perhaps a little too substantive to resolve in the committee, so I agreed to raise the question on the floor.

The way the language reads now for placing the question of the adoption of the constitution on the ballot is:

"Adoption of the Revised Constitution () Yes." "Adoption of the Revised Constitution () No."

It does seem as though this language could be confusing if those who have the responsibility of placing the matter on the ballot have no alternative. It would seem that it would be much better to simply include in the constitution: "Adoption of the Revised Constitution () Yes. () No.", so that the voter would have no questions in his mind as to what he is doing. He would vote either yes or no on the adoption of the revised constitution. To have that second expression there, "Adoption of the Revised Constitution () No.", may be a little confusing, and I would simply suggest that we delete this second reference to the language, "Adoption of the Revised Constitution." I think it will only confuse the voter.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Erickson.

MR. ERICKSON: Well, this was really something that style and drafting could have ordered. I don't believe it goes to the substance, and I don't believe the committee would have any objection to this change.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Tubbs.

MR. TUBBS: Mr. President, I agree fully with Delegate Austin. It will be just the same as voting for a person: John Doe () Yes. John Doe () No. I think, though, the language should be, more properly: shall the revised constitution be adopted? () Yes. () No.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Martin.

MR. MARTIN: Mr. Tubbs made my point, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Garvin.

MR. GARVIN: Mr. President and delegates, I am at this moment not in favor of the language of style and drafting in section c, nor am I quite sold on Mr. Austin's amendment, and I will tell you the reason why: in Chicago in 1958 when they were trying to get through a new judiciary article the referendum got enough votes to carry, but about 100,000 persons improperly wrote yes on the ballot instead of marking the prescribed X. And then in parentheses—this was in Fortune magazine:

The bar associations clearly needed a lawyer. Their costly reform campaign had been built on the slogan, "Vote Yes for the judicial article." The state supreme court of Illinois finally ruled 6 to 1 that the yes votes where they had written yes were not valid, and reform died again.

It will be up for another vote next year.

I just submit that to style and drafting so that a little more thought can be placed on this even than just the Austin amendment, so we will not run into the difficulty of persons writing in yes or no when it is supposed to be an X. I am merely submitting that, and for the time being I don't believe that I can vote for the Austin amendment or section c of this committee proposal.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Buback.

MR. BUBACK: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I agree with Delegate Tubbs and Delegate Austin that this should be revised slightly. I would suggest we should add the words: do you favor the adoption of the revised constitution? () Yes () No. Then the people definitely will know what they are voting on.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the Austin amendment. Mr. Hanna.

MR. W. F. HANNA: Mr. President, fellow delegates, I would support the Austin amendment for clarification. I, however, would not want the language of Mr. Buback because it would result in only an advisory vote. If we are going to reword it, it should be: shall the revised constitution be adopted? We do not need the repetition. I urge that you vote for Mr. Austin's amendment.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the Austin amendment. Those in favor will vote aye. Opposed, no.

The amendment is adopted. The secretary will read the next amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Faxon offers the following amendment:

1. Amend page 1, line 3, [section a] after "Monday of" by striking out "November, 1962" and inserting "April, 1963".

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Faxon.

MR. FAXON: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I am sure that many of you have already given consideration to what merits there might be to having this question put before the people either in November or in April. Just as a matter of saving ourselves perhaps unnecessary court action, if we went ahead and put it in April, there wouldn't be any problem. But I do think that there are certain factors that are involved in a November election that will in some ways not act to the best interests of the adoption of the constitution. First of all, when we have a November election, there are many other questions that will be before the people. Not only will there be proposed amendments to the constitution of 1908 put on the ballot, but we will be voting for candidates for the office of governor, the state ad board, senate, the legislature, plus local elections that may be occurring at the same time throughout the state. All this will only serve to cloud up the picture which is a very important one; namely, that of adopting a new constitution.

It will have taken us 7½ months to write this new document. Somehow, there are delegates who feel that we ought to take it while it is fresh, run out and have the people vote for it. I think that a new constitution of this sort requires a process of education, and if it took us 7½ months to prepare this and to educate ourselves to understanding the different parts and changes that we have made, I hesitate to think the length of time it would take to inform the people as to what we have done here. I don't say that we have to do it. I simply suggest that an additional amount of time will accrue to the benefit of better informing the people as to what is contained in the document.

Another reason I think we ought to consider is the fact that April will be an issue unto itself. There are many people that will want to vote on this and I am certain they will come out and vote on it, and I think we are better able to pinpoint the time and pinpoint the issues if we leave the product of our constitutional convention, in and of itself, something for the people to approve or reject. By giving this to the people in April of 1963, we will be able to concentrate on that single factor. It will be removed from the hot political battles that will take place in November and, all in all, I think it will accrue much to our advantage if you would give this your consideration.

I really believe that this will take an educating process. It takes time to get this disseminated. It takes time to meet the different people, and I think the people would appreciate the consideration that you would be showing them by leaving this an issue for their single consideration in April, rather than putting this altogether on an already crowded ballot in November. For these reasons I would urge your adoption of this amendment.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Danhof.

MR. DANHOF: Mr. President, may I inquire how many speakers there are?

PRESIDENT NISBET: Two.

MR. DANHOF: I would move to limit debate on this amendment to 10 minutes.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Danhof. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. Mr. Erickson.

MR. ERICKSON: Mr. President, fellow delegates, I just want to remind the delegation that the president has appointed a select committee to look into this matter of whether the election can be held next November, and I suggest we leave the committee report as is until third reading, and perhaps we will have a report by that time. That will be plenty of time to change it, on third reading, if we find it so necessary.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Pollock.

MR. POLLOCK: Mr. President and members of the convention, I do not find Mr. Faxon's reasons very convincing. He hasn't lived long enough, I think, to study the voting habits of the electorate of Michigan, and what he says about the time that we have taken to deliberate on this convention has nothing to do with the capacity of the electorate to keep its attention fixed for a long period of time on something with which it is not very familiar.

It seems to me indubitable that the citizens of this state will know much more about this constitution in November than they will in April, and I have the greatest respect for the members of the committee which I think quite overwhelmingly recommend this date.

I agree with the members of the committee of the whole which also, by a very large vote, decided that this should be the date, and I don't think any decision of ours should be mixed up with the legal question. Whatever the legal decision is as to our rights in the matter, it would seem to me this convention should say that this is when it wants the constitution submitted. My best judgment, based upon a lifetime of study of the habits of the voting electorate on issues and on candidates, leads me to the conclusion—and I won't argue it any further—that we would be well advised to submit this constitution in November of 1962.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I think perhaps the delegates might appreciate a brief report from the select committee which is considering the legal aspects of the matter. We have had 2 meetings. We have had the benefit of memoranda from 3 distinguished members of the faculty at the University of Michigan law school and from the associate dean of the Wayne University law school, and while we have reached no final conclusion, I think perhaps some brief interim report to you might be helpful at this time.

First, we have concluded that the convention is bound by the provisions of the 1908 constitution if that constitution gives the convention a clear directive as to the date of submission. The question then is, does the 1908 constitution give the convention a clear directive? As to that, we are satisfied that the literal language of the constitution directs a submission in April of 1963.

On the other hand, our review of the debates of the 1908 convention and an investigation made directly with the draftsmen of the 1960 amendment leave some question, because apparently neither the draftsmen of the 1908 constitution nor the draftsmen of the 1960 amendment gave any consideration to the possibility that a convention might last beyond the first Monday in April following the convening of that convention, and it therefore appears that neither the 1908 draftsmen nor the 1960 draftsmen actually expressed themselves on the situation with which we are presently confronted. As a matter of fact, the draftsmen of the 1960 amendment all believed that the provision which they were submitting to the voters called for the submission of the constitution at the first general election occurring at least 90 days after the final adjournment of the convention, and on this basis it appears that there is a reasonable argument that the present constitution makes no provision for the present situation, and that the convention is free to direct the submission of the new constitution in November.

There are 2 possible means available for obtaining a judicial determination of the question. One is a petition to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus. The other is a petition for a declaration of rights. The committee is of the opinion that because the mandamus action would not be available until after the final adjournment of the convention, the petition for declaratory judgment is the preferable remedy. We have not made a determination as yet as to whether a declaratory judgment should be sought. The question is a policy determination for the convention to make. We have further work to do on the general question. It does appear, however, that a reasonable argument may be made that the convention has the power under the present constitution to direct the submission of the document in November.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hutchinson.

MR. HUTCHINSON: Mr. President, I would like to invite Mr. Faxon's attention to a technical flaw in his amendment. As I read it, if his amendment were adopted, this would be submitted to the people on the Tuesday following the first Monday in April. I point out to you that there will be a statewide election on the first Monday in April. The biennial spring election will be on Monday. Then under Mr. Faxon's amendment we would turn right around on the next day and have another state election, a most confusing situation. And I wonder how many people could be persuaded to go to the polls the second day in a row.

MR. FAXON: Mr. President, I would be willing to correct my amendment in line with Delegate Hutchinson's remarks.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Hodges.

MR. HODGES: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I rise in support of the Faxon amendment on the grounds not only of the legal questions, but on the wisdom of holding it in April. It seems to me that many of our actions here have been dictated by what we felt on both sides of the aisle might conceivably have an effect on the coming statewide elections to be held in November.

It seems to me it would be tragic if the work of the constitutional convention became enmeshed and intertwined in the statewide elections which will be held in November, and I think this obviously is going to be the case if they are held in November. It seems to me it would be much better if the constitution itself was fought out on the issues of the constitution and whether it is good or bad for the state of Michigan, and that the statewide elections be held on the question of statewide offices and statewide problems and that we separate the 2 so that the voters can intelligently look at both questions which are separate questions. I think the political implications in that would dictate that the document would have a much better chance of being thoroughly studied in and of itself without other considerations if it is to be held in April. For that reason I support it.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The secretary will read the amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Faxon's amendment, as revised, now reads:

1. Amend page 1, line 2, [section a] after "held on the" by striking out "Tuesday after the"; and in line 3, after "Monday of" by striking out "November, 1962" and inserting "April, 1963"; so that the language will then read, "at the general election to be held on the first Monday of April, 1963."

MR. FAXON: The yeas and nays, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The yeas and nays have been demanded. Is the demand seconded? Not a sufficient number up.

MR. FAXON: Division.

PRESIDENT NISBET: A division has been demanded. Is the demand supported? It is supported. The question is on the Faxon amendment. Those in favor will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and tally the vote.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the adoption of the amendment offered by Mr. Faxon, the yeas are 21; the nays are 77.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The amendment is not adopted. The secretary will read the next amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Messrs. Austin and Tubbs offer the following amendment:

1. Amend page 1, line 18, [section c] after "the words" by striking out the quotation mark and "Adoption of the Revised Constitution" and inserting a quotation mark and "Shall the revised Constitution be adopted?" so the language will read, "... containing the names of the nominees for office, the words "Shall the revised constitution be adopted? () Yes. () No."

PRESIDENT NISBET: Delegates, please clear the board. The Chair recognizes Mr. Austin.

MR. AUSTIN: Mr. President and fellow delegates, this is merely a language change which does not change anything substantively. I think it makes the question a little bit clearer. It is put in the form of a question, and I don't think any voter will have any problem in determining what he is voting on. Mr. Tubbs and I concur in this, and we did check it with Mr. Cudlip, the chairman of the committee on style and drafting. I urge you to support this amendment.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Erickson.

MR. ERICKSON: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I would defer to some of the election officials who are more familiar with presenting this in an objective manner.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Buback.

MR. BUBACK: Mr. President, fellow delegates, I wholeheartedly support this amendment.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the Austin amendment. Those in favor will vote aye. Opposed, no.

The amendment is adopted. The question now is on Committee Proposal 68, as amended. Those in favor of Committee Proposal 68 as amended will vote aye. Those opposed will vote nay.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: I think I was trying to get the floor before you called the vote.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair is sorry.

MR. DOWNS: Could I ask a question of Mr. Erickson?

PRESIDENT NISBET: Yes.

MR. DOWNS: The problem that some of us have—and you have raised about the November date—who may think we should go along with the attorney general's opinion, could this be left blank until the special legal committee speaks or is our only way to indicate disagreement to vote no on the proposal?

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Downs, this could be amended on third reading. Mr. Erickson.

MR. ERICKSON: Mr. President, fellow delegates and Mr. Downs, I didn't make a statement that I go along with the attorney general's opinion. I was referring to the select committee that the president had appointed, until we heard from them and they had their final report. My suggestion was to leave it the way it is, and then we could get additional information, and then on third reading if we find we are not on the right track, at that time would be plenty of time to change it to any proper date.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President, I went along on that in committee of the whole. I would like to abstain on this one because of the confusion on the date.

PRESIDENT NISBET: You may do so. Those in favor vote aye. Those opposed vote nay. Have you all voted?

MISS HART: I abstain.

MR. BUBACK: I abstain.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Miss Hart and Mr. Buback abstain. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

The roll was called and the delegates voted as follows:

PRESIDENT NISBET: Committee Proposal 68, as amended, is passed and referred to the committee on style and drafting.

Following is Committee Proposal 68 as amended and rereferred to the committee on style and drafting:

Sec. a. This constitution shall be submitted to the people for their adoption or rejection at the general election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state forthwith to give notice of such submission to all other officers required to give or publish any notice in regard to such election. He shall give notice that this constitution will be duly submitted to the electors at such election. The notice shall be given in the manner required for the election of governor.

Sec. b. All officers elected on the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962 under the 1908 Constitution as amended and existing laws shall take office on and after the first day of January, 1963, and complete the term to which they were elected.

Should the revised constitution so submitted receive more votes in its favor than were cast against it, it shall be the supreme law of the state on and after the first day of January, 1963, except as otherwise provided in this constitution.

PRESIDENT NISBET (continuing): The secretary will read the next proposal.

SECRETARY CHASE: Item 6 on the calendar, which was postponed to the foot of the calendar, Committee Proposal 67, A proposal to amend article XIII, sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, pertaining to eminent domain, of the present constitution.

Following is Committee Proposal 67 as reported by the committee on style and drafting and read by the secretary. (For text as referred to said committee, see above, page 2848.):

Sec. a. Private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation therefor being first made or secured in a manner prescribed by law.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair recognizes Mr. Erickson.

MR. ERICKSON: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I yield to Delegate Mahinske.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Mahinske.

MR. MAHINSKE: At this time we find ourselves in a position of having the federal constitutional provision as the proposed new constitutional provision. I think there are amendments on the secretary's desk.

SECRETARY CHASE: Messrs. Habermehl and Mahinske offer the following amendment:

1. Amend page 1, line 2, after "compensation" by striking out the balance of the section and inserting "for the taking

Article IV

Legislative Branch

Sec. 1. The legislative power of the State of Michigan is vested in a senate and a house of representatives.

Sec. 2. The senate shall consist of 38 members[,] to be elected from single member districts at the same [time] ELECTION as the governor for [4] FOUR-year terms concurrent with the term of office of the governor.

In districting the state for the purpose of electing senators after the official publication of the total population count of each federal decennial census, each county shall be assigned an apportionment factor equal to the sum of its percentage of the state's population as shown by the last regular federal decennial census computed to the nearest [1/100] ONE-ONE HUNDREDTH of one percent multiplied by [4] FOUR and its percentage of the state's land area computed to the nearest [1/100] ONE-ONE HUNDREDTH of one percent.

In arranging the state into senatorial districts, the apportionment commission shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Counties with 13 or more apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. After each such county has been allocated one senator, the remaining senators to which this class of counties [are] IS entitled shall be distributed among such counties by the method of equal proportions applied to the apportionment factors.

(2) Counties having less than 13 apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment FACTORS of the state computed to the nearest whole number. Such counties shall thereafter be arranged into senatorial districts that are compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, as rectangular in shape as possible, and having as nearly as possible 13 apportionment factors, but in no event less than 10 or more than 16. Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there [shall be] IS a failure to comply with the above standards.

(3) Counties entitled to [2] TWO or more senate districts shall be [further sub]divided into single member districts. The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the county by the number of senators to which it is entitled. Each such district shall follow incorporated city or township boundary lines to the extent possible and shall be compact, contiguous, and as nearly uniform in shape as possible.

Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of 110 members elected for [2] TWO-year terms from single member districts apportioned on a basis of population as [hereinafter] provided IN THIS ARTICLE. The districts shall consist of compact and convenient territory contiguous by land.

Each county which has a population of not less than [7/10] SEVEN-TENTHS of one percent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative area. Each county having less than [7/10] SEVEN-TENTHS of one percent of the population of the state shall be combined with another county or counties to form a representative area of not less than [7/10] SEVEN-

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

TENTHS of one percent of the population of the state. Any county which is isolated under the initial allocation as [herein] provided IN THIS SECTION shall be joined with that contiguous representative area having the smallest percentage of the state's population. Each such representative area shall be entitled initially to one representative.

After the assignment of one representative to each of the representative areas, the remaining house seats shall be apportioned among the representative areas on the basis of population by the method of equal proportions.

Any county comprising a representative area entitled to [2] TWO or more representatives shall be divided into single member representative districts as follows:

(1) The population of [each] SUCH districtS shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the representative area by the number of representatives to which it is entitled.

(2) Such single member districts shall follow city and township boundaries where applicable and shall be composed of compact and contiguous territory as nearly square in shape as possible.

Any representative area consisting of more than one county, entitled to more than one representative, shall be divided into single member districts as equal as possible in population adhering to county lines.

Sec. 4. In counties having more than one representative or senatorial district, the territory in the same county annexed to or merged with a city between apportionments shall become a part of a contiguous representative or senatorial district in the city with which it is combined upon the effective date of the annexation or merger[.]. THE DISTRICTS WITH WHICH THE TERRITORY SHALL BE COMBINED SHALL BE [as] determined by ordinance of the city certified to the secretary of state.

[No legislator shall be deemed to have vacated his office by virtue of the above section.] NO SUCH CHANGE IN THE BOUNDARIES OF A REPRESENTATIVE OR SENATORIAL DISTRICT SHALL HAVE THE EFFECT OF REMOVING A LEGISLATOR FROM OFFICE DURING HIS TERM.

Sec. 5. ISLAND AREAS ARE CONSIDERED TO BE CONTIGUOUS BY LAND TO THE COUNTY OF WHICH THEY ARE A PART.

Sec. 6. A commission on legislative apportionment is hereby established consisting of [8] EIGHT persons, [4] FOUR of whom shall be selected by the state organizations of each of the [2] TWO political parties whose candidates for governor received the highest vote at the last general election AT WHICH A GOVERNOR WAS ELECTED preceding each apportionment. If a candidate for governor of a third political party has received at such election more than 25 percent of such gubernatorial vote, the commission shall consist of 12 members, [4] FOUR of whom shall be selected by the state organization of the third political party. One member of the commission shall be selected by each political party organization from each of the following [4] FOUR regions: (1) The upper peninsula; (2) The northern part of the lower peninsula, north of a line drawn along the northern boundaries of the counties of Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana; (3) Southwestern Michigan, those counties south of region (2) and west of a line drawn along the western boundaries of the counties of Bay, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Ingham, Jackson and Hillsdale; (4) Southeastern Michigan, the remaining counties of the state.

The commission shall elect its own chairman, shall make its own rules of procedure, and shall receive compensation provided by law. The legislature shall appropriate funds [necessary] to enable the commission to carry out its activities.

Within 30 days after the adoption of this constitution, and after the official total population count of each federal decennial census of the state and its political subdivisions is available, the secretary of state shall issue a call convening the commission not less than 30 nor more than 45 days thereafter. The commission shall complete its work within 180 days after all necessary census information is available. The commission shall proceed to DISTRICT AND apportion[, and district,] the senate and house of representatives according to the provisions of this constitution. The secretary of state shall keep a public record of all the proceedings of the commission and shall be responsible for the publication and distribution of each plan.

SECRETARY CHASE: Nineteen.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Not a sufficient number up. The question remains upon the motion to postpone. The previous question has been ordered. All those in favor —

MR. G. E. BROWN: Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Garry Brown.

MR. G. E. BROWN: For the reasons I have previously stated, I wish to abstain.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Garry Brown abstains. All those in favor of the motion to postpone will say aye. Opposed will say no.

The motion prevails.

DELEGATES: Division.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Division is called for. Is the demand for division supported?

SECRETARY CHASE: Sufficient number.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The demand is supported. All those in favor of postponing will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the total.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the motion to postpone consideration of the motion to reconsider until Friday, the yeas are 73; the nays are 47.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The motion prevails. The matter is postponed until Friday.

The secretary will read the schedule.

SECRETARY CHASE: Schedule and temporary provisions.

To insure the orderly transition from the constitution of 1908 to this constitution the following schedule is set forth to be effective for such period as its provisions require.

[The schedule, sections 1 through 17, was read by the secretary. For text, see above, page 3073.]

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The schedule has been read a third time.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. Cudlip, on behalf of the committee on style and drafting, requests that the following corrections be made in the schedule of the proposed revision of the constitution:

section	column	line	Corrections
5	2	36	After "GOVERNOR," insert "THE".
5	2	37	After "GOVERNOR," insert "THE".
5	2	38	Before "ATTORNEY" insert "THE".
6	2	47	After "IV" insert a comma.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Without objection, it is so ordered. [Corrections made above.] The secretary will report on amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: Messrs. Brake, Garry Brown, Dehnke, W. F. Hanna and Rood offer the following amendment:

1. Amend the schedule, section 6 (column 2, line 52) after "census," by inserting "unless the legislature by joint resolution shall give prior effect to said Article IV, Section 2,"; so the language will then read:

Until the apportionment of the senate following the 1970 census, unless the legislature by joint resolution shall give prior effect to said Article IV, Section 2, the senatorial districts under the 1908 constitution shall remain intact except that upon the adoption of this constitution each of the counties of Kent, Genesee, Macomb and Oakland shall be divided by the apportionment commission into two senatorial districts and Wayne county into eight senatorial districts in accordance with this constitution.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I move to limit debate on this amendment to 5 minutes.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: On the motion to limit debate upon this amendment to 5 minutes, all those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. Debate is limited. The Chair recognizes Judge Dehnke.

Explanation—Matter within [] is stricken, matter in capitals is new.

MR. DEHNKE: Mr. President and fellow delegates, this section 6 of the schedule is before you and this amendment proposes an addition of some words to deal with possible contingencies that may arise in the next few years. The amendment is to add after the word "census" as stated in the amendment, the words "and unless otherwise provided by law enacted after the effective date of this constitution, giving immediate effect to said Article IV, Section 2." The proviso is designed to take care of possible contingencies and give the legislature authorization to deal with them. This amendment is presented in the hope that it will serve a useful purpose in that respect.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Garry Brown is recognized next. I will recognize you next, Mr. Downs.

MR. G. E. BROWN: I will pass to Mr. Downs.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Through the Chair, could I ask Judge Dehnke if he could be a little more specific about the contingencies he referred to?

MR. DEHNKE: Well, Mr. President and Mr. Downs, I think all of us have lived long enough that in this life we have to expect contingencies; there will be anticipated and unanticipated contingencies. It is my expectation that this language will be sufficient to meet both kinds. (laughter and applause)

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Downs, have you concluded?

MR. DOWNS: I am more confused than when the question was asked, but I want to thank Judge Dehnke.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Garry Brown.

MR. G. E. BROWN: Mr. President and members of the convention, I would first direct a question to the Chair and ask you how many speakers are on the list.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: None at the moment.

MR. NORD: Mr. President.

MR. G. E. BROWN: I would — I would —

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Nord seeks recognition. I have one.

MR. G. E. BROWN: I would then yield to Mr. Nord with the right to be restored to the floor.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Well, does Mr. Nord accept the floor being yielded on that condition?

MR. NORD: I do not.

MR. DEHNKE: Mr. President, may I make a correction in the statement I made before? The amendment reads a little differently from the way I read it a few minutes ago. It is correct on the board. It is, "... unless the legislature by joint resolution shall give prior effect to said Article IV, Section 2."

MR. G. E. BROWN: Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Garry Brown.

MR. G. E. BROWN: Since I was entitled to the floor, there is only one thing I would have to say. I would support what Judge Dehnke has said. That is that occasions may suggest what this amendment suggests, or there may be an occasion when it is required. I think that is simple enough. I think that Mr. Downs understands it. I think that Dr. Nord understands it.

I would only suggest to Dr. Nord — when he refuses to accept the floor when it has been yielded to him — that I don't have too much credit to give to, or take much substance from, the argument of those who will not let someone else have at least a chance to answer what they have said.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Nord.

MR. NORD: Mr. President, I don't know to whom Mr. Brown is referring, but I suppose it is some delegate or other. But in any event, I would like to answer not Mr. Brown but Judge Dehnke. It appears to me that this amendment suffers from 2 defects. The problem that faces us is a severe problem. The language before us is unconstitutional language. I believe many of us are quite clear in our minds on that point and what we have before us on the wall is too little — that is one defect — and it is too late — that is the other. By "too late" I mean that the time to make this cure is now and not some time between now and 1970. Now.

I suggest, therefore, that if we are going to tackle the problem let us tackle it here, tonight, or on Friday. Let us not turn it over to the legislature. The language before us is extremely objectionable and, while there may not be much on the wall for you to look at, I believe if everyone will look closely at the wall you will find the handwriting on the wall. I cannot accept this amendment.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Garry Brown.

MR. G. E. BROWN: Mr. President and members of the convention, I think that Dr. Nord has answered his own suggestion. That is that the handwriting is on the wall. It is clear. It is unequivocal. I think it should be supported. It takes care of a situation that none of us can contemplate at this time, but it certainly is language that will permit the legislature to implement the provisions that we have written into this constitution.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Time is up.

MR. G. E. BROWN: Thank you.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Time for debate upon this amendment has expired. The question is upon the adoption of the amendment. All those in favor of the amendment —

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I —

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Downs, time for debate has expired. The Chair thought you were going to make a motion.

MR. DOWNS: Oh, I am sorry.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: All those in favor of the amendment will say aye. Opposed will say no.

The amendment is adopted. Are there any further amendments? The question is upon the adoption of the schedule. Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President, I was over eager and I apologize to the convention.

I rise on this one to point out that in section 16 and 17 we are mandating that this document be presented in one package to the people and that it be presented in November, although the attorney general has ruled that it must be presented in April. Some of us have put in a resolution to ask that the document be divided. I do not want to impose on the time of the convention to reargue those points but simply point out that I am concerned that the opposition to some of the bad parts may jeopardize the passage of what I believe most voters would consider good parts. I think the November instead of the April date, when the attorney general has so ruled, raises some other questions. For those reasons, along with some of the others on the matter of the transition, I do urge a no vote.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I move to limit further debate on the schedule to 5 minutes.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: On the motion to limit debate to 5 minutes upon the schedule, all those in favor will say aye. Opposed will say no.

The motion prevails. Debate is limited. The Chair will recognize Mr. Nord.

MR. NORD: Mr. President, in listening to the principal objection voiced by Mr. Downs, namely, that in section 16 of this article which refers to the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962 — that that is an objectionable date. First of all I would like to elaborate on that. But, in addition to that, I will have 2 further statements to make as to objections.

As to the November, 1962, ballot date, that has already been ruled by the attorney general to be unconstitutional. It appears to me that once more we are putting into our own constitution something that is unconstitutional. But the odd thing about this one is that this is the only provision I know of that could be put into our constitution that would violate the Michigan constitution. The other violation has to do with the federal constitution. I object to section 16 having the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962, on the ground that it is unconstitutional. The other 2 objections, I believe, are more important, however.

One of them is the one I referred to a minute ago, to section 6. Section 6 would delay the apportionment, such as it is, until 1970 and gives the legislature the power to do something which they have failed to do in the past for almost 40 years in the senate. That is to reapportion. That fails to cure the unconstitutionality of that section. What is required is apportionment now and not power to somebody without mandate to do so. I believe that that was unconstitutional a few minutes ago before the amendment and that it remains unconstitutional at the present time. My conclusion about section 6 is this: in my opinion, it is simply a half baked effort to deal with the problem of unconstitutionality under the federal constitution. So, as to sections 16 and 6, we have an unconstitutionality as to the Michigan constitution and another one as to the federal constitution.

Finally, as to section 5: section 5, which lists the ad board — the elected ad board — there you will find only half of the ad board as we know it. And I suggest to the delegates that that is objectionable because it is what I would term a half ad board. And a half ad board is not as good as a complete ad board. (laughter)

Therefore, Mr. President, those are the 3 objections: we have a half ad board, we have a half baked effort to cure unconstitutionality, and we have a third section which clearly is unconstitutional under the Michigan constitution. Therefore, I cannot accept this schedule.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Walker.

MR. WALKER: No, I pass.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Garry Brown.

MR. G. E. BROWN: Mr. President and members of the convention, I shall be very brief. I will only say that with respect to what Dr. Nord has said — and it answers all of his propositions and his objections and what have you — is that the attorney general does not determine the constitutionality of matters such as the one before us. Neither does Dr. Nord.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The question is upon the adoption of the schedule. All those in favor of the adoption of the schedule, as amended, will vote aye. Those opposed will vote no. Have you all voted? If so, the secretary will lock the machine and record the vote.

The roll was called and the delegates voted as follows:

SECRETARY CHASE: On the adoption of the schedule and temporary provisions, as amended, the yeas are 90; the nays are 28.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: A majority of the delegates elect having voted therefor, the schedule and temporary provisions, as amended, are adopted and passed.

For sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7 through 17 of the schedule and temporary provisions as passed, see above, page 3073.

Following is section 6 of the schedule and temporary provisions as amended and passed:

Sec. 6. The state shall be districted for the purpose of electing senators in accordance with the provisions of Article IV, Section 2 after the official publication of the total population count of the 1970 decennial federal census. Until the apportionment of the senate following the 1970 census, unless the legislature by joint resolution shall give prior effect to said Article IV, Section 2, the senatorial districts under the 1908 constitution shall remain intact except that upon the adoption of this constitution each of the counties of Kent, Genesee, Macomb and Oakland shall be divided by the apportionment commission into two senatorial districts and Wayne county into eight senatorial districts in accordance with this constitution.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON (continuing): Reports of standing committees.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Before we take reports of standing committees, I would like to move that the constitution as now adopted be referred to the committee on style and drafting, so that it may have an opportunity to review it tomorrow.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: That is under the rules, isn't it?

MR. VAN DUSEN: I don't think there is anything in the rules that provides for it. It is one of the omissions of the rules.

MR. DOWNS: Point of order, Mr. President.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: What's the point, Mr. Downs?

MR. DOWNS: I believe the point would be the articles are adopted and not the constitution is adopted; since we have not voted on the entire package.

MR. VAN DUSEN: I will accept Mr. Downs' amendment, Mr. President.

MR. DOWNS: Mine is not an amendment, but if you wish to restate the motion, it would be in order; (laughter) or I will make it as an amendment.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The question is upon the motion of Mr. Van Dusen to refer to the committee on style and drafting the several articles which have been adopted. All those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails and the preamble, the articles and the schedule and temporary provisions, as amended, are referred to the committee on style and drafting.

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON (continuing): Without objection, we will return to the order of reports of standing committees.

SECRETARY CHASE: The committee on rules and resolutions, by Mr. Van Dusen, chairman, submits the following report—

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. Secretary, could you read Resolution 96 first?

SECRETARY CHASE: The committee on rules and resolutions, by Mr. Van Dusen, chairman, reports back to the convention Resolution 96, A resolution authorizing and directing the commencement of an action against the secretary of state seeking a declaration of the right of the convention to require the submission of the proposed new constitution to the electors in November, 1962; without amendment and with the recommendation that the resolution be adopted.

R. C. Van Dusen, chairman.

The resolution is as follows:

VICE PRESIDENT HUTCHINSON: The question is upon the adoption of the resolution. Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, the convention has just adopted a provision of the schedule of the constitution directing the submission of the new constitution to the voters at the election to be held November 6, 1962. The secretary of state has advised the president of this convention in writing that he will not comply with the direction of the convention, that he is bound by the opinion of the attorney general that the appropriate time for submission is April, 1963. Consequently, we are confronted with a collision between the action of this convention and the opinion of the attorney general which the secretary of state says he must follow.

If this matter is to be resolved, it must be resolved by the courts of this state. The select committee appointed by the president to consider this matter, as you know, took no position on the policy question of when the proposed constitution should be submitted but has, in anticipation of the action which the convention has now taken, adopted and recommended to the convention the resolution which the secretary has just read, which will implement that decision insofar as it is legally possible to do so.

The course of action contemplated by the resolution is the commencement of an action in the circuit court for Ingham county

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the State of Michigan, grateful to Almighty God for the blessings of freedom, and earnestly desiring to secure these blessings undiminished to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution.

Article II Elections

Sec. 1. Every citizen of the United States who has attained the age of 21 years, who has resided in this state six months, and who meets the requirements of local residence provided by law, shall be an elector and qualified to vote in any election except as otherwise provided in this constitution. Sec. 2. The legislature may by law exclude persons from voting because of mental incompetence or commitment to a jail or penal institution.

Sec. 3. The legislature shall not permit voting by any person who meets the voting residence requirements of the state to which he has removed.

Sec. 4. The legislature shall enact laws to regulate the time, place and manner of all nominations and elections, except as otherwise provided in this constitution or in the constitution and laws of the United States. The legislature shall enact laws to preserve the purity of elections, to preserve the secrecy of the ballot, to guard against abuses of the elective franchise, and to provide for a system of voter registration and absentee voting. No law shall be enacted which permits a candidate in any partisan primary or partisan election to have a ballot designation except when required for identification of candidates for the same office who have the same or similar surnames.

Sec. 5. Except for special elections to fill vacancies, or as otherwise provided in this constitution, all elections for national, state, county and township offices shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in each even-numbered year or on such other date as members of the congress of the United States are regularly elected.

Sec. 6. Whenever any question is required to be submitted by a political subdivision to the electors which involves the increase of any ad valorem tax rate limitation for a period of more than five years, or the issue of bonds, only electors in, and who have property assessed for any ad valorem taxes in, any part of the district or territory to be affected by the result of such election or electors who are the lawful husbands or wives of such persons shall be entitled to vote thereon. All electors in the district or territory affected may vote on all other questions.

Sec. 7. A board of state canvassers of four

Sec. 8. Laws shall be enacted to provide for the recall of all elective officers except judges of courts of record upon petition of electors equal in number to 25 percent of the number of persons voting in the last preceding election for the office of governor in the electoral district of the officer sought to be recalled. The sufficiency of any statement of reasons or grounds procedurally required shall be a political rather than a judicial question.

Sec. 9. The people reserve to themselves the power to propose laws and to enact and reject laws, called the initiative, and the power to approve or reject laws enacted by the legislature, called the referendum. The power of initiative extends only to laws which the legislature may enact under this constitution. The power of referendum does not extend to acts making appropriations for state institutions or to meet deficiencies in state funds and must be invoked in the manner prescribed by law within 90 days following the final adjournment of the legislative session at which the law was enacted. To invoke the initiative or referendum, petitions signed by a number of registered electors, not less than eight percent for initiative and five percent for referendum of the total vote cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected shall be required.

No law as to which the power of referendum properly has been invoked shall be effective thereafter unless approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at the next general election.

Any law proposed by initiative petition shall be either enacted or rejected by the legislature without change or amendment within 40 session days from the time such petition is received by the legislature. If any law proposed by such petition shall be enacted by the legislature it shall be subject to referendum, as hereinafter provided.

If the law so proposed is not enacted by the legislature within the 40 days, the state officer authorized by law shall submit such proposed law to the people for approval or rejection at the next general election. The legislature may reject any measure so proposed by initiative petition and propose a different measure upon the same subject by a yea and nay vote upon separate roll calls, and in such event both measures shall be submitted by such state officer to the electors for approval or rejection at the next general election.

Any law submitted to the people by either initiative or referendum petition and approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon at any election shall take effect 10 days after the date of the official declaration of the vote. No law initiated or adopted by the people shall be subject to the veto power of the governor, and no law adopted by the people at the polls under the initiative provisions of this section shall be amended or repealed, except by a vote of the electors or three-fourths of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature. Laws approved by the people under the referendum provision of this section may be amended by the legislature at any subsequent session thereof. If two or more measures approved by the electors at the same election conflict, that receiving the highest affirmative vote shall prevail.

The legislature shall implement the provisions of this section.

Any other provision of this constitution notwithstanding, an officer or employee of the state or of any such unit of government or subdivision or agency thereof may serve on or with any governmental body established for the purposes set forth in this section and shall not be required to relinquish his office or employment by reason of such service. The legislature may impose such restrictions, limitations or conditions on such service as it may deem appropriate.

Sec. 6. The state shall not be a party to, nor be financially interested in, any work of internal improvement, nor engage in carrying on any such work, except for public internal improvements provided by law.

Sec. 8. Either house of the legislature or the governor may request the opinion of the supreme court on important questions of law upon solemn occasions as to the constitutionality of legislation after it has been enacted into law but before its effective date.

Article IV Legislative Branch

Sec. 1. The legislative power of the State of Michigan is vested in a senate and a house of representatives.

Sec. 2. The senate shall consist of 38 members to be elected from single member districts at the same election as the governor for four-year terms concurrent with the term of office of the governor.

In districting the state for the purpose of electing senators after the official publication of the total population count of each federal decennial census, each county shall be assigned an apportionment factor equal to the sum of its percentage of the state's population as shown by the last regular federal decennial census computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent multiplied by four and its percentage of the state's land area computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent.

In arranging the state into senatorial districts, the apportionment commission shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Counties with 13 or more apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. After each such county has been allocated one senator, the remaining senators to which this class of counties is entitled shall be distributed among such counties by the method of equal proportions applied to the apportionment factors.

(2) Counties having less than 13 apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. Such counties shall thereafter be arranged into senatorial districts that are compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, as rectangular in shape as possible, and having as nearly as possible 13 apportionment factors, but in no event less than 10 or more than 16. Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there is a failure to comply with the above standards.

(3) Counties entitled to two or more senate districts shall be divided into single member districts. The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the county by the number of senators to which it is entitled. Each such district shall follow incorporated city or township boundary lines to the extent possible and shall be compact, contiguous, and as nearly uniform in shape as possible.

Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of 110 members elected for two-year terms from single member districts apportioned on a basis of population as provided in this article. The districts shall consist of compact and convenient territory contiguous by land.

Each county which has a population of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative area. Each county having less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall be combined with another county or counties to form a representative area of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state. Any county which is isolated under the initial allocation as provided in this section shall be joined with that contiguous representative area having the smallest percentage of the state's population. Each such representative area shall be entitled initially to one representative.

After the assignment of one representative to each of the representative areas, the remaining house seats shall be apportioned among the representative areas on the basis of population by the method of equal proportions.

Any county comprising a representative area entitled to two or more representatives shall be divided into single member representative districts as follows:

(1) The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the representative area by the number of representatives to which it is entitled.

(2) Such single member districts shall follow city and township boundaries where applicable and shall be composed of compact and contiguous territory as nearly square in shape as possible.

Any representative area consisting of more than one county, entitled to more than one representative, shall be divided into single member districts as equal as possible in population adhering to county lines.

Sec. 4. In counties having more than one representative or senatorial district, the territory in the same county annexed to or merged with a city between apportionments shall become a part of a contiguous representative or senatorial district in the city with which it is combined, if provided by ordinance of the city. The district or districts with which the territory shall be combined shall be determined by such ordinance certified to the secretary of state. No such change in the boundaries of a representative or senatorial district shall have the effect of removing a legislator from office during his term.

Sec. 5. Island areas are considered to be contiguous by land to the county of which they are a part.

Sec. 6. A commission on legislative apportionment is hereby established consisting of eight persons, four of whom shall be selected by the state organizations of each of the two political parties whose candidates for governor received the highest vote at the last general election at which a governor was elected preceding each apportionment. If a candidate for governor of a third political party has received at such election more than 25 percent of such gubernatorial vote, the commission shall consist of 12 members, four of whom shall be selected by the state organization of the third political party. One member of the commission shall be selected by each political party organization from each of the following four regions: (1) The upper peninsula; (2) The northern part of the lower peninsula, north of a line drawn along the northern boundaries of the counties of Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Nwaygo and Oceana; (3) Southwestern Michigan, those counties south of region (2) and west of a line drawn along the western boundaries of the counties of Bay, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Ingham, Jackson and Hillsdale; (4) Southeastern Michigan, the remaining counties of the state.

No officers or employees of the federal, state or local governments, excepting notaries public and members of the armed forces reserve, shall be eligible for membership on the commission. Members of the commission shall not be eligible for election to the legislature until two years after the apportionment in which they participated becomes effective.

The commission shall be appointed immediately after the adoption of this constitution and whenever apportionment or districting of the legislature is required by the provisions of this constitution. Members of the commission shall hold office until each apportionment or districting plan becomes effective. Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as for original appointment.

The secretary of state shall be secretary of the commission without vote, and in that capacity shall furnish, under the direction of the commission, all necessary technical services. The commission shall elect its own chairman, shall make its own rules of procedure, and shall receive compensation provided by law. The legislature shall appropriate funds to enable the commission to carry out its activities.

Within 30 days after the adoption of this constitution, and after the official total population count of each federal decennial census of the state and its political subdivisions is available, the secretary of state shall issue a call convening the commission not less than 30 nor more than 45 days thereafter. The commission shall complete its work within 180 days after all necessary census information is available. The commission shall proceed to district and apportion the senate and house of representatives according to the provisions of this constitution. All final decisions shall require the concurrence of a majority of the members of the commission. The commission shall hold public hearings as may be provided by law.

Each final apportionment and districting plan shall be published as provided by law within 30 days from the date of its adoption and shall become law 60 days after publication. The secretary of state shall keep a public record of all the proceedings of the commission and shall be responsible for the publication and distribution of each plan.

If a majority of the commission cannot agree on a plan, each member of the commission, individually or jointly with other members, may submit a proposed plan to the supreme court. The supreme court shall determine which plan complies most accurately with the constitutional requirements and shall direct that it be adopted by the commission and published as provided in this section.

Upon the application of any elector filed not later than 60 days after final publication of the plan, the supreme court, in the exercise of original jurisdiction, shall direct the secretary of state or the apportionment commission to perform their duties, may review any final plan adopted by the commission, and shall remand such plan to the commission for further action if it fails to comply with the requirements of this constitution.

Sec. 7. Each senator and representative must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years of age, and an elector of the district he represents. The removal of his domicile from the district shall be deemed a vacation of the office. No person who has been convicted of subversion or who has within the preceding 20 years been convicted of a felony involving a breach of public trust shall be eligible for either house of the legislature.

Sec. 8. No person holding any office under the United States or this state or a political subdivision thereof, except notaries public and officers of the armed forces reserve, may be a member of either house of the legislature.

Sec. 9. No person elected to the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this

1 state from the governor, except notaries public,
2 from the legislature, or from any other state
3 authority, during the term for which he is elected.

4 Sec. 10. No member of the legislature nor any 5 state officer shall be interested directly or in-6 directly in any contract with the state or any 7 political subdivision thereof which shall cause a
8 substantial conflict of interest. The legislature
9 shall further implement this provision by appro-
10 priate legislation.

11 Sec. 11. Senators and representatives shall be 12 privileged from civil arrest and civil process dur-
13 ing sessions of the legislature and for five days
14 next before the commencement and after the 15 termination thereof. They shall not be ques-
16 tioned in any other place for any speech in either
17 house.

18 Sec. 12. The compensation and expense al-
19 lowances of the members of the legislature shall 20 be determined by law. Changes in compensation
21 or expense allowances shall become effective only 22 when legislators commence their terms of office
23 after a general election.

24 Sec. 13. The legislature shall meet at the seat
25 of government on the second Wednesday in Janu-
26 ary of each year at twelve o'clock noon. Each
27 regular session shall adjourn without day, on a 28 day determined by concurrent resolution, at 29 twelve o'clock noon. Any business, bill or joint 30 resolution pending at the final adjournment of 31 a regular session held in an odd numbered year
32 shall carry over with the same status to the 33 next regular session.

34 Sec. 14. A majority of the members elected
35 to and serving in each house shall constitute a 36 quorum to do business. A smaller number in 37 each house may adjourn from day to day, and 38 may compel the attendance of absent members in 39 the manner and with penalties as each house may 40 prescribe.

41 Sec. 15. There shall be a bi-partisan legisla-
42 tive council consisting of legislators appointed in 43 the manner prescribed by law. The legislature
44 shall appropriate funds for the council's opera-
45 tions and provide for its staff which shall main-
46 tain bill drafting, research and other services
47 for the members of the legislature. The council 48 shall periodically examine and recommend to the 49 legislature revision of the various laws of the 50 state.

51 Sec. 16. Each house, except as otherwise pro-
52 vided in this constitution, shall choose its own
53 officers and determine the rules of its proceedings,
54 but shall not adopt any rule that will prevent a 55 majority of the members elected thereto and 56 serving therein from discharging a committee
57 from the further consideration of any measure.
58 Each house shall be the sole judge of the quali-
59 fications, elections and returns of its members, 60 and may, with the concurrence of two-thirds of

1 all the members elected thereto and serving
2 therein, expel a member. The reasons for such 3 expulsion shall be entered in the journal, with 4 the votes and names of the members voting upon
5 the question. No member shall be expelled a
6 second time for the same cause.

7 Sec. 17. Each house of the legislature may 8 establish the committees necessary for the effi-
9 cient conduct of its business and the legislature
10 may create joint committees. Each committee
11 shall by roll call vote record the vote and name 12 of all action on bills and resolutions taken in 13 the committee. Such vote shall be available for 14 public inspection. Notice of all committee hear-15 ings and a clear statement of all subjects to be 16 considered at each hearing shall be published in 17 the journal in advance of the hearing.

18 Sec. 18. Each house shall keep a journal of 19 its proceedings, and publish the same unless the 20 public security otherwise requires. The record
21 of the vote and name of the members of either
22 house voting on any question shall be entered 23 in the journal at the request of one-fifth of the 24 members present. Any member of either house
25 may dissent from and protest against any act,
26 proceeding or resolution which he deems injuri-
27 ous to any person or the public, and have the 28 reason for his dissent entered in the journal.

29 Sec. 19. All elections in either house or in 30 joint convention and all votes on appointments
31 submitted to the senate for advice and consent
32 shall be published by vote and name in the journal.

33 Sec. 20. The doors of each house shall be open
34 unless the public security otherwise requires.

35 Sec. 21. Neither house shall, without the con-
36 sent of the other, adjourn for more than two 37 intervening calendar days, nor to any place other 38 than where the legislature may then be in session.

39 Sec. 22. All legislation shall be by bill and 40 may originate in either house.

41 Sec. 23. The style of the laws shall be: The 42 People of the State of Michigan enact.

43 Sec. 24. No law shall embrace more than one
44 object, which shall be expressed in its title. No
45 bill shall be altered or amended on its passage
46 through either house so as to change its original 47 purpose as determined by its total content and 48 not alone by its title.

49 Sec. 25. No law shall be revised, altered or 50 amended by reference to its title only. The section 51 or sections of the act altered or amended shall 52 be re-enacted and published at length.

53 Sec. 26. No bill shall be passed or become a 54 law at any regular session of the legislature until 55 it has been printed or reproduced and in the pos-
56 session of each house for at least five days. Every 57 bill shall be read three times in each house be-58 fore the final passage thereof. No bill shall be-59 come a law without the concurrence of a majority 60 of the members elected to and serving in each house. On the final passage of bills, the votes and names of the members voting thereon shall be entered in the journal.

Sec. 27. No act shall take effect until the expiration of 90 days from the end of the session at which it was passed, but the legislature may give immediate effect to acts by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and serving in each house.

Sec. 28. When the legislature is convened on extraordinary occasions in special session no bill shall be passed on any subjects other than those expressly stated in the governor's proclamation or submitted by special message.

Sec. 29. The legislature shall pass no local or special act in any case where a general act can be made applicable, and whether a general act can be made applicable shall be a judicial question. No local or special act shall take effect until approved by two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house and by a majority of the electors voting thereon in the district affected. Any act repealing local or special acts shall require only a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house and shall not require submission to the electors of such district.

Sec. 30. The assent of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature shall be required for the appropriation of public money or property for local or private purposes.

Sec. 31. The general appropriation bills for the succeeding fiscal period covering items set forth in the budget shall be passed or rejected in either house of the legislature before that house passes any appropriation bill for items not in the budget except bills supplementing appropriations for the current fiscal year's operation. Any bill requiring an appropriation to carry out its purpose shall be considered an appropriation bill. One of the general appropriation bills as passed by the legislature shall contain an itemized statement of estimated revenue by major source in each operating fund for the ensuing fiscal period, the total of which shall not be less than the total of all appropriations made from each fund in the general appropriation bills as passed.

Sec. 32. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax.

Sec. 33. Every bill passed by the legislature shall be presented to the governor before it becomes law, and the governor shall have 14 days measured in hours and minutes from the time of presentation in which to consider it. If he approves, he shall within that time sign and file it with the secretary of state and it shall become law. If he does not approve, and the legislature has within that time finally adjourned the session at which the bill was passed, it shall not become law. If he does not approve, and the legislature continues the session at which the bill was passed, he shall return it within such 14-day period with his objections, to the house in which it originated. That house shall enter such objections in full in its journal and reconsider the bill. If two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in that house pass the bill notwithstanding the objections of the governor, it shall be sent with the objections to the other house for reconsideration. The bill shall become law if passed by two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in that house. The vote of each house shall be entered in the journal with the votes and names of the members voting thereon. If any bill is not returned by the governor within such 14-day period, the legislature continuing in session, it shall become law as if he had signed it.

Sec. 34. Any bill passed by the legislature and approved by the governor, except a bill appropriating money, may provide that it will not become law unless approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon.

Sec. 35. All laws enacted at any session of the legislature shall be published in book form within 60 days after final adjournment of the session, and shall be distributed in the manner provided by law. The prompt publication of judicial decisions shall be provided by law. All laws and judicial decisions shall be free for publication by any person.

Sec. 36. No general revision of the laws shall be made. The legislature may provide for a compilation of the laws in force, arranged without alteration, under appropriate heads and titles.

Sec. 37. The legislature may by concurrent resolution empower a joint committee of the legislature acting between sessions to suspend until the end of the next regular legislative session any rule or regulation of an administrative agency promulgated when the legislature is not in regular session.

Sec. 38. The legislature may provide by law the cases in which any office shall be vacant and the manner of filling vacancies where no provision is made in this constitution.

Sec. 39. In order to insure continuity of state and local governmental operations in periods of emergency only, resulting from disasters occurring in this state caused by enemy attack on the United States, the legislature may provide by law for prompt and temporary succession to the powers and duties of public offices, of whatever nature and whether filled by election or appointment, the incumbents of which may become unavailable for carrying on the powers and duties of such offices; and enact other laws necessary and proper for insuring the continuity of governmental operations. Notwithstanding the power conferred by this section, elections shall always be called as soon as possible to fill any vacancies in elective offices temporarily occupied by operation of any legislation enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section.

Sec. 40. The legislature may by law establish a liquor control commission which, subject to statutory limitations, shall exercise complete control of the alcoholic beverage traffic within this state, including the retail sales thereof. The legislature may provide for an excise tax on such sales. Neither the legislature nor the commission may authorize the manufacture or sale of alcoholic beverages in any county in which a majority of the electors voting thereon shall prohibit the same.

Sec. 41. The legislature shall not authorize any lottery nor permit the sale of lottery tickets.

Sec. 42. The legislature may provide for the incorporation of ports and port districts, and confer power and authority upon them to engage in work of internal improvements in connection therewith.

Sec. 43. No general law providing for the incorporation of trust companies or corporations for banking purposes, or regulating the business thereof, shall be enacted, amended or repealed except by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house.

Sec. 44. The legislature may authorize a trial by a jury of less than 12 jurors in civil cases.

Sec. 45. The legislature may provide for indeterminate sentences as punishment for crime and for the detention and release of persons imprisoned or detained under such sentences.

Sec. 46. No law shall be enacted providing for the penalty of death.

Sec. 47. The legislature may authorize the employment of chaplains in state institutions of detention or confinement.

Sec. 48. The legislature may enact laws providing for the resolution of disputes concerning public employees, except those in the state classified civil service.

Sec. 49. The legislature may enact laws relative to the hours and conditions of employment.

Sec. 50. The legislature may provide safety measures and regulate the use of atomic energy and forms of energy developed in the future, having in view the general welfare of the people of this state.

Sec. 51. The public health and general welfare of the people of the state are hereby declared to be matters of primary public concern. The legislature shall pass suitable laws for the protection and promotion of the public health.

Sec. 52. The conservation and development of the natural resources of the state are hereby declared to be of paramount public concern in the interest of the health, safety and general welfare of the people. The legislature shall provide for the protection of the air, water and other natural resources of the state from pollution, impairment and destruction.

Sec. 53. The legislature by a majority vote of the members elected to and serving in each house, shall appoint an auditor general, who shall be a certified public accountant licensed to practice in this state, to serve for a term of eight years. He shall be ineligible for appointment or election to any other public office in this state from which compensation is derived while serving as auditor general and for two years following the termination of his service. He may be removed for cause at any time by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and serving in each house. The auditor general shall conduct post audits of financial transactions and accounts of the state and of all branches, departments, offices, boards, commissions, agencies, authorities and institutions of the state established by this constitution or by law, and performance post audits thereof.

The auditor general upon direction by the legislature may employ independent accounting firms or legal counsel and may make investigations pertinent to the conduct of audits. He shall report annually to the legislature and to the governor and at such other times as he deems necessary or as required by the legislature. He shall be assigned no duties other than those specified in this section.

Nothing in this section shall be construed in any way to infringe the responsibility and constitutional authority of the governing boards of the institutions of higher education to be solely responsible for the control and direction of all expenditures from the institutions' funds.

The auditor general, his deputy and one other member of his staff shall be exempt from classified civil service. All other members of his staff shall have classified civil service status.

Article V

Executive Branch

Sec. 1. The executive power is vested in the governor.

Sec. 2. All executive and administrative offices, agencies and instrumentalities of the executive branch of state government and their respective functions, powers and duties, except for the office of governor and lieutenant governor and the governing bodies of institutions of higher education provided for in this constitution, shall be allocated by law among and within not more than 20 principal departments. They shall be grouped as far as practicable according to major purposes.

Subsequent to the initial allocation, the governor may make changes in the organization of the executive branch or in the assignment of functions among its units which he considers necessary for efficient administration. Where these changes require the force of law, they shall be set forth in executive orders and submitted to the legislature. Thereafter the legislature shall have 60 calendar days of a regular session, or a full session if of shorter duration, to disapprove each executive order. Unless disapproved in both houses by a resolution concurred in by a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house, each order shall become effective at a date thereafter to be designated by the governor.

Sec. 3. The head of each principal department shall be a single executive unless otherwise provided in this constitution or by law. The single executives heading principal departments shall include a secretary of state, a state treasurer and an attorney general. When a single executive is the head of a principal department, unless elected or appointed as otherwise provided in this constitution, he shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate and he shall serve at the pleasure of the governor.

When a board or commission is at the head of a principal department, unless elected or appointed as otherwise provided in this constitution, the members thereof shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate. The term of office and procedure for removal of such members shall be as prescribed in this constitution or by law.

Terms of office of any board or commission created or enlarged after the effective date of this constitution shall not exceed four years except as otherwise authorized in this constitution. The terms of office of existing boards and commissions which are longer than four years shall not be further extended except as provided in this constitution.

Sec. 4. Temporary commissions or agencies for special purposes with a life of no more than two years may be established by law and need not be allocated within a principal department.

Sec. 5. At no time shall an examining or licensing board of a profession include less than a majority of members of that profession.

Sec. 6. Appointment by and with the advice and consent of the senate when used in this constitution or laws in effect or hereafter enacted means appointment subject to disapproval by a majority vote of the members elected to and serving in the senate if such action is taken within 60 session days after the date of such appointment. Any appointment not disapproved within such period shall stand confirmed.

Sec. 7. Vacancies in any office, appointment to which requires advice and consent of the senate, shall be filled by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate. A person whose appointment has been disapproved by the senate shall not be eligible for an interim appointment to the same office.

Sec. 8. Each principal department shall be under the supervision of the governor unless otherwise provided by this constitution. The governor shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government and may require information in writing from all executive and administrative state officers, elective and appointive, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

The governor may initiate court proceedings in the name of the state to enforce compliance with any constitutional or legislative mandate, or to restrain violations of any constitutional or legislative power, duty or right by any officer, department or agency of the state or any of its political subdivisions. This authority shall not be construed to authorize court proceedings against the legislature.

Sec. 9. Single executives heading principal departments and the chief executive officers of principal departments headed by boards or commissions shall keep their offices at the seat of government except as otherwise provided by law, superintend them in person and perform duties prescribed by law.

Sec. 10. The governor shall have power and it shall be his duty to inquire into the condition and administration of any public office and the acts of any public officer, elective or appointive. He may remove or suspend from office for gross neglect of duty or for corrupt conduct in office, or for any other misfeasance or malfeasance therein, any elective or appointive state officer, except legislative or judicial, and shall report the reasons for such removal or suspension to the legislature.

Sec. 11. The governor may make a provisional appointment to fill a vacancy occasioned by the suspension of an appointed or elected officer, other than a legislative or judicial officer, until he is reinstated or until the vacancy is filled in the manner prescribed by law or this constitution.

Sec. 12. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the armed forces and may call them out to execute the laws, suppress insurrection and repel invasion.

Sec. 13. The governor shall issue writs of election to fill vacancies in the senate or house of representatives. Any such election shall be held in a manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 14. The governor shall have power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons after convictions for all offenses, except cases of impeachment, upon such conditions and limitations as he may direct, subject to procedures and regulations prescribed by law. He shall inform the legislature annually of each reprieve, commutation and pardon granted, stating reasons therefor.

Sec. 15. The governor may convene the legislature on extraordinary occasions.

Sec. 16. The governor may convene the legislature at some other place when the seat of government becomes dangerous from any cause.

Article IX

Finance and Taxation

13 Sec. 1. The legislature shall impose taxes suf-14 ficient with other resources to pay the expenses of 15 state government.

16 Sec. 2. The power of taxation shall never be 17 surrendered, suspended or contracted away.

18 Sec. 3. The legislature shall provide for the 19 uniform general ad valorem taxation of real and 20 tangible personal property not exempt by law. The 21 legislature shall provide for the determination of 22 true cash value of such property; the proportion 23 of true cash value at which such property shall 24 be uniformly assessed, which shall not, after 25 January 1, 1966, exceed 50 percent; and for a sys-
26 tem of equalization of assessments. The legislature 27 may provide for alternative means of taxation of 28 designated real and tangible personal property in 29 lieu of general ad valorem taxation. Every tax
30 other than the general ad valorem property tax 31 shall be uniform upon the class or classes on 32 which it operates.

33 Sec. 4. Property owned and occupied by non-34 profit religious or educational organizations and 35 used exclusively for religious or educational pur-
36 poses, as defined by law, shall be exempt from 37 real and personal property taxes.

38 Sec. 5. The legislature shall provide for the 39 assessment by the state of the property of those 40 public service businesses assessed by the state
41 at the date this constitution becomes effective, and 42 of other property as designated by the legislature,
43 and for the imposition and collection of taxes
44 thereon. Property assessed by the state shall be 45 assessed at the same proportion of its true 46 cash value as the legislature shall specify for 47 property subject to general ad valorem taxation.
48 The rate of taxation on such property shall be 49 the average rate levied upon other property in this 50 state under the general ad valorem tax law, or,
51 if the legislature provides, the rate of tax applicable
52 to the property of each business enterprise assessed
53 by the state shall be the average rate of ad valorem
54 taxation levied upon other property in all counties
55 in which any of such property is situated.

56 Sec. 6. Except as otherwise provided in this 57 constitution, the total amount of general ad valo-
58 rem taxes imposed upon real and tangible per-59 sonal property for all purposes in any one year
60 shall not exceed 15 mills on each dollar of the

1 assessed valuation of property as finally equalized.
2 Under procedures provided by law, which shall
3 guarantee the right of initiative, separate tax
4 limitations for any county and for the townships
5 and for school districts therein, the aggregate of 6 which shall not exceed 18 mills on each dollar of 7 such valuation, may be adopted and thereafter
8 altered by the vote of a majority of the qualified
9 electors of such county voting thereon, in lieu 10 of the limitation hereinbefore established. These 11 limitations may be increased to an aggregate of 12 not to exceed 50 mills on each dollar of valuation,
13 for a period of not to exceed 20 years at any one
14 time, if approved by a majority of the electors, 15 qualified under Section 6 of Article II of this 16 constitution, voting on the question.

17 The foregoing limitations shall not apply to 18 taxes imposed for the payment of principal and 19 interest on bonds or other evidences of indebted-20 ness or for the payment of assessments or con-
21 tract obligations in anticipation of which bonds
22 are issued, which taxes may be imposed without 23 limitation as to rate or amount; or to taxes im-
24 posed for any other purpose by any city, vil-
25 lage, charter county, charter township, charter
26 authority or other authority, the tax limitations
27 of which are provided by charter or by general
28 law.

29 In any school district which extends into two 30 or more counties, property taxes at the highest 31 rate available in the county which contains the 32 greatest part of the area of the district may be 33 imposed and collected for school purposes through-34 out the district.

35 Sec. 7. No income tax graduated as to rate
36 or base shall be imposed by the state or any of 37 its subdivisions.

38 Sec. 8. The legislature shall not impose a 39 sales tax on retailers at a rate of more than 40 four percent of their gross taxable sales of 41 tangible personal property.

42 Sec. 9. All specific taxes, except general sales
43 and use taxes and regulatory fees, imposed di-
44 rectly or indirectly on fuels sold or used 45 to propel motor vehicles upon highways and on 46 registered motor vehicles shall, after the payment
47 of necessary collection expenses, be used exclusi-
48 vely for highway purposes as defined by law.

49 Sec. 10. One-eighth of all taxes imposed on 50 retailers on taxable sales at retail of tangible 51 personal property shall be used exclusively for 52 assistance to townships, cities and villages, on 53 a population basis as provided by law. In de-
54 termining population the legislature may exclude 55 any portion of the total number of persons who 56 are wards, patients or convicts in any tax sup-
57 ported institution.

58 Sec. 11. There shall be established a state
59 school aid fund which shall be used exclusively 60 for the support of public education and school employees' retirement systems, as provided by law. One-half of all taxes imposed on retailers on taxable sales at retail of tangible personal property, and other tax revenues provided by law, shall be dedicated to this fund. Payments from this fund shall be made in full on a scheduled basis, as provided by law.

Sec. 12. No evidence of state indebtedness shall be issued except for debts authorized pursuant to this constitution.

Sec. 13. Public bodies corporate shall have power to borrow money and to issue their securities evidencing debt, subject to this constitution and law.

Sec. 14. To meet obligations incurred pursuant to appropriations for any fiscal year, the legislature may by law authorize the state to issue its full faith and credit notes in which case it shall pledge undedicated revenues to be received within the same fiscal year for the repayment thereof. Such indebtedness in any fiscal year shall not exceed 15 percent of undedicated revenues received by the state during the preceding fiscal year and such debts shall be repaid at the time the revenues so pledged are received, but not later than the end of the same fiscal year.

Sec. 15. The state may borrow money for specific purposes in amounts as may be provided by acts of the legislature adopted by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house, and approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at any general election. The question submitted to the electors shall state the amount to be borrowed, the specific purpose to which the funds shall be devoted, and the method of repayment.

Sec. 16. The state, in addition to any other borrowing power, may borrow from time to time such amounts as shall be required, pledge its faith and credit and issue its notes or bonds therefor, for the purpose of making loans to school districts as provided in this section.

If the minimum amount which would otherwise be necessary for a school district to levy in any year to pay principal and interest on its qualified bonds, including any necessary allowances for estimated tax delinquencies, exceeds 13 mills on each dollar of its assessed valuation as finally equalized, or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, then the school district may elect to borrow all or any part of the excess from the state. In that event the state shall lend the excess amount to the school district for the payment of principal and interest. If for any reason any school district will be or is unable to pay the principal and interest on its qualified bonds when due, then the school district shall borrow and the state shall lend to it an amount sufficient to enable the school district to make the payment.

The term "qualified bonds" means general obligation bonds of school districts issued for capital expenditures, including refunding bonds, issued prior to May 4, 1955, or issued thereafter and qualified as provided by law pursuant to Section 27 or Section 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908 or pursuant to this section.

After a school district has received loans from the state, each year thereafter it shall levy for debt service, exclusive of levies for nonqualified bonds, not less than 13 mills or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, until the amount loaned has been repaid, and any tax collections therefrom in any year over and above the minimum requirements for principal and interest on qualified bonds shall be used toward the repayment of state loans. In any year when such levy would produce an amount in excess of the requirements and the amount due to the state, the levy may be reduced by the amount of the excess.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, the legislature shall have the power to prescribe and to limit the procedure, terms and conditions for the qualification of bonds, for obtaining and making state loans, and for the repayment of loans.

The power to tax for the payment of principal and interest on bonds hereafter issued which are the general obligations of any school district, including refunding bonds, and for repayment of any state loans made to school districts, shall be without limitation as to rate or amount.

All rights acquired under Sections 27 and 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908, by holders of bonds heretofore issued, and all obligations assumed by the state or any school district under these sections, shall remain unimpaired.

Sec. 17. No money shall be paid out of the state treasury except in pursuance of appropriations made by law.

Sec. 18. The credit of the state shall not be granted to, nor in aid of any person, association or corporation, public or private, except as authorized in this constitution.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit the investment of public funds until needed for current requirements or the investment of funds accumulated to provide retirement or pension benefits for public officials and employees, as provided by law.

Sec. 19. The state shall not subscribe to, nor be interested in the stock of any company, association or corporation, except that funds accumulated to provide retirement or pension benefits for public officials and employees may be invested as provided by law; and endowment funds created for charitable or educational purposes may be invested as provided by law governing the investment of funds held in trust by trustees.

Sec. 20. No state money shall be deposited in banks other than those organized under the national or state banking laws. No state money

1 shall be deposited in any bank in excess of 50
2 percent of the capital and surplus of such bank.
3 Any bank receiving deposits of state money shall 4 show the amount of state money so deposited as 5 a separate item in all published statements.

6 Sec. 21. The legislature shall provide by law
7 for the annual accounting for all public moneys,
8 state and local, and may provide by law for interim
9 accounting.

10 The legislature shall provide by law for the 11 maintenance of uniform accounting systems by 12 units of local government and the auditing of 13 county accounts by competent state authority
14 and other units of government as provided by law.

15 Sec. 22. Procedures for the examination and 16 adjustment of claims against the state shall be 17 prescribed by law.

18 Sec. 23. All financial records, accountings,
19 audit reports and other reports of public moneys
20 shall be public records and open to inspection. A 21 statement of all revenues and expenditures of pub-
22 lic moneys shall be published and distributed
23 annually, as provided by law.

24 Sec. 24. The accrued financial benefits of each
25 pension plan and retirement system of the state
26 and its political subdivisions shall be a contractual
27 obligation thereof which shall not be diminished
28 or impaired thereby.

29 Financial benefits arising on account of service
30 rendered in each fiscal year shall be funded during 31 that year and such funding shall not be used for 32 financing unfunded accrued liabilities.

19 those voting entered in the respective journals
20 shall be submitted, not less than 60 days there-
21 after, to the electors at the next general election
22 or special election as the legislature shall direct.
23 If a majority of electors voting on a proposed 24 amendment approve the same, it shall become 25 part of the constitution and shall abrogate or 26 amend existing provisions of the constitution at 27 the end of 45 days after the date of the election
28 at which it was approved.

29 Sec. 2. Amendments may be proposed to this
30 constitution by petition of the registered electors
31 of this state. Every petition shall include the full 32 text of the proposed amendment, and be signed by 33 registered electors of the state equal in number to 34 at least 10 percent of the total vote cast for 35 all candidates for governor at the last preceding 36 general election at which a governor was elected.
37 Such petitions shall be filed with the person au-
38 thorized by law to receive the same at least 120
39 days before the election at which the proposed 40 amendment is to be voted upon. Any such petition 41 shall be in the form, and shall be signed and 42 circulated in such manner, as prescribed by law.
43 The person authorized by law to receive such peti-
44 tion shall upon its receipt determine, as provided
45 by law, the validity and sufficiency of the signa-
46 tures on the petition, and make an official an-47 nouncement thereof at least 60 days prior to the 48 election at which the proposed amendment is to be 49 voted upon.

50 Any amendment proposed by such petition shall 51 be submitted, not less than 120 days after it was 52 filed, to the electors at the next general election.
53 Such proposed amendment, existing provisions of 54 the constitution which would be altered or abro-
55 gated thereby, and the question as it shall appear
56 on the ballot shall be published in full as provided
57 by law. Copies of such publication shall be posted 58 in each polling place and furnished to news media

as provided by law.

59 The ballot to be used in such election shall con-60 tain a statement of the purpose of the proposed amendment, expressed in not more than 100 words, exclusive of caption. Such statement of purpose and caption shall be prepared by the person authorized by law, and shall consist of a true and impartial statement of the purpose of the amendment in such language as shall create no prejudice for or against the proposed amendment.

61 If the proposed amendment is approved by a
62 majority of the electors voting on the question, 63 it shall become part of the constitution, and 64 shall abrogate or amend existing provisions of 65 the constitution at the end of 45 days after 66 the date of the election at which it was ap-67 proved. If two or more amendments approved by 68 the electors at the same election conflict, that 69 amendment receiving the highest affirmative vote
70 shall prevail.

71 Sec. 3. At the general election to be held in 72 the year 1978, and in each 16th year thereafter 73 and at such times as may be provided by law, the 74 question of a general revision of the constitution
75 shall be submitted to the electors of the state. If 76 a majority of the electors voting on the question
77 decide in favor of a convention for such purpose,
78 at an election to be held not later than six months
79 after the proposal was certified as approved, the 83 shall elect one delegate at a partisan election.

84 The delegates so elected shall convene at the seat
85 of government on the first Tuesday in October
86 next succeeding such election or at an earlier date
87 if provided by law.

88 The convention shall choose its own officers,

90 the qualifications, elections and returns of its mem-
91 bers. The governor shall appoint a qualified
92 resident of the same district to fill a vacancy
93 in the office of any delegate who shall be a mem-
94 ber of the same party as the delegate vacating
95 the office. The convention shall have power to ap-96 point such officers, employees and assistants as 97 it deems necessary and to fix their compensation;
98 to provide for the printing and distribution of its 99 documents, journals and proceedings; to explain 100 and disseminate information about the proposed constitution and to complete the business of the convention in an orderly manner. Each delegate shall receive for his services compensation pro-

101 No proposed constitution or amendment adopted 102 by such convention shall be submitted to the consideration of the deletion of section 6 of the schedule in its entirety.

I think because of the length of the roll calls, which we have to conduct by voice today, it might make sense to determine whether there is going to be a section 6 of the schedule before putting the secretary to the work of calling the roll on an amendment thereto. I would therefore move that item 8 on the order of business be taken up now so that we can dispose of that question before considering further the possible amendment to section 6.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen that item 8 on the order of business, consideration of deletion of section 6 of schedule, be advanced on the calendar. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. The Chair recognizes Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, now I move that the rules be suspended for the sole purpose of considering an amendment to the schedule to delete section 6 and renumber the remaining sections.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the suspension of the rules. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails, 2/3 of the delegates having voted therefor. The rules are suspended. Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: I yield to Dr. John Hannah.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Dr. Hannah.

MR. J. A. HANNAH: Mr. President, I move that the temporary provisions of the schedule of the proposed constitution be amended by striking out all of section 6 and renumbering the remaining sections.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Dr. Hannah which the secretary will read again.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. J. A. Hannah offers the following amendment:

1. Amend the schedule, section 6 (column 2) line 5, by striking out all of section 6 which reads as follows:

Sec. 6. The state shall be districted for the purpose of electing senators in accordance with the provisions of Section 2 of Article IV of this constitution, after the official publication of the total population count of the 1970 decennial federal census. Until the apportionment of the senate following the 1970 census, the senatorial districts under the 1908 constitution shall remain intact except that upon the adoption of this constitution each of the counties of Kent, Genesee, Macomb and Oakland shall be divided by the apportionment commission into two senatorial districts and Wayne county into eight senatorial districts in accordance with this constitution. The legislature may give prior effect to Section 2 of Article IV of this constitution, which action shall not be subject to veto by the governor.

and renumbering the balance of the sections.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President, I wonder if I could ask Delegate Hannah the intent of his amendment and what the effect will be on the document in its submission.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Dr. Hannah.

MR. J. A. HANNAH: Mr. President and delegates, the effect of this amendment, if it is adopted, will be that in the event the proposed constitution is approved by the voters of this state, the apportionment of the senate will be immediately effective in the same way as the reapportionment of the house. It will mean that if this section 6 is taken out of the schedule and the constitution is adopted, immediately the apportionment commission will be set up and they will proceed to draw new districts both for the senate and the house, with the senate, of course, following the formula that is included as a part of the constitution.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President, we're being put in a very strange and illogical position. The provision for the proposed senate has, by the attorney general, been declared unconstitutional. The only question is the timing. As I understand it, to vote for this deletion would simply mean that an unconstitutional provision would be made effective sooner; to vote against it simply means that the 1952 amendment which is now unconstitutional, pending review by the United States supreme court, would not be law and what we would have is the 1908 constitution which the Michigan state supreme court has said is the law. I am therefore—and I want the logic of this made very clear—voting against deleting this section, not because I want this section to go into effect later, but because I believe this section and what it applies to are both unconstitutional. We now have the law of the state of Michigan, the 1908 constitution, which has a senate based on population. I am voting no on this question for the reason that I am voting for the 1908 constitution without the 1952 amendment, which has been declared by the Michigan supreme court to be the law of this state.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mrs. Cushman.

MRS. CUSHMAN: I rise to support this amendment for the deletion. It seems to me that it's become evident to most of us by this time that the final body that will decide the question of its constitutionality is not in the state of Michigan but is the United States supreme court; and for that reason I am unwilling to surrender any possibility of achieving what I consider to be a fairer and more equitable reapportionment provision for the state of Michigan. If this new constitution is adopted—which I feel confident it will be—the deletion of this would give us several more senators in Wayne county immediately. We would end up with 10 state senators and it would give people of Oakland county, who are very under represented, 3 senators. The other counties would also have fairer representation under this provision, provided we delete this section 6.

It seems to me that those of us who are from the metropolitan area are put in the very peculiar position indeed if we vote to keep section 6 and find that this constitution is adopted and that we thereby have taken away from us several senators to which we would otherwise become entitled. For this reason I rise to support the amendment to delete section 6.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, may I state in response to Mr. Downs' remarks that I'm a little tired of having the attorney general of this state make pronouncements about what is constitutional and what is not.

I think any lawyer who gives careful review to the opinions of the Michigan supreme court rendered 2 weeks ago in Scholle vs. Hare, and to the opinions of the justices of the United States supreme court in Baker vs. Carr, and to the remarks of Mr. Justice Potter Stewart last Friday, would recognize that the formula for senate apportionment which we provide in the new constitution meets every standard yet announced by the United States supreme court for validity under the fourteenth amendment of the United States constitution. I think that our formula, if presented to the Michigan supreme court, would very likely be upheld by the Michigan supreme court and I rely, in stating that, not only on the opinion of the 3 justices who dissented, but on the opinions of Mr. Justice Souris and Mr. Justice Smith, who concurred and who did not subscribe to the very limited opinion of Mr. Justice Kavanagh.

There is nothing in the opinion of the United States supreme court which would make the senate apportionment formula which we have provided in the new constitution in any way violative of the federal constitution. The problem is before that court at this time and I think it's extremely unfortunate that we are confronted this morning with an opinion which is, in my judgment, politically inspired and professionally valueless. (applause)

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair recognizes Mr. Nord.

MR. NORD: Mr. President, that's the first time I've been applauded before I spoke. (laughter) Thank you very much.

Mr. President, Mr. Van Dusen has opened the floor to a flood of comments. I hope we won't have a flood, but I would like to make this point: first of all, the attorney general's opinion cannot be dismissed as hogwash. But further—

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Nord, would you move back just a little bit further from the microphone? Your voice would come through better.

MR. NORD: Would you make a suggestion of 20 or 30 feet?

PRESIDENT NISBET: This is no discourtesy. It's due to the operation of the mike. Mr. Nord.

MR. NORD: As Mr. Cudlip said, I didn't know we had a microphone here. Mr. President, there are 2 experts, or at least 2 people who have worked harder on apportionment in this convention than any other people. One of them is Mr. Hanna; the other is myself. Both of us have announced to the press previous to the holding of this meeting today that we believe that this 80-20 provision—which was drafted by Mr. Hanna over my opposition—is unconstitutional. He is a lawyer; I am a lawyer. We have had close contact with the subject. We both believe—unless he tells me to the contrary now—we both believe it is unconstitutional. The only court decision is the Michigan supreme court decision. They have stated that, in their opinion, when it reaches them it will be unconstitutional.

I am not advised, as Mr. Van Dusen says, that there is pending in the United States supreme court any review of the Scholle case. If that is so, I would like to be advised. I understand that somebody is thinking of filing a petition for certiorari, but I am not advised that there has been any such petition. As it stands right now the law has been announced by the supreme court of Michigan, and then as to the future we have the opinion of the attorney general. Then you have before you the opinions of both the people who worked the hardest—the lawyers—on this subject. All of them are on the same side of the issue. They all say that it's unconstitutional. If you wish to ignore that, you can do so. But I think that you should have that before you.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Madar.

MR. MADAR: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I just wanted to make one comment at this time because I've been hearing so much around the state that we ought to take what we're given. And it reminds me an awful lot of the man who had $150 stolen from him, who then was told by the burglar that he'd be willing to give him 50 bucks and he ought to go home and be satisfied. I might say too, to Mrs. Cushman, that when I first decided to run for this office of delegate, I remember very distinctly that the league of women voters and others said that one of the very most important things that we were coming up here to decide was reapportionment. And they didn't say that they wanted half measures. They said they wanted reapportionment as it should be: by population. Now I might say to Mrs. Cushman and others who always bring this subject up—rather, they keep making the comment that we ought to take what we can get—that it's no different, her making that remark, than a judge saying, after a man has been ordered hung, that he'll only be dropped 10 feet instead of 30.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the amendment of Dr. Hannah. This is a record roll call vote. Mr. Downs.

MR. DOWNS: Mr. President, I would like to point out to the delegates, in as calm and as reasoned a fashion as I can, that the senate we now have in the state of Michigan is that under the 1908 constitution. The courts way back, before any present member of the state supreme court was even on the court—and that's how far back that goes—ruled that under the 1908 constitution there could not be a difference of more than 2 to 1 in population and did not approve a difference of more than 2 to 1. That's what we have now—it's temporarily stayed by one justice of the United States supreme court—that's what we have. The provision in this section would provide a population difference of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 and would take from the urban areas senatorial representation that we are entitled to under the 1908 constitution and that the Michigan state supreme court has ordered and, I will predict, will be in effect as soon as the United States supreme court acts. It's regrettable that the motion to recess was rejected because that would have given Delegate Van Dusen and me the opportunity to discuss what the highest court said rather than what he and I are predicting it will say. And therefore, I urge we vote against this and keep the 1908 language which has one house—the senate—on population, and the second house, for those who make such a fetish of area, on an area factor.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Dr. Hannah.

MR. J. A. HANNAH: Mr. President, in view of the tone of the discussion, I should like to submit a letter from the director of research and drafting of this convention and ask that the secretary read it into the record at this time.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The secretary will read.

SECRETARY CHASE: Letter from Charles W. Joiner, the associate dean of the University of Michigan law school, addressed to John Hannah, president, Michigan State University, under date of July 27, "Dear Dr. Hannah: I write as"—

MR. MADAR: Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Madar.

MR. MADAR: Shouldn't this only be done when there are no objections—

PRESIDENT NISBET: It is part of Dr. Hannah's remarks.

MR. MADAR: —and I am objecting.

PRESIDENT NISBET: This is a part of Dr. Hannah's remarks, Mr. Madar. They may be made. Mr. Chase will read.

SECRETARY CHASE: The letter reads:

Dear Dr. Hannah:

I write as the director of research and drafting for the constitutional convention although I am not now on the staff of the convention for my interest continues in the success and well being of that body. Perhaps I can contribute something to the solution of the problem facing you as a result of the recent decision in Scholle v. Hare. I shall not be present at the time you convene on August 1. It is important that you have an objective analysis of the constitutionality of the con con proposal to apportion the house and senate made after the Scholle case.

1. The problem is one of the constitutionality under the federal constitution. The supreme court of the United States is the final arbiter of this, not the supreme court of Michigan.

2. Contrary to anything in one of the opinions handed down by the supreme court of Michigan, the decisions in the 2 Michigan cases cited, Giddings v. Secretary of State, 93 Michigan 1, and Williams v. Secretary of State, 145 Michigan 447, which are the bases for the court's use of a 2 for 1 population standard do not stem from federal constitutional language but are merely stating a standard that was applicable to the language of the 1850 constitution requiring specific apportionment on the basis of population.

3. The supreme court of the United States has as yet given no indication that any standard based solely upon population will be required.

4. In fact, the contrary has been indicated by the supreme court for the thrust of Baker v. Carr, if any standards can be read into that case, is that any scheme of apportionment based on reason and rationality will be sustained. The same idea is expressed by Mr. Justice Stewart in his decision to stay Scholle v. Hare when he said that new issues were presented in the Scholle case that were not decided in Baker v. Carr.

5. Most of the litigation and judicial decisions in the various states in federal and state courts since Baker v. Carr has been based on the failure of the legislatures to carry out a state constitutional mandate to reapportion.

6. Decisions are being handed down by lower federal courts and state courts indicating that it is not necessary (unless required by a state constitution) to apportion on the basis of population in both houses (see the Maryland decision on this point).

7. The proposed constitutional provision has one house pretty largely based on population and the other house predicated upon a rational idea of ability to represent constituents effectively. This provision would in all probability be sustained by the supreme court of the United States if given a chance.

8. In the Scholle case the Michigan court does not squarely hold that the constitutional convention proposal is bad. Two judges do indicate in dictum that this would be true but this dictum contains a bad fallacy for it stems from interpretation of language appearing in the 1908 constitution requirement of apportionment on the basis of population and is not a fair statement of the requirements of the equal protection clause of the federal constitution, the clause against which your proposal must be tested.

Two other judges concurred in the result but did not say that as a minimum, the standard test will be 2 for 1 population. These judges merely talked about the requirement of a rational scheme of apportionment. The 3 dissenting judges clearly would sustain the plan.

Thus it is not unlikely that even in the Michigan supreme court the con con plan, if approved by the people as a part of the constitution, would be sustained by the Michigan court. It seems clear, however, as clear as anything can be in this muddled area that even if it were not sustained by the Michigan supreme court, the supreme court of the United States would uphold it. There is nothing in your plan that violates the equal protection clause of the United States constitution or any other relevant provision, as interpreted by the supreme court of the United States. Only if you permit in some way a vote on your plan and it is adopted can it ever be tested. It can only be tested fairly as a part of a constitution.

Sincerely yours,
Charles W. Joiner.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The Chair recognizes Mr. Wanger.

MR. WANGER: Mr. President, fellow delegates, because of the limitation of time, which we are all operating under in this one day session, but more important, because I believe that the issue has now been fully discussed, I move the previous question.

MR. NORRIS: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Wanger for the previous question. Is the demand seconded?

MR. NORRIS: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Sufficient number up.

MR. NORRIS: I'd like to move, Mr. President, to limit debate to 10 minutes.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Norris that debate be limited to 10 minutes. Those in favor of the motion say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. Mr. Norris.

MR. NORRIS: Mr. President, I would like at this time to express the observation—

PRESIDENT NISBET: The convention will be in order.

MR. NORRIS: —that the opinion of the attorney general be incorporated in the record without being read, in light of the Chair's ruling on Mr. Madar's point of objection to the reading of Mr. Joiner's letter into the record. I'd like to have that included as part of my remarks as well and ask that that be done, sir.

PRESIDENT NISBET: It will be so included.

Following is the opinion:

State of Michigan

Frank J. Kelley, Attorney General

Constitutional law: equal protection of the laws under the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States.

Senate: apportionment of Michigan senate under proposed constitution.

Article IV, section 2 and section 6 of the schedule and temporary provisions of the proposed constitution perpetuate invidious discrimination in Michigan senatorial districts now practiced under article V, section 2 of the constitution of 1908, as amended by the people in 1952 and condemned by the Michigan supreme court in Scholle v. Hare (July 18, 1962), 367 Michigan 176, and are unconstitutional as violative of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States.

In the event the provisions of article IV, section 2 of the proposed constitution are effective upon approval of the revised constitution by the people, article IV, section 2 is unconstitutional as in violation of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States.

Opinion 4093

Mr. Tom Downs

Vice President

Michigan Constitutional Convention

Constitution Hall

Lansing, Michigan

I am in receipt of your letter of July 23 in which you indicate that the Michigan constitutional convention of 1961-1962 has proposed article IV, sections 2 and 6 as they relate to the apportionment of the Michigan legislature.

Article IV, section 2 provides as follows:

The senate shall consist of 38 members to be elected from single member districts at the same election as the governor for four-year terms concurrent with the term of office of the governor.

In districting the state for the purpose of electing senators after the official publication of the total population count of each federal decennial census, each county shall be assigned an apportionment factor equal to the sum of its percentage of the state's population as shown by the last regular federal decennial census computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent multiplied by four and its percentage of the state's land area computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent.

In arranging the state into senatorial districts, the apportionment commission shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Counties with 13 or more apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. After each such county has been allocated one senator, the remaining senators to which this class of counties is entitled shall be distributed among such counties by the method of equal proportions applied to the apportionment factors.

(2) Counties having less than 13 apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. Such counties shall thereafter be arranged into senatorial districts that are compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, as rectangular in shape as possible, and having as nearly as possible 13 apportionment factors, but in no event less than 10 or more than 16. Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there is a failure to comply with the above standards.

(3) Counties entitled to two or more senate districts shall be divided into single member districts. The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the county by the number of senators to which it is entitled. Each such district shall follow incorporated city or township boundary lines to the extent possible and shall be compact, contiguous, and as nearly uniform in shape as possible. The constitutional convention proposes a commission on legislative apportionment as set forth in article IV, section 6, which reads in pertinent part as follows:

A commission on legislative apportionment is hereby established consisting of eight persons, four of whom shall be selected by the state organizations of each of the two political parties whose candidates for governor received the highest vote at the last general election at which a governor was elected preceding each apportionment. If a candidate for governor of a third political party has received at such election more than 25 percent of such gubernatorial vote, the commission shall consist of 12 members, four of whom shall be selected by the state organization of the third political party. One member of the commission shall be selected by each political party organization from each of the following four regions: (1) The upper peninsula; (2) The northern part of the lower peninsula, north of a line drawn along the northern boundaries of the counties of Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana; (3) Southwestern Michigan, those counties south of region (2) and west of a line drawn along the western boundaries of the counties of Bay, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Ingham, Jackson and Hillsdale; (4) Southeastern Michigan, the remaining counties of the state.

Based upon these facts you ask the following questions:

1. Is article IV, section 2 of the proposed constitution constitutional?

2. Is article IV, section 6 of the proposed constitution constitutional?

In response to your first question, not only is it necessary for me to consider section 2 of article IV, but also section 6 of the schedule and temporary provisions which has been made a part of the proposed constitution as approved on the third reading by the constitutional convention on May 11, 1962. This portion of the schedule and temporary provisions states:

The state shall be districted for the purpose of electing senators in accordance with the provisions of Section 2 of Article IV of this constitution, after the official publication of the total population count of the 1970 decennial federal census. Until the apportionment of the senate following the 1970 census, the senatorial districts under the 1908 constitution shall remain intact except that upon the adoption of this constitution each of the counties of Kent, Genesee, Macomb and Oakland shall be divided by the apportionment commission into two senatorial districts and Wayne county into eight senatorial districts in accordance with this constitution. The legislature may give prior effect to Section 2 of Article IV of this constitution, which action shall not be subject to veto by the governor.

A plain reading of section 6 of the schedule and temporary provisions indicates that the present apportionment of the Michigan senate as provided by article V, section 2 of the Michigan constitution of 1908 as amended by the people in 1952, shall remain intact with the exception that the counties of Kent, Genesee, Macomb and Oakland shall be divided by the apportionment commission into 2 senatorial districts, and Wayne county into 8 senatorial districts in accordance with this constitution in the event the proposed constitution is approved by the people. However, the legislature is given authority to give prior effect to section 2 of article IV of the constitution, which action shall not be subject to veto by the governor.

Assuming that the proposed constitution is adopted, presumably in April of 1963, the constitution shall not become effective until January 1, 1964. Upon such contingency the senate would be increased from 34 members to 38 with the 3 additional seats to be divided among the counties of Genesee, Macomb and Oakland and an additional seat given to Wayne.

It should be observed that this portion of the schedule and temporary provisions has no effect upon Kent county, already possessed of 2 senators under the constitution of 1908, as amended.

Unless the legislature were to act to give earlier implementation to article IV, section 2 of the proposed constitution, Michigan senatorial districts are provided by article V, section 2 of the constitution of 1908 and would prevail until the year 1970 with the exception of the 4 additional senatorial seats to be divided among Genesee, Macomb, Oakland and Wayne counties respectively.

The Michigan supreme court in Scholle v. Hare (July 18, 1962), 367 Mich. 176, has struck down the senate apportionment provided by article V, section 2 of the Michigan constitution of 1908, as amended. On July 27, 1962, the Honorable Potter Stewart, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, stayed the judgment of the Michigan supreme court pending the timely filing of a petition for a writ of certiorari with the stay to continue pending the final disposition of the case upon timely filing of the petition for the writ of certiorari.

While it is true that Mr. Justice Stewart stayed the judgment of the Michigan supreme court, nevertheless the decision of the Michigan supreme court in Scholle v. Hare, supra, establishes the law in the state of Michigan and unless the United States supreme court assumes jurisdiction of Scholle v. Hare and reverses the decision of the Michigan supreme court, the decision in Scholle v. Hare, supra, will represent the leading case on apportionment in the state of Michigan.

Under its decision, Scholle v. Hare holds that article V, section 2 of the Michigan constitution, as amended by the people in 1952, violates the equal protection clause of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States in that senatorial districts provided in the Michigan constitution are invidiously discriminatory.

Under article IV, section 2 of the proposed constitution and section 6 of the schedule and temporary provisions, Michigan senatorial districts are to be substantially continued in their present form until 1970 with the exception of 4 additional seats to be awarded upon the effective date of the constitution, subject to earlier implementation by the legislature.

The conclusion is imperative that the delegates to the Michigan constitutional convention, if they retain article IV, section 2 and section 6 of the schedule and temporary provisions in their present form, will be continuing the senatorial districts that our court has struck down as invidiously discriminatory. It is patent that the additional 4 seats do not correct the disparity in population between Michigan senatorial districts. At best the addition of 1 senatorial seat to Oakland county, Genesee county, Macomb county and Wayne county, reduces the disparity from the extreme 12½ to 1 to about 6 to 1. In any event, it is my opinion that the majority holding in Scholle v. Hare, supra, would demand that such provisions fall under the sweep of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States.

Under the concurring opinion of Mr. Justice Souris, it must be concluded that such disparity would be neither minor nor unavoidable so that the constitutional provisions in question would be discriminatory and in violation of the equal protection clause to the fourteenth amendment. Nor does the fact that the schedule authorizes the legislature to implement article IV, section 2 of the proposed constitution at an earlier time than 1970 supply constitutional validity.

The Michigan supreme court in Rassner v. Federal Collateral Society, 299 Mich. 206, in passing upon the constitutionality of a statute which provided a summary proceeding for recovery of property pawned without the owner's consent although actual notice was given, held that due process of law cannot depend upon the grace or favor of the court to give notice and opportunity for hearing. The constitutionality of an act must depend upon the provisions of the act itself.

Similarly in Ridenour v. County of Bay, 366 Mich. 225, the court struck down a bond validation statute for failure to afford due process of law to persons affected under it even though the court had provided notice on its own order. The court said that the due process of law had to be afforded by the statute itself rather than by the whim and caprice of the court. By analogy, the test of article IV, section 2 of the proposed constitution and section 6 of the schedule and temporary provisions, must be made by the language of the constitution itself and not by the possibility that the legislature may choose to implement article IV, section 2 at some earlier time than 1970. Equal protection of the laws cannot be premised upon the favor of a majority vote of the legislature to give earlier implementation. Therefore it is my opinion that article IV, section 2 of the proposed constitution of the 1961-1962 constitutional convention violates the equal protection clause of the constitution of the United States.

I am, of course, aware of the fact that under the rules of the constitutional convention the delegates to the constitutional convention by 2/3 vote may suspend the rules and make changes to the document adopted on May 11, 1962. It has been suggested that section 6 of the schedule and temporary provisions be changed to make article IV, section 2 immediately effective upon the adoption of the constitution. Consequently it is necessary for me to consider the constitutional validity of article IV, section 2 in light of this possibility.

At the outset it is necessary to state briefly the proposed scheme of operation of the particular portion of the constitution. The framers would apportion the senate on 2 bases:

1. Upon a formula for each county unit based upon percentage of land area and a percentage of population based upon the last federal decennial census, multiplied by the factor 4.

2. After arriving at an apportionment factor for each county to treat counties with 13 or more apportionment factors one way and those with less than 13 apportionment factors in another.

Significantly the last sentence of subsection (2) of section 2 of the article reveals the true intent of the framers when it states, "Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there is a failure to comply with the above standards."

The conclusion is inescapable that the delegates to the constitutional convention have labored to preserve the present system of apportionment found constitutionally invalid in Scholle v. Hare, supra, and to sustain the present districting under a formula that practices discrimination twice against population not only through dilution by area but also through dilution by county depending upon apportionment factors attributed to the county under the formula.

The Michigan supreme court has said in Attorney General, ex rel Eaves, v. State Bridge Commission, 277 Mich. 373, that the state may not do indirectly that which it is forbidden to do directly. It is apparent that the provisions of article IV, section 2 of the proposed constitution present a patent effort to preserve the invidious discrimination in senatorial districts condemned in Scholle v. Hare, supra, by indirection.

Historically in Michigan the senate has been apportioned on a population basis as near as may be but along county lines. Giddings v. Secretary of State, 93 Mich. 1, Williams v. Secretary of State, 145 Mich. 447. See excellent discussion of the history of the apportionment of the Michigan senate in the dissenting opinion of Mr. Justice Smith in Scholle v. Hare, 360 Mich. 1.

The history of the house of representatives reveals that it has not been apportioned upon a strict population basis because the people have provided that certain governmental units, such as townships or cities, shall not be divided in the formation of a representative district and each county shall be entitled to a separate representative when it has attained a population equal to a moiety of the ratio of representation. See article IV, section 4 of the constitution of 1835; article IV, section 3 of the constitution of 1850, and article V, section 3 of the constitution as amended by the people in 1952.

While article IV, section 3 of the proposed constitution requires house of representative districts to be apportioned on a population basis, nevertheless this portion of the proposed constitution imposes requirements that each county which has a population of not less than 7/10 of 1 percent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative district, subject to other limitations as well.

It must be concluded, therefore, that under the proposed constitution neither house of the Michigan legislature is apportioned upon a strict population basis without any other factor.

While the United States supreme court has not implemented Baker v. Carr, 369 US 186, with a final definition as to what factors may be considered in the apportionment of state legislatures in order to satisfy the equal protection clause to the constitution of the United States, nevertheless since Baker v. Carr, supra, there has been an unmistakable flow of opinions of 3 judge federal district courts which have enumerated a rule that in my judgment is probably controlling.

Guidance may be obtained from the 3 judge federal district court that reconsidered Baker v. Carr, (June 22, 1962), on remand from 369 US 186, 179 Fed. Supp. 824 (Tennessee), and rendered an unanimous opinion that required the state of Tennessee to reapportion at least one house of the Tennessee legislature on a strict population basis without regard to any other factor. In Baker v. Carr, supra, on remand, the court tested the reapportionment of the Tennessee house and senate by the test of rationality based upon population, area and governmental units. The court recognized that one house could by reasonable classification take into consideration the protection and recognition to its less populous governmental units so that apportionment upon the 2/3 population—governmental unit basis—was permissible provided that the other house was on a strict population basis.

To the same effect is Toombs v. Fortson (May 25, 1962), 205 Fed. Supp. 248 (Georgia), where the 3 judge federal district court held that one of the houses of the Georgia legislature had to be on a strict population basis recognizing that it may be necessary for both houses to be on a strict population basis, but the court was hesitant to order this in the absence of a definitive decision of the United States supreme court.

Likewise in Sims v. Frink (April 14, 1962) 205 Fed. Supp. 245 (Alabama), a 3 judge federal district court required that at least one of the houses of the Alabama state legislature be apportioned upon a strict population basis without any other factor.

I am persuaded that the aforesaid decisions of the various federal district courts represent the very minimum that will serve as the basis of final definition of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States as may be laid down by the supreme court of the United States, although it is my considered judgment that a rational plan to give constitutional validity to the other house must recognize population as an important factor.

Under these authorities it must be concluded that since neither section 3 nor 4 of article IV of the proposed constitution provides for apportionment of either house of the Michigan legislature upon a strict population basis, article IV, section 2, as it relates to the senate, must fall as violative of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States.

While we recognize that the aforesaid authorities are those of lower federal district courts, nevertheless they offer sufficient guidance to inform the Michigan constitutional convention of 1961-1962 that article IV, section 2, in my opinion, violates the equal protection clause of the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution.

Due to the limitation in time it will be necessary for my office to consider the second question separately and the opinion will be submitted to you as soon as it is ready.

Frank J. Kelley, attorney general.

MR. NORRIS: Now, with regard to an observation that I should like to make on my own on the matter now before us, Mr. President, I think that what we ought to recognize is the issue involved in the matter before us and the matter before the people of the state of Michigan. As I understand it, the Michigan supreme court stated that the freezing and other aspects of the 1952 amendment and so called balanced legislature in relation to the senate was unconstitutional, and in so doing stated also that the standard in the 1908 constitution thereby becomes the law of the state of Michigan. As against that proposition you have a formula in the proposed document before us. And it seems to me the issue is clear: if you want a population standard, then you support the defeat of the constitution and the recognition that 1908, according to the inhabitants thereof, then becomes the standard of apportionment; if you want a standard other than that, then you support the proposed document standard. It seems to me that is the issue involved in the question on approval of section 6 or on approval of the constitution as a whole.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the amendment of Dr. Hannah. It is a record roll call vote. Those in favor of the amendment of Dr. Hannah to delete section 6 will vote aye as their names are called. Those opposed will vote no. The secretary will call the roll.

The roll was called and the delegates voted as follows:

SECRETARY CHASE: On the adoption of the amendment to strike out section 6, the yeas are 94; the nays are 47.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The amendment is adopted.

Following is explanation of vote submitted by Mr. McAllister:

My reason for voting no on the deletion of section 6 of the schedule is that the apportionment section of the constitution in my opinion is unconstitutional.

Following is explanation of vote submitted by Mr. Leibrand:

Section 6 of the constitutional schedule continues an extra senate seat to Kent county and allots an extra seat each to Genesee, Macomb and Oakland counties immediately. Reapportionment of the senatorial districts of the rest of the state would follow the 1970 census.

The amendment to delete section 6, made August 1, 1962, would advance the general senatorial reapportionment date to as soon as possible after the adoption of the new constitution.

I voted against the amendment for several reasons:

1. The change is a very important one. Many of the delegates never heard of the proposed amendment until about 9:00 p.m. on the evening of July 31. Most of the delegates never heard of it until it was offered on the floor of the convention at 11:00 a.m. on August 1. I believe such an important change deserves much more extended consideration.

2. Many things, particularly decisions of the United States supreme court and the Michigan supreme court, have occurred since this convention adjourned on May 11. The body most affected by the change is the Michigan state senate itself. The senate has been studying and working on this problem for the past 2 weeks or more, and undoubtedly has more information on the problem than do the delegates of this convention. I am opposed to deleting section 6 until such time as a special committee of this convention has conferred at length with the proper committee or committees of the state senate regarding the course to take.

3. I realize that what I suggest will require further adjournment of this convention. I have no desire to return to Lansing again, but I would prefer to do this rather than make an irremediable error. It must be remembered that once the convention adjourns sine die, its powers are exhausted and, however bad an error may be, that error cannot be corrected.

MR. FORD: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Ford.

MR. FORD: I'd like to make a parliamentary inquiry. It was my understanding that the specific language of the rules by which we were to play today was such that no substantive change will be made in the document as it was voted upon by a majority of the delegates when last we were assembled. I find difficulty with myself examining this thing, trying to find that this is not substantive. We have now taken an entire section out of the language. And I ask whether this now means that as a matter of fact, the rules that we are playing under today permit amendments from this floor from people such as Dr. Hannah during the consideration of a committee report to the substance of the constitution itself.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Ford, the rules were suspended by this convention for consideration of this special amendment. It does not open up the rest of the document.

The next order of business is the report of the select committee on action against the secretary of state. The chairman of the committee, Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, the select committee charged with the responsibility for the action against the secretary of state dealing with the date of submission of the document has delivered its report to the secretary and I'll ask that he read it. It proposes and recommends an amendment changing the date of submission from November to April and, to anticipate Mr. Ford's question, this is a specific exception to the rule under which we're operating provided for in that rule.

SECRETARY CHASE: The select committee on action against the secretary of state, by Mr. Van Dusen, chairman, submits the following report:

In accordance with Resolution 96, the committee on action against secretary of state on May 14, 1962, filed with the circuit court for the county of Ingham, a petition for declaration of rights in an action entitled, Stephen S. Nisbet, President of the Michigan Constitutional Convention of 1961-1962 v. James M. Hare, Secretary of State. The relief sought was a declaration that the convention has the right to provide for submission of the proposed new constitution to the electors at the general election to be held November 6, 1962. The summons and petition were served on the secretary of state on the same day.

On May 22, having had no response from the attorney general, petitioner filed a motion for the entry of a decree. On May 25, the secretary of state appeared specially by the attorney general and moved to dismiss the petition on the ground that the case did not present an actual controversy. The trial court heard argument on the attorney general's motion on June 1 and on June 6 rendered an opinion denying the motion to dismiss. An order to that effect was entered on June 11.

Instead of proceeding to file an answer, the attorney general then filed an application to the supreme court for leave to appeal. This application was granted by the supreme court and the attorney general, on July 2, filed a claim of appeal.

The attorney general has not yet filed a brief and he states that he does not intend to do so until after August 7.

It is obvious that no judicial determination of the right of the constitutional convention to require submission of the proposed constitution to the electors on November 6 will be made in time to be useful to the convention. Accordingly, the committee recommends:

1) That section 15 [formerly section 16] of the schedule and temporary provisions of the proposed constitution be amended by striking from the first sentence the words "Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962" and inserting "first Monday in April, 1963."

2) That the committee be authorized to discontinue the action entitled, Nisbet v. Hare.

Richard C. Van Dusen, chairman.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, I move the adoption of the report.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen that the report be adopted. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The report is adopted. Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VAN DUSEN: Mr. President, in compliance with our rules, I think it would now be necessary to take a roll call vote on the amendment to the constitution changing the date.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Mr. Chase will read the amendment.

SECRETARY CHASE: The amendment recommended in the report is as follows:

1. Amend the schedule, section 15 [formerly section 16] (column 2) line 11, after "held on the" by striking out "Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962.", and inserting "first Monday in April, 1963."

PRESIDENT NISBET: The secretary will call the roll. Those in favor of the amendment will vote aye as your name is called. Those opposed will vote no.

SECRETARY CHASE: On the adoption of the constitution as amended, the yeas are 98; the nays are 43. (applause)

PRESIDENT NISBET: The constitution is adopted.

For the constitution as adopted, see below, page 3317.

Because of the hour, it being almost noon, the Chair recognizes Mr. Van Dusen.

MR. VANDUSEN: Mr. President, I move that the convention now stand in recess until 2:00 p.m.

PRESIDENT NISBET: The question is on the motion of Mr. Van Dusen that we recess until 2:00 p.m. Those in favor will say aye. Opposed, no.

The motion prevails. We are recessed until 2:00 o'clock.

[Whereupon, at 11:50 o'clock a.m., the convention recessed; and, at 2:00 o'clock p.m., reconvened.]

Will the delegates please take their seats. The convention will please come to order.

SECRETARY CHASE: Mr. President, a quorum of the convention is present.

PRESIDENT NISBET: I think we should recognize the fact that many of our employees are voluntarily back with us today, meeting with the delegates. I'm sure all of us are very happy to have them here. It brings about a happy result to see them and I think we ought to give them a good hand. (applause) Mr. Chase has an announcement.

SECRETARY CHASE: There are 3 announcements that possibly should have been made before we recessed for lunch.

First, there is mail for all of the delegates in the mail room downstairs.

Just prior to the May 11 adjournment, several of the delegates took out, on loan, sets of convention slides which have not been returned. Missing from our files are 12 complete sets of slides. Since we frequently have call from other delegates for the use of these slides, we would appreciate their return as soon as possible. Ink White, chairman of the committee on public information.

I am sure the delegates recall the lady on the civic center staff who took such good care of keeping the windows clean and the place well slicked up, who had to go to the hospital for a very critical operation. A number of the delegates contributed to a fund to help her over her financial difficulties. I have the following card:

It is very difficult to express my appreciation to all the wonderful people of con con. Let me say, with my heart, your kindness and generosity will always be remembered.

Sincerely,
Freda Adams.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Since the adjournment on May 11, we have added 2 new associate members to the delegation: Mrs. Charles Follo and Mrs. Gil Wanger.

I asked Charlie if Mrs. Follo was present so that he might present her, but he said she isn't. We are sorry, Charlie, she couldn't be with us.

Mr. Wanger, is your associate delegate present? Would you present her?

[Whereupon, the delegates accorded Mrs. Wanger a standing ovation.]

At the final session before the long recess the president was authorized to name a reunion committee for the constitutional convention. Accordingly, the president appoints, as members of the reunion committee: Mr. Erickson, Mrs. Koeze, Messrs. Jones, Bowens, Brake, Mrs. Conklin, Mr. Dean Doty, Mrs. Daisy Elliott, Messrs. Faxon, Kelsey, Kuhn, Powell, Sharpe, Wanger, White and Norris.

Without objection, the appointments are approved. You will notice that most of these delegates are within the area of Lansing, Detroit or Grand Rapids for their ease in getting together when they have to meet. Mr. Claud Erickson is chairman of the committee.

Returning to the order of business, approval of address to people. We will take up the report of the committee on public information. Mr. White, chairman.

MR. WHITE: Mr. President, under date of June 26, 1962, each delegate was mailed proof copies of the proposed address to the people. Since that time our committee has received numerous suggestions for corrections, additions, deletions and so on. Our committee has met and gone over these suggestions and they have been, for the most part, agreed to. I might say, parenthetically, the address in its present corrected form represents the writing and editing of upwards of 50 of our delegates.

Under date of July 27, 1962, each of you was mailed a 16 page multilith report which outlined in detail some 108 corrections. This communication also carried the recommendation that we be authorized to correct the text of the constitution as it appears in the address to conform with the style and drafting changes adopted at today's session, and to offer comments accordingly, if necessary. All of this material has been delivered again to each delegate's desk today. Additionally, you have a single white multilith sheet from our committee containing brief addenda to this 16 page report.

It seems to me, Mr. President, the delegates have had ample time to consider these matters, and to expedite our final deliberations, I move that the report of the public information committee, with the recommended addenda, be considered read.

PRESIDENT NISBET: Without objection, it is so ordered.

Following is the report as submitted and considered read:

After careful consideration of suggestions from delegates, your committee on public information recommends the adoption of the following changes in the proof copy of the address to the people:

1. Amend page 2, second full paragraph, line 3, after "that one" by striking out "must" and inserting "should"; to improve phraseology.

2. Amend page 2, third full paragraph, line 1, by striking out "Ordered by popular vote, its delegates selected by the people on the basis of one from each senatorial and representative district, the Constitutional Convention of 1961-62 met in Lansing on October 3, 1961.", and inserting "The convention was ordered by popular vote in April of 1961. There were 144 delegates, representing Michigan's 34 State Senatorial districts and 110 State Representative seats. They were elected in statewide voting on September 12, 1961, and convened at Lansing on October 3, 1961."; to improve awkward sentence construction and correct error by indicating "seats" rather than representative "districts."

3. Amend page 2, fifth full paragraph, line 2, after "overlapped" by striking out "each other"; to improve phraseology.

4. Amend page 2, fifth full paragraph, line 6, after

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the State of Michigan, grateful to Almighty God for the blessings of freedom, and earnestly desiring to secure these blessings undiminished to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution.

Sec. 19. In all prosecutions for libels the truth may be given in evidence to the jury; and, if it appears to the jury that the matter charged as libelous is true and was published with good motives and for justifiable ends, the accused shall be acquitted.

Sec. 20. In every criminal prosecution, the accused shall have the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury, which may consist of less than 12 jurors in all courts not of record; to be informed of the nature of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor; to have the assistance of counsel for his defense; to have an appeal as a matter of right; and in courts of record, when the trial court so orders, to have such reasonable assistance as may be necessary to perfect and prosecute an appeal.

Sec. 21. No person shall be imprisoned for debt arising out of or founded on contract, express or implied, except in cases of fraud or breach of trust.

Sec. 22. Treason against the state shall consist only in levying war against it or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless upon the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act or on confession in open court.

Sec. 23. The enumeration in this constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE II

Elections

Sec. 1. Every citizen of the United States who has attained the age of 21 years, who has resided in this state six months, and who meets the requirements of local residence provided by law, shall be an elector and qualified to vote in any election except as otherwise provided in this constitution. The legislature shall define residence for voting purposes.

Sec. 2. The legislature may by law exclude persons from voting because of mental incompetence or commitment to a jail or penal institution.

Sec. 3. For purposes of voting in the election for president and vice-president of the United States only, the legislature may by law establish lesser residence requirements for citizens who have resided in this state for less than six months and may waive residence requirements for former citizens of this state who have removed herefrom. The legislature shall not permit voting by any person who meets the voting residence requirements of the state to which he has removed.

Sec. 4. The legislature shall enact laws to regulate the time, place and manner of all nominations and elections, except as otherwise provided in this constitution or in the constitution and laws of the United States. The legislature shall enact laws to preserve the purity of elections, to preserve the secrecy of the ballot, to guard against abuses of the elective franchise, and to provide for a system of voter registration and absentee voting. No law shall be enacted which permits a candidate in any partisan primary or partisan election to have a ballot designation except when required for identification of candidates for the same office who have the same or similar surnames.

Sec. 5. Except for special elections to fill vacancies, or as otherwise provided in this constitution, all elections for national, state, county and township offices shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in each even-numbered year or on such other date as members of the congress of the United States are regularly elected.

Sec. 6. Whenever any question is required to be submitted by a political subdivision to the electors for the increase of the ad valorem tax rate limitation imposed by Section 6 of Article IX for a period of more than five years, or for the issue of bonds, only electors in, and who have property assessed for any ad valorem taxes in, any part of the district or territory to be affected by the result of such election or electors who are the lawful husbands or wives of such persons shall be entitled to vote thereon. All electors in the district or territory affected may vote on all other questions.

Sec. 7. A board of state canvassers of four members shall be established by law. No candidate for an office to be canvassed nor any inspector of elections shall be eligible to serve as a member of a board of canvassers. A majority of any board of canvassers shall not be composed of members of the same political party.

Sec. 8. Laws shall be enacted to provide for the recall of all elective officers except judges of courts of record upon petition of electors equal in number to 25 percent of the number of persons voting in the last preceding election for the office of governor in the electoral district of the officer sought to be recalled. The sufficiency of any statement of reasons or grounds procedurally required shall be a political rather than a judicial question.

Sec. 9. The people reserve to themselves the power to propose laws and to enact and reject laws, called the initiative, and the power to approve or reject laws enacted by the legislature, called the referendum. The power of initiative extends only to laws which the legislature may enact under this constitution. The power of referendum does not extend to acts making appropriations for state institutions or to meet deficiencies in state funds and must be invoked in the manner prescribed by law within 90 days following the final adjournment of the legislative session at which the law was enacted. To invoke the initiative or referendum, petitions signed by a number of registered electors, not less than eight percent for initiative and five percent for referendum of the total vote cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected shall be required.

No law as to which the power of referendum properly has been invoked shall be effective thereafter unless approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at the next general election.

Any law proposed by initiative petition shall be either enacted or rejected by the legislature without change or amendment within 40 session days from the time such petition is received by the legislature. If any law proposed by such petition shall be enacted by the legislature it shall be subject to referendum, as hereinafter provided.

If the law so proposed is not enacted by the legislature within the 40 days, the state officer authorized by law shall submit such proposed law to the people for approval or rejection at the next general election. The legislature may reject any measure so proposed by initiative petition and propose a different measure upon the same subject by a yea and nay vote upon separate roll calls, and in such event both measures shall be submitted by such state officer to the electors for approval or rejection at the next general election.

Any law submitted to the people by either initiative or referendum petition and approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon at any election shall take effect 10 days after the date of the official declaration of the vote. No law initiated or adopted by the people shall be subject to the veto power of the governor, and no law adopted by the people at the polls under the initiative provisions of this section shall be amended or repealed, except by a vote of the electors unless otherwise provided in the initiative measure or by three-fourths of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature. Laws approved by the people under the referendum provision of this section may be amended by the legislature at any subsequent session thereof. If two or more measures approved by the electors at the same election conflict, that receiving the highest affirmative vote shall prevail.

The legislature shall implement the provisions of this section.

ARTICLE III

General Government

Sec. 1. The seat of government shall be at Lansing.

Sec. 2. The powers of government are divided into three branches: legislative, executive and judicial. No person exercising powers of one branch shall exercise powers properly belonging to another branch except as expressly provided in this constitution.

Sec. 3. There shall be a great seal of the State of Michigan and its use shall be provided by law.

Sec. 4. The militia shall be organized, equipped and disciplined as provided by law.

Sec. 5. Subject to provisions of general law, this state or any political subdivision thereof, any governmental authority or any combination thereof may enter into agreements for the performance, financing or execution of their respective functions, with any one or more of the other states, the United States, the Dominion of Canada, or any political subdivision thereof unless otherwise provided in this constitution. Any other provision of this constitution notwithstanding, an officer or employee of the state or of any such unit of government or subdivision or agency thereof may serve on or with any governmental body established for the purposes set forth in this section and shall not be required to relinquish his office or employment by reason of such service. The legislature may impose such restrictions, limitations or conditions on such service as it may deem appropriate.

Sec. 6. The state shall not be a party to, nor be financially interested in, any work of internal improvement, nor engage in carrying on any such work, except for public internal improvements provided by law.

Sec. 7. The common law and the statute laws now in force, not repugnant to this constitution, shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitations, or are changed, amended or repealed.

Sec. 8. Either house of the legislature or the governor may request the opinion of the supreme court on important questions of law upon solemn occasions as to the constitutionality of legislation after it has been enacted into law but before its effective date.

ARTICLE IV

Legislative Branch

Sec. 1. The legislative power of the State of Michigan is vested in a senate and a house of representatives.

Sec. 2. The senate shall consist of 38 members to be elected from single member districts at the same election as the governor for four-year terms concurrent with the term of office of the governor.

In districting the state for the purpose of electing senators after the official publication of the total population count of each federal decennial census, each county shall be assigned apportionment factors equal to the sum of its percentage of the state's population as shown by the last regular federal decennial census computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent multiplied by four and its percentage of the state's land area computed to the nearest one-one hundredth of one percent.

In arranging the state into senatorial districts, the apportionment commission shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Counties with 13 or more apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. After each such county has been allocated one senator, the remaining senators to which this class of counties is entitled shall be distributed among such counties by the method of equal proportions applied to the apportionment factors.

(2) Counties having less than 13 apportionment factors shall be entitled as a class to senators in the proportion that the total apportionment factors of such counties bear to the total apportionment factors of the state computed to the nearest whole number. Such counties shall thereafter be arranged into senatorial districts that are compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, as rectangular in shape as possible, and having as nearly as possible 13 apportionment factors, but in no event less than 10 or more than 16. Insofar as possible, existing senatorial districts at the time of reapportionment shall not be altered unless there is a failure to comply with the above standards.

(3) Counties entitled to two or more senators shall be divided into single member districts. The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the county by the number of senators to which it is entitled. Each such district shall follow incorporated city or township boundary lines to the extent possible and shall be compact, contiguous, and as nearly uniform in shape as possible.

Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of 110 members elected for two-year terms from single member districts apportioned on a basis of population as provided in this article. The districts shall consist of compact and convenient territory contiguous by land.

Each county which has a population of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative area. Each county having less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state shall be combined with another county or counties to form a representative area of not less than seven-tenths of one percent of the population of the state. Any county which is isolated under the initial allocation as provided in this section shall be joined with that contiguous representative area having the smallest percentage of the state's population. Each such representative area shall be entitled initially to one representative.

After the assignment of one representative to each of the representative areas, the remaining house seats shall be apportioned among the representative areas on the basis of population by the method of equal proportions.

Any county comprising a representative area entitled to two or more representatives shall be divided into single member representative districts as follows:

(1) The population of such districts shall be as nearly equal as possible but shall not be less than 75 percent nor more than 125 percent of a number determined by dividing the population of the representative area by the number of representatives to which it is entitled.

(2) Such single member districts shall follow city and township boundaries where applicable and shall be composed of compact and contiguous territory as nearly square in shape as possible.

Any representative area consisting of more than one county, entitled to more than one representative, shall be divided into single member districts as equal as possible in population, adhering to county lines.

Sec. 4. In counties having more than one representative or senatorial district, the territory in the same county annexed to or merged with a city between apportionments shall become a part of a contiguous representative or senatorial district in the city with which it is combined, if provided by ordinance of the city. The district or districts with which the territory shall be combined shall be determined by such ordinance certified to the secretary of state. No such change in the boundaries of a representative or senatorial district shall have the effect of removing a legislator from office during his term.

Sec. 5. Island areas are considered to be contiguous by land to the county of which they are a part.

Sec. 6. A commission on legislative apportionment is hereby established consisting of eight electors, four of whom shall be selected by the state organizations of each of the two political parties whose candidates for governor received the highest vote at the last general election at which a governor was elected preceding each apportionment. If a candidate for governor of a third political party has received at such election more than 25 percent of such gubernatorial vote, the commission shall consist of 12 members, four of whom shall be selected by the state organization of the third political party. One resident of each of the following four regions shall be selected by each political party organization: (1) the upper peninsula; (2) the northern part of the lower peninsula, north of a line drawn along the northern boundaries of the counties of Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana; (3) southwestern Michigan, those counties south of region (2) and west of a line drawn along the western boundaries of the counties of Bay, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Ingham, Jackson and Hillsdale; (4) southeastern Michigan, the remaining counties of the state.

No officers or employees of the federal, state or local governments, excepting notaries public and members of the armed forces reserve, shall be eligible for membership on the commission. Members of the commission shall not be eligible for election to the legislature until two years after the apportionment in which they participated becomes effective.

The commission shall be appointed immediately after the adoption of this constitution and whenever apportionment or districting of the legislature is required by the provisions of this constitution. Members of the commission shall hold office until each apportionment or districting plan becomes effective. Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as for original appointment.

The secretary of state shall be secretary of the commission without vote, and in that capacity shall furnish, under the direction of the commission, all necessary technical services. The commission shall elect its own chairman, shall make its own rules of procedure, and shall receive compensation provided by law. The legislature shall appropriate funds to enable the commission to carry out its activities.

Within 30 days after the adoption of this constitution, and after the official total population count of each federal decennial census of the state and its political subdivisions is available, the secretary of state shall issue a call convening the commission not less than 30 nor more than 45 days thereafter. The commission shall complete its work within 180 days after all necessary census information is available. The commission shall proceed to district and apportion the senate and house of representatives according to the provisions of this constitution. All final decisions shall require the concurrence of a majority of the members of the commission. The commission shall hold public hearings as may be provided by law.

Each final apportionment and districting plan shall be published as provided by law within 30 days from the date of its adoption and shall become law 60 days after publication. The secretary of state shall keep a public record of all the proceedings of the commission and shall be responsible for the publication and distribution of each plan.

If a majority of the commission cannot agree on a plan, each member of the commission, individually or jointly with other members, may submit a proposed plan to the supreme court. The supreme court shall determine which plan complies most accurately with the constitutional requirements and shall direct that it be adopted by the commission and published as provided in this section.

Upon the application of any elector filed not later than 60 days after final publication of the plan, the supreme court, in the exercise of original jurisdiction, shall direct the secretary of state or the commission to perform their duties, may review any final plan adopted by the commission, and shall remand such plan to the commission for further action if it fails to comply with the requirements of this constitution.

Sec. 7. Each senator and representative must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years of age, and an elector of the district he represents. The removal of his domicile from the district shall be deemed a vacation of the office. No person who has been convicted of subversion or who has within the preceding 20 years been convicted of a felony involving a breach of public trust shall be eligible for either house of the legislature.

Sec. 8. No person holding any office, employment or position under the United States or this state or a political subdivision thereof, except notaries public and members of the armed forces reserve, may be a member of either house of the legislature.

Sec. 9. No person elected to the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state from the governor, except notaries public, from the legislature, or from any other state authority, during the term for which he is elected.

Sec. 10. No member of the legislature nor any state officer shall be interested directly or indirectly in any contract with the state or any political subdivision thereof which shall cause a substantial conflict of interest. The legislature shall further implement this provision by appropriate legislation.

Sec. 11. Senators and representatives shall be privileged from civil arrest and civil process during sessions of the legislature and for five days next before the commencement and after the termination thereof. They shall not be questioned in any other place for any speech in either house.

Sec. 12. The compensation and expense allowances of the members of the legislature shall be determined by law. Changes in compensation or expense allowances shall become effective only when legislators commence their terms of office after a general election.

Sec. 13. The legislature shall meet at the seat of government on the second Wednesday in January of each year at twelve o'clock noon. Each regular session shall adjourn without day, on a day determined by concurrent resolution, at twelve o'clock noon. Any business, bill or joint resolution pending at the final adjournment of a regular session held in an odd numbered year shall carry over with the same status to the next regular session.

Sec. 14. A majority of the members elected to and serving in each house shall constitute a quorum to do business. A smaller number in each house may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in the manner and with penalties as each house may prescribe.

Sec. 15. There shall be a bi-partisan legislative council consisting of legislators appointed in the manner prescribed by law. The legislature shall appropriate funds for the council's operations and provide for its staff which shall maintain bill drafting, research and other services for the members of the legislature. The council shall periodically examine and recommend to the legislature revision of the various laws of the state.

Sec. 16. Each house, except as otherwise provided in this constitution, shall choose its own officers and determine the rules of its proceedings, but shall not adopt any rule that will prevent a majority of the members elected thereto and serving therein from discharging a committee from the further consideration of any measure. Each house shall be the sole judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its members, and may, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected thereto and serving therein, expel a member. The reasons for such expulsion shall be entered in the journal, with the votes and names of the members voting upon the question. No member shall be expelled a second time for the same cause.

Sec. 17. Each house of the legislature may establish the committees necessary for the efficient conduct of its business and the legislature may create joint committees. On all actions on bills and resolutions in each committee, names and votes of members shall be recorded. Such vote shall be available for public inspection. Notice of all committee hearings and a clear statement of all subjects to be considered at each hearing shall be published in the journal in advance of the hearing.

Sec. 18. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same unless the public security otherwise requires. The record of the vote and name of the members of either house voting on any question shall be entered in the journal at the request of one-fifth of the members present. Any member of either house may dissent from and protest against any act, proceeding or resolution which he deems injurious to any person or the public, and have the reason for his dissent entered in the journal.

Sec. 19. All elections in either house or in joint convention and all votes on appointments submitted to the senate for advice and consent shall be published by vote and name in the journal.

Sec. 20. The doors of each house shall be open unless the public security otherwise requires.

Sec. 21. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than two intervening calendar days, nor to any place other than where the legislature may then be in session.

Sec. 22. All legislation shall be by bill and may originate in either house.

Sec. 23. The style of the laws shall be: The People of the State of Michigan enact.

Sec. 24. No law shall embrace more than one object, which shall be expressed in its title. No bill shall be altered or amended on its passage through either house so as to change its original purpose as determined by its total content and not alone by its title.

Sec. 25. No law shall be revised, altered or amended by reference to its title only. The section or sections of the act altered or amended shall be re-enacted and published at length.

Sec. 26. No bill shall be passed or become a law at any regular session of the legislature until it has been printed or reproduced and in the possession of each house for at least five days. Every bill shall be read three times in each house before the final passage thereof. No bill shall become a law without the concurrence of a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house. On the final passage of bills, the votes and names of the members voting thereon shall be entered in the journal.

Sec. 27. No act shall take effect until the expiration of 90 days from the end of the session at which it was passed, but the legislature may give immediate effect to acts by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and serving in each house.

Sec. 28. When the legislature is convened on extraordinary occasions in special session no bill shall be passed on any subjects other than those expressly stated in the governor's proclamation or submitted by special message.

Sec. 29. The legislature shall pass no local or special act in any case where a general act can be made applicable, and whether a general act can be made applicable shall be a judicial question. No local or special act shall take effect until approved by two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house and by a majority of the electors voting thereon in the district affected. Any act repealing local or special acts shall require only a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house and shall not require submission to the electors of such district.

Sec. 30. The assent of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house of the legislature shall be required for the appropriation of public money or property for local or private purposes.

Sec. 31. The general appropriation bills for the succeeding fiscal period covering items set forth in the budget shall be passed or rejected in either house of the legislature before that house passes any appropriation bill for items not in the budget except bills supplementing appropriations for the current fiscal year's operation. Any bill requiring an appropriation to carry out its purpose shall be considered an appropriation bill. One of the general appropriation bills as passed by the legislature shall contain an itemized statement of estimated revenue by major source in each operating fund for the ensuing fiscal period, the total of which shall not be less than the total of all appropriations made from each fund in the general appropriation bills as passed.

Sec. 32. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax.

Sec. 33. Every bill passed by the legislature shall be presented to the governor before it becomes law, and the governor shall have 14 days measured in hours and minutes from the time of presentation in which to consider it. If he approves, he shall within that time sign and file it with the secretary of state and it shall become law. If he does not approve, and the legislature has within that time finally adjourned the session at which the bill was passed, it shall not become law. If he disapproves, and the legislature continues the session at which the bill was passed, he shall return it within such 14-day period with his objections, to the house in which it originated. That house shall enter such objections in full in its journal and reconsider the bill. If two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in that house pass the bill notwithstanding the objections of the governor, it shall be sent with the objections to the other house for reconsideration. The bill shall become law if passed by two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in that house. The vote of each house shall be entered in the journal with the votes and names of the members voting thereon. If any bill is not returned by the governor within such 14-day period, the legislature continuing in session, it shall become law as if he had signed it.

Sec. 34. Any bill passed by the legislature and approved by the governor, except a bill appropriating money, may provide that it will not become law unless approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon.

Sec. 35. All laws enacted at any session of the legislature shall be published in book form within 60 days after final adjournment of the session, and shall be distributed in the manner provided by law. The prompt publication of judicial decisions shall be provided by law. All laws and judicial decisions shall be free for publication by any person.

Sec. 36. No general revision of the laws shall be made. The legislature may provide for a compilation of the laws in force, arranged without alteration, under appropriate heads and titles.

Sec. 37. The legislature may by concurrent resolution empower a joint committee of the legislature, acting between sessions, to suspend any rule or regulation promulgated by an administrative agency subsequent to the adjournment of the last preceding regular legislative session. Such suspension shall continue no longer than the end of the next regular legislative session.

Sec. 38. The legislature may provide by law the cases in which any office shall be vacant and the manner of filling vacancies where no provision is made in this constitution.

Sec. 39. In order to insure continuity of state and local governmental operations in periods of emergency only, resulting from disasters occurring in this state caused by enemy attack on the United States, the legislature may provide by law for prompt and temporary succession to the powers and duties of public offices, of whatever nature and whether filled by election or appointment, the incumbents of which may become unavailable for carrying on the powers and duties of such offices; and enact other laws necessary and proper for insuring the continuity of governmental operations. Notwithstanding the power conferred by this section, elections shall always be called as soon as possible to fill any vacancies in elective offices temporarily occupied by operation of any legislation enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section.

Sec. 40. The legislature may by law establish a liquor control commission which, subject to statutory limitations, shall exercise complete control of the alcoholic beverage traffic within this state, including the retail sales thereof. The legislature may provide for an excise tax on such sales. Neither the legislature nor the commission may authorize the manufacture or sale of alcoholic beverages in any county in which a majority of the electors voting thereon shall prohibit the same.

Sec. 41. The legislature shall not authorize any lottery nor permit the sale of lottery tickets.

Sec. 42. The legislature may provide for the incorporation of ports and port districts, and confer power and authority upon them to engage in work of internal improvements in connection therewith.

Sec. 43. No general law providing for the incorporation of trust companies or corporations for banking purposes, or regulating the business thereof, shall be enacted, amended or repealed except by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house.

Sec. 44. The legislature may authorize a trial by a jury of less than 12 jurors in civil cases.

Sec. 45. The legislature may provide for indeterminate sentences as punishment for crime and for the detention and release of persons imprisoned or detained under such sentences.

Sec. 46. No law shall be enacted providing for the penalty of death.

Sec. 47. The legislature may authorize the employment of chaplains in state institutions of detention or confinement.

Sec. 48. The legislature may enact laws providing for the resolution of disputes concerning public employees, except those in the state classified civil service.

Sec. 49. The legislature may enact laws relative to the hours and conditions of employment.

Sec. 50. The legislature may provide safety measures and regulate the use of atomic energy and forms of energy developed in the future, having in view the general welfare of the people of this state.

Sec. 51. The public health and general welfare of the people of the state are hereby declared to be matters of primary public concern. The legislature shall pass suitable laws for the protection and promotion of the public health.

Sec. 52. The conservation and development of the natural resources of the state are hereby declared to be of paramount public concern in the interest of the health, safety and general welfare of the people. The legislature shall provide for the protection of the air, water and other natural resources of the state from pollution, impairment and destruction.

Sec. 53. The legislature by a majority vote of the members elected to and serving in each house, shall appoint an auditor general, who shall be a certified public accountant licensed to practice in this state, to serve for a term of eight years. He shall be ineligible for appointment or election to any other public office in this state from which compensation is derived while serving as auditor general and for two years following the termination of his service. He may be removed for cause at any time by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and serving in each house. The auditor general shall conduct post audits of financial transactions and accounts of the state and of all branches, departments, offices, boards, commissions, agencies, authorities and institutions of the state established by this constitution or by law, and performance post audits thereof.

The auditor general upon direction by the legislature may employ independent accounting firms or legal counsel and may make investigations pertinent to the conduct of audits. He shall report annually to the legislature and to the governor and at such other times as he deems necessary or as required by the legislature. He shall be assigned no duties other than those specified in this section.

Nothing in this section shall be construed in any way to infringe the responsibility and constitutional authority of the governing boards of the institutions of higher education to be solely responsible for the control and direction of all expenditures from the institutions' funds.

The auditor general, his deputy and one other member of his staff shall be exempt from classified civil service. All other members of his staff shall have classified civil service status.

ARTICLE V

Executive Branch

Sec. 1. The executive power is vested in the governor.

Sec. 2. All executive and administrative offices, agencies and instrumentalities of the executive branch of state government and their respective functions, powers and duties, except for the office of governor and lieutenant governor and the governing bodies of institutions of higher education provided for in this constitution, shall be allocated by law among and within not more than 20 principal departments. They shall be grouped as far as practicable according to major purposes.

Subsequent to the initial allocation, the governor may make changes in the organization of the executive branch or in the assignment of functions among its units which he considers necessary for efficient administration. Where these changes require the force of law, they shall be set forth in executive orders and submitted to the legislature. Thereafter the legislature shall have 60 calendar days of a regular session, or a full regular session if of shorter duration, to disapprove each executive order. Unless disapproved in both houses by a resolution concurred in by a majority of the members elected to and serving in each house, each order shall become effective at a date thereafter to be designated by the governor.

Sec. 3. The head of each principal department shall be a single executive unless otherwise provided in this constitution or by law. The single executives heading principal departments shall include a secretary of state, a state treasurer and an attorney general. When a single executive is the head of a principal department, unless elected or appointed as otherwise provided in this constitution, he shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate and he shall serve at the pleasure of the governor.

When a board or commission is at the head of a principal department, unless elected or appointed as otherwise provided in this constitution, the members thereof shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate. The term of office and procedure for removal of such members shall be as prescribed in this constitution or by law.

Terms of office of any board or commission created or enlarged after the effective date of this constitution shall not exceed four years except as otherwise authorized in this constitution. The terms of office of existing boards and commissions which are longer than four years shall not be further extended except as provided in this constitution.

Sec. 4. Temporary commissions or agencies for special purposes with a life of no more than two years may be established by law and need not be allocated within a principal department.

Sec. 5. A majority of the members of an appointed examining or licensing board of a profession shall be members of that profession.

Sec. 6. Appointment by and with the advice and consent of the senate when used in this constitution or laws in effect or hereafter enacted means appointment subject to disapproval by a majority vote of the members elected to and serving in the senate if such action is taken within 60 session days after the date of such appointment. Any appointment not disapproved within such period shall stand confirmed.

Sec. 7. Vacancies in any office, appointment to which requires advice and consent of the senate, shall be filled by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate. A person whose appointment has been disapproved by the senate shall not be eligible for an interim appointment to the same office.

Sec. 8. Each principal department shall be under the supervision of the governor unless otherwise provided by this constitution. The governor shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government and may require information in writing from all executive and administrative state officers, elective and appointive, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

The governor may initiate court proceedings in the name of the state to enforce compliance with any constitutional or legislative mandate, or to restrain violations of any constitutional or legislative power, duty or right by any officer, department or agency of the state or any of its political subdivisions. This authority shall not be construed to authorize court proceedings against the legislature.

Sec. 9. Single executives heading principal departments and the chief executive officers of principal departments headed by boards or commissions shall keep their offices at the seat of government except as otherwise provided by law, superintend them in person and perform duties prescribed by law.

Sec. 10. The governor shall have power and it shall be his duty to inquire into the condition and administration of any public office and the acts of any public officer, elective or appointive. Sec. 1. The legislature shall impose taxes sufficient with other resources to pay the expenses of state government.

Sec. 2. The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended or contracted away.

Sec. 3. The legislature shall provide for the uniform general ad valorem taxation of real and tangible personal property not exempt by law. The legislature shall provide for the determination of true cash value of such property; the proportion of true cash value at which such property shall be uniformly assessed, which shall not, after January 1, 1966, exceed 50 percent; and for a system of equalization of assessments. The legislature may provide for alternative means of taxation of designated real and tangible personal property in lieu of general ad valorem taxation. Every tax other than the general ad valorem property tax shall be uniform upon the class or classes on which it operates.

Sec. 4. Property owned and occupied by non-profit religious or educational organizations and used exclusively for religious or educational purposes, as defined by law, shall be exempt from real and personal property taxes.

Sec. 5. The legislature shall provide for the assessment by the state of the property of those public service businesses assessed by the state at the date this constitution becomes effective, and of other property as designated by the legislature, and for the imposition and collection of taxes thereon. Property assessed by the state shall be assessed at the same proportion of its true cash value as the legislature shall specify for property subject to general ad valorem taxation. The rate of taxation on such property shall be the average rate levied upon other property in this state under the general ad valorem tax law, or, if the legislature provides, the rate of tax applicable to the property of each business enterprise assessed by the state shall be the average rate of ad valorem taxation levied upon other property in all counties in which any of such property is situated.

Sec. 6. Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, the total amount of general ad valorem taxes imposed upon real and tangible personal property for all purposes in any one year shall not exceed 15 mills on each dollar of the assessed valuation of property as finally equalized. Under procedures provided by law, which shall guarantee the right of initiative, separate tax limitations for any county and for the townships and for school districts therein, the aggregate of which shall not exceed 18 mills on each dollar of such valuation, may be adopted and thereafter altered by the vote of a majority of the qualified electors of such county voting thereon, in lieu of the limitation hereinbefore established. These limitations may be increased to an aggregate of not to exceed 50 mills on each dollar of valuation, for a period of not to exceed 20 years at any one time, if approved by a majority of the electors, qualified under Section 6 of Article II of this constitution, voting on the question.

The foregoing limitations shall not apply to taxes imposed for the payment of principal and interest on bonds or other evidences of indebtedness or for the payment of assessments or contract obligations in anticipation of which bonds are issued, which taxes may be imposed without limitation as to rate or amount; or to taxes imposed for any other purpose by any city, village, charter county, charter township, charter authority or other authority, the tax limitations of which are provided by charter or by general law.

In any school district which extends into two or more counties, property taxes at the highest rate available in the county which contains the greatest part of the area of the district may be imposed and collected for school purposes throughout the district.

Sec. 7. No income tax graduated as to rate or base shall be imposed by the state or any of its subdivisions.

Sec. 8. The legislature shall not impose a sales tax on retailers at a rate of more than four percent of their gross taxable sales of tangible personal property.

Sec. 9. All specific taxes, except general sales and use taxes and regulatory fees, imposed directly or indirectly on fuels sold or used to propel motor vehicles upon highways and on registered motor vehicles shall, after the payment of necessary collection expenses, be used exclusively for highway purposes as defined by law.

Sec. 10. One-eighth of all taxes imposed on retailers on taxable sales at retail of tangible personal property shall be used exclusively for assistance to townships, cities and villages, on a population basis as provided by law. In determining population the legislature may exclude any portion of the total number of persons who are wards, patients or convicts in any tax supported institution.

Sec. 11. There shall be established a state school aid fund which shall be used exclusively for aid to school districts, higher education and school employees' retirement systems, as provided by law. One-half of all taxes imposed on retailers on taxable sales at retail of tangible personal property, and other tax revenues provided by law, shall be dedicated to this fund. Payments from this fund shall be made in full on a scheduled basis, as provided by law.

Sec. 12. No evidence of state indebtedness shall be issued except for debts authorized pursuant to this constitution.

Sec. 13. Public bodies corporate shall have power to borrow money and to issue their securities evidencing debt, subject to this constitution and law.

Sec. 14. To meet obligations incurred pursuant to appropriations for any fiscal year, the legislature may by law authorize the state to issue its full faith and credit notes in which case it shall pledge undedicated revenues to be received within the same fiscal year for the repayment thereof. Such indebtedness in any fiscal year shall not exceed 15 percent of undedicated revenues received by the state during the preceding fiscal year and such debts shall be repaid at the time the revenues so pledged are received, but not later than the end of the same fiscal year.

Sec. 15. The state may borrow money for specific purposes in amounts as may be provided by acts of the legislature adopted by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to and serving in each house, and approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at any general election. The question submitted to the electors shall state the amount to be borrowed, the specific purpose to which the funds shall be devoted, and the method of repayment.

Sec. 16. The state, in addition to any other borrowing power, may borrow from time to time such amounts as shall be required, pledge its faith and credit and issue its notes or bonds therefor, for the purpose of making loans to school districts as provided in this section.

If the minimum amount which would otherwise be necessary for a school district to levy in any year to pay principal and interest on its qualified bonds, including any necessary allowances for estimated tax delinquencies, exceeds 13 mills on each dollar of its assessed valuation as finally equalized, or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, then the school district may elect to borrow all or any part of the excess from the state. In that event the state shall lend the excess amount to the school district for the payment of principal and interest. If for any reason any school district will be or is unable to pay the principal and interest on its qualified bonds when due, then the school district shall borrow and the state shall lend to it an amount sufficient to enable the school district to make the payment.

The term "qualified bonds" means general obligation bonds of school districts issued for capital expenditures, including refunding bonds, issued prior to May 4, 1955, or issued thereafter and qualified as provided by law pursuant to Section 27 or Section 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908 or pursuant to this section.

After a school district has received loans from the state, each year thereafter it shall levy for debt service, exclusive of levies for nonqualified bonds, not less than 13 mills or such lower millage as the legislature may prescribe, until the amount loaned has been repaid, and any tax collections therefrom in any year over and above the minimum requirements for principal and interest on qualified bonds shall be used toward the repayment of state loans. In any year when such levy would produce an amount in excess of the requirements and the amount due to the state, the levy may be reduced by the amount of the excess.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, the legislature shall have the power to prescribe and to limit the procedure, terms and conditions for the qualification of bonds, for obtaining and making state loans, and for the repayment of loans.

The power to tax for the payment of principal and interest on bonds hereafter issued which are the general obligations of any school district, including refunding bonds, and for repayment of any state loans made to school districts, shall be without limitation as to rate or amount.

All rights acquired under Sections 27 and 28 of Article X of the Constitution of 1908, by holders of bonds heretofore issued, and all obligations assumed by the state or any school district under these sections, shall remain unimpaired.

Sec. 17. No money shall be paid out of the state treasury except in pursuance of appropriations made by law.

Sec. 18. The credit of the state shall not be granted to, nor in aid of any person, association or corporation, public or private, except as authorized in this constitution.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit the investment of public funds until needed for current requirements or the investment of funds accumulated to provide retirement or pension benefits for public officials and employees, as provided by law.

Sec. 19. The state shall not subscribe to, nor be interested in the stock of any company, association or corporation, except that funds accumulated to provide retirement or pension benefits for public officials and employees may be invested as provided by law; and endowment funds created for charitable or educational purposes may be invested as provided by law governing the investment of funds held in trust by trustees.

Sec. 20. No state money shall be deposited in banks other than those organized under the national or state banking laws. No state money shall be deposited in any bank in excess of 50 percent of the capital and surplus of such bank. Any bank receiving deposits of state money shall show the amount of state money so deposited as a separate item in all published statements.

Sec. 21. The legislature shall provide by law for the annual accounting for all public moneys, state and local, and may provide by law for interim accounting.

The legislature shall provide by law for the maintenance of uniform accounting systems by units of local government and the auditing of county accounts by competent state authority and other units of government as provided by law.

Sec. 22. Procedures for the examination and adjustment of claims against the state shall be prescribed by law.

Sec. 23. All financial records, accountings, audit reports and other reports of public moneys shall be public records and open to inspection. A statement of all revenues and expenditures of public moneys shall be published and distributed annually, as provided by law.

Sec. 24. The accrued financial benefits of each pension plan and retirement system of the state and its political subdivisions shall be a contractual obligation thereof which shall not be diminished or impaired thereby.

Financial benefits arising on account of service rendered in each fiscal year shall be funded during that year and such funding shall not be used for financing unfunded accrued liabilities.

Sec. 6. Aliens who are residents of this state shall enjoy the same rights and privileges in property as citizens of this state.

Any such petition shall be in the form, and shall be signed and circulated in such manner, as prescribed by law. At the general election to be held in the year 1978, and in each 16th year thereafter and at such times as may be provided by law, the question of a general revision of the constitution shall be submitted to the electors of the state.
